

The production process of the C-12 protein chip: Blocking solution is being added to the chip set to protect and preserve the activities of protein on the C-12 protein chip, and to prevent non-specific reactions.

