Financial Summary

Chairman's Statement

Dear Shareholders,

On behalf of the board (the “Board”) of directors (the “Directors”) of Prinix Chengshan (Cayman) Holding Limited (the “Company” or “Prinix Chengshan”), I am pleased to present the annual report of 2019 of the Company for your review.

In 2019, the overall situation of domestic and foreign market economy, trade environment and tire industry is still complex and severe. The domestic economy has entered the stage of structural adjustment, transforming from high-speed development to high-quality development. With the changing international market and the impact of the trade war between the People's Republic of China (the “PRC”) and the United States, the importance of the global development of Chinese manufacturing enterprises has been highlighted. 2019 is also a challenging year for the PRC's automotive industry, with the production and sales of passenger cars declining year on year, but the demand for commercial vehicles remaining strong. The changes in the automotive industry also bring new opportunities and challenges to parts companies.

Chairman's Statement

Faced with severe and complex internal and external situations, all Directors fulfilled their duties and performed their duties conscientiously in 2019. The Board paid close attention to the trend of the tire industry, made targeted adjustments to the business strategy, and accelerated the intelligent transformation and upgrading of the industry and business expansion. The Company and its subsidiaries (the “Group”), focusing on user needs and market orientation, improved the distribution of sales networks by promoting new sales modes and services, enhanced brand influence by strengthening brand promotion, and optimized the Company’s production processes and manufacturing costs by increasing research and development (“R&D”) investment and digitizing the manufacturing process. At present, the first phase of production expansion of Rongcheng factory has been put into operation on schedule, and the construction of Tire Production Base in Thailand has been steadily promoted to meet the growing demand of overseas customers. The Company actively undertook social responsibilities and won the 2018/2019 Public Service Excellence Award issued by The Community Chest and the Social Responsibility Award for Listed Companies in 2019 issued at the 9th China public service festival. The Company earnestly fulfilled the responsibilities entrusted by its shareholders, and won the China financing award “The Most Promising Listed Company” sponsored by China Financial Market and undertaken by Wonderful Sky Financial Group Holdings Limited, and the “Most Valuable Company in Automobile and Industrial Manufacturing Sector” of the Forth Session of Best Hong Kong Stock Award issued by zhitongcaijing.com. Its stock has been included in the MSCI China small-cap index since November 26, 2019.

In 2019, the Group's sales revenue rose to approximately RMB5.589 billion, and the net profit reached the expected level to achieve RMB480 million with the implementation of the strategic goal of continuing to increase the R&D expenditure and advancing the early-stage investment of the project in Thailand. The Company continued to develop steadily.

Despite the uncertainty of 2020 due to the impact of the epidemic outbreak of novel coronavirus pneumonia (the “NCP Epidemic” or the “epidemic”), we believe that opportunities for sustained global economic growth remain. The Group has focused on deepening the market deployment and ensuring the construction of Tire Production Base in Thailand, while taking measures to control costs and maintain core competitiveness. Faced with so many uncertainties in the industry, the Group will pay more attention to cash flow, maintain effective capital investment, and firmly implement the international development strategy. I and the members of the Board firmly believe that the Group, with its rich industry experience and superior core competitiveness, will be able to provide customers with better services, bring greater value and returns to its shareholders!

Finally, I would like to thank all the staff for their hard work for the development of the Company. Thanks to all shareholders and friends from all walks of life for their support and help!

Che Hongzhi

Management Discussion and Analysis

BUSINESS REVIEW AND OUTLOOK

Industry dynamics

Due to the downward cycle of the global economy, the adjustment of the domestic economic structure, and the end of the rapid growth of automobile production and sales for years, the domestic tire production showed an inflection point, and the output declined for two consecutive years. A trend of small decline is temporarily presented. Domestic tire industry and enterprises began to move forward in the direction of high-quality development driven by innovation, transformation and upgrade.

The tire industry became increasingly concentrated. Elimination of backward production capacity and transformation and upgrade of green high-end manufacturing are the main melody for the current tire production capacity development. In recent years, with the change of the national environmental protection, safety and regulations, the tire industry has become more concentrated, with the strong winning and the weak eliminated.

Sales of domestic brands continued to grow. With the upgrading of technology, improvement of service quality and brand publicity, domestic brand tires are more and more recognized by domestic consumers and the sales volume keeps increasing. At the same time, domestic tire enterprises sped up the pace of going out. A number of enterprises announced the establishment of overseas factories or new overseas factories, promoting the global deployment.

Management Discussion and Analysis

Operation review

As a leading domestic tire manufacturer in the PRC's commercial all steel radial tire replacement market, Prinx Chengshan has been engaged in tire design, production and manufacturing for 43 years, adhering to the core strategy of cost leadership, efficiency driven, competitive differentiation and global operation.

The Group continuously provided high-performance tires embodying Prinx Chengshan's intelligence and concern to global dealers and Chinese automobile manufacturers to enhance the happiness experience of drivers and passengers.

During the year ended December 31, 2019 (the “Reporting Period”), the Group's overall operations were stable and its performance was in line with expectations. The annual operating revenue was approximately RMB5,589.0 million, representing a year-on-year increase of approximately RMB382.9 million or approximately 7.4%. The gross profit was approximately RMB1,075.3 million, representing a year-on-year growth of approximately RMB72.2 million or approximately 7.2%. The profit attributable to the owners of the Company for the year ended December 31, 2019 was approximately RMB479.7 million, with a year-on-year increase of approximately RMB1.1 million or approximately 0.2%.

This year, the Group organized and carried out various works based on the plans formulated in 2018. The production expansion project was in smooth progress. The first phase of the capacity expansion project of Rongcheng all steel radial tires was put into full operation, offering a new capacity of 1.65 million sets, and increasing the annual production capacity from approximately 4.7 million sets to 6.35 million sets. The first phase of the capacity expansion project of Rongcheng semi-steel radial tires was also put into service, offering a new capacity of approximately 1.9 million sets and increasing the annual production capacity from approximately 6.5 million sets to 8.4 million sets. The increased capacity would help us to bring into play the economies of scale of the tire industry, seize market share, and strengthen profitability.

The Group's overseas production base in Thailand (“Tire Production Base in Thailand”) is in line with the overall construction schedule. The first phase of the project is expected to be put into operation in the second quarter of 2020. After it comes into operation, the annual production capacity of all steel radial tires and semi-steel radial tires can be increased by 800,000 sets and 4 million sets, respectively. This factory adopts the leading design concept of the tire industry and is designed based on the standard of green intelligent manufacturing, which provides a new impetus for the global development of Prinx Chengshan.

The Group's three major products are all steel radial tires, semi-steel radial tires, and bias tires. All steel radial tires, which are the main source of the Group's business result, are mainly used in intermediate/long distance transportation, buses, mixed road or off-road vehicles, and light trucks. Semi-steel radial tires are mainly used in passenger cars, pickup trucks and SUVs. Bias tires are mainly installed in agricultural and industrial off-road conditions for vehicles.

Management Discussion and Analysis

The Group mainly supplies to the replacement markets through distributors. For the year ended December 31, 2019, the revenue from the Group's domestic and international distributors was approximately RMB2,082.2 million (2018: RMB1,811.4 million) and RMB1,874.4 million (2018: RMB1,545.1 million), respectively, accounting for approximately 37.3% and 33.5% of the total revenue; the revenue from direct sales to automobile manufacturers was approximately RMB1,222.3 million (2018: approximately RMB1,194.5 million), accounting for approximately 21.9% of the total revenue of the Group; the revenue from private label customers was approximately RMB410.1 million (2018: approximately RMB655.1 million), accounting for approximately 7.3% of the total revenue of the Group. All steel radial tires, semi-steel radial tires and bias tires accounted for approximately 76.0%, 20.1% and 3.9% of total revenue of the Group respectively. In addition, the innovative sales model, "Zhianda" sales model, gradually became mature through practice, which will bring new sales growth point.

Business review

Distributors

Domestic distributors

Business measures

During the Reporting Period, the Group took the following operational measures to strengthen the relationship with domestic distributors and improve the distribution performance:

- (I) adopted diversified sales strategies to optimize product structure, established product lines combining high-, medium- and low-end portfolios for key market segments, promoted strengths and avoided weaknesses, and expanded and improved sales categories in a timely manner;
- (II) developed flexible sales plans, implemented key breakthrough strategy for the terminal market, improved the market share of regional market segments, actively cultivated new distributors, built five-star retail stores, and improved channel coverage;

Management Discussion and Analysis

- (III) carried out in-depth cooperation with manufacturers and set up associated companies in Yunnan and Hebei, which showed good development momentum, smooth operation and outstanding sales performance; empowered the partners to realize altruism and win-win result through different conference marketing methods focusing on in-depth communications. On December 16, 2019, the annual partner conference of Prinx Chengshan, with the theme of “creating a better future through innovation and reform”, was successfully held in Suzhou;
- (IV) refined sales management, provided value-added services. By launching the CRM (customer relationship management system), we realized the interconnection of customer management, order management, credit management, price management, marketing management, pipeline management, after-sales service management and other sales related modules, realized the three-dimensional, transparent and fine management of the business team, service team and customers, and unified the management of sales data. Through the application of big data analysis, we established a more scientific and perfect customer rating system, realized the automatic correction and arrangement of customer orders, improved the order satisfaction rate and timely delivery rate, and provided customers with faster and better services; and
- (V) established the e-commerce platform, completed the opening promotion, double eleven, double twelve and other major activities, and improved brand influence. With the effective combination of online and offline “tire insurance”, the Group provided customers with travel guarantee without worry for sales. Through the establishment of the “service +” platform, the time of faulty tires identification was shortened from 48 hours to 2 hours, so as to improve customer satisfaction.

Management Discussion and Analysis

International marketing

Business measures

Due to the trade war between PRC and the United States and the implementation of anti-dumping and countervailing measures by the United States on all steel products, tire products exported from PRC to the United States were sharply reduced in 2019, and the substantial reduction of products exported to the United States further aggravated the excess domestic production capacity, leading to intensified competition in the markets beyond the United States. The Group actively developed the international market, developed new customers, and explored new market. During the Reporting Period, the Group participated in several large international trade fairs, with an aim to increase brand awareness, seek potential partners, and enhance overseas publicity and marketing efforts. On October 16, 2019, the 2019 International Distributor Meeting Prinx Chengshan with the theme of “Together For Future” was successfully held in the ancient city of Xi'an, demonstrating the Company's new development strategy.

In addition, the Group optimized the organization, management and personnel structure of sales companies in Europe and North America. The Group made channel deployment in advance, laying a solid foundation for the sales of the products manufactured by the Tire Production Base in Thailand in 2020.

Business Review

During the Reporting Period, the Group's domestic distributor channel revenue was approximately RMB2,082.2 million, which increased by approximately 14.9% when compared with approximately RMB1,811.4 million in 2018; the revenue from international distributor channel was approximately RMB1,874.4 million, which increased by approximately 21.3% when compared with approximately RMB1,545.1 million in 2018. The international marketing channels have the ability to support the strategic sales of the Group initially.

Management Discussion and Analysis

Direct sales to automobile manufacturers

Business measures

During the Reporting Period, the Group enhanced its business cooperation with automobile manufacturers, improved its market competitiveness and channel customer stickiness, cooperated with more than 30 vehicle manufacturers in 42 supporting projects, and established a mature direct sales channel with many automobile manufacturers.

Business Review

The Group has become the mainstream supplier of more than 30 large vehicle manufacturers such as Sinotruk, JMC, DFLZM and FAW, and became the supplier of vehicle manufacturers such as BAIC Daimler, Dongfeng Suizhuan and Great Wall Motor during the Reporting Period. By far, the top 10 commercial vehicle manufacturers in terms of domestic sales have all entered the supporting system of the Group. The Group has become the supporting manufacturer of the world's first "5G + intelligent driving" project of SAIC Iveco Hongyan Automobile, marking another breakthrough in the research and application of Prinx Chengshan in the field of intelligent tires. Through the cooperation with a number of mature automotive enterprises, the Group was able to improve its R&D and product performance to meet the needs of more customers. The Company ranked the 49th on the List of China Top 100 Auto Parts Companies in 2019.

During the Reporting Period, the Group's direct sales to automobile manufacturers were approximately RMB1,222.3 million, which increased by approximately 2.3% when compared with approximately RMB1,194.5 million in 2018.

Private label customers

Business measures

The Group's current private label customers are Cooper and other newly developed customers. Due to the impact of trade barriers between the PRC and the United States, the percentage of private label sales to Cooper as a proportion of the Group's total sales decreased from 10.0% in 2018 to 5.3% in 2019, and the private label agreement between the Group and Cooper will expire on June 30, 2021. In this regard, the Group has planned ahead to continuously expand the market share of its own brand in the domestic and overseas markets, while increasing the sales of other private label customers to ensure the steady growth of the Group's export revenue.

During the Reporting Period, the Group's sales to private label customers were approximately RMB410.1 million, which decreased by approximately 37.4% when compared with approximately RMB655.1 million in 2018.

Management Discussion and Analysis

Innovative sales model

Business measures

During the Reporting Period, the Group launched a new service brand of “Zhianda” and launched an innovative sales model of “Zhianda tire full life cycle” (“Zhianda Model”). Through the effective application of intelligent technology, we created a service-oriented application of tire products in the field of truck and bus tires, in order to maximize the use efficiency of tires, achieve the goal of green and sustainable, and make it more convenient to use at lower cost. Through the Zhianda Model, the Group can conduct intelligent management of the fleet, reduce the human resources required and improve the capability of big data analysis and application, so as to further improve the business result.

Business Review

Through the Zhianda Model, the Group has set up subsidiaries in Jinan, Shanghai and Shenzhen, and established its own IT service team, which can independently develop software and effectively boost the level of intelligent management. During the Reporting Period, the customer group of Zhianda Model grew and the model became more mature, but being in the market development stage, the Zhianda Model did not bring obvious benefits to sales.

New products

During the Reporting Period, the Group developed and marketed 63 new products of all steel radial tires and 139 new products of semi-steel radial tires, which further improved its product competitiveness and market share in niche markets. At the same time, based on the supporting market demand, the development trend of the replacement market and the needs of the Tire Production Base in Thailand for production in 2020, the Group planned to develop 4 models of all steel radial tires and 8 models of semi-steel radial tires with new patterns.

As of the end of the Reporting Period, 35 models of all steel products and 175 models of semi-steel products for Tire Production Base in Thailand had been developed and stored in Rongcheng factory, providing strong product support and guarantee for the Group's further expansion of overseas business and its performance improvement in 2020. Orders for both traditional and new products increased steadily during the Reporting Period.

Total sales of products of the Group and sales of new products developed during the Reporting Period

Product type	Sales of new products (10,000 sets)	Total sales (10,000 sets)	Proportion of sales of new products in total sales
All Steel Radial Tires	192.0	525.6	36.5%
Semi-steel Radial Tires	186.2	635.6	29.3%
Bias Tires	1.1	72.2	1.5%
Total	379.3	1,233.4	30.8%

Management Discussion and Analysis

The Group has always focused on R&D and innovation. During the Reporting Period, great achievements were made in product R&D and process manufacturing improvement, the technical team had been effectively expanded and strengthened, and the product planning direction became clear. The passenger car tires of Prinx Chengshan “Prinx HT1” won the title of “National Brand Annual High-performance SUV Tires” awarded by the selection committee of “Xi Zhong Award”, and its all steel tires “Chengshan CST-121” won the “Annual Driving Wheel Position Award” issued by the selection committee of “Xi Zhong Award”. The effort and speed of testing the new material were significantly accelerated. The Group has been recognized as a “Joint Key Laboratory of the Ministry of Education” for rubber and plastic materials and engineering of Qingdao University of Science and Technology. In 2019, it had 7 projects included into the first batch of technical innovation projects of Shandong and 9 projects included into the third batch. Some of these projects reached the domestic advanced level, helping the Group to create new drivers, improve quality and efficiency, realize transformation and upgrading, and achieve a new leap forward.

Intelligent manufacturing

During the Reporting Period, the Group built a smart factory, designed and built the Tire Production Base in Thailand according to intelligent standards, including creating a smart factory benchmark, and improving operation efficiency through the application of simulation technology and information interconnection technology; further optimizing the process capacity, effectively reducing the logistics and transfer cost, and steadily improving the product quality through the implementation of digital transformation, standard working hour system, 6S logistics improvement and other relevant projects; realizing the integrated management and control of equipment, personnel, materials and process standards, standardizing operations, enhancing the Group's control over product process and improving the manufacturing capacity through the integration and enhancement of MES (production and manufacturing execution system). The Group's comprehensive energy consumption per tire unit product is at the leading level in the industry, and it has been recognized as “the leading benchmark enterprise in energy efficiency of key energy-consuming products in the petroleum and chemical industries” for four consecutive years. The Group also relies on the strict quality control system covering the whole life cycle of products. It has won the title of the PRC's first batch of green factories issued by the Ministry of Industry and Information Technology. The stable product performance provided a solid backing to improve the brand image and increase customer satisfaction.

Management Discussion and Analysis

During the year, the Group continued to integrate the supply chain, control the procurement costs, enhance the competitiveness of its products and integrate the logistics center into the supply chain management center to connect the front end production with the rear logistics, and improve the support delivery capacity, while strictly following its internal control requirements, which in turn lays a solid foundation for reducing costs and improving efficiency. The Group was awarded the title of “AAA Credit Enterprise” by Xinyunlian International Credit Evaluation Co., LTD under the 315 national credit system.

The development experience of Prinx Chengshan has created the spirit of “bearing heavy burdens, pursuing excellence, surpassing oneself and striving for innovation”, formed the DNA of Prinx Chengshan people, and created a team that can endure hardship and fight and will never quit and never give up. The Group stimulated the enthusiasm of all staff by establishing a comprehensive compensation and reward system, and made best efforts to foster and retain talents.

Operation strategies and outlook

Looking ahead to 2020, the external environment is full of challenges. Affected by the trade friction between the PRC and the United States and the NCP Epidemic, the market environment has become increasingly complex, and the domestic and international economic situation is full of variables. The overall situation is grim, but opportunities and challenges coexist.

In this situation, the Group needs to prepare for the future, assess the situation and respond promptly to the market trends, promptly adjust the pace of manufacturing, procurement and sales, and work closely with partners in the upstream and downstream of the industrial chain to tide over the difficulties and maintain a healthy industrial chain ecology. The Group will adopt the following strategies:

- (I) Focus strategy: Strengthen the ability of strategy execution, implement the strategy in detail, further standardize the system, straighten out the process, improve the efficiency, and lay a solid foundation for the subsequent internationalization of the Group's operations.
- (II) Enhancing internal management: Continue to improve the marketing, R&D, manufacturing, procurement, quality and control systems, establish systematic and regular review, revision and improvement mechanisms, and form a self-improving management system. Optimize the Group's production process and manufacturing cost by increasing R&D investment and digitization of manufacturing process to create core advantages of high-quality development.

Management Discussion and Analysis

- (III) Flexible sales: With the all steel and semi-steel expansion projects put into production in 2019, and the Tire Production Base in Thailand put into production in the second quarter of 2020, the global deployment of the Group will be benefited. In order to rapidly increase sales volume and absorb new production capacity, the Group will make use of the advantages and accumulation of existing marketing channels, flexibly use sales strategies, make active overseas market deployment, develop potential customers to expand market share. The Group will establish more star retail stores in the domestic all steel replacement market, expand and extend its services, implement unbounded linkage services in stages, and effectively organize the distributor network, focusing on the extension of the township and town terminal network. As to domestic semi-steel replacement market, the Group will optimize the sales channel, improve the distribution network layout, assist distributors to sink the sales channel, increase the network coverage, and improve brand awareness. For the domestic supporting market, the Group will stabilize and promote the share of mature vehicle manufacturers, expand new models, and focus on the development of representative commercial vehicle manufacturers and promote the supporting process of passenger vehicle manufacturers.
- (IV) Innovation of marketing models: Actively explore new marketing models, promote the service brand “Zhianda” and realize alliance, resource sharing, win-win cooperation with distributors; set up a channel service team to help distributors maintain and serve key retailers and improve stickiness; try to create a national “linkage service” network and share the warehouses; try to realize crossover channel connection, carry out joint brand promotion through shared channels and shared promotion activities with different industries. Both parties shall cooperate and share customer resources to improve operational efficiency, improve service, reduce cost and improve customer stickiness.
- (V) Sparing no efforts: Ensure the Tire Production Base in Thailand is put into operation on schedule in the second quarter of 2020. Actively train talents with systematic strategic awareness to operate in the international market, recruit local staff, carry out corporate culture construction, and prepare the personnel and operation system for production by institutionalizing the operating policies and operating indicators of the Company based on the accumulation of Rongcheng factory as well as the standardized process, operation instructions and business rules.

Treasury Policy

The Group has adopted a prudent financial management approach towards its treasury policies and thus has maintained a healthy liquidity position throughout the year ended December 31, 2019. As the maximum applicable percentage ratio with respect to the acquisition under the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities (the "Listing Rules") on the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited (the "Hong Kong Stock Exchange") is above 5% but under 25%, the acquisition constituted a discloseable transaction of the Company under Chapter 14 of the Listing Rules subject to the requirements of announcement and reporting.

Located at 399 Moo.4, T. Nong Suea Chang, A. RISKS AND UNCERTAINTIES

(I) Risks in relation to the overall economy of the PRC

A substantial portion of the assets of the Group are currently located in the PRC and currently approximately 60% of the revenue is derived from operations in the PRC. Therefore, the operating results, financial position and prospects of the Group will be primarily influenced by the changes in economy, politics, policies and laws in the PRC. As economy in the PRC is at the stage of transforming the way of development, optimizing the economic structure and altering the growth drivers, the Group's operations in the PRC might also be affected. Hence, the Group will consolidate and ensure stable and healthy development of the PRC market through enhancing the innovation on technology, strictly maintaining product quality, implementing the strategy of differentiation competition and strengthening after-sale service capacities while taking advantage of globalized operation.

(II) Risks in relation to the fluctuations in exchange rates

Given the fluctuations in the global economy and the tightening and easing of monetary policies by different countries, the Group may be exposed to risks of fluctuations in exchange rates arising from those factors. As revenue denominated in USD from overseas operations accounts for approximately 40.7% of the total revenue of the Group for the year ended December 31, 2019, mainly used in overseas purchase of raw material. The operation expenses of Prinx Thailand is mainly denominated in THB. Therefore, the Group is exposed to foreign exchange risks with respect to US dollars ("USD") and Thai Baht ("THB"). The occurrence of significant fluctuations in exchange rates will affect the results of the Group. Exchange rate fluctuations and market trends have always been a concern of the Group. In this regard, the Company will strengthen the supervision on foreign currency transactions as well as the scale of foreign currency assets and liabilities, and may manage the potential fluctuations in exchange rates by optimizing the settlement currency of export trades and utilizing exchange rate financial instruments and other proactive preventive measures. The Group and the Company may consider entering into forward exchange contracts or currency swap contracts to mitigate the foreign exchange risk. During the Reporting Period, the Group entered into currency swap contracts to mitigate the foreign exchange risk. As at December 31, 2019, these currency swap contracts were due.

(III) Impacts caused by tariff and anti-dumping and countervailing security duty imposed by the United States government on products imported from the PRC

On March 22, 2018, the President of the United States, Donald Trump signed a Presidential Memorandum declaring that pursuant to the alleged results of the "Section 301 Investigation", tariffs would be imposed on imports from the PRC on a large scale, and Chinese enterprises would be restricted to invest in and merge with companies in the United States. On September 24, 2018, the United States imposed a 10% tariff on USD200 billion of Chinese imports into the United States. On May 10, 2019, the United States decided to raise the tariff on USD200 billion of Chinese imports into the United States from 10% to 25%.

Management Discussion and Analysis

In addition, on February 15, 2019, the US Department of Commerce issued the “Anti-dumping and Countervailing Security Duty” orders on Chinese truck and bus tires, pursuant to which levy anti-dumping and countervailing security duty became effective immediately on products related to truck and bus. Prinx Chengshan was ordered to pay a combined security rate of 42.16% of the anti-dumping and countervailing duty. On February 3, 2020, the US Department of Commerce issued a notice to launch the first administrative review process for anti-dumping and countervailing duty on imported truck and bus tires from the PRC. The investigation period of the anti-dumping review started from February 15, 2019 to January 31, 2020, and the investigation period of the countervailing review started from February 15, 2019 to December 31, 2019. If Prinx Chengshan is put on the review list by the U.S. prosecutor, the anti-dumping and countervailing security rates determined in the original trial may be adjusted. The Company learned from the US attorney that the US prosecutor did not list the Company as the subject of a countervailing and anti-dumping review investigation. However, in order to reduce the countervailing duty rate, the Company has initiated the countervailing review, and the countervailing security duty rate may be adjusted accordingly.

Uncertainty and trend of Sino-US trade war has brought uncertainties to the Company's overseas sales. Under such circumstances, the Company will continue to actively invest in and build the Tire Production Base in Thailand to avoid international trade barriers, so as to support the Group in the expansion of its international sales.

(IV) Risks in relation to overseas investments

During the Reporting Period, the Company had advanced the construction of its overseas production base. The Tire Production Base in Thailand is expected to be put into production in the second quarter of 2020, and the proportion of overseas business will be increased. The changes in local economy, politics, policies and laws in Thailand may affect changes in the investment environment and the construction period of the project. The construction of its overseas production base and its production may be affected by many factors, including any failure in completing projects as scheduled for reasons of contractors, government approval or staff, any failure or delay in project financing as a result of changes in international financial market and any failure in carrying out product certification, providing staff support and conducting equipment testing as scheduled. In light of this, the Company will take knowledge of the changes in the investment environment of the authorities in Thailand timely, and make arrangements in advance for construction progress, product certification, personnel, etc. At the same time, we will deploy the sales strategy plan in Thailand and steadily advance the financing plan for projects. All work is progressing steadily in accordance with the goals.

COMPLIANCE WITH RELEVANT LAWS AND REGULATIONS

The Company strictly complied with the following laws and regulations which may have a significant impact on its production and operation: (a) the laws and regulations relating to compulsory product certification for tire products; (b) the laws, regulations and policies relating to the access to and supervision of the tire industry; (c) the laws and regulations relating to environmental protection and safety responsibility; (d) the laws and regulations relating to foreign investment; (e) the laws and regulations relating to foreign exchange control and taxation; (f) the laws and regulations relating to labour and employment. Meanwhile, a list of applicable laws and regulations was established within the Company and updated from time to time for compliance. In addition, the Company made enquiries from time to time about the restrictions under the regulations of, and the requirements of the relevant regulatory authorities in the jurisdictions in which it conducts business and investment activities, such as the import tariffs and quota regulations, anti-dumping and sanctions regulations in the United States and the European Union trade regulations. The Company was able to comply with the relevant laws and regulations within and outside the PRC which have a significant impact on it, through the full cooperation between its legal department and the external legal advisors, and the Company's continuous and effective supervision.

CAPITAL STRUCTURE

There had been no change in capital structure of the Company during the Reporting Period. The capital of the Company comprises ordinary shares and other reserves.

CAPITAL COMMITMENT AND CONTINGENT LIABILITIES

As at December 31, 2019, the Group's capital commitment was approximately RMB399.5 million (2018: RMB57.3 million). The Group had no contingent liability that would result in a significant impact during the Reporting Period (2018: Nil).

SIGNIFICANT INVESTMENTS, MATERIAL ACQUISITIONS AND DISPOSALS OF SUBSIDIARIES, ASSOCIATED COMPANIES AND JOINT VENTURES

Save as disclosed in the section headed "Investment", the Group did not have any other significant investments, material acquisitions and disposals of subsidiaries, associated companies and joint ventures during the Reporting Period.

FUTURE PLANS FOR SUBSTANTIAL INVESTMENTS OR CAPITAL ASSETS

On January 10, 2020, the Board approved the Company's annual financial budget for 2020 which covers the Company's normal capital expenditure for renovation and the 1.2 million sets of planned construction projects of all steel phase II of the Tire Production Base in Thailand. The investment in the construction projects is expected to be approximately RMB541 million, and the source of the funds is profit surplus and bank loans. The expansion project will be implemented after the first phase of the Tire Production Base in Thailand is put into production and subject to review and approval of the Board.

Save as disclosed above, there was no plan authorized by the Board for other substantial investment or additions of capital assets.

Directors' Report

The Company chose representative financial indicators regarding profitability, operation capacity and solvency to analyze the growth potential of the Company. The Company maintained healthy financial indicators, with a general rising trend in the profit level in the past three years, and in 2019, the Group's revenue increased by approximately 7.4% year on year and the Group's net profit increased by approximately 0.2% year on year. In 2019, the Company recorded a profit before income tax of approximately RMB550.0 million, and if no exchange gain or loss had been taken into account, the profit before income tax during the Reporting Period would have decreased by approximately 2.1% year on year. Such decline in profitability was mainly attributable to increase in management fees resulting from increase in marketing cost, employee benefit expense, R&D cost and the investment in Tire Production Base in Thailand in early stage. The asset-liability ratio of the Company as at December 31, 2019 decreased by approximately 0.7 percentage points year on year. During the past three years, the asset-liability ratio of the Company had dropped continuously and the Company had maintained sufficient liquidity and strong solvency. The trade receivables turnover days remained at around 66 days in the past three years, and the inventory turnover days remained at around 59 days in the past three years, a decrease of 18 days, 17 days, 17 days respectively as compared with 2016, representing a high turnover rate. In view of the above, the Company has relatively high competitiveness and strong capability for operation and management and can continue to create value for Shareholders.

II. Details of Major Events Affecting the Company after the End of the Financial Year

Given the NCP Epidemic in the PRC since January 2020, the Company implemented a series of measures, such as epidemic prevention and control, delay of work resumption, in accordance with the requirements issued by the central and local governments regarding the NCP Epidemic prevention and control, to ensure the health and safety of our customers and employees. The Board attaches great importance to the development of the NCP Epidemic, and make its best efforts in the NCP Epidemic prevention and control in the operating management in each process of the Group, such as production, sales and transportation. Since January 2020 and as of the date of this annual report, the Group's output remained stable compared with the same period last year, and domestic sales were greatly affected by epidemic control in the short term. It is expected that the domestic market will recover by the end of March 2020 and will see a sales peak later. The inventory held by the Group in the early stage will greatly support domestic sales. The Group dispatched its resources in a timely manner and focused on ensuring the sales of international marketing channels. At present, international orders are relatively abundant and its output has increased year on year.

The epidemic has spread globally, bringing uncertainties to the future sales of international marketing channels of the Group. As the Group has a smaller number of export orders to the countries which were greatly affected, such as Italy, Japan, and South Korea, the impact of the epidemic on the Group is not obvious yet, but is still subject to observation. In light of this, the Group improves its ability of timely delivery of confirmed orders to avoid cancellation of customer's orders due to the spread, while increasing sales to countries with slight or no epidemic to cope with the impact across the world. In addition, the Group will always pay attention to overseas epidemic situation, keep close contact with customers in countries with high risks of epidemic, obtain market trends, and adjust market strategies in a timely manner.

Currently the construction of the Tire Production Base Thailand is in the critical period. In order to ensure the orderly development of the project and the safety of personnel, Prinx Thailand has set up a special epidemic prevention team to measure the temperature of the staff every day and disinfect the workplace regularly, records the health status, and keeps dynamic monitoring throughout the process. The outbreak of epidemic has not affected the construction of the Tire Production Base Thailand, and there are no cases of human infection.

As of the date of this annual report, the overall impact of the NCP Epidemic across the world and the country's macroeconomic policy adjustments on the macro economy is unclear. The Group will continue to pay close attention to the development of the NCP Epidemic, make further judgments and estimates and take relevant measures accordingly.

On the one hand, the Consulting Company evaluates the internal control and risk management of the Group from a more objective and independent perspective, to enhance the Group's internal control in an all-around way. On the other hand, the internal audit department of the Company participates fully in the evaluation of the internal control by the Consulting Company while continuously learning useful experience. Independent Auditor's Report

To the Shareholders of Prinx Chengshan (Cayman) Holding Limited
(incorporated in the Cayman Islands with limited liability)

Opinion

What we have audited

The consolidated financial statements of Prinx Chengshan (Cayman) Holding Limited (the "Company") and its subsidiaries (the "Group") set out on pages 82 to 164, which comprise:

- the consolidated statement of financial position as at 31 December 2019;
- the consolidated statement of profit or loss for the year then ended;
- the consolidated statement of comprehensive income for the year then ended;
- the consolidated statement of changes in equity for the year then ended;
- the consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended; and
- the notes to the consolidated financial statements, which include a summary of significant accounting policies.

Our opinion

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements give a true and fair view of the consolidated financial position of the Group as at 31 December 2019, and of its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standards ("HKFRSs") issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants ("HKICPA") and have been properly prepared in compliance with the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Hong Kong Standards on Auditing ("HKSAs") issued by the HKICPA. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Independence

We are independent of the Group in accordance with the HKICPA's Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants ("the Code"), and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code.

Independent Auditor's Report

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current year. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matter identified in our audit is the recognition of warranty provisions.

Key Audit Matter	How our audit addressed the Key Audit Matter
The recognition of warranty provisions Refer to note 4(e) (Critical accounting estimates and judgments), note 9 (Expenses by nature) and note 32 (Provision for warranties) to the consolidated financial statements. As at 31 December 2019, the Group had warranty provisions amounted to RMB76 million. The provision for product warranties granted by the Group to customers are recognised based on estimated costs of warranty claims on products sold. The estimation of the warranty provisions includes a number of variable factors and assumptions including: sales quantity, the percentage of the expected substitution occurred, future product costs. We focused on this area because of inherent level of management judgment required in calculating the amount of provisions needed as a result of the complex and subjective elements around these variable factors and assumptions.	We understood, evaluated and tested the key management's controls over the estimation of the warranty provisions. We compared the current year actual claims results with the year 2019 figures included in the prior year forecast to consider whether there is a bias in the management's estimation. We agreed the financial information of historical claims to the after sales service system. Also we tested the historical claims input data of the after sales service system by checking to the supporting evidence on a sample basis. We tested management's warranty provision model, including: • We checked the sales contracts on a sample basis to evaluate whether the key assumptions in the warranty provision model is in accordance with the contract terms; • We checked the Group's sales quantity and amounts for the year ended 31 December 2019, and compared with related financial information and other supporting evidence on a sample basis; • We evaluated the management's assumptions on future product costs by comparing the trend of historical product costs, and taking into consideration of the latest market conditions; • We tested the mathematical accuracy of calculation based on management's warranty provision model; • We interviewed and confirmed with the management whether there are major product defects, which may have significant impact on the warranty provisions recognised, occurred during the year or the subsequent period and corroborating management's consideration by obtaining other supporting evidence. Based on the work performed, we considered that the warranty provisions were supported by the evidence we obtained.

Other Information

The directors of the Company are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises all of the information included in the annual report other than the consolidated financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of Directors and The Audit Committee for the Consolidated Financial Statements

The directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation of the consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with HKFRSs issued by the HKICPA and the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance, and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the directors are responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

The audit committee is responsible for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. We report our opinion solely to you, as a body, and for no other purpose. We do not assume responsibility towards or accept liability to any other person for the contents of this report. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with HKSAAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

Independent Auditor's Report

As part of an audit in accordance with HKSAAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with the audit committee regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide the audit committee with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

Independent Auditor's Report

From the matters communicated with the audit committee, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current year and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partner on the audit resulting in this independent auditor's report is CHAN Chiu Kong, Edmond.

1 General information, reorganisation and basis presentation

1.1 General information

Prinx Chengshan (Cayman) Holding Limited (the “Company”) was incorporated in Cayman Islands on 22 May 2015 as an exempted company with limited liability under the Companies Law, Cap.22 (Law 3 of 1961, as consolidated and revised) of the Cayman Islands. The immediate holding company of the Group is Chengshan Group Co., Ltd. (“Chengshan Group”), which is ultimately held as to 76.76% by Mr. Che Baozhen and his spouse, Ms. Bi Wenjing, Mr. Che Hongzhi and his spouse, Ms. Li Xiuxiang (collectively the “Controlling Shareholders”) and other individual shareholders.

These consolidated financial statements are presented in thousands of Renminbi (“RMB’000”) and were approved for issue by the board of directors on 20 March 2020.

2 Summary of significant accounting policies

The principal accounting policies applied in the preparation of these consolidated financial statements are set out below. These policies have been consistently applied to all the years presented, unless otherwise stated.

2.1 Basis of preparation

(i) Compliance with HKFRS and HKCO

The consolidated financial statements of the Group have been prepared in accordance with Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standards (“HKFRSs”) and disclosure requirements of Hong Kong Companies Ordinance Cap. 622.

(ii) Historical cost convention

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention, as modified by the revaluation of financial instruments at fair value through profit or loss.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with HKFRSs requires the use of certain critical accounting estimates. It also requires management to exercise its judgment in the process of applying the Group’s accounting policies. The areas involving a higher degree of judgment or complexity, or areas where assumptions and estimates are significant to the consolidated financial statements, are disclosed in Note 4.

(iii) New and amended standards adopted by the Group

The Group has applied the following standards and amendments for the first time for their annual reporting period commencing 1 January 2019:

- HKFRS 16 Leases
- Prepayment Features with Negative Compensation — Amendments to HKFRS 9
- Long-term interests in associates and joint venture — Amendments to HKAS 28
- Annual Improvements to HKFRS Standards 2015–2017 cycle
- Plan amendment, curtailment or settlement — Amendments to HKAS 19
- Interpretation 23 Uncertainty over income tax treatments

The Group had to change its accounting policies following the adoption of HKFRS 16. For details, please refer to Note 2.2. The other amendments listed above did not have any significant impact on the amounts recognised in prior periods and are not expected to significantly affect the current or future periods.

(iv) New standards and interpretations not yet adopted

A number of new standards and amendments to standards and interpretations that are relevant to the Group but not yet effective for the financial year beginning at 1 January 2019 and have not been early adopted by the Group are as follows:

Standards	Key requirements	Effective for annual periods beginning on or after
HKAS 1 and HKAS 8 (Amendments)	Definition of Material	January 1, 2020
HKFRS3 (Amendments)	Definition of a Business	January 1, 2020
Revised Conceptual Framework	Revised Conceptual Framework for Financial Reporting	January 1, 2020
HKFRS 17	Insurance contracts	January 1, 2021

These standards are not expected to have a material impact on the Group in the current or future reporting periods and on foreseeable future transactions.

2.2 Changes in accounting policies

This note explains the impact of the adoption of HKFRS 16 Leases on the Group's financial information.

The Group has adopted HKFRS 16 Leases from 1 January 2019, but has not restated comparatives for the 2018 reporting period, as permitted under the simplified transition approach in the standard. The reclassifications and the adjustments arising from the new leasing rules are therefore recognised in the opening balance sheet on 1 January 2019. The new accounting policies are disclosed in note 2.27.

On adoption of HKFRS 16, the Group recognised lease liabilities in relation to leases which had previously been classified as 'operating leases' under the principles of HKAS 17 Leases. These liabilities were measured at the present value of the remaining lease payments, discounted using the lessee's incremental borrowing rate as of 1 January 2019 in each territory or region where the lease assets are located. The weighted average discount rate applied to the lease liabilities on 1 January 2019 was 3.9%.

(i) Measurement of lease liabilities

	RMB'000
Operating lease commitments disclosed as at 31 December 2018	18,510
Less: Short-term leases recognised on a straight-line basis as expense	(1,357)

	17,153

Add: Reclassification of land use rights	103,932
Right-of-use assets recognised as at 1 January 2019	120,018
Of which are:
Current lease liabilities	7,259
Non-current lease liabilities	8,827
	16,086

2 Summary of significant accounting policies (Continued)

(ii) Measurement of right-of-use assets

The right-of-use assets were measured at the amount equal to the lease liability, adjusted by the amount of any prepaid rental expenses relating to that lease recognised in the balance sheet as at 1 January 2019. There were no onerous lease contracts that would have required an adjustment to the right-of-use assets at the date of initial application.

(iii) Adjustments recognised in the balance sheet on 1 January 2019

The change in accounting policy affected the following items in the balance sheet on 1 January 2019:

- Right-of-use assets — increased by RMB120,018,000
- Land use rights — decreased by RMB103,932,000
- Lease liabilities (current portion) — increased by RMB7,259,000
- Lease liabilities (non-current portion) — increased by RMB8,827,000

There was no impact on retained earnings on 1 January 2019.

(iv) Practical expedients applied

In applying HKFRS 16 for the first time, the Group has used the following practical expedients permitted by the standard:

- the use of a single discount rate to a portfolio of leases with reasonably similar characteristics;
- reliance on previous assessments on whether leases are onerous;
- the accounting for operating leases with a remaining lease term of less than 12 months as at 1 January 2019 as short-term leases;
- the exclusion of initial direct costs for the measurement of the right-of-use asset at the date of initial application; and;
- the use of hindsight in determining the lease term where the contract contains options to extend the lease.

The Group has also elected not to reassess whether a contract is, or contains a lease at the date of initial application. Instead, for contracts entered into before the transition date, the Group relied on its assessment made applying HKAS 17 and HKFRIC 4 Determining whether an Arrangement contains a Lease.

2 Summary of significant accounting policies (Continued)

2.3 Principles of consolidation and equity accounting

2.3.1 Subsidiaries

Subsidiaries are all entities (including structured entities) over which the Group has control. The Group controls an entity when the Group is exposed to, or has rights to, variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power to direct the activities of the entity. Subsidiaries are fully consolidated from the date on which control is transferred to the Group. They are deconsolidated from the date that control ceases.

The acquisition method of accounting is used to account for business combinations by the Group.

Inter-company transactions, balances and unrealised gains on transactions between group companies are eliminated. Unrealised losses are also eliminated unless the transaction provides evidence of an impairment of the transferred asset. Accounting policies of subsidiaries have been changed where necessary to ensure consistency with the policies adopted by the Group.

Non-controlling interests in the results and equity of subsidiaries are shown separately in the consolidated statement of profit or loss, statement of comprehensive income, statement of changes in equity and balance sheet respectively.

2.3.2 Associates

Associates are all entities over which the Group has significant influence but not control or joint control. This is generally the case where the Group holds between 20% and 50% of the voting rights. Investments in associates are accounted for using the equity method of accounting (see Note 2.3.3 below), after initially being recognised at cost.

2.3.3 Equity method

Under the equity method of accounting, the investments are initially recognised at cost and adjusted thereafter to recognise the Group's share of the post-acquisition profits or losses of the investee in profit or loss, and the Group's share of movements in other comprehensive income of the investee in other comprehensive income. Dividends received or receivable from associates are recognised as a reduction in the carrying amount of the investment.

Where the Group's share of losses in an equity-accounted investment equals or exceeds its interest in the entity, including any other unsecured long-term receivables, the Group does not recognise further losses, unless it has incurred obligations or made payments on behalf of the other entity.

Unrealised gains on transactions between the Group and its associates are eliminated to the extent of the Group's interest in these entities. Unrealised losses are also eliminated unless the transaction provides evidence of an impairment of the asset transferred. Accounting policies of equity-accounted investees have been changed where necessary to ensure consistency with the policies adopted by the Group.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

The carrying amount of equity-accounted investments is tested for impairment in accordance with the policy described in Note 2.9.

2.3.4 Changes in ownership interests

The Group treats transactions with non-controlling interests that do not result in a loss of control as transactions with the shareholders of the Group. A change in ownership interest results in an adjustment between the carrying amounts of the controlling and non-controlling interests to reflect their relative interests in the subsidiary. Any difference between the amount of the adjustment to non-controlling interests and any consideration paid or received is recognised in a separate reserve within equity attributable to Shareholders of the Company.

When the Group ceases to consolidate or equity account for an investment because of a loss of control or significant influence, any retained interest in the entity is remeasured to its fair value with the change in carrying amount recognised in profit or loss. This fair value becomes the initial carrying amount for the purposes of subsequently accounting for the retained interest as an associate, joint venture or financial asset. In addition, any amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income in respect of that entity are accounted for as if the Group had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities. This may mean that amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income are reclassified to profit or loss or transferred to another category of equity as specified/permitted by applicable HKFRSs.

If the ownership interest in an associate is reduced but significant influence is retained, only a proportionate share of the amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income are reclassified to profit or loss where appropriate.

2.3.5 Business combination

The acquisition method of accounting is used to account for all business combinations, regardless of whether equity instruments or other assets are acquired. The consideration transferred for the acquisition of a subsidiary comprises the:

- fair values of the assets transferred
- liabilities incurred to the former owners of the acquired business
- equity interests issued by the group
- fair value of any asset or liability resulting from a contingent consideration arrangement, and
- fair value of any pre-existing equity interest in the subsidiary

2 Summary of significant accounting policies (Continued)

Identifiable assets acquired and liabilities and contingent liabilities assumed in a business combination are, with limited exceptions, measured initially at their fair values at the acquisition date. The Group recognises any non-controlling interest in the acquired entity on an acquisition-by-acquisition basis either at fair value or at the non-controlling interest's proportionate share of the acquired entity's net identifiable assets.

Acquisition-related costs are expensed as incurred.

The excess of the:

- consideration transferred,
- amount of any non-controlling interest in the acquired entity, and
- acquisition-date fair value of any previous equity interest in the acquired entity

over the fair value of the net identifiable assets acquired is recorded as goodwill. If those amounts are less than the fair value of the net identifiable assets of the business acquired, the difference is recognised directly in profit or loss as a bargain purchase.

Where settlement of any part of cash consideration is deferred, the amounts payable in the future are discounted to their present value as at the date of exchange. The discount rate used is the entity's incremental borrowing rate, being the rate at which a similar borrowing could be obtained from an independent financier under comparable terms and conditions. Contingent consideration is classified either as equity or a financial liability. Amounts classified as a financial liability are subsequently remeasured to fair value with changes in fair value recognised in profit or loss.

If the business combination is achieved in stages, the acquisition date carrying value of the acquirer's previously held equity interest in the acquiree is remeasured to fair value at the acquisition date. Any gains or losses arising from such remeasurement are recognised in profit or loss.

2.3.6 Separate financial statements

Investments in subsidiaries are accounted for at cost less impairment. Cost includes direct attributable costs of investment. The results of subsidiaries are accounted for by the Company on the basis of dividend received and receivable.

Impairment testing of the investments in subsidiaries is required upon receiving a dividend from these investments if the dividend exceeds the total comprehensive income of the subsidiary in the period the dividend is declared or if the carrying amount of the investment in the separate financial statements exceeds the carrying amount in the consolidated financial statements of the investee's net assets including goodwill.

2.4 Segment reporting

Operating segments are reported in a manner consistent with the internal reporting provided to the chief operating decision-maker. The chief operating decision-maker, who is responsible for allocating resources and assessing performance of the operating segments, has been identified as the executive directors that make strategic decisions.

2.5 Foreign currency translation

(a) Functional and presentation currency

Items included in the financial statements of each of the Group's entities are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates (the "functional currency"). The consolidated financial statements are presented in RMB, which is the Group's presentation currency.

(b) Transactions and balances

Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates at the dates of the transactions. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from the translation of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at year end exchange rates are generally recognised in profit or loss. They are deferred in equity if they relate to qualifying cash flow hedges and qualifying net investment hedges or are attributable to part of the net investment in a foreign operation.

Foreign exchange gains and losses that relate to borrowings and cash and cash equivalents are presented in the consolidated statements of profit or loss within 'finance costs — net'. All other foreign exchange gains and losses are presented in the consolidated statements of profit or loss within 'other gains/(losses) — net'.

(c) Group companies

The results and financial position of all the Group entities (none of which has the currency of a hyper-inflationary economy) that have a functional currency different from the presentation currency are translated into the presentation currency as follows:

- (a) assets and liabilities for each statement of financial position presented are translated at the closing rate at the date of that statement of financial position;
- (b) income and expenses for each statement of profit or loss and statement of comprehensive income are translated at average exchange rates (unless this average is not a reasonable approximation of the cumulative effect of the rates prevailing on the transaction dates, in which case income and expenses are translated at the rate on the dates of the transactions); and
- (c) all resulting currency translation differences are recognised in other comprehensive income.

2.6 Land use rights

All land in the Mainland China is state-owned and no individual land ownership right exists. The Group acquired the right to use certain land. The upfront prepayments made for land use rights were treated as prepayment for lease and recorded as land use rights separately in the consolidated statement of financial position before 1 January 2019. The land use rights were stated at historical cost less accumulated amortisation and impairment losses.

As disclosed in note 2.2, the Group has adopted HKFRS 16 Leases from 1 January 2019, but has not restated comparatives for the 2018 reporting period, as permitted under the simplified transition approach in the standard. The reclassifications from land use rights to right-of-use asset arising from the new leasing standards are therefore recognised in the opening balance sheet on 1 January 2019. Land use rights are amortised in the consolidated statements of profit or loss on a straight-line basis over the period of the rights under the accounting policy of lease (Note 2.27).

2.7 Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment is stated at historical cost less depreciation. Historical cost includes expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the items.

Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Group and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of any component accounted for as a separate asset is derecognised when replaced. All other repairs and maintenance are charged to profit or loss during the financial period in which they are incurred.

Land is not depreciated, Other property and equipment, or each significant part of an item of property or equipment, are depreciated by the straight-line method over the following estimated useful lives:

— Buildings	30 years
— Machinery and factory equipment	5–14 years
— Furniture and fixtures	5–10 years
— Vehicles	5 years
— Toolings	5 years

The assets' residual values and useful lives are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at the end of each reporting period.

An asset's carrying amount is written down immediately to its recoverable amount if the asset's carrying amount is greater than its estimated recoverable amount (Note 2.9).

Gains and losses on disposals are determined by comparing the proceeds with the carrying amount and are recognised within 'other gains/(losses) — net' in the consolidated statements of profit or loss.

2 Summary of significant accounting policies (Continued)

2.8 Intangible assets

(a) Goodwill

Goodwill is measured as described in Note 2.3.5 and Note 2.9. Goodwill on acquisitions of subsidiaries is included in intangible assets. Goodwill is not amortised but it is tested for impairment annually, or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that it might be impaired, and is carried at cost less accumulated impairment losses. Gains and losses on the disposal of an entity include the carrying amount of goodwill relating to the entity sold.

Goodwill is allocated to cash-generating units for the purpose of impairment testing. The allocation is made to those cash-generating units or groups of cash-generating units that are expected to benefit from the business combination in which the goodwill arose. The units or groups of units are identified at the lowest level at which goodwill is monitored for internal management purposes, being the operating segments.

(b) Trademarks

Separately acquired trademarks are shown at historical cost. Trademarks have a finite useful life and are carried at cost less accumulated amortisation. Amortisation is calculated using the straight-line method to allocate the cost of licences over their estimated useful lives of 5–10 years based on the expected use in future operating plan.

(c) Contractual customer relationships

Contractual customer relationships acquired in a business combination are recognised at fair value at the acquisition date. The contractual customer relationships have a finite useful life and are carried at cost less accumulated amortisation. Amortisation is calculated using the straight-line method over the expected life of 5 years based on the contract terms.

(d) Computer software

Acquired computer software is capitalised on the basis of the cost incurred to acquire and bring to use the specific software. These costs are amortised over the estimated useful life of 3–5 years.

(e) Unpatented and patented technology

Development costs that are directly attributable to the design and testing of unpatented and patented technology are recognised as intangible assets and amortised using the straight-line method over their estimated useful life of 10 years.

2 Summary of significant accounting policies (Continued)

2.9 Impairment of non-financial assets

Goodwill and intangible assets that have an indefinite useful life are not subject to amortisation and are tested annually for impairment, or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that they might be impaired. Other assets are tested for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. An impairment loss is recognised for the amount by which the asset's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. For the purposes of assessing impairment, assets are grouped at the lowest levels for which there are separately identifiable cash inflows which are largely independent of the cash inflows from other assets or groups of assets (cash-generating units). Non-financial assets other than goodwill that suffered an impairment are reviewed for possible reversal of the impairment at the end of each reporting period.

2.10 Financial assets

(i) Classification

- those to be measured subsequently at fair value (either through other comprehensive income, or through profit or loss), and
- those to be measured at amortized cost.

The classification depends on the Group's business model for managing the financial assets and the contractual terms of the cash flows.

For assets measured at fair value, gains and losses will either be recorded in profit or loss or other comprehensive income. For investments in debt instruments, this will depend on the business model in which the investment is held. For investments in equity instruments that are not held for trading, this will depend on whether the Group has made an irrevocable election at the time of initial recognition to account for the equity investment at fair value through other comprehensive income.

See Note 20a for details of each type of financial asset.

The Group reclassifies debt investments when and only when its business model for managing those assets changes.

(ii) Recognition and derecognition

Regular way purchases and sales of financial assets are recognised on trade-date, the date on which the Group commits to purchase or sell the asset. Financial assets are derecognised when the rights to receive cash flows from the financial assets have expired or have been transferred and the Group has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership.

(iii) Measurement

At initial recognition, the Group measures a financial asset at its fair value plus, in the case of a financial asset not at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the financial asset. Transaction costs of financial assets carried at fair value through profit or loss are recorded in profit or loss.

Financial assets with embedded derivatives are considered in their entirety when determining whether their cash flows are solely payment of principal and interest.

Debt instruments

Subsequent measurement of debt instruments depends on the Group's business model for managing the asset and the cash flow characteristics of the asset. There are three measurement categories into which the Group classifies its debt instruments:

- Amortized cost: Assets that are held for collection of contractual cash flows where those cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest are measured at amortized cost. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition is recognised directly in profit or loss and presented in other gains/(losses) together with foreign exchange gains and losses. Impairment losses are presented as separate line item in the statement of profit or loss. Interest income from these financial assets is included in finance income or other income using the effective interest method.
- Fair value through other comprehensive income ("FVOCI"): Assets that are held for collection of contractual cash flows and for selling the financial assets, where the assets' cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest, are measured at FVOCI. Movements in the carrying amount are taken through other comprehensive income, except for the recognition of impairment gains or losses, interest income and foreign exchange gains and losses which are recognized in profit or loss. When the financial asset is derecognized, the cumulative gain or loss previously recognized in other comprehensive income is reclassified from equity to profit or loss and recognized in other gains/(losses) — net. Interest income from these financial assets is included in finance income or other income using the effective interest method. Foreign exchange gains and losses are presented in other gains/(losses) and impairment expenses are presented as separate line item in the statement of profit or loss.
- Fair value through profit or loss ("FVPL"): Assets that do not meet the criteria for amortized cost or FVOCI are measured at fair value through profit or loss. A gain or loss on a debt investment that is subsequently measured at fair value through profit or loss and is not part of a hedging relationship is recognized in profit or loss and presented net in the statement of profit or loss within other losses/gains, net in the period in which it arises.

Equity instruments

The Group subsequently measures all equity investments at fair value. Where the Group's management has elected to present fair value gains and losses on equity investments in other comprehensive income, there is no subsequent reclassification of fair value gains and losses to profit or loss following the derecognition of the investment. Dividends from such investments continue to be recognized in profit or loss as other income when the Group's right to receive payments is established.

Changes in the fair value of financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are recognized in other gains/(losses) — net in the consolidated income statements. Impairment losses (and reversal of impairment losses) on equity investments measured at FVOCI are not reported separately from other changes in fair value.

(iv) Impairment

The Group assesses on a forward looking basis the expected credit losses associated with its debt instruments carried at amortized cost. The impairment methodology applied depends on whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk. Note 3.1(b) details how the Group determines whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk.

For trade receivables, the Group applies the simplified approach permitted by HKFRS 9, which requires expected lifetime losses to be recognized from initial recognition of the receivables.

2.11 Offsetting financial instruments

Financial assets and liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the statement of financial position when there is a legally enforceable right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, or realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously. The legally enforceable right must not be contingent on future events and must be enforceable in the normal course of business and in the event of default, insolvency or bankruptcy of the company or the counterparty.

2.12 Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost is determined using the weighted average method. The cost of finished goods and work in progress comprises raw materials, direct labour, other direct costs and related production overheads (based on normal operating capacity). It excludes borrowing costs. Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less the estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

2 Summary of significant accounting policies (Continued)

2.13 Trade and other receivables

Trade receivables are amounts due from customers for merchandise sold or services performed in the ordinary course of business. If collection of trade and other receivables is expected in one year or less (or in the normal operating cycle of the business if longer), they are classified as current assets. If not, they are presented as non-current assets.

Trade and other receivables are recognised initially at fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less allowance for impairment. See Note 2.10 for a description of the Group's impairment policies.

2.14 Cash and cash equivalents

In the consolidated statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents include cash in hand, deposits held at call with banks, other short-term highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less.

2.15 Share capital

Ordinary shares are classified as equity.

Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of new shares or options are shown in equity as a deduction, net of tax, from the proceeds.

2.16 Trade and other payables

Trade payables are obligations to pay for goods or services that have been acquired in the ordinary course of business from suppliers. Trade payables are classified as current liabilities if payment is due within one year or less (or in the normal operating cycle of the business if longer). If not, they are presented as non-current liabilities.

Trade payables are recognised initially at fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

2.17 Borrowings

Borrowings are recognised initially at fair value, net of transaction costs incurred. Borrowings are subsequently carried at amortised cost; any difference between the proceeds (net of transaction costs) and the redemption value is recognised in the consolidated statements of profit or loss over the period of the borrowings using the effective interest method.

Fees paid on the establishment of loan facilities are recognised as transaction costs of the loan to the extent that it is probable that some or all of the facility will be drawn down. In this case, the fee is deferred until the draw-down occurs. To the extent there is no evidence that it is probable that some or all of the facility will be drawn down, the fee is capitalised as a pre-payment for liquidity services and amortised over the period of the facility to which it relates.

Borrowings are removed from the consolidated statements of financial position when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged, cancelled or expired. The difference between the carrying amount of a financial liability that has been extinguished or transferred to another party and the consideration paid, including any non-cash assets transferred or liabilities assumed, is recognised in profit or loss as other income or finance costs.

Borrowings are classified as current liabilities unless the Group has an unconditional right to defer settlement of the liability for at least 12 months after the end of the reporting period.

2.18 Borrowing costs

General and specific borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets, which are assets that necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale, are added to the cost of those assets, until such time as the assets are substantially ready for their intended use or sale.

Investment income earned on the temporary investment of specific borrowings pending their expenditure on qualifying assets is deducted from the borrowing costs eligible for capitalisation.

All other borrowing costs are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they are incurred.

2.19 Convertible redeemable preferred shares

Convertible redeemable preferred shares shall be redeemed at the option of shareholders when future events occur, the instrument also shall be converted to ordinary shares of the Company at any time, in the Company's initial public offering, or converted into ordinary shares at the option of the preferred shareholders.

The Group recognised the convertible redeemable preferred shares as financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss, any direct transaction cost is recognised as financial cost in the consolidated statements of profit or loss.

After initial recognition, convertible redeemable preferred shares are valued at fair value, while fair value changes are recognised in losses from fair value change of convertible redeemable preferred shares.

Convertible redeemable preferred shares are classified as non-current liabilities unless the Group has to settle the liabilities within 12 months after the end of the reporting period.

The dividends on convertible redeemable preference shares are recognised in the consolidated statements of profit or loss as interest expense.

2.20 Current and deferred income tax

The tax expense for the period comprises current and deferred tax. Tax is recognised in the consolidated statements of profit or loss, except to the extent that it relates to items recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity. In this case, the tax is also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, respectively.

(a) Current income tax

The current income tax charge is calculated on the basis of the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the balance sheet date in the countries where the Company's subsidiaries and associates operate and generate taxable income. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulation is subject to interpretation. It establishes provisions where appropriate on the basis of amounts expected to be paid to the tax authorities.

(b) Deferred income tax

Deferred income tax is recognised, using the liability method, on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the consolidated financial statements. However, deferred tax liabilities are not recognised if they arise from the initial recognition of goodwill, the deferred income tax is not accounted for if it arises from initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction other than a business combination that at the time of the transaction affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss. Deferred income tax is determined using tax rates (and laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date and are expected to apply when the related deferred tax asset is realised or the deferred tax liability is settled.

Deferred income tax assets are recognised only to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilised.

Deferred income tax liabilities are provided on taxable temporary differences arising from investments in subsidiaries, except for deferred tax liability where the timing of the reversal of the temporary difference is controlled by the Group and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

(c) Offsetting

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets against current tax liabilities and when the deferred income tax assets and liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority on either the taxable entity or different taxable entities where there is an intention to settle the balances on a net basis.

2.21 Employee benefits

(a) Pension obligations

A defined contribution plan is a pension plan under which the Group pays fixed contributions into a separate entity. The Group pays contributions to publicly or privately administered pension insurance plans on a mandatory, contractual or voluntary basis. The Group has no further payment obligations once the contributions have been paid. The contributions are recognised as employee benefit expense when they are due.

(b) Other employee benefits

In addition to pension obligation, all Mainland China employees of the Group participate in various employee social security plans, including medical, housing and other welfare benefits, organised and administered by the governmental authorities. According to the relevant regulations, the premiums and welfare benefit contributions that should be borne by the Group are calculated based on percentages of the total salary of employees (or on other basis), subject to a certain ceiling, and are paid to the labour and social welfare authorities.

The Group has no further payment obligations once the contributions have been paid. The Group's contributions to these plans are charged to the consolidated statement of profit or loss as incurred.

2.22 Share-based payments

Share-based compensation benefits are provided to employees via the employee share option scheme. Information relating to this scheme is set out in note 27.

Employee share options

The fair value of options granted under the employee share option scheme is recognised as an employee benefits expense with a corresponding increase in equity. The total amount to be expensed is determined by reference to the fair value of the options granted:

- including any market performance conditions (eg the entity's share price)
- excluding the impact of any service and non-market performance vesting conditions (eg profitability, sales growth targets and remaining an employee of the entity over a specified time period), and
- including the impact of any non-vesting conditions (eg the requirement for employees to save or hold shares for a specific period of time).

The total expense is recognised over the vesting period, which is the period over which all of the specified vesting conditions are to be satisfied. At the end of each period, the entity revises its estimates of the number of options that are expected to vest based on the non-market vesting and service conditions. It recognises the impact of the revision to original estimates, if any, in profit or loss, with a corresponding adjustment to equity.

2.23 Provision

Provisions are recognised when the Group has a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of past events; it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation; and the amount has been reliably estimated. Restructuring provisions comprise lease termination penalties and employee termination payments. Provisions are not recognised for future operating losses.

Where there are a number of similar obligations, the likelihood that an outflow will be required in settlement is determined by considering the class of obligations as a whole. A provision is recognised even if the likelihood of an outflow with respect to any one item included in the same class of obligations may be small.

Provisions are measured at the present value of the expenditures expected to be required to settle the obligation using a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the obligation. The increase in the provision due to passage of time is recognised as interest expense.

2.24 Government assistance and grants

Grants from the government are recognised at their fair value where there is a reasonable assurance that the grant will be received and the Group will comply with all the attached conditions.

Government grants relating to costs are deferred and recognised as other income in the consolidated statements of profit or loss over the period necessary to match them with the costs that they are intended to compensate.

2.25 Revenue recognition

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received and receivable, and represents amounts receivable for goods supplied or service performed, stated net of rebates and returns. The Group recognises revenue when the amount of revenue can be reliably measured; when it is probable that future economic benefits will flow to the entity; and when specific criteria have been met for each of the Group's activities, as described below. The Group bases its estimates of returns on historical results, taking into consideration the type of customers, the type of transactions and the specifics of each arrangement.

Sales of products

Revenue from the sale of good directly to the customers is recognized at the point that the control of the inventory have passed to the customers, which is primarily upon the acceptance of the products by the customers. The customers have full discretion over the products, and there is no unfulfilled obligation that could affect the customers' acceptance of the products. The Group collects cash or bank acceptance notes from the customers before or upon deliveries of products through banks. Cash or bank acceptance notes collected from the customers before product delivery is recognized as contract liabilities (Note 5).

The Group's obligation to repair or replace faulty products under the standard warranty terms, which cannot be purchased separately and serve as an assurance that the products sold comply with agreed-upon specifications at the time of sale, is recognised as a provision.

2.26 Interest income

Interest income from financial assets at FVPL is included in the net fair value gains/(losses) on these assets.

Interest income on financial assets at amortised cost and financial assets at FVOCI calculated using the effective interest method is recognised in the statement of profit or loss as part of other income for investment purpose.

Interest income is presented as finance income where it is earned from financial assets that are held for cash management purposes. Any other interest income is included in other income.

Interest income is calculated by applying the effective interest rate to the gross carrying amount of a financial asset except for financial assets that subsequently become credit-impaired. For credit-impaired financial assets the effective interest rate is applied to the net carrying amount of the financial asset (after deduction of the loss allowance).

2.27 Leases

As explained in Note 2.2 above, the Group has changed its accounting policy for leases where the Group is the lessee with effect from 1 January 2019. The new policy is described below and the impact of the change is set out in Note 2.2.

The Group leases various offices and apartments. Rental contracts are typically made for fixed periods but may have extension options as described below. Lease terms are negotiated on an individual basis and contain a wide range of different terms and conditions. The lease agreements do not impose any covenants, but leased assets may not be used as security for borrowing purposes.

For the year ended 31 December 2018 and before, leases in which a significant portion of the risks and rewards of ownership are retained by the lessor are classified as operating leases. Until the 2018 financial year, payments made under operating leases were charged to profit or loss on a straight-line basis over the period of the lease.

From 1 January 2019, leases are recognised as a right-of-use asset and a corresponding liability at the date at which the leased asset is available for use by the Group. Each lease payment is allocated between the liability and finance cost. The finance cost is charged to profit or loss over the lease period so as to produce a constant periodic rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability for each period. The right-of-use asset is depreciated over the shorter of the asset's useful life and the lease term on a straight-line basis.

Assets and liabilities arising from a lease are initially measured on a present value basis. Lease liabilities include the net present value of fixed payments (including in-substance fixed payments).

The lease payments are discounted using incremental borrowing rate of the Group which the Group would have to pay to borrow the funds necessary to obtain an asset of similar value in a similar economic environment with similar terms and conditions.

To determine the incremental borrowing rate, the Group uses recent third-party financing received by the individual lessee as a starting point, adjusted to reflect changes in financing conditions since third party financing was received.

Right-of-use assets are measured at cost comprising the amount of the initial measurement of lease liability and any lease payments made at or before the commencement date. Depreciation on right-of-use assets is calculated using the straight-line method to allocate their cost to their residual values over their estimated lease period.

Payments associated with short-term leases and leases of low-value assets are recognised on a straight-line basis as an expense in profit or loss. Short-term leases are leases with a lease term of 12 months or less.

Extension options are included in the offices and apartments leases across the Group. These terms are used to maximise operational flexibility in terms of managing contracts. The majority of extension options held are exercisable only by the Group and not by the respective lessor.

In determining the lease term, the Group considers all facts and circumstances that create an economic incentive to exercise an extension option. Extension options are only included in the lease term if the lease is reasonably certain to be extended.

Lease income from operating leases where the Group is a lessor is recognised in income on a straight-line basis over the lease term. Initial direct costs incurred in obtaining an operating lease are added to the carrying amount of the underlying asset and recognised as expense over the lease term on the same basis as lease income. The respective leased assets are included in the balance sheet based on their nature. The Group had no assets held as lessor during the year ended 31 December 2019.

2.28 Research and development costs

Research costs are expensed as incurred. Development costs that are directly attributable to the design and testing of identifiable and unique products are recognised as intangible assets when the following criteria are met:

- it is technically feasible to complete the product so that it will be available for use;
- management intends to complete the product and use or sell it;

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

2 Summary of significant accounting policies (Continued)

2.28 Research and development costs (Continued)

- there is an ability to use or sell the product;
- it can be demonstrated how the product will generate probable future economic benefits;
- adequate technical, financial and other resources to complete the development of the product are available; and
- the expenditure attributable to the product during its development can be reliably measured.

Directly attributable costs that are capitalised as part of the product cost includes employee costs for new manufacture technology development and an appropriate portion of relevant overheads. Costs associated with maintaining new manufacture technology programmes are recognised as an expense as incurred.

Other development costs that do not meet these criteria are recognised as an expense as incurred. Development costs previously recognised as an expense are not recognised as an asset in a subsequent period.

2.29 Dividend distribution

Dividend distribution to the Company's shareholders is recognised as a liability in the Group's and the Company's financial statements in the period in which the dividends are approved by the Company's directors or shareholders, where appropriates.

3 Financial risk management

3.1 Financial risk factors

The Group's activities expose it to a variety of financial risks: market risk (including foreign exchange risk, cash flow interest rate risk and fair value interest rate risk), credit risk and liquidity risk. The Group's overall risk management programme focuses on the unpredictability of financial markets and seeks to minimise potential adverse effects on the Group's financial performance.

(a) Market risk

(i) Foreign exchange risk

Foreign exchange risk arises when future commercial transactions or recognised assets and liabilities are dominated in a currency that is not the Group entities' functional currency. The Group mainly operates in the PRC, and is therefore exposed to foreign currency risks arising from various currency exposures, mainly with respect to USD due to certain financial assets and liabilities that denominated in USD.

(i) Foreign exchange risk (Continued)

As at 31 December 2018 and 2019, if USD had weakened/strengthened by 5% against RMB, with all other variables held constant, post-tax profit for each year/period would have changed mainly as a result of foreign exchange losses/gains on translation of USD denominated cash and cash equivalent, trade receivables and trade payables in RMB functional currency subsidiaries. Details of the changes are as follows:

	As at 31 December
	2019 RMB'000	2018 RMB'000
Year ended:
Post-tax profit (decrease)/increase
— Weakened 5% against RMB	(21,822)	(30,908)
— Strengthened 5% against RMB	21,822	30,908

As at 31 December 2018 and 2019, if USD had weakened/strengthened by 5% against RMB, with all other variables held constant, other comprehensive income for each year would have changed mainly as a result of the translation of financial statements of USD functional currency entities to RMB. 	2019 RMB'000	2018 RMB'000

3 Financial risk management (Continued)

(a) Market risk (Continued)

(ii) Cash flow and fair value interest rate risk

The Group's interest rate risk arises from bank borrowings. Bank borrowings obtained at floating rates expose the Group to cash flow interest rate risk, and if at fixed rates expose the Group to fair value interest-rate risk. The interest rates and bank borrowings are disclosed in Note 29.

As at 31 December 2019, the Group has no bank borrowings with floating rate.

(b) Credit risk

The Group is exposed to credit risk in relation to its trade and other receivables and cash deposits at banks. The carrying amounts of trade and other receivables, cash and cash equivalents and restricted cash represent the Group's maximum exposure to credit risk in relation to financial assets.

The Group expects that there is no significant credit risk associated with cash deposits at banks since they are substantially deposited at state-owned banks and other medium or large-sized listed banks. Management does not expect that there will be any significant losses from non-performance by these counterparties.

The Group has large number of customers and there was no concentration of credit risk. The Group has monitoring procedures to ensure that follow-up action is taken to recover overdue debts. In addition, the Group reviews the recoverability of these receivables at the end of each reporting period to ensure that adequate impairment losses are made for irrecoverable amounts.

The Group considers the probability of default upon initial recognition of asset and whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk on an ongoing basis throughout each reporting period. To assess whether there is a significant increase in credit risk, the Group compares the risk of a default occurring on the asset as at the reporting date with the risk of default as at the date of initial recognition. It considers available reasonable and supportive forwarding-looking information. Especially the following indicators are incorporated:

- internal credit rating;
- external credit rating;
- actual or expected significant adverse changes in business, financial or economic conditions that are expected to cause a significant change to the customer's ability to meet its obligations;
- actual or expected significant changes in the operating results of the debtor/customer;

(b) Credit risk (Continued)

- significant changes in the expected performance and behaviour of the customer, including changes in the payment status of customer in the Group and changes in the operating results of the customer.

(i) Amounts due from related parties and other receivables

As at 31 December 2019, the Group has assessed that the expected credit loss rates for amounts due from related parties and other receivables were immaterial. Thus no loss allowance for these receivables was recognised.

(ii) Trade receivables

The Group applies the simplified approach to provide for expected credit losses prescribed by HKFRS 9, which permits the use of the lifetime expected loss provision for all trade receivables.

To measure the expected credit losses, trade receivables have been grouped based on shared credit risk characteristics and the days past due. The expected loss rates are based on the payment profiles of sales over a period of 3 years before 31 December 2019 or 31 December 2018 respectively and the corresponding historical credit losses experienced within this period. The historical loss rates are adjusted to reflect current and forward-looking information on factors affecting the ability of the customers to settle the receivables.

As at 31 December 2019 and 2018, the loss allowance for trade receivables was determined as follows.

	Current	Up to 1 year	1 to 2 years	2 to 3 years	Over 3 years	Total
31 December 2019
Expected loss rate	0.9%	1%	20%	50%	100%	—

(ii) Trade receivables (Continued)

In prior year, for trade receivables, the Group performs ongoing credit evaluations of its debtors' financial condition and does not require collateral from the debtors on the outstanding balances. Based on the expected recoverability and timing for collection of the outstanding balances, the Group maintains a provision for doubtful accounts and actual losses incurred have been within management's expectations.

Note 23 also details the closing loss allowances for trade receivables as at 31 December reconcile to the opening loss allowances.

(c) Liquidity risk

Cash flow forecasting is performed in the operating entities of the Group in and aggregated by the Group finance. Group finance monitors rolling forecasts of the Group's liquidity requirements to ensure it has sufficient cash to meet operational needs. Such forecasting takes into consideration the Group's debt financing plans, covenant compliance, compliance with internal balance sheet ratio targets and, if applicable external regulatory or legal requirements, for example, currency restrictions.

The table below analyses the Group's non-derivative financial liabilities into relevant maturity groupings based on the remaining period at the balance sheet date to the contractual maturity date. The amounts disclosed in the table are the contractual undiscounted cash flows.

3.2 Capital management

The Group's objectives when managing capital are to safeguard the Group's ability to continue as a going concern in order to provide returns for shareholders and benefits for other stakeholders, and to maintain an optimal capital structure to reduce the cost of capital.

In order to maintain or adjust the capital structure, the Group may adjust the amount of dividends paid to shareholders, return capital to shareholders or sell assets to reduce debt.

The Group monitors on the basis of the gearing ratio. This ratio is calculated as net surplus/debt divided by total capital. Net surplus/debt is calculated as total borrowings (including "current and non-current borrowings" as shown in the consolidated statements of financial positions) less cash and cash equivalents and restricted cash. Total capital is calculated as total equity plus net surplus/debt.

The gearing ratios as at 31 December 2019 and 2018 were as follows:

	As at 31 December
	2019 RMB'000	2018 RMB'000
Bank borrowings (Note 29)	357,000	350,000
Less: Cash and cash equivalents (Note 25)	(914,495)	(1,385,348)
Restricted cash (Note 25)	(123,905)	(83,973)
Net surplus	(681,400)	(1,119,321)
Total equity	3,414,318	3,045,957
Total capital	2,732,918	1,926,636
Gearing ratio	Not meaningful	Not meaningful

3.3 Fair value estimation

The Group adopts the amendment to HKFRS 13 for financial instruments that are measured in the consolidated statements of financial position at fair value, which requires disclosure of fair value measurements by level of the following fair value measurement hierarchy:

- Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (level 1).
- Inputs other than quoted prices included within level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (that is, as prices) or indirectly (that is, derived from prices) (level 2).
- Inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (that is, unobservable inputs) (level 3).

4 Critical accounting estimates and judgments

Estimates and judgments are continually evaluated and are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

The Group makes estimates and assumptions concerning the future. The resulting accounting estimates will, by definition, seldom equal the related actual results. The estimates and assumptions that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year are addressed below.

(a) Useful lives of property, plant and equipment

The Group's management determines the estimated useful lives and related depreciation charges for its property, plant and equipment. This estimate is based on the historical experience of the actual useful lives of property, plant and equipment of similar nature and functions. It could change significantly as a result of technical innovations and competitor actions in response to severe industry cycles. Management reassesses the useful lives on a regular basis. Management will increase the depreciation charge where useful lives are shorter than previously estimated lives, or it will write-off or write-down technically obsolete or non-strategic assets that have been abandoned or sold.

(b) Income taxes and deferred tax assets/liabilities

The Group is subject to income taxes in several jurisdictions. Judgement is required in determining the provision for income taxes. Where the final tax outcome of these matters is different from the amounts that were initially recorded, such differences will impact the current income tax and deferred income tax provisions in the periods in which such determination are made.

Deferred income tax assets relating to certain temporary differences and tax losses are recognised as management considers it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which the temporary differences or tax losses can be utilised. Where the expectation is different from the original estimate, such differences will impact the recognition of deferred tax assets and taxation in the periods in which such estimate is changed.

(c) Provision for impairment of trade receivables

For trade receivables (excluding non-financial assets), the Group applies the simplified approach to provide for expected credit losses as prescribed by HKFRS 9, which requires the use of the lifetime expected loss allowance for all trade receivables (excluding non-financial assets). The loss allowances for financial assets are based on assumptions about risk of default and expected loss rates. The Group uses judgement in making these assumptions and selects the inputs to the impairment calculation, based on the Group's past history, existing market conditions as well as forward looking estimates at the end of each reporting period. Management reassesses the provision at each balance sheet date.

4 Critical accounting estimates and judgments (Continued)

(d) Net realisable value of inventories

Net realisable value of inventories is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less estimated costs of completion and selling expenses. These estimates are based on the current market condition and historical experience of manufacturing and selling products of similar nature. It could change significantly as a result of changes in customer taste and competitor actions in response to industry cycles. Management reassesses the estimates at each balance sheet date.

(e) Warranty claims provision

The Group generally offers warranties with period of 48 months for its tires. Management estimates the related provision for future warranty claims based on historical warranty claim information, as well as recent trends that might suggest that past cost information may differ from future claims.

Factors that could impact the estimated claim information include the success of the Group's productivity and quality initiatives, as well as parts and labour costs.

5 Segment information

Impairment test for goodwill

Management reviews the business performance based on a measure of operating results. It has identified one operating segment — manufacturing and selling of tire products. Goodwill is monitored by the management at the operating segment level. The following is a summary of goodwill for operating segment:

	Opening RMB'000	Addition RMB'000	Impairment RMB'000	Other adjustment RMB'000	Total RMB'000
Year ended 31 December 2019	43,436	—	—	—	43,436

The recoverable amount of a cash-generating unit ("CGU") is determined based on value-in-use calculations. These calculations use pre-tax cash flow projections based on financial budgets approved by management covering a five-year period. Cash flows beyond the five-year period are extrapolated using the estimated growth rates stated below. The growth rate does not exceed the long-term average growth rate for the business in which the CGU operates.

19 Intangible assets (Continued)

For the CGU, the key assumptions, long term growth rate and discount rate used in the value-in-use calculations are as follows.

	As at 31 December
	2019	2018
Sales volume (% annual growth rate)	8%-15%	8%-14%
Sales price (% annual growth rate)	1%-3%	1%-3%
Gross margin (% of revenue)	18%-21%	18%-20%
Long term growth rate	3%	3%
Pre-tax discount rate	18%	18%

These assumptions have been used for the analysis of CGU within the operating segment.

Sales volume is the average annual growth rate over the five-year forecast period. It is based on past performance and management's expectations of market development.

Sales price is the average annual growth rate over the five-year forecast period. It is based on current industry trends and includes long term inflation forecasts for each territory.

Gross margin is the average margin as a percentage of revenue over the five-year forecast period. It is based on the current sales margin levels and sales mix, with adjustments made to reflect the expected future price rises in rubber, a key raw material, which management does not expect to be able to pass on to customers through price increases.

The long term growth rates used are post-tax and reflect specific risks relating to the relevant operating segment.

As at 31 December 2018 and 2019, the directors of the Company determined that there was no impairment of goodwill.

20b Credit quality of financial assets

Trade receivables

The Group has policies in place to ensure credit sales are made to customers with an appropriate credit history. The credit quality of trade receivables that are neither past due nor further impaired, are being assessed by reference to the reputation, credit history and management judgement about counterparty. The Group categorised the trade receivables as follows:

- Group 1 — Notes receivable.
- Group 2 — Accounts receivable due from customers with no defaults in the past.

	As at 31 December

Group 1	220,230	176,866
Group 2	740,180	756,675

The management considers the credit risks in respect of bank deposits are relatively minimal as each counterparty is either a state-controlled PRC bank or a commercial bank with high credit rating. The management believes the PRC government is able to support the state-controlled PRC banks in the event of a liquidity difficulty.

The Group categorises its bank balances and restricted bank deposits into the following:

- Group 1 — Major international banks (Hong Kong and Shanghai Bank (China) Company Limited), etc.
- Group 2 — Top 4 banks in the PRC (China Construction Bank, Bank of China Limited, Agricultural Bank of China and Industrial and Commercial Bank of China).
