(a joint stock limited company incorporated in the People's Republic of China) Stock Code: 8251

CHARACTERISTICS OF THE GROWTH ENTERPRISE MARKET ("GEM") OF THE STOCK EXCHANGE OF HONG KONG LIMITED (THE "STOCK EXCHANGE")

GEM has been positioned as a market designed to accommodate companies to which a high investment risk maybe attached than other companies listed on the Stock Exchange. Prospective investors should be aware of the potential risks of investing in such companies and should make the decision to invest only after due and careful consideration. The greater risk profile and other characteristics of GEM mean that it is a market more suited to professional and other sophisticated investors.

Given the emerging nature of companies listed on GEM, there is a risk that securities traded on GEM may be more susceptible to high market volatility than securities traded on the Main Board of the Stock Exchange and no assurance is given that there will be a liquid market in the securities traded on GEM.

Hong Kong Exchanges and Clearing Limited and the Stock Exchange takes no responsibility for the contents of this report, make no representation as to its accuracy or completeness and expressly disclaim any liability whatsoever for any loss howsoever arising from or in reliance upon the whole or any part of the contents of this report.

This report, for which the Directors collectively and individually accept full responsibility, includes particulars given in compliance with the GEM Listing Rules for the purpose of giving information with regard to the Company. The Directors having made all reasonable enquiries, confirm that, to the best of their knowledge and belief: (1) the information contained in this report is accurate and complete in all material respects and not misleading; (2) there are no other matters the omission of which would make any statement in this report misleading; and (3) all opinions expressed in this report have been arrived at after due and careful consideration and are founded on bases and assumptions that are fair and reasonable.

The Company and one of its subsidiaries, Shanghai Shenhua Logistics Company Limited ("Shanghai Shenhua"), are incorporated in Pudong New Area of Shanghai. Pursuant to the implementation guidance of the new CIT Law ("EIT Law"), the Company and Shenhua Logistics are subject to Enterprise Income Tax ("EIT") 24% (for the three months ended 31 March 2010: 22%) on their assessable profit for the three months ended 31 March 2011. Such tax rate will increase to 25% in 2012.

Besides, the Company's subsidiaries, Jiangsu Suzhong Oil Shipping Company Limited ("Suzhong Shipping") and Shanghai Shenhua Logistics (Dongtai) Company Limited ("Shenhua Dongtai"), are treated as small-scale companies for PRC EIT purpose. According to a circular issued by Jiangsu provincial tax bureau in December 2003, the income tax of Suzhong Shipping and Shenhua Dongtai are charged at 2.5% of their revenue.

Profits of others subsidiaries established in the PRC are subject to EIT at 25% (for the three months ended 31 March 2010: 25%). Profits of subsidiaries established in Hong Kong are subject to Hong Kong profit tax of 16.5% (for the three months ended 31 March 2010: 16.5%).

4. EARNINGS PER SHARE

The calculation of the earnings per share for the three months ended 31 March 2011 is based on the profit attributable to owners of the Company of approximately RMB15,406,000 (for the three months ended 31 March 2010: RMB15,263,000) and the number of 936,190,000 shares (three months ended 31 March 2010: 936,190,000 shares).

Diluted earnings per share have not been calculated as there were no potential dilutive shares during the periods.

5. DIVIDEND

The Board did not recommend an interim dividend for the three months ended 31 March 2011 (three months ended 31 March 2010: RMB10,298,090).

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Financial and Business Review

In the first quarter of 2011, driven by the Twelfth Five-Year Plan on National Economic and Social Development of the PRC ("the Twelfth Five-Year Plan"), the PRC spared no effort to develop the construction of infrastructure, coupled with strategic adjustments of the Group, the business of the Group maintained steady growth. As to the fuel oil trading business, the Group pursued the strategy of generating high sales volume by selling at low margins, therefore boosting the income from fuel oil with sales volume and gross profit significantly increased by approximately 213.5% and 154.5% over the corresponding period last year. As to the asphalt business, the sales volume of asphalt in the first quarter of this year decreased by approximately 63.8% over the corresponding period last year. This was mainly due to the sales volume of asphalt recording a significant surge in the corresponding period last year driven by road construction projects of the Shanghai World Expo, while the sales volume in the first quarter of this year returned to the normal level. As to the road and bridge construction business, the profit margin in this quarter increased with improvement in management and cost control and the tenders won by the road and bridge construction business keep increasing, including projects won in early March with a total contract value of over RMB300,000,000. As to the logistics business, income from logistics increased in line with surge in fuel oil sales volume. For the three months ended 31 March 2011, the Group's turnover was approximately RMB699,162,000, representing an increase of approximately 24.4% when compared with the corresponding period last year.

Business Operation

The Group is principally engaged in the trading of asphalt and fuel oil, road and bridge construction and the provision of logistics service in the PRC. Through domestic and overseas procurement, the Group offers one-stop services to its clients from sales, storage to delivery of asphalt and fuel oil covering the Yangtze River region and some inland regions. Meanwhile, the Group is also active in developing logistics services by providing storage and transportation services for the asphalt and fuel oil trade, which are beneficial to the Group's domestic distribution of asphalt and fuel oil. The road and bridge construction business further expands the business scale of the Group. It generates synergies for the Group and reduces integrated costs, hence expanding the room for development of the Company's business and creating new profit drivers.

Asphalt Trading Business

For the three months ended 31 March 2011, turnover of the Group's asphalt trading business was approximately RMB65,753,000 (for the three months ended 31 March 2010: approximately RMB177,457,000), representing a decrease of approximately 62.9% when compared with the corresponding period last year. The income from the asphalt trading business accounted for approximately 9.4% of the Group's total turnover.

Gross margin of the asphalt trading business decreased from approximately 17.3% in the corresponding period last year to approximately 14.1% in the reporting period. For the three months ended 31 March 2011, gross profit of the Group's asphalt trading business was approximately RMB9,240,000 (for the three months ended 31 March 2010: approximately RMB30,619,000), representing a decrease of approximately 69.8% when compared with the corresponding period last year.

The decrease of income and gross profit from the asphalt trading business during the period was mainly attributable to a rapid surge in demand for asphalt in Shanghai in the corresponding period last year, when the road construction projects of the Shanghai World Expo were in full swing. Common factors for the low season of road construction projects, namely severe cold weather and the Lunar New Year, characterized this year, and the sales volume of asphalt during the period decreased by approximately 63.8% when compared with the corresponding period last year.

Fuel Oil Trading Business

For the three months ended 31 March 2011, turnover of the Group's fuel oil trading business was approximately RMB490,444,000 (for the three months ended 31 March 2010: approximately RMB163,570,000), representing an increase of 199.8% when compared with the corresponding period last year. The income from fuel oil trading business accounted for approximately 70.1% of the Group's total turnover. Sales volume of fuel oil during the period recorded a significant surge of approximately 213.5% when compared with last year.

For the three months ended 31 March 2011, gross profit of the Group's fuel oil trading business was approximately RMB13,664,000 (for the three months ended 31 March 2010: approximately RMB5,370,000), representing an increase of approximately 154.5% when compared with the corresponding period last year, while gross margin decreased from approximately 3.3% in the corresponding period last year to approximately 2.8% in the reporting period this year, which was mainly caused by the Group's aim to capture market share by pursuing the fuel oil sales strategy of generating high sales volume by selling at low margins and maintaining the supply of high quality oil products.

Road and Bridge Construction Business

For the three months ended 31 March 2011, turnover of the Group's road and bridge construction business was approximately RMB129,404,000 (for the three months ended 31 March 2010: approximately RMB209,611,000), representing a decrease of approximately 38.3% when compared with the corresponding period last year. The income from road and bridge construction business accounted for 18.5% of the Group's total turnover.

For the three months ended 31 March 2011, gross profit of the Group's road and bridge construction business was approximately RMB24,880,000 (for the three months ended 31 March 2010: approximately RMB22,394,000), representing an increase of approximately 11.1% when compared with the corresponding period last year, while the gross margin increased from approximately 10.7% in the corresponding period last year to approximately 19.2% in the reporting period this year.

Logistics Business

For the three months ended 31 March 2011, turnover of the Group's logistics business was approximately RMB13,561,000 (for the three months ended 31 March 2010: approximately RMB11,602,000), representing an increase of 16.9% when compared with the corresponding period last year. The income from logistics business accounted for approximately 1.9% of the Group's total turnover. The increase in income from logistics was mainly driven by the significant surge in the sales volume of fuel oil and the proactive approach in developing asphalt storage business during the period.

The gross margin for the logistics business increased from approximately 16.6% in the corresponding period last year to approximately 21.8% during the reporting period. For the three months ended 31 March 2011, gross profit of the Group's logistics business was approximately RMB2,953,000, representing an increase of approximately 53.2% when compared with the corresponding period last year.

Other Income and Gains

For the three months ended 31 March 2011, other income and gains of the Group were approximately RMB532,000 (for the three months ended 31 March 2010: approximately RMB37,000), representing an increase of approximately 1,337.8% when compared with the corresponding period last year. Other income for the corresponding period this year included an amount of approximately RMB253,000 of consultancy fee on asphalt, while no such kind of income was recorded in the corresponding period last year.

Distribution costs

For the three months ended 31 March 2011, distribution costs of the Group were approximately RMB2,440,000 (for the three months ended 31 March 2010: approximately RMB3,190,000), representing a decrease of approximately 23.5% when compared with the corresponding period last year. The decrease in distribution costs was mainly caused by the Group's lower distribution costs in asphalt business.

Administrative Expenses

For the three months ended 31 March 2011, administrative expenses of the Group were approximately RMB10,376,000 (for the three months ended 31 March 2010: approximately RMB23,417,000), representing a decrease of approximately 55.7% when compared with the corresponding period last year. The decrease in administrative expenses was mainly caused by reversal of approximately RMB2,300,000 from discount value on the construction receivables in accordance with the Hong Kong Accounting Standards in connection with the Group's road and bridge business due to good repayment record while there was approximately RMB11,000,000 provision in the corresponding period last year.

Profit Attributable to Shareholders

For the three months ended 31 March 2011, the profit attributable to owners of the Group was approximately RMB15,406,000 (for the three months ended 31 March 2010: approximately RMB15,263,000). The basic and diluted earnings per share attributable to owners of the Company during the period were RMB0.016 (for the three months ended 31 March 2010: approximately RMB0.016).

Outlook

The year 2011 marks the first year of the Twelfth Five-Year Plan. As the Chinese economy continues to thrive, the PRC will significantly increase infrastructure projects and continue to expand the highway network. The market demand for asphalt will maintain steady growth and the Group will continue to expand asphalt business.

Road and bridge construction business will be the focus in the development plan of the Group in 2011. In 2011, Nantong Highway and Bridge, a subsidiary of the Group, has RMB1 billion of road and bridge construction projects under or pending construction, which are to be completed within the next 18 months. Moreover, in March 2011, it won two new projects with a total contract value of over RMB300 million, laying a solid foundation for the Group's turnover and earnings from the road and bridge construction business. The Group will capitalize on the opportunities brought by the Twelfth Five-Year Plan, actively explore markets and reach more customers.

As to fuel oil, the Group will continue to pursue the strategy of generating a high sales volume by selling at low margins. Coupled with increasing the supply of fuel oil to capture market share, sales volume for fuel oil this year is expected to record a significant surge when compared with last year.

As to the logistics business, the Group will continue to improve the logistics management system to raise operational efficiency and reduce operational costs. Coupled with the synergy of the asphalt trading business and fuel oil trading business, the logistics business will maintain steady growth momentum.

The Group will utilize its own competitive edges and execute operational strategies for business segments. Through continuous improvement in management and profitability of the business segments, the Group will capitalize on opportunities brought by the Twelfth Five-Year Plan, actively explore new markets and promote the development of four business segments to strive for steady investment returns to the shareholders.
