MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Business Review

During the three and nine months period ended 30 September 2008, the Group recorded turnover amount of approximately HK$207.3 million and HK$528.6 million respectively, which were approximately 13.2% and 10.9% more than the same period of last year respectively. The continuous increment of turnover amount was mainly due to the development works of over 10 new models were completed and commenced the supplies during the period. Furthermore, our automotive electronic spare parts business also commenced trial production and contributed to the overall results of the Group. We have also integrated our business to enhance the operation efficiency and control the cost in an effective way. Although the current economic environment is unstable, the competition of the PRC automobile market will become more intensive and thus the directors of the Company believe that the installation rate of automotive safety airbag system will increase. As a result it is expected that Group can maintain a stable return.

The cost control policies implemented during the past few years have gradually make contribution to the Group during the current period. Even though the Group has 2 additional subsidiaries during this period, the overall operation costs did not have substantial increment. We will continue to execute the cost control policies while maintaining the product quality and operation efficiency at the same time. This can help the Group to maintain the competitiveness in the market and keep the leading position among the PRC automotive safety airbag system manufacturers.

During the period, the Group also completed the third stage of technical reformation project, which including the expansion of car crash laboratory and the safety airbag production lines. We also purchased some production, research and development facilities from Liaoning He Chang Hua Bao Automotive Electronic Co., Ltd. This may substantially enhance the production and development capacities of the Group and the overall operation efficiency. This may also accelerate the research and development works of other automobile safety products such as curtain airbag system and side airbag system. Furthermore, the newly developed pre-tension seat belts have launched commercial sales during the period. This may not only provide contribution to the overall results of the Group, but also strengthen the Group's leading position in the PRC automotive safety system market.

Financial Review

For the three months and nine months ended 30 September 2008, the turnover amount of the Group were approximately HK$207.3 million and HK$528.6 million respectively, which were increased by approximately 13.2% and 10.9% respectively in compared with the same period of last year. Such increment was mainly contributed by the launch of over 10 new models during the nine months period and the commencement of trial production of the new automotive electronic spare parts. These products are expected to contribute to the Group in the coming future.

The average gross profit margin of the Group during the current nine months period was approximately 23.0%, which was the same as the first half of this year. Due to the change of product mix, the average gross profit margin of both mechanical and electronic airbag systems for the nine months ended 30 September 2008 was slightly decreased by 0.7% to approximately 21.2% in compared with the first six months of 2008.

The gross profit for the nine months ended 30 September 2008 was approximately HK$121.5 million, which was increased by approximately HK$4.5 million as compared with the same period of 2007. Such increment was resulted from the continuous growth of the turnover amount.

For the nine months end 30 September 2008, the research and development expenses were increased by approximately HK$0.8 million to approximately HK$15.0 million as compared with the corresponding period of last year. The increment was mainly due to the commencement of new development projects, which may provide contribution to the Group in the coming future.

Despite of the additional of 2 subsidiaries during the year, the overall distribution costs and administrative expenses did not record a substantial increment in compared with the same period of last year. This was mainly due to the results of the cost control policies implemented during the past years. During the nine months period under review, the distribution cost were only increased by approximately HK$2.6 million to approximately HK$15.5 million, while the administrative expenses were only increased by approximately HK$7.7 million to approximately HK$47.2 million.

For the three months end 30 September 2008, the finance costs were approximately HK$8.3 million, which was increased only by approximately HK$0.2 million as compared with three months ended 30 June 2008.

For the nine months ended 30 September 2008, the profit attributable to equity shareholders of the Company was approximately HK$57.5 million, which was increased by approximately 27.4% in comparison with the corresponding period of last year. Such increment was mainly contributed by the increase of turnover, the results of the cost control policies and the gain from disposal of a subsidiary during the year.

As the current economic environment is unstable, thus we will prepare ourselves to cope with different challenges.

The management of the Company believes that despite the economic environment is facing severe challenges, there are also many business opportunities available to the PRC automobile industry participants, especially for those economic car manufacturers. We will capture this opportunity to develop new automotive safety products and explore new customers for maintaining a stable business growth. In compared with the same period of last year, the Group has commenced the development works for over 30 new car models, and they are expected to launch commercial production in the coming future and provide contribution to the Group.

The Group will strive to develop the automotive electronic spare parts business as another growing point of the Group. It is expected that the automotive electronic spare parts products will launch commercial production in the first half of 2009. As our products have price advantages, they are more attractive than those import products and thus we hope we can develop a new market for these products.

The directors of the Company believe that with the implementation of the mid-to-long term strategies, the Group can enhance its competitiveness and capture the business opportunities available in the market, which may deliver fruitful returns to investors.

INTERIM DIVIDEND

The Board does not recommend the payment of an interim dividend for the nine months ended 30 September 2008 (nine months ended 30 September 2007: HK$Nil).

The options granted to the directors/employees are registered under the names of the directors/employees who are also the beneficial owners.

* being the weighted average closing price of the Company's ordinary shares immediately before the dates on which the options were granted or exercised, as applicable.

The weighted average value per option granted on 22 November 2004 and had not vested at 1 January 2005 using binomial lattice pricing model was HK$0.788. The calculation of the weighted average value per option granted during the period does not take into account options granted and forfeited during the period. The weighted average assumptions used are as follows:

Risk-free interest rate	2.1%
Expected life (in years)	4 years
Volatility	50.0%
Expected dividend per share	2.3%

The binomial lattice pricing model was developed for use in estimating the fair value of traded options that have no vesting restrictions and are fully transferable. In addition, such option pricing model requires input of highly subjective assumptions, including the expected stock price volatility. Because the Company's share options have characteristics significantly different from those of traded options, and because changes in the subjective input assumptions can materially affect the fair value estimate, the binomial lattice pricing model does not necessarily provide a reliable measure of the fair value of the share options.

The options granted to the Directors/employees are registered under the names of the directors/ employees who are also the beneficial owners.

The weighted average value per option granted on 23 August 2007 using binomial lattice pricing model was HK$0.426. The calculation of the weighted average value per option granted during the period does not take into account options granted and forfeited during the period. The weighted average assumptions used are as follows:

	2008
Risk-free interest rate	4.03%
Expected life (in years)	5 years
Volatility	50.0%
Expected dividend per share	4.0%

The binomial lattice pricing model was developed for use in estimating the fair value of traded options that have no vesting restrictions and are fully transferable. In addition, such option pricing model requires input of highly subjective assumptions, including the expected stock price volatility. Because the Company's share options have characteristics significantly different from those of traded options, and because changes in the subjective input assumptions can materially affect the fair value estimate, the binomial lattice pricing model does not necessarily provide a reliable measure of the fair value of the share options.

On 25 August 2008, 400,000 share options were granted for nominal consideration to 160 employees of the Group under the Company's Share Option Scheme. Each option gives the holder the right to subscribe for one ordinary share of HK$0.01 each of the Company. All of these 400,000 share options were exercised during the nine months ended 30 September 2008.

Apart from the foregoing, at no time during the period was the Company or any of its subsidiaries a party to any arrangement to enable the directors of the Company to acquire benefits by means of the acquisition of shares in or debentures of the Company or any other body corporate.
