Impact on the Group's business from coronavirus

The coronavirus has reduced tourist arrivals and kept residents away from shops, which struck heavily again on the Hong Kong retail sector since end of January 2020. According to the Hong Kong Retail Management Association, it is believed that Hong Kong's retail market had entered "a super-cold winter" threatening its survival. Retail sales in Hong Kong plummeted from February and March 2020, making it the largest ever slump on record. For the first half of 2020, it was provisionally estimated that the value of total retail sales decreased by 33.3% compared with the same period in 2019. Government spokesperson said that such fall in retail sales reflected the heavy blow to tourism and consumption-related activities caused by the coronavirus outbreak, and further warned that the retail business will remain "extremely austere in the near term".

Further, in accordance with the requirement from the Hong Kong Government, from 4 February 2020, Hong Kong Macau Ferry Terminal in Sheung Wan has been temporarily closed. Meanwhile, all the sailing services between Hong Kong and Macau has been suspended until further notice. The closure of the terminal has further affected the customer willingness of spending at Shun Tak Centre, and has seriously impacted the Group's retail business for the nine months ended 30 September 2020.

In view of the growing popularity of online shopping and to mitigate the impact from the coronavirus, the Group has launched its online shops in March 2020. Moreover, the Group has also cooperated with various reputable online shopping platforms for customers to order the Group's products through these platforms.

Since September 2020, due to the cases fall of the coronavirus infection in Hong Kong, the Hong Kong Government had loosen the "requirements to reduce gathering". The measures will boost the Group's retail business for the second half of the year.
