THIRD QUARTERLY RESULTS ANNOUNCEMENT FOR THE NINE MONTHS ENDED 30 SEPTEMBER 2006

CHARACTERISTICS OF THE GROWTH ENTERPRISE MARKET (“GEM”) OF THE STOCK EXCHANGE OF HONG KONG LIMITED (THE “STOCK EXCHANGE”)

GEM has been established as a market designed to accommodate companies to which a high investment risk may be attached. In particular, companies may list on GEM with neither a track record of profitability nor any obligation to forecast future profitability. Furthermore, there may be risks arising out of the emerging nature of companies listed on GEM and the business sectors or countries in which the companies operate. Prospective investors should be aware of the potential risks of investing in such companies and should make the decision to invest only after due and careful consideration. The greater risk profile and other characteristics of GEM mean that it is a market more suited to professional and other sophisticated investors.

Given the emerging nature of companies listed on GEM, there is a risk that securities trade on GEM may be more susceptible to high market volatility than securities traded on the Main Board and no assurance is given that there will be a liquid market in the securities traded on GEM.

The principal means of information dissemination on GEM is publication on the internet website operated by the Stock Exchange. Listed companies are not generally required to issue paid announcements in gazetted newspapers. Accordingly, prospective investors should note that they need to have access to the GEM website in order to obtain up-to-date information on GEM listed issuers.

The Stock Exchange takes no responsibility for the contents of this report, makes no representation as to its accuracy or completeness and expressly disclaims any liability whatsoever for any loss howsoever arising from or in reliance upon the whole or any part of the contents of this report.

This report, for which the directors (the “Directors”) of Recruit Holdings Limited (the “Company”) collectively and individually accept full responsibility, includes particulars given in compliance with the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on the GEM of The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited (the “GEM Listing Rules”) for the purpose of giving information with regard to the Company. The Directors, having made all reasonable enquiries, confirm that, to the best of their knowledge and belief:- (1) the information contained in this report is accurate and complete in all material respects and not misleading; (2) there are no other matters the omission of which would make any statement in this report misleading; and (3) all opinions expressed in this report have been arrived at after due and careful consideration and are founded on bases and assumptions that are fair and reasonable.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

For the nine months ended 30 September 2006, turnover rose by 41% to HK$219.2 million. A major contributor to the expansion of the advertising business was the inflight magazine advertising which increased its revenue by 44%. The Group's newest advertising business, recruitment advertising in Shanghai, continued to increase its contribution to the Group's revenue in the third quarter. For the nine months ended 30 September 2006, the Group recorded net profit attributable to shareholders of HK$42.2 million (2005: HK$26 million).

The Group's turnover for the three months ended 30 September 2006 was HK$81.4 million, an increase of 17% over the same period last year. In this quarter, the Group achieved a 218% increase in net profit attributable to shareholders, bringing net profit to HK$21.8 million. The net profit consists of two elements, a one-off gain amounting to HK$12 million from the sale of an investment property and recurring operating profit of HK$9.8 million. As a result, there was a real growth in net profit of 42% from recurring business when compared to the HK$6.9 million net profit achieved from recurring business in the same period last year.

BUSINESS REVIEW

Advertising Business

Recruitment Advertising – Hong Kong

The Group's Hong Kong Recruit Magazine is impacted by Hong Kong's general economic sentiment and this has remained stable since 2005. The recruitment advertising business reports a minor 2% increase in revenue, which corresponds to the small growth in the general economy. The display business is facing ever-growing competition whilst recruitment advertising sales will largely depend upon the general economic situation. However, the Group's cost control measures proved sufficiently effective to maintain the net profit for Recruit Magazine at a similar level as that of the same period last year. Hong Kong's unemployment rate is presently curbed below 5% and this is expected to improve further by the end of the year. However, certain industries, including import and export sector in which the Group is especially strong, are beginning to show minor signs of a slowdown in growth.

The revamped online presence of Recruit, www.recruitonline.com was launched in May 2006. The website is positioned as jobseeker focused, bearing a number of innovative online features designed to enhance the job seeking experience. The Group expects that its online medium will not only complement its print presence but also exploit new dimensions in online business.

Recruitment Advertising – Shanghai

1010job continues to grow in Shanghai in both revenue and the level of market recognition. The 1010job weekly publication is regarded as a "premier job information provider" in Shanghai. The GDP growth in China for the rest of 2006 and 2007 is still forecast at an optimistic double-digit figure which results in hiring needs being maintained at buoyant level. The Group plans to continue to allocate resources for product development and marketing activities to nurture the expansion of the business. In early October, a career portal under the name 1010job, embedded with a job search engine, career related information and company reviews was launched nationwide. The new portal introduces a full range of new user-friendly features, which the Management expects will help to enhance the brand recognition throughout the country and create new business models in addition to recruitment advertising.

Inflight Magazine Advertising

The inflight magazine business remains a main contributor in both turnover and net operating profit in the advertising business sector. In the third quarter of 2006, turnover rose by 8% as compared to same period last year. The business, although challenged by other media, including TV, outdoor billboards and online, continues to demonstrate better-than-last-year performance which can be attributed to 1) the high economic growth rate in China; 2) the predominant position of “airline media” which is considered to be the most efficient in identifying a targeted audience; and 3) the China Southern Airline agency agreement which took effect in July 2005. The Group believes that revenue growth in the sector will remain strong following the forecasted double-digit growth for China’s economic growth for the remainder of 2006 and 2007. However, the trend of thinning profit margins will also continue due to severe competitions in the market.

Printing Business

The printing business completed its first full nine months of operations up to 30 September 2006. In the third quarter of 2006, turnover rose by 37% as compared to the same period last year. The growth was brought by the Group’s operating strengths in terms of capacity and expertise in the printing business. Future growth of the business is impacted by the global economy, which shows signs of a slowdown. The Group believes that the operation is well placed to maintain its current momentum for the rest of 2006 and the following year. The division will continue to focus on enlarging its client profile from a wider geographic coverage.

Investment Activities

The Group has continued its investment activities in the third quarter of 2006. The Hong Kong securities market where the Group is investing has been buoyant throughout the period and is expected to perform satisfactorily for the remainder of the year. The Group will continue its prudent approach in the selection and trading of listed stocks.

PROSPECTS

It is encouraging to note that the financial position of the Group, with particular reference to its improving cash flow situation, remains on an upward path. The Group will continue to maintain its leadership position in the inflight magazine business, which also provides the Group with a steady and significant cashflow and net profit. The online recruitment business in China will remain at the centre of the Group's focus of development for the remainder of 2006 and 2007. The Group also aims to strengthen its stronghold in the recruitment advertising market in Hong Kong through an expansion of its activities in both the print and online businesses.
