MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Business review

The first nine months ended 30 September 2020 was by no means an easy start with the global outbreak of the novel coronavirus (“COVID-19”) pandemic and increasing tensions between China and the United States. The volatile economic conditions in addition to the local socio-political instability had created an unprecedentedly challenging environment for businesses. Many corporates had adopted a cautious approach on their budgets and delayed their projects and investments with the consideration of slowing down of the global economy. Nevertheless, it accelerated the change of consumption patterns and business model from traditional to new digital and mobile models. The importance of technology has boosted drastically during this pandemic. The various measures implemented in different countries like full lockdowns, travelling restrictions and working-from-home arrangements, gave rise to technologies like artificial intelligence (“AI”), internet of things (IoT) and cloud technology etc, which helped connect people together and made communication and business possible in this time of social distancing.

Outlook and Prospect

The outbreak of COVID-19 during the first half of 2020 devastated the world economy. Worse still, the geopolitical uncertainty including the intensified relationship between China and the United States, the US presidential election and the local social chaos had made the economy of Hong Kong and the rest of the world under severe strain. Their negative impacts have begun to reveal in the second half of 2020. Some even project that the world economy will experience the worst downturn since the Great Depression. As a response to the difficult business environment, many companies tend to cancel or postpone their projects in the second half of the year. Nevertheless, in such crisis like no other, it creates opportunities, especially with the reliance on technology during times of containment.

In the meantime, Macro has formulated a strategic event plan to further engage clients and promote the digital workspace blueprint. We will organize monthly webinars, and each theme is a part of the end-to-end digital workspace. Starting from June 2020, the first webinar theme was "Collaboration". We allied with the reputable Japanese brand, Hitachi Vantara, to introduce their content sharing platform, which can generate synergy with Macro's solid virtual desktop solution. Upcoming, Macro will keep partnering with other industry elites to organize webinars in other relevant themes to promote the comprehensive digital workspace structure and raise its solution demand accordingly.

Since the pandemic had awakened the market's adoption of technology, DataCube will utilize this trend to further promote our flagship intelligent products in the next quarters, such as the AI webinar series co-organized with Huawei and Macro in July. In the year to come, we will leverage our research and development footprint in Guangzhou, to continue our sales activities in not only the Hong Kong but the entire Guangdong-Hong Kong-Macau Greater Bay Area market.

We believe the business direction and activities will benefit our sales and market awareness.

Looking ahead, to cope with the potential risk, the Group shall prudently maintain and develop the business of the Group. With the support of national policies in the IT industry and rapid development of technologies like 5G, AI and data center etc, the Group shall deploy its capacity to keep pace with the latest technological advancements and continue to create business agility for our clients and create values for the Company and its shareholders.

	Three months ended 30 September		Nine months ended 30 September
	2020 (Unaudited) HK$'000	2019 (Unaudited) HK$'000	2020 (Unaudited) HK$'000	2019 (Unaudited) HK$'000
