

contributing to the community

We recognise that in Hong Kong, we are part of a tight and important community. As the only 100% Hong Kong funded company in the insurance industry, we play a role that is critical to the lives of people in the community. We give back to the community through various means, including participating in charity events and organising activities such as our annual blood donation program and Oxfam Trailwalker 2005, which involve more than a hundred staff members.
