COMPANY SECRETARY

Mr. Ng Kwan Ho

Chairman's Statement

Dear Shareholders,

On behalf of the board (the “Board”) of directors (the “Directors”) of New Huo Technology Holdings Limited (the “Company”, together with its subsidiaries, the “Group” or the “New Huo Tech”), I am pleased to present the annual report of the Group for the twelve months ended 30 September 2022.

EXTERNAL ENVIRONMENT

In 2022 (the “Year”), in view of the high inflation pressure, coupled with the tightened fiscal policies around the world, the global economy was faced with increased risks of “stagflation”. In particular, the emerging markets suffered due to the strong dollar; the European region also faced geopolitical and energy supply challenges; and the tightening of supply chain was affecting production and supply in the Asia Pacific region. Under such complex environment, the financial market experienced unprecedented volatilities.

As a result, the technology industry was faced with a trend of consolidation and there were both opportunities and challenges in the virtual asset industry. On the one hand, given the frequent occurrence of black swan events in the industry during the Year, events that triggered the reorganization of related party companies, including Luna and FTX, and the reshuffling of leading players in the industry, the importance of risk management was further enhanced. On the other hand, security and compliance became the focus of institutions entering the crypto market. At the same time, the regulation of virtual assets in various countries or regions was increasingly defined. G20 called for the establishment of a global control framework for cryptocurrencies. The Markets in Crypto Assets (the “MiCA”) Regulation was approved in Europe. The Hong Kong government issued a policy statement on virtual assets. All these indicated that the regulations of the crypto industry were increasingly transparent and more importance was attached to compliance.

BUSINESS OVERVIEW

Tightened monetary policies and black swan events in the industry have expedited the start of a harsh winter for cryptocurrencies and the exit of some overexpanding companies. However, from another perspective, only high-quality companies can survive in the storms and be positioned for the next stage.

Although the increasing external uncertainties put pressure on the Group's business operations, during the Reporting Period, New Huo Tech adjusted its business strategy in a timely manner, actively integrated resources and exercised cost control and efficiency enhancement measures to ensure the orderly and stable operation of the Group.

During the Year, leveraging on its advantages in compliance, New Huo Tech continued to promote its diversified business development with the comprehensive layout of “all-in-one digital assets services platform”. During the period, we signed strategic cooperation agreements with a number of traditional institutions to demonstrate our professional and diversified service advantages.

Chairman's Statement

In March 2022, New Huo Tech entered into strong alliance with Raffles Family Office to jointly build a wealth management platform for ultra-high-net-worth families to meet the relevant needs of ultra-high-net-worth investors who are interested in or have held virtual assets. In June, the Company joined hands with the Logistics Investment and Financing Committee of China Communications and Transportation Association to fully integrate their respective resources and advantages, give full play to the synergistic effects, and jointly explore and promote the application and development of blockchain-related technologies.

During the reporting period, the Company's license application made progress. Its subsidiary successively obtained the Money Services Business (MSB) Registration issued by the Financial Crimes Enforcement Network (FinCEN) of the United States, and the Money Services Business (MSB) Registration issued by the Financial Transactions and Reports Analysis Centre of Canada (FINTRAC) of Canada. After obtaining such licenses, the Company's business can conduct regulated activities such as foreign exchange and currency transfer throughout the United States and Canada, which is another important milestone of the Company's business globalization and compliance expansion.

As of the date of this annual report, the Company and its subsidiaries have successfully obtained the licenses to carry out Type 4 (advising on securities) and Type 9 (asset management) regulated activities under the Securities and Futures Ordinance and have been authorized to manage the investment portfolio of 100% virtual assets. The Company has been registered as a trust company in Hong Kong and obtained the license as a trust or company service provider.

In addition, being a leader in the industry, in addition to the compliance management of its own business, New Huo Tech also actively works together with industry participants to boost the confidence of investors and regulators in virtual assets. During the reporting period, the Company joined hands with global leading enterprises in the industry to establish a crypto market integrity alliance, aiming to combat market abuse and manipulation, and create a fair digital asset market environment.

Looking back, Web 3.0 can be regarded as one of the hot topics in the industry. In general, the Web 3.0 industry is still at an early stage of development. In addition to the undefined policy environment, its business model is still subject to in-depth research. During the Year, the Company established a special research department to conduct in-depth interpretation of the relevant tracks, and issued several in-depth research reports, including the "Status and Future of Crypto Asset Market" and "Demystifying NFT Price Oracle". In addition, the Company actively held and participated in both online and offline expert seminars to enhance the public's awareness of this emerging sector through exchange of industry guests.

Despite the current market downturn, investors remain confident in the long-term development of the industry. With its outstanding performance in the industry and recognition from the capital market and the industry, New Huo Tech and its subsidiaries were awarded the "Best New Economy Company" at the 2021 Golden Hong Kong Stocks Awards, the "Hong Kong Outstanding Asset Management Enterprise Award", winner of the "DeFi & Asset Management Solution" and the "Rising Star" at the Tokenized Assets & Digital Securities Awards (the "TADS") during the Year.

MACROCOSMIC POINT

The gradual improvement of the virtual ecosystem has brought huge economic potential, and the central bank digital currency (CBDC) with cross-border trade, settlement and other functions has become the most promising project. Central banks of various governments, including China, the HKSAR, the USA, Europe and Japan, are actively exploring the CBDC pilot projects with global banking giants, and are expected to make positive progress in the next two years.

At the same time, blockchain technology has brought revolutionary innovations to the financial system. But at this stage, its major applications are to enhance the efficiency of centralised institutions, and its operation still depends on the trust of customers on centralised service providers such as intermediaries or institutions. Decentralised finance (DeFi) replaces centralised service providers through smart contracts, which not only reduces counterparty risks, but also reduces the probability of human error. In addition, it reduces service costs and solves customers' concerns over the trust of centralised entities. However, DeFi does not have significant risks, and there is still room for improvement in the safety, scalability and user service experience of its products. It is expected that DeFi may become an important part of the future finance and will attract a large number of innovative talents to join.

Looking at the development of the virtual asset industry in recent years, we firmly believe that regulation and compliance will be the general trend. By the end of 2022, the Legislative Council of Hong Kong has gone through three readings to pass the revision on the anti-money laundering and counter-terrorist financing regime and will establish a cryptocurrency service provider licencing regime. In other words, service providers operating cryptocurrencies in Hong Kong are required to obtain a licence from the SFC and comply with the requirements of the Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorist Financing. Although there are concerns over the industry turmoil, the essence of innovation is to make continuous progress in the midst of volatility and explore a diversified future of finance in the midst of volatility. At present, governments and regulators in most countries and regions around the world are taking a proactive approach in supporting the development of relevant virtual asset regulatory frameworks to balance the risks and opportunities arising from innovation and change. We are optimistic that the virtual asset will usher in an era of development with more defined regulations and guidelines.

OUTLOOK

In November 2022, the HKSAR Government issued a policy statement on the development of virtual assets in Hong Kong, clarifying the government's policy stance and approach to the development of a vibrant virtual asset industry and ecosystem in Hong Kong. At the same time, pilot programmes were launched, including the launch of NFT, tokenised green bonds and digital Hong Kong dollars during the Hong Kong Fintech Week 2022. Based in Hong Kong, New Huo Tech has the first-mover advantage in compliance. With the support of the government and the continuous improvement of local regulations, we believe that the future development of the Company is full of potential and imagination as long as we seize the opportunities to explore the business direction with a broad vision.

Chairman's Statement

Volatility in industry development has given rise to the need for compliance, safety and professional platforms. As a leading all-in-one digital assets platform, New Huo Tech will closely follow the market demand to provide more comprehensive services in the future. We plan to build a new digital assets service – Sinohope in the near future, and develop a hybrid digital assets service platform integrating centralisation and decentralisation, aiming to provide a safe, compliant, professional and easy-to-use portal for investors who are interested in accessing the digital asset world. At the same time, we will fully leverage our experience and resources in the industry to optimise the allocation of funds and resources, and expand the depth and breadth of our business in a more directional manner.

Looking ahead, the digital assets development frenzy will remain fierce, and Web 3.0's innovation is on fire. Embracing the opportunities of the era, New Huo Tech will lead the development of digital asset compliance and create more inclusive value for the society with Web 3.0 technology. The Group believes that it will bring reasonable returns to the Group and shareholders as long as it adheres to the long-term principle, forward-looking layout and steady development of compliance business.

Continuing connected transactions in relation to New Huo Trust Company Limited (“New Huo Trust HK”)’s signing of the custodial services agreements

On 11 October 2021, in view of the growing demand for the custodial services provided under the previous custodial services agreements signed on 14 July 2021, the parties thereto entered into new custodial services agreements to revise the term of services and the annual caps for the provision of custodial services under the previous custodial services agreements. On 17 December 2021, the previous custodial services agreements were terminated and the new custodial services agreements entered into between New Huo Trust HK and Orion Financial Technology Limited (“Orion Financial”) (the “OF Custodial Services Agreement”) and HB Infinite Limited (“HB Infinite”) (the “HB Custodial Services Agreement”) respectively became effective.

Further, also on 11 October 2021 Huobi Technology (Gibraltar) Co. Ltd. (“Huobi Gibraltar”) entered into a custodial services agreement with New Huo Trust HK for appointing New Huo Trust HK as the custodian of Huobi Gibraltar’s assets (the “HG Custodial Services Agreement”).

Each of Orion Financial, HB Infinite and Huobi Gibraltar is an associate of the connected person of the Company under 14A.07 of the Listing Rules. The terms for each of the above custodial services agreements dated 11 October 2021 and entered into with Orion Financial, HB Infinite and Huobi Gibraltar (each a “Custodial Services Agreement”, and collectively the “Custodial Services Agreements”) commenced from 17 December 2021 to 30 September 2024 (both dates inclusive) and may be renewed by the respective parties in writing, subject to compliance with the Listing Rules.

The assets of Orion Financial, HB Infinite and Huobi Gibraltar in the custody account(s) maintained by New Huo Trust HK (the “Custody Account(s)”) shall be non-interest bearing. The custodial fee and the withdrawal fee shall constitute the fees payable to New Huo Trust HK as consideration for the custodial services. The custodial fee shall accrue daily on a tiered fee structure based on a percentage of the daily USDT value of the assets held in the Custody Account(s) and shall be paid on a monthly basis in arrears.

Management Discussion and Analysis

Subject to the minimum withdrawal amount and the minimum withdrawal fee, with reference to the transparent scale of fee published in the official website of New Huo Trust HK from time to time, the withdrawal fee shall be calculated as a percentage of 0.1% of the USDT value of the assets transferred out of the Custody Account(s) and shall be paid upon withdrawal of the assets from the Custody Account(s). The scale of minimum withdrawal fee is determined by New Huo Trust HK by reference to the general market rates and the administration costs of New Huo Trust HK.

Both custodial fee and withdrawal fee shall be charged in the form of the assets under custody and deducted automatically by New Huo Trust HK from the Custody Account(s) in settlement of the custodial fee and withdrawal fee. The custodial fee and withdrawal fee standards were determined based on arm's length negotiations between the parties, taking into consideration factors including general market rate industry practice, regulatory requirements, market competition, customer demand, cost structure and service content, and their corresponding terms under the Custodial Services Agreements were no less favourable to New Huo Trust HK than those available to/from independent third parties.

The table below sets out the annual caps for the fees charged by New Huo Trust HK under the Custodial Services Agreements for the following periods:

(1) The OF Custodial Services Agreement

Periods	From 17 December 2021 to 30 September 2022	From 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023 (both dates inclusive)	From 1 October 2023 to 30 September 2024

Annual caps	HK$11,600,000	HK$11,600,000	HK$11,600,000

For details, please refer to the Company's announcements dated 11 October 2021, 2 November 2021, 16 November 2021 and 17 December 2021 and the Company's circular dated 26 November 2021.

With effective from 4 October 2022, Orion Financial, HB Infinite and Huobi Gibraltar are no longer ultimately controlled by Mr. Li Lin (the "Mr. Li"). Orion Financial, HB Infinite and Huobi Gibraltar are, respectively, no longer the associates of Mr. Li who is the connected persons of the Company under Chapter 14A of the Listing Rules. The term of the agreement commenced from 1 December 2021 and will expire on 30 September 2024 (both dates inclusive).

The table below sets out the annual caps for the referral fees charged by HBIT Limited under the referral services framework agreement for the following periods:

Periods	From 1 December 2021 to 30 September 2022	From 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023 (both dates inclusive)	From 1 October 2023 to 30 September 2024
Annual caps	HK$13,000,000	HK$13,000,000	HK$13,000,000

Management Discussion and Analysis

The referral fees standards were determined based on arm's length negotiations between the parties, taking into consideration factors including industry practice, market competition and customer demand, and the corresponding terms under the referral services framework agreement were no less favourable to HBIT Limited than those available to/from independent third parties.

For details, please refer to the Company's announcement dated 30 November 2021.

With effective from 4 October 2022, Block Matrix Limited is no longer ultimately controlled by Mr. Li. The Group, through Win Techno Inc. which is a company with limited liability incorporated under the laws of Japan and was the wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company, provide data center and cloud-based services to global customers in blockchain, virtual assets, fintech, big data as well as other innovative technology sectors.

As a result of the global economy downturn and ongoing bear market in virtual asset, the revenue generated from the cloud-based services dropped significantly in the second half of the year. As a consequence, certain trade receivables and borrowings are denominated in foreign currencies. The Group seeks to manage its foreign currency exposures by constructing natural hedges as well as entering into certain foreign exchange contracts to minimise any currency exposure risks, when necessary.

RISK RELATED TO VIRTUAL ASSETS AND RELATED VIRTUAL ASSET BUSINESS

The fast-developing nature of virtual asset markets including evolving regulations, custody and trading mechanisms, the dependency on information technology integrity and security, as well as valuation and volume volatility all subject the virtual assets and business of the Group to unique risks. The Directors consider that such risks and uncertainties are largely related to information technology, safekeeping of virtual assets, fluctuation of asset prices, compliance, and the ever-evolving nature of the markets. As the industry is in a growth stage, the Group has been implementing an operational infrastructure to support business development and growth. These initiatives include expanding IT infrastructure and hiring additional management personnel with an emphasis on experience in legal, regulatory, compliance, financial reporting, operations and technology development.

RISKS RELATED TO SAFEKEEPING OF ASSETS

The Group maintains virtual assets in both "hot" (connected to the internet) and "cold" (not connected to the internet) wallets. "Hot" wallets are more susceptible to cyber-attacks or potential theft due to the fact they are connected to the public internet. Also, the virtual assets that kept in other crypto exchanges may have recovery risk if they go bankrupt. To mitigate such risks, the Group has implemented guidelines and risk control protocols to adjust the level of virtual assets maintained in "hot" wallets and other crypto exchanges. The Group has implemented appropriated security controls and has risk mitigation processes in place.

PRICE RISK OF VIRTUAL ASSETS

The Group received cryptocurrencies collateral under lending arrangements with counterparties. Since the Group is able to utilise such collateral for its own economic benefits, it is recorded as cryptocurrencies of the Group with a corresponding liability due to the counterparties recorded, under liabilities due to counterparties measured at fair value through profit or loss in noncurrent or current liabilities. The Group also held cryptocurrencies itself. The volatility and unpredictability of the price of cryptocurrencies relative to fiat currencies could cause impact to the Group's performance. The Group provides trust and custody services to its clients. Such assets constitute trust assets and are not accounted for as assets of the Group and do not give rise to liabilities to the relevant customers. Accordingly, the Group has no price volatility exposure from these holdings.

RISKS RELATED TO ANTI-MONEY LAUNDERING

During the Year 2022, the Group has commenced to provide trust and custody services to its clients. Any person who carries on a trust business in Hong Kong have to comply with the relevant requirements of the Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorist Financing Ordinance (Chapter 615 of the Laws of Hong Kong) and the guideline issued by the Companies Registry of Hong Kong. To mitigate such risks, the Group has implemented policies and procedures for Anti-Money-Laundering (AML) and Know-Your-Client (KYC) that are initiated during the client onboarding process and are applied by way of continuous monitoring and reporting. In enhancing these policies and procedures, we have also considered industry best-practice and the recommendations of the Financial Action Task Force (FATF).

A. ENVIRONMENTAL

The Group understands its responsibility to protect the environment and is committed to leadership, achieving low-carbon and sustainable business operations by improving resource efficiency and reducing environmental pollution.

For the Group's business, the main operations of the power-related and electrical/electronic products business are located in the office and manufacturing factory in China, while the operations for the provision of technology solution services and other multifarious services in relation to the virtual asset ecosystem are located in the offices in HKSAR and the office and warehouse in Japan. The environmental impact of the Group mainly arises from the power-related and electric/electronic products manufacturing factory in China, while the offices and warehouse are mainly used for administrative and data collection, storage, and processing purposes, and therefore the environmental impact is relatively small.

The Group continues to focus on utilising a standardised management system to govern the environmental management of the Group. The Group has formulated relevant environmental protection policies, and communicated such policies to its employees, especially for the manufacture of power-related and electrical/electronic products. The Group has implemented the internationally recognised ISO14001:2015 environmental management system (the "EMS") in its China manufacturing factory operations and has developed an EMS Manual (《環境管理體系手冊》). The EMS Manual clearly states that the Group must not only strictly comply with relevant environmental legislation but also systematically control and manage the identified environmental risks and opportunities in its business operations, and make continuous improvements to meet the evolving long term needs of its customers.

In addition, the Group has established policies such as Operational Control Procedures (《運行控制程序》), Standards for Water and Power Conservation Measures (《節約水電措施標準》) and Standards for Resource Conservation Measures (《節約資源措施標準》) for the manufacture of power-related and electrical/electronic products business to guide the management of resources consumption. The Group also regularly reviews these measures and procedures to ensure that the guidelines remain applicable. All employees are formally notified of the implementation of the guidelines during induction training and when the guidelines are updated.

Although the Group does not generate significant emissions in the course of providing technology solution services and other multifarious services in relation to the virtual asset ecosystem, the Group has established relevant internal guidelines to ensure strict compliance with all local environmental-related laws and regulations and to manage the emissions and resource consumption of its business activities so as to minimise the environmental impact with maximum effort.

During FY2022, the Group was not aware of any material non-compliance with laws and regulations concerning exhaust and greenhouse gas (“GHG”) emissions, discharges into water and land, and generation of hazardous and non-hazardous wastes, including, but not limited to, the Environmental Protection Law of the People’s Republic of China; the Water Pollution Prevention Law of the People’s Republic of China; the Law of the People’s Republic of China on the Prevention and Control of Atmospheric Pollution; the Law of the People’s Republic of China on Prevention and Control of Pollution from Environmental Noise and the Law of the People’s Republic of China on the Prevention and Control of Environmental Pollution by Solid Waste; the Air Pollution Control Ordinance of Hong Kong; the Water Pollution Control Ordinance of Hong Kong and the Waste Disposal Ordinance of Hong Kong; and the Air Pollution Control Act of Japan; the Waste Management and Public Cleansing Law of Japan and the Water Pollution Control Law of Japan that would have a significant impact on the Group.

A1. Emissions

Emissions Control

The Group is committed to minimising emissions of exhaust gas from its operations and ensuring compliance with the statutory emission standards. The two main emission sources are as follows:

In the production process of power-related and electrical/electronic products, the use of wave soldering, immersion tin, injection moulding, alcohol wiping, and sparking machines generates exhaust gases. Therefore, the Group has installed a number of ventilation systems and gas treatment plants across its manufacturing factory to ensure the generated exhaust gases are diluted in the chimney before being released into the atmosphere. The Group has also actively implemented the following emission reduction measures to meet Level 3 of the second period under the “Atmospheric Pollutant Emission Limits” (《大氣污染物排放限值》) (DD44/27-2001). As a result, the emission of exhaust gas arising from the production process was insignificant in the FY2022. The emission reduction measures within the manufacturing factory are as follows:

- Equip with an airtight workshop, air hood, air ducts, activated carbon adsorption device, and 44M high exhaust pipe for high altitude discharge;
- Refill activated carbon regularly, and monitor regularly by a qualified professional body; and
- Conduct regular maintenance, repair, spot check, and record-keeping by the Production Department.

Another major source of emissions arising out of the Group’s operation was gasoline and diesel consumed by vehicles. As the Group principally engaged in investment holding, the Group does not generate significant amount of exhaust gas directly during its operations. Nevertheless, the Group has implemented measures relating to the reduction of exhaust gas emissions generated from vehicles including:

- Switch off the engine when the vehicle is idling;
- Perform efficient planning on driving routes to minimise route repetition and optimise fuel consumption;
- Use unleaded fuel and low-sulphur fuel according to the laws and regulations;
- Eliminate non-compliant vehicles in accordance with national emission policy regulations (national standard IV);
- Undergo maintenance service regularly to ensure optimal engine performance and fuel use; and
- Optimise operational procedures to increase efficiency and reduce vehicle idling rates.

During FY2022, the Group's exhaust gas emissions¹, namely nitrogen oxides (NOx), sulphur oxides (SOx), and particulate matter (PM), are measured at approximately 24.75 kg, 0.11 kg, and 1.28 kg respectively.

Note:

1. During FY2022, the Group's exhaust gas emissions were mainly attributable to the fuel consumed by vehicles in China.

GHG Emissions

The major sources of the Group's GHG emissions are direct GHG emissions from the combustion of gasoline and diesel consumed by vehicles (Scope 1), energy indirect GHG emissions from purchased energy (Scope 2), and other indirect GHG emissions from air travel and paper disposed into landfills (Scope 3). The Group has set target to reduce GHG emissions intensity (tCO₂e per employee) over the next 3 years, using FY2021 as the baseline year. To achieve the target, the Group has adopted the following measures:

Scope 1 – Direct GHG Emissions

To reduce Scope 1 GHG emissions, the Group is taking the proactive measures which are described in the section headed "Emissions Control" of aspect A1.

Scope 2 – Energy Indirect GHG Emissions

Purchased electricity consumption accounts for the largest portion of the Group's GHG emissions. The Group has taken measures to reduce energy consumption, which will be described in the section headed "Energy Management" of aspect A2.

Scope 3 – Other Indirect GHG Emissions

Air travel and paper disposed into landfills are one of the sources of Scope 3 GHG emissions. The Group only chooses air travel when considered necessary. Teleconferencing and network conferencing are the Group's preferred means of communication to reduce the frequency of travel. The measures to reduce the disposal of waste paper into landfills will be described in the section headed "Waste Management" of aspect A1.

During FY2022, the Group's total GHG emissions intensity (tCO₂e per employee) decreased by approximately 14.80% compared to last financial year. This was mainly due to the decrease in the consumption of electricity as a result of the decrease in business activities. The Group will continue its efforts in mitigating the GHG emissions in the following year, by phasing out energy-inefficient equipment when it reaches the end of the equipment lifecycle.

Environmental, Social and Governance Report

Summary of GHG emissions and its intensity performances is as follows:

Indicator ²	Unit	FY2022	FY2021

Energy indirect GHG emissions (Scope 2) – Purchased electricity	tCO ₂ e	1,783.95	2,061.79
Other indirect GHG emissions (Scope 3) – Air travel and paper disposed into landfills	tCO ₂ e	35.18	15.11
Total GHG emissions	tCO₂e	1,839.45	2,090.37
Intensity	tCO₂e/employee³	2.82	3.31
	tCO₂e/product⁴ (thousand pieces)	0.10	0.09

Notes:

- GHG emission data is presented in terms of carbon dioxide equivalent and are based on, but not limited to, “The Greenhouse Gas Protocol: A Corporate Accounting and Reporting Standards” issued by the World Resources Institute and the World Business Council for Sustainable Development, “How to prepare an ESG Report – Appendix II: Reporting Guidance on Environmental KPIs” issued by the Stock Exchange, the latest released emission factors of China’s regional power grid basis, the “Global Warming Potential Values” from the IPCC Fifth Assessment Report, 2014 (AR5), CLP 2021 Sustainability Report, HK Electric Investments Sustainability Report 2021 and Environmental Index Results List issued by Japan’s TEPCO Group.
- As at 30 September 2022, the Group had 786 (30 September 2021: 728) employees. Within the reporting scope of this ESG Report, the Group had a total of 653 (30 September 2021: 632) full-time employees, this data is also used for calculating other intensity data.
- During FY2022, the Group had produced 18,700,963 (FY2021: 24,057,867) pieces of products. The data is also used for calculating other intensity data.

Sewage Discharge

Due to the Group’s business nature, the Group’s business activities do not consume a significant volume of water during its daily operation, therefore it did not generate a material portion of sewage. The Group’s sewage discharge is mainly attributable to its manufacturing factory for the power-related and electrical/electronic products in China. The manufacturing factory has adopted rules and regulations in place, actively implementing the following emission reduction measures, attaining the Level 3 of the second period under the “Water Pollutant Discharge Limits” (《水污染物排放限值》) (DD44/26-2001).

As the sewage discharged by the Group will be discharged into the municipal sewage pipe network to the regional water purification plant, the water consumed by the Group is considered as sewage discharged. The data on water consumption will be described in the section headed “Water Management” of aspect A2.

Waste Management

Hazardous wastes

In the production process of the power-related and electrical/electronic products, various industrial wastes will be generated. The toxic and hazardous wastes of the Group include, but are not limited to, waste oil rags, oil gloves, waste thinner, thinner, alcohol, waste cutting fluid, punching fluid, waste tin residue, oily residue, waste oil (such as printing oil, motor oil), etc. Hence, the Group has established the Toxic and Hazardous Waste Management Standards (《有毒有害廢物管理標準》) to regulate the management activities of toxic and hazardous wastes, prevent their spread and leakage, and to minimise their impact on the environment. The Group's Quality System Department is responsible for identifying the toxic and hazardous wastes and classifying such waste and filling in the Toxic and Hazardous Waste List (《有毒有害廢物清單》), which will be placed in particular containers for toxic and hazardous solid wastes and toxic and hazardous liquids according to the regulations of each department. Such wastes will be collected regularly by qualified personnel commissioned by the Group in accordance with the Toxic and Hazardous Waste Management Standards (《有毒有害廢物管理標準》). In addition, the Group has prepared an Emergency Response Plan (《應急響應計劃》) in case of any leakage and arranged sufficient training for its staff to ensure their safety at work.

In addition to the toxic wastes mentioned above, the Group inevitably generates wasted activated carbon during the production process, which attracts large amounts of volatile organic compounds. Such wasted activated carbon needs to be disposed of properly to avoid causing secondary pollution to the environment. As such, the Group has appointed licensed operators to carry out the recycling and treatment according to the relevant laws and regulations.

In relation to the Group's offices and warehouse, the Group was not aware of any significant hazardous wastes and pollutants that are being discharged during the course of business and hence no such data are being presented in this ESG Report. Nonetheless, with the aim to demonstrate the Group's commitment on hazardous waste reduction, the Group has set target to reduce its hazardous waste intensity (tonnes per employee) over the next 3 years, using FY2021 as the baseline year.

During FY2022, the Group's hazardous wastes disposal intensity (tonnes per employee) has decreased by approximately 33.33% in comparison to last financial year. This was mainly attributable to the utilisation of laser engraving processing to replace pad printing processing, and in turn greatly reduced the amount of hazardous waste generated. All of these hazardous wastes were recycled by qualified collectors.

Summary of hazardous wastes disposed of and its intensity performance is as follows:

Indicator	Unit	FY2022	FY2021
Hazardous wastes	tonnes	1.02	2.07
Intensity	tonnes/employee	0.002	0.003
	tonnes/product (thousand pieces)	0.00005	0.00009

Non-hazardous wastes

The Group inevitably generates waste during its operations, but with effective waste treatment strategies and policies, the Group has minimised the environmental risks and impacts caused by its wastes. Non-hazardous wastes such as paper, metals, slag, plastics, and general wastes are generated by the Group's daily operations. They are properly sorted as recyclable and non-recyclable wastes and are stored in designated collection areas. After identifying and classifying the wastes, the recyclable wastes collected are then delivered to the waste collectors for regular recycling. The Group has also appointed a management responsible person to handle the wastes in a timely manner and maintains the environmental hygiene of the surrounding areas. In addition, the Group has set a target to reduce the total non-hazardous wastes intensity (tonnes per employee) over the next 3 years, using FY2021 as the baseline year. In order to minimise the environmental impacts from non-hazardous wastes generated from our business operation and achieve the set target, the Group has implemented the following measures:

- Make full use of the online system in the offices, general transaction notification, data transmission, etc. through the network system;
- Use both sides of office paper as much as possible;
- Collect and recycle waste paper by the Administrative Department;
- Dispose of waste packaging boxes as "recyclable" waste; and
- Increase the use of recycled paper.

During the FY2022, the Group's total non-hazardous wastes intensity (tonnes per employee) has increased by approximately 80.00% compared to last financial year, which was mainly attributable to the increase in consumption of paper as a result of the changes in business and staffing plans. The Group will continue its efforts in mitigating the non-hazardous wastes disposal in the following year by enhancing its information technology systems in furtherance to a paperless environment.

Summary of non-hazardous wastes disposed of and its intensity performance is as follows:

Indicator	Unit	FY2022	FY2021
Paper	tonnes	5.56	3.12
Intensity	tonnes/employee	0.009	0.005
	tonnes/product (thousand pieces)	0.0003	0.0001

A2. Use of Resources

Energy Management

The Group actively implements the concept of energy-saving, emission reduction, and maintain efficient use of resources. The Group sets a target of reducing the total energy consumption intensity (MWh per employee) over the next 3 years, using FY2021 as the baseline year. To achieve the set target, the Group has also formulated rules and regulations to achieve electricity conservation and efficient use of electricity among a range of lighting, machinery and equipment, and air-conditioning equipment. The measures are as follows:

- Conserve electricity and turn off unnecessary lighting power;
- Regularly clean lighting lamps or bulbs to ensure luminous efficiency and proper illumination;
- Turn off lights when off duty or when people leave;
- Use as much natural light as possible without interfering with work;
- Introduce the energy-efficient equipment in the time of purchase and improvement of new and expanded plants and equipment;
- Minimise energy consumption when equipment is not in production;
- Avoid premature start-up of equipment and idling of equipment;
- Keep doors, windows, and entrances closed to prevent loss of air conditioning in establishments where air-conditioning is used;
- Set the room temperature to a suitable temperature and not lower than 26 degrees Celsius;
- Prohibit the use of fans when the air conditioning is on;
- Use the timer function on demand and turn off the air conditioning when leaving the room; and
- Assure the cooling effect of air conditioning equipment by proper maintenance.

Environmental, Social and Governance Report

During the FY2022, the Group's total energy consumption intensity (MWh per employee) has decreased by approximately 16.82% compared to last financial year, which was mainly attributable to the decrease in the consumption of electricity as a result of the decrease in business activities. The Group will continue its efforts in mitigating the energy consumption in the following year, by phasing out energy-inefficient equipment when it reaches the end of the equipment lifecycle.

Summary of energy consumption and its intensity performances is as follows:

Indicator ⁵	Unit	FY2022	FY2021
Gasoline	MWh	63.63	69.08
Diesel	MWh	11.24	11.15
Direct energy consumption	MWh	74.87	80.23
Purchased electricity	MWh	3,480.36	4,050.45
Indirect energy consumption	MWh	3,480.36	4,050.45
Total energy consumption	MWh	3,555.23	4,130.68
Intensity	MWh/employee	5.44	6.54
	MWh/product (thousand pieces)	0.19	0.17

Note:

5. Calculation method of energy consumption data is based on the "Energy Statistics Manual" issued by the International Energy Agency.

Water Management

The Group's water use is mainly water for offices and manufacturing factory. The Group has set a target of reducing the total water consumption intensity (cubic meters per employee) over the next 3 years, using FY2021 as the baseline year. To achieve the set target, the Group encourages all employees to develop a habit of conscious water use. In addition, specific water-saving measures adopted by the Group are as follows:

- Post reminder slogans such as "water conservation is everyone's responsibility" on public water occasions to promote the concept of "water conservation" in the public mind;
- Instil the motto of "Water Conservation Starts with Me" into employees;
- Use induction water switches and flow restriction measures for domestic water recovery and recycling;
- Formulate specific guidelines and measures for water conservation based on the characteristics of water consumption; and
- Inspect and maintain water storage, distribution, and consumption facilities regularly, and promptly solve problems identified to prevent wastage of water resources.

During FY2022, the Group's total water consumption intensity (cubic meters per employee) has decreased by approximately 18.48% in comparison to last financial year, which was mainly attributable to the decrease in consumption of water as a result of the decrease in business activities.

Summary of water consumption and its intensity performance is as follows:

Indicator	Unit	FY2022	FY2021
Water	cubic meters	12,903.73	15,321.00
Intensity	cubic meters/ employee	19.76	24.24
	cubic meters/product (thousand pieces)	0.69	0.64

Due to the Group's business nature, the Group did not encounter any issues in water sourcing.

Use of Packaging Materials

The Group's packaging materials are mainly carton boxes. During FY2022, the Group's packaging material usage intensity (tonnes per employee) has decreased by approximately 5.56% in comparison to the last financial year, which was mainly attributable to the decrease in products produced.

Summary of the use of packaging material and its intensity performance is as follows:

Indicator	Unit	FY2022	FY2021
Carton box	tonnes	111.24	115.96
Intensity	tonnes/employee	0.17	0.18
	tonnes/product (thousand pieces)	0.006	0.005

A3. The Environment and Natural Resources

The Group pursues best practices with the environment and focuses on the impact of its operations on the environment and natural resources. The Group has also integrated the concept of environmental protection into its internal management and daily operation activities and is committed to achieving the goal of environmental sustainability. The Group has implemented various measures to control the use of resources and reduce emissions. The Group also promotes green awareness among its employees, encourages them to reduce their negative impact on the environment and to make suggestions to enable the Group to operate its business in a more sustainable manner. The relevant details are disclosed in aspect A1 "Emissions" and aspect A2 "Use of Resources".

The Group's environmental impact and the use of natural resources have always been highly valued and it hopes to identify and mitigate the impact by integrating sustainable development in all of its affairs. In relation to the power-related and electrical/electronic products production business, the Group assesses the potential environmental impacts to understand the footprint identification and measurement management at the frontline level. The Group has implemented rigorous procedures to prevent chemical leakage or spills to the environment. The Group conducts emergency planning and drills to reduce the risk of accidents and maintain its business continuity.

Noise Pollution

Noise may be generated during the production of power-related and electric/electronic products at the Group's manufacturing factory in China. Therefore, in addition to complying with environmental regulations and international standards and appropriately protecting the natural environment, the Group has also established the Noise Pollution Control Standards (《噪音污染控制標準》) to effectively control noise pollution, safeguard the health of employees, and reduce the negative impact on the environment and surrounding communities in accordance with the National Noise Control Standards (《國家噪聲控制標準》). Specific measures adopted by the Group are as follows:

- Design facilities with strong sound insulation and shock absorption effects;
- Conduct proper maintenance of equipment in a timely manner to reduce noise at the sound source; and
- Require employees working in noise-intensive environments, such as metalworkers and ultrasonic welding machine operators, to wear earplugs or earmuffs.

A4. Climate Change

Climate Change Management

The Group recognises the importance of the identification and mitigation of significant climate-related issues, therefore, the Group is committed to managing the potential climate-related risks which may impact the Group's business activities. The Group has established risk management policy in identifying and mitigating different risks including climate-related risks. The Board meets regularly and co-operates closely with key management to identify and evaluate climate-related risks and to formulate strategies to manage the identified risks.

Climate-related Issues

Through the above method, the Group identified the material impacts on the Group's business arising from the following risks:

Physical Risks

The increased frequency and severity of extreme weather such as typhoons, storms and heavy rains can disrupt the Group's operations by damaging the power grid, and communication infrastructures, and injuring its employees during their work, leading to reduced capacity and decreased in productivity, or expose the Group to risks associated with non-performance and delayed performance. To minimise the potential risks and hazards, the Group has flexible working arrangements and precautionary measures during bad or extreme weather conditions.

Transition Risks

The Group anticipates that there will be more stringent climate legislations and regulations to support the global vision of carbon neutrality. From a listed company's perspective, the Group acknowledges the increasing requirements of climate-related information disclosures. For example, the Stock Exchange requires listed companies to make climate-related disclosures and has further published guidelines on climate disclosure and a report on the ESG practices in November 2021. The Group's compliance cost may increase as a result of stricter environmental laws and regulations, and stricter environmental laws and regulations may expose the Group to higher risks of claims and lawsuits. Corporate reputation may also decline due to failure to meet the compliance requirements for climate change. The Group's related capital investment and compliance costs thus increase. In response to the policy and legal risks as well as the reputation risks, the Group regularly monitors existing and emerging trends, policies and regulations relevant to climate and be prepared to alert the top management where necessary to avoid cost increments, noncompliance fines and/or reputational risks due to delayed response. The Group strives to improve its ESG performance through the maintenance of good corporate governance standard, stakeholder communication and business diversification.

B. SOCIAL

B1. Employment

The Group believes that employees are the greatest and most valuable asset and the key to maintaining its competitive advantage, providing the Group with a driving force for continuous innovation. The Group respects the principle of “equality for all” and adheres to the people-oriented principle. At the same time, the Group strives to ensure the occupational health and safety of its employees, strengthen democratic management, safeguard the interests of its employees, fully respect and value the motivation, initiative, and creativity of its employees, and strives to build a harmonious labour relationship.

The Group has formulated human resources management policies such as Human Resources Management Procedures (《人力資源管理程序》) and Employee Handbook (《員工手冊》) to serve as guidelines for employees in their daily work, to regulate human resources management and to respect and protect the legitimate rights and interests of each employee.

During FY2022, the Group was not aware of any material non-compliance with the labour laws and regulations, including, but not limited to, the Labour Law of the People’s Republic of China and Labour Contract Law of the People’s Republic of China; Employment Ordinance of Hong Kong; and Labour Standards Act of Japan that would have a significant impact on the Group.

As at 30 September 2022, the Group had 786 (30 September 2021: 728) employees. Within the reporting scope of this ESG Report, the Group had a total of 653 (30 September 2021: 632) full-time employees, the distribution of employees according to gender, age group and geographical region are as follows:

$$\text{Total turnover rate} = X/Y * 100\%$$

X = Number of employees who left during the reporting period

Y = (Number of employees at the beginning of the reporting period + number of employees at the end of the reporting period)/2

7. The formula for calculating the employee turnover rate by category is as follows:

$$\text{Turnover rate by category} = X/Y * 100\%$$

X = Number of employees in the specified category who left during the reporting period

Y = (Number of employees in the specified category at the beginning of the reporting period + number of employees in the specified category at the end of the reporting period)/2

Recruitment, Promotion, and Dismissal

The Group's employees are recruited through a sound, transparent, and fair recruitment process to meet the current and future needs of the Group. The Group actively implements the strategies to strengthen the Group's human resources, and continuously establishes and improves its talent recruitment and selection process. The recruitment process is governed by the recruitment procedures and principles, and the Group adheres to the principle of appointing people of high moral character, knowledge, ability, experience, and physical fitness for the positions they hold, as well as the principles of fairness, equity, equality, and openness, to continuously attract and recruit outstanding talents.

The Group has clearly defined the basis and process for the management of promotion, transfer, and demotion of employees to protect the interests of both the employees and the Group. The promotion of employees depends on their performances, working ability, intrinsic potential, and the needs of the company, and can only be carried out with the appropriate approval.

The Group executes staff termination procedures following its internal operating procedures and relevant national regulations. When an employee leaves the Group, the Group will arrange an exit interview to understand the reason behind and continuously optimise the Group's operation mechanism.

Remuneration and Benefits

The Group has drawn up an Employee Handbook (《員工手冊》) in accordance with relevant laws and regulations. The Group respects and protects the legitimate rights and interests of its employees in terms of remunerations, working hours and holidays.

The Group has established a fair, equitable, reasonable, and competitive remuneration system to remunerate its employees. To the Shareholders of New Huo Technology Holdings Limited
(formerly known as Huobi Technology Holdings Limited)
(Incorporated in the British Virgin Islands with limited liability)

OPINION

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of New Huo Technology Holdings Limited (formerly known as Huobi Technology Holdings Limited) (the “Company”) and its subsidiaries (together the “Group”) set out on pages 107 to 207, which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as at 30 September 2022, and the consolidated statement of profit or loss, the consolidated statement of other comprehensive income, the consolidated statement of changes in equity and the consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements give a true and fair view of the consolidated financial position of the Group as at 30 September 2022, and of its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standards (“HKFRSs”) issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants (“HKICPA”) and have been properly prepared in compliance with the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance.

BASIS FOR OPINION

We conducted our audit in accordance with Hong Kong Standards on Auditing (“HKSAs”) issued by the HKICPA. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors responsibilities for the audit of the consolidated financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the HKICPA’s Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (the “Code”), and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

KEY AUDIT MATTERS

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgement, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matter

Impairment assessment of trade receivables

(Refer to Notes 3 and 22 to the consolidated financial statements)

As at 30 September 2022, the Group had trade receivables, net of allowance for credit loss of approximately HK$65,683,000 as disclosed in Note 22.

The assessment of recoverability of trade receivables required management to make significant judgements based on the current creditworthiness of each customer, the past collection history of each customer, ageing analysis of the trade receivables and forward-looking information.

Based on management's assessment, no expected credit losses on trade receivables was recognised during the year.

We identified the impairment assessment of trade receivables as a key audit matter due to its significance to the consolidated financial statements and its involvement of management's significant accounting estimations and judgments.

How our audit addressed the key audit matter

Our procedures included, but not limited to the followings:

- Obtained an understanding of and evaluated management's process in estimation of the expected credit losses on trade receivables;
- Tested the accuracy of ageing analysis of trade receivables, on a sample basis, to the related sales invoices and goods delivery documents;
- Obtained and evaluated management's assessment on the expected credit losses with reference to the collectability and ageing of the receivables, the creditworthiness and past collection history of these customers and the Group's current and expected future business relationship with these customers; and
- Tested the settlements of trade receivables subsequent to the end of reporting period by, on a sample basis, checked to the related sales invoices and bank records.

Key audit matter	How our audit addressed the key audit matter
Accounting of cryptocurrencies transactions and balances (Refer to Notes 3 and 21 to the consolidated financial statements) As at 30 September 2022, the Group had cryptocurrencies of approximately HK$294,489,000 as disclosed in Note 21. We identified the accounting of cryptocurrencies transactions as a key audit matter due to the fact that HKFRSs do not explicitly discuss crypto-asset transactions. Consequently, management needs to apply judgements as to how to account for such transactions and exercise significant judgements in determining appropriate accounting policies based on the existing accounting framework and the facts and circumstances of the Group's cryptocurrencies transactions. We identified the evaluation of the existence and control of the cryptocurrencies held as a key audit matter due to the subjective auditor judgement involved in determining the nature and extent of audit evidence required to address the risks of material misstatement related to the existence and rights and obligations of the cryptocurrencies held.	Our procedures included, but not limited to the followings: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Obtained understanding, evaluated and validated management's processes and key controls in relation to cryptocurrencies transactions and balance with the assistance of our IT professionals with expertise in the IT industry (the "IT Expert"); • Obtained understanding and evaluated the accounting policies adopted by management for its cryptocurrencies transactions and balances, based on the contractual and business arrangements with respective counterparties; • Evaluated management's rationale for the selection and application of the accounting policies to account of cryptocurrencies transactions and balances; • Confirmed the title to and balance of the Group's cryptocurrencies as at 30 September 2022 held in own wallet, on a sample basis, with the assistance of the IT Expert; • Independently and directly confirmed the balance of the Group's cryptocurrencies as at 30 September 2022 held on exchange institutions; • Independently obtained evidence from public blockchains to test the existence of cryptocurrencies transactions and balances, on a sample basis, and evaluated the relevance and reliability of audit evidence obtained from publicly available blockchains records, with the assistance of the IT Expert; • Performed a site visitation of the third party hosting facility where the Group's mining equipment is located, which included an observation of the physical and environmental controls; and • Assessed the disclosures to the financial statement.

OTHER MATTER

The consolidated financial statements of the Group for the year ended 30 September 2021 were audited by another auditor who expressed an unmodified opinion on those statements on 20 December 2021.

OTHER INFORMATION INCLUDED IN THE ANNUAL REPORT

The directors of the Company are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Annual Report, other than the consolidated financial statements and our auditors report thereon.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE DIRECTORS FOR THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation of the consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with HKFRSs issued by the HKICPA and the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance, and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the directors of the Company are responsible for assessing the Groups ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors of the Company either intend to liquidate the Group or to cease operations or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

The directors of the Company are assisted by the Audit Committee in discharging their responsibilities for overseeing the Groups financial reporting process.

AUDITORS RESPONSIBILITIES FOR THE AUDIT OF THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Our report is made solely to you, as a body, and for no other purpose. We do not assume responsibility towards or accept liability to any other person for the contents of this report.

Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with HKSAAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with HKSAAs, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Groups internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the directors use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Groups ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with the Audit Committee regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide the Audit Committee with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, actions taken to eliminate threats or safeguards applied.

Independent Auditor's Report

– continued

From the matters communicated with the Audit Committee, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

3. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of preparation

The significant accounting policies that have been used in the preparation of these financial statements are summarised below. These policies have been consistently applied to all of the years presented unless otherwise stated. The adoption of new or amended HKFRSs and the impacts on the Group's financial statements, if any, are disclosed in note 2.

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost basis except for financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income ("FVTOCI"), convertible loan receivable, financial assets at fair value through profit or loss ("FVTPL"), cryptocurrencies, collateral payables and other borrowings at FVTPL. The measurement bases are fully described in the accounting policies below.

It should be noted that accounting estimates and assumptions are used in the preparation of the financial statements. Although these estimates and assumptions are based on management's best knowledge and judgement of current events and actions, actual results may ultimately differ from those estimates. The areas involving a higher degree of judgement or complexity, or areas where assumptions and estimates are significant to the financial statements are disclosed in note 4.

Business combination and basis of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements comprise the financial statements of the Company and its subsidiaries. Inter-company transactions and balances between group companies together with unrealised profits are eliminated in full in preparing the consolidated financial statements. Unrealised losses are also eliminated unless the transaction provides evidence of impairment on the asset transferred, in which case the loss is recognised in profit or loss.

The results of subsidiaries acquired or disposed of during the period are included in the consolidated statement of profit or loss from the effective dates of acquisition or up to the effective dates of disposal, as appropriate. Where necessary, adjustments are made to the financial statements of subsidiaries to bring their accounting policies into line with those used by other members of the Group.

Acquisition of subsidiaries or businesses is accounted for using the acquisition method. The cost of an acquisition is measured at the aggregate of the acquisition-date fair value of assets transferred, liabilities incurred and equity interests issued by the Group, as the acquirer. The identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed are principally measured at acquisition-date fair value. The Group's previously held equity interest in the acquiree is re-measured at acquisition-date fair value and the resulting gains or losses are recognised in profit or loss. The Group may elect, on a transaction-by-transaction basis, to measure the non-controlling interests that represent present ownership interests in the subsidiary either at fair value or at the proportionate share of the acquiree's identifiable net assets. All other non-controlling interests are measured at fair value unless another measurement basis is required by HKFRSs. Acquisition-related costs incurred are expensed unless they are incurred in issuing equity instruments in which case the costs are deducted from equity.

Any contingent consideration to be transferred by the acquirer is recognised at acquisition-date fair value. Subsequent adjustments to consideration are recognised against goodwill only to the extent that they arise from new information obtained within the measurement period (a maximum of 12 months from the acquisition date) about the fair value at the acquisition date. All other subsequent adjustments to contingent consideration classified as an asset or a liability are recognised in profit or loss.

Changes in the Group's interests in subsidiaries that do not result in a loss of control are accounted for as equity transactions. The carrying amounts of the Group's interest and the non-controlling interest are adjusted to reflect the changes in their relative interests in the subsidiaries. Any difference between the amount by which the non-controlling interest is adjusted and the fair value of the consideration paid or received is recognised directly in equity and attributed to owners of the Company.

When the Group loses control of a subsidiary, the profit or loss on disposal is calculated as the difference between (i) the aggregate of the fair value of the consideration received and the fair value of any retained interest and (ii) the previous carrying amount of the assets (including goodwill), and liabilities of the subsidiary and any non-controlling interest. Amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income in relation to the subsidiary are accounted for in the same manner as would be required if the relevant assets or liabilities were disposed of.

Subsequent to acquisition, the carrying amount of a non-controlling interest is the amount of that interest at initial recognition plus the non-controlling interest's share of subsequent changes in equity. Total comprehensive income is attributed to non-controlling interests even if this results in the non-controlling interest having a deficit balance.

Subsidiaries

A subsidiary is an investee over which the Group is able to exercise control. The Group controls an investee if all three of the following elements are present: power over the investee; exposure, or rights, to variable returns from the investee; and the ability to use its power to affect those variable returns. Control is reassessed whenever facts and circumstances indicate that there may be a change in any of these elements of control.

In the Company's statement of financial position, interests in subsidiaries are carried at cost less any impairment loss. The results of the subsidiaries are accounted for by the Company on the basis of dividends received and receivable at the end of the reporting period.

Joint ventures

A joint venture is a type of joint arrangement whereby the parties have rights to the net assets of the joint venture. Joint control is the contractually agreed sharing of control of an arrangement, which exists only when decisions about the relevant activities require the unanimous consent of the parties sharing control.

An investment in a joint venture is accounted for in the consolidated financial statements under the equity method, less any impairment losses, unless it is classified as held for sale. Adjustments are made to bring into line any dissimilar accounting policies that may exist. Under the equity method, the investment is initially recorded at cost, adjusted for any excess of the Group's share of the acquisition-date fair values of the investee's identifiable net assets over the cost of the investment (if any). Thereafter, the investment is adjusted for the post-acquisition change in the Group's share of the investee's net assets and any impairment loss relating to the investment. Any acquisition-date excess over cost, the Group's share of the post-acquisition, post-tax results of the investees and any impairment losses for the year are recognised in the consolidated income statement, whereas the Group's share of the post-acquisition post-tax items of the investees' other comprehensive income is recognised in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income.

When the Group's share of losses exceeds its interest in the joint venture, the Group's interest is reduced to zero and recognition of further losses is discontinued except to the extent that the Group has incurred legal or constructive obligations or made payments on behalf of the investee. For this purpose, the Group's interest is the carrying amount of the investment under the equity method together with the Group's long-term interests that in substance form part of the Group's net investment in the joint venture.

Unrealised profits and losses resulting from transactions between the Group and its joint ventures are eliminated to the extent of the Group's interest in the investee, except where unrealised losses provide evidence of an impairment of the asset transferred, in which case they are recognised immediately in the consolidated income statement. Goodwill arising from the acquisition of joint ventures is included as part of the Group's investments in joint ventures.

When an investment in a joint venture is classified as held for sale, it is accounted for in accordance with HKFRS 5.

Revenue recognition

Revenue from contracts with customers is recognised when control of goods or services is transferred to the customers at an amount that reflects the consideration to which the Group expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services, excluding those amounts collected on behalf of third parties. Revenue excludes value added tax or other sales taxes and is after deduction of any trade discounts.

Depending on the terms of the contract and the laws that apply to the contract, control of the goods or service may be transferred over time or at a point in time. Control of the goods or service is transferred over time if the Group's performance:

- provides all of the benefits received and consumed simultaneously by the customer;
- creates or enhances an asset that the customer controls as the Group performs; or
- does not create an asset with an alternative use to the Group and the Group has an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date.

If control of the goods or services transfers over time, revenue is recognised over the period of the contract by reference to the progress towards complete satisfaction of that performance obligation. Otherwise, revenue is recognised at a point in time when the customer obtains control of the goods or service.

When the contract contains a financing component which provides the customer a significant benefit of financing the transfer of goods or services to the customer for more than one year, revenue is measured at the present value of the amounts receivable, discounted using the discount rate that would be reflected in a separate financing transaction between the Group and the customer at contract inception. Where the contract contains a financing component which provides a significant financing benefit to the Group, revenue recognised under that contract includes the interest expense accreted on the contract liability under the effective interest method. For contracts where the period between the payment and the transfer of the promised goods or services is one year or less, the transaction price is not adjusted for the effects of a significant financing component, using the practical expedient in HKFRS 15.

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the year ended 30 September 2022

Principal versus agent

When another party is involved in providing goods or services to a customer, the Group determines whether the nature of its promise is a performance obligation to provide the specified goods or services itself (i.e. the Group is a principal) or to arrange for those goods or services to be provided by the other party (i.e. the Group is an agent).

The Group is a principal if it controls the specified good or service before that good or service is transferred to a customer. When the Group acts as a principal, it recognises revenue in the gross amount of consideration to which it expects to be entitled in exchange for the specified good or service transferred. The Group is an agent if its performance obligation is to arrange for the provision of the specified good or service by another party and revenue is recognised on a net basis.

Indicators taken into account by management of the Group to determine whether the Group acts as a principal or an agent include, but are not limited to, the following:

- (a) whether the entity is primarily responsible for fulfilling the promise to provide the specified good or service;
- (b) whether the entity has inventory risk before the specified good or service has been transferred to a customer or after transfer of control to the customer (for example, if the customer has a right of return); and
- (c) whether the entity has discretion in establishing the price for the specified good or service, indicating that the entity has the ability to direct the use of that good or service and obtain substantially all of the remaining benefits.

Contract liabilities

A contract liability represents the Group's obligations to transfer goods or services to a customer for which the Group has received consideration (or an amount of consideration is due) from the customer.

Performance obligation and timing of recognition

- (i) Cryptocurrency trading

The Group trades cryptocurrencies over-the-counter and in cryptocurrency exchange. Transaction price is derived by unit price of cryptocurrencies and transaction volume. Cryptocurrency trading is recognised at point in time upon each trade transaction is completed.

The sale amounts received from counterparties are recorded as revenue on a gross basis and the associated cost as cost of revenues, as the Company is the principal in the trading transaction. The Company has concluded it is the principal because it controls the cryptocurrencies before delivery to the counterparties, it is primarily responsible for the delivery of the cryptocurrencies to the counterparties, it is exposed to risks arising from fluctuations of the market price and inventory risk of cryptocurrencies before delivery to counterparties, and has discretion in setting prices charged to counterparties.

(ii) Sales of power-related and electrical/electronic products

Customers obtain control of the products when the goods are delivered to and have been accepted. Revenue is thus recognised when the customer accepts the products. There is generally only one performance obligation. Revenue from sales of goods is recognised at a point in time. Invoices are usually payable within 30–100 days.

Some of the Group's contracts with customers from the sale of product provides standard warranty service for defective goods to assure that the product sold complies with the agreed-upon specifications within approximately 1 year following the date of delivery. The warranty gives rise to a separate performance obligation if a warranty provides a customer with a service in addition to the assurance that the product complies with agreed-upon specifications. Therefore, an entity shall allocate the transaction price to the product and the service. However, the Group has assessed the one year warranty it provides to customers on these products are customary in this industry and is there to ensure the product complies with agreed-upon specification only. Accordingly this warranty does not constitutes an additional performance obligation and no allocation of the transaction price for this service is necessary.

(iii) Provision of data centre services, cloud-related services and Software as a service (“SaaS”) income

Revenue is recognised over time as those services are provided. Invoices for provision of services are issued on a monthly basis and are usually payable within 30 days.

(iv) Consultancy services income

Consultancy services income is recognised over time as those services are provided continuously over the contract period. Invoices for those service income are issued on a regular basis based on the terms stated in the contact. Invoices for provision of consultancy services income are issued on a monthly basis and are usually payable within 30 days.

(v) Custodian services

The Group provides secured storage of digital assets service to certain third parties. Under this type of arrangement, the Group holds digital assets deposits by the third parties in the Group's own wallets. Custodian services are calculated and accrued on a daily basis and are recognised over time as services are rendered. Invoices for provision of custodian services are issued on a monthly basis and are usually payable within 30 days.

Notes to the Financial Statements

(vi) Asset management services

Revenue from asset management services and performance fee is recognised over time as the services are provided. Management fee is determined with reference to the net asset value of the fund managed by the Group. Performance fee is recognised on the performance fee valuation day with reference to the net asset value (subject to high watermark and benchmark) of the fund managed by the Group when there is a positive performance for the relevant performance period and it is determined that it will not result in significant reversal in a subsequent period.

Revenue from fund subscription services is recognised at a point of time when the relevant subscription is completed.

(vii) Other income

Interest income is accrued on a time basis, by reference to the principal outstanding and at the effective interest rate applicable, which is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to that asset's net carrying amount on initial recognition.

Dividend is recognised when the right to receive payment is established.

Goodwill

Where the fair value of identifiable assets and liabilities exceed the aggregate of the fair value of consideration paid, the amount of any non-controlling interest in the acquiree and the acquisition date fair value of the acquirer's previously held equity interest in the acquiree, the excess is recognised in profit or loss on the acquisition date, after re-assessment.

Goodwill is measured at cost less impairment losses. For the purpose of impairment testing, goodwill arising from an acquisition is allocated to each of the relevant cash-generating units that are expected to benefit from the synergies of the acquisition. A cash-generating unit is the smallest identifiable group of assets that generates cash inflows that are largely independent of the cash inflows from other assets or groups of assets. A cash-generating unit to which goodwill has been allocated is tested for impairment annually, by comparing its carrying amount with its recoverable amount, and whenever there is an indication that the unit may be impaired.

3. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES – continuedGoodwill – continued

For goodwill arising on an acquisition in a financial year, the cash-generating unit to which goodwill has been allocated is tested for impairment before the end of that financial year. When the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit is less than the carrying amount of the unit, the impairment loss is allocated to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to the unit first, and then to the other assets of the unit pro-rata on the basis of the carrying amount to each asset in the unit. However, the loss allocated to each asset will not reduce the individual asset's carrying amount to below its fair value less cost of disposal (if measurable) or its value in use (if determinable), whichever is the higher. Any impairment loss for goodwill is recognised in profit or loss and is not reversed in subsequent periods.

Other Intangible assets*Domain name*

(i) Acquired intangible assets

Intangible assets acquired separately are initially recognised at cost. The cost of intangible assets acquired in a business combination is recognised at fair value at the acquisition date. Subsequently, intangible assets with finite useful lives are carried at cost less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses.

The amortisation expense is recognised in profit or loss and included in administrative expenses. The useful lives and amortisation method are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at the end of each reporting period. The amortisation is provided on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives as follows.

Domain name	15 years
Software	3 years

(ii) Subsequent expenditure

Subsequent expenditure is capitalised only when it increases the future economic benefits embodied in the specific asset to which it relates. All other expenditure, including expenditure on internally generated goodwill, is recognised in profit or loss as incurred.

(iii) Derecognition of intangible assets

An intangible asset is derecognised on disposal, or when no future economic benefits are expected from use or disposal. Gains or losses arising derecognition of an intangible asset, measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset, are recognised in profit or loss when the asset is derecognised.

Notes to the Financial Statements

(iv) Impairment of intangible assets

Intangible assets with finite lives are tested for impairment when there is an indication that an asset may be impaired. Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives and intangible assets not yet available for use are tested for impairment annually, irrespective of whether there is any indication that they may be impaired. Intangible assets are tested for impairment by comparing their carrying amounts with their recoverable amounts.

If the recoverable amount of an asset is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset is reduced to its recoverable amount.

An impairment loss is recognised as an expense immediately, unless the relevant asset is carried at a revalued amount, in which case the impairment loss is treated as revaluation decrease to the extent of its revaluation surplus.

Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses.

Depreciation is provided to write off the cost of property, plant and equipment net of expected residual value over their estimated useful lives, using the straight-line method, at the following rates per annum:

Land and buildings	Over the remaining unexpired lease term or 50 years, whichever is the shorter
Leasehold improvements	10% – 20%
Furniture, fixtures and equipment	10% – 33 $\frac{1}{3}$ %
Motor vehicles	20% – 25%
Plant and machinery	10% – 33 $\frac{1}{3}$ %

The estimated useful lives, residual value and depreciation method are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at the end of the reporting period.

For owner-occupied leasehold land and buildings, where the allocation between the land and building elements cannot be made reliably, the leasehold interests in land and buildings are accounted for as property, plant and equipment and measured using the cost model, as appropriate.

The gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of an item of property, plant and equipment is determined as the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognised in profit or loss.

Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Group and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. All other costs, such as repairs and maintenance, are charged to profit or loss during the financial period in which they are incurred.

3. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES – continued

Financial instruments

(i) Financial assets

A financial asset (unless it is a trade receivable without a significant financing component) is initially measured at fair value plus, for an item not at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs that are directly attributable to its acquisition or issue. A trade receivable without a significant financing component is initially measured at the transaction price.

All regular way purchases and sales of financial assets are recognised on the trade date, that is, the date that the Group commits to purchase or sell the asset. Regular way purchases or sales are purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within the period generally established by regulation or convention in the market place.

Debt instruments

Subsequent measurement of debt instruments depends on the Group's business model for managing the asset and the cash flow characteristics of the asset. The measurement categories into which the Group classifies its debt instruments are as follows:

Amortised cost: Assets that are held for collection of contractual cash flows where those cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest are measured at amortised cost. Financial assets at amortised cost are subsequently measured using the effective interest method. Interest income, foreign exchange gains and losses and impairment are recognised in profit or loss. Any gain on derecognition is recognised in profit or loss.

FVTOCI: Assets that are held for collection of contractual cash flows and for selling the financial assets, where the assets' cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest, are measured at FVTOCI. Debt investments at FVTOCI are subsequently measured at fair value. Interest income calculated using the effective interest method, foreign exchange gains and losses and impairment are recognised in profit or loss. Other net gains and losses are recognised in other comprehensive income. On derecognition, gains and losses accumulated in other comprehensive income are reclassified to profit or loss.

FVTPL: Financial assets at FVTPL include financial assets held for trading, financial assets designated upon initial recognition at FVTPL, or financial assets mandatorily required to be measured at fair value. Financial assets are classified as held for trading if they are acquired for the purpose of selling or repurchasing in the near term. Derivatives, including separated embedded derivatives, are also classified as held for trading unless they are designated as effective hedging instruments. Financial assets with cash flows that are not solely payments of principal and interest are classified and measured at FVTPL, irrespective of the business model. Notwithstanding the criteria for debt instruments to be classified at amortised cost or at FVTOCI, as described above, debt instruments may be designated at FVTPL on initial recognition if doing so eliminates, or significantly reduces, an accounting mismatch.

(ii) Impairment loss on financial assets

The Group recognises loss allowances for expected credit loss (“ECL”) on trade and other receivables and financial assets measured at amortised cost. The ECLs are measured on either of the following bases:

(1) 12 months ECLs: these are the ECLs that result from possible default events within the 12 months after the reporting date; and (2) lifetime ECLs: these are ECLs that result from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial instrument. The maximum period considered when estimating ECLs is the maximum contractual period over which the Group is exposed to credit risk.

ECLs are a probability-weighted estimate of credit losses. Credit losses are measured as the difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to the Group in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the Group expects to receive. The shortfall is then discounted at an approximation to the assets’ original effective interest rate.

The Group has elected to measure loss allowances for trade receivables using HKFRS 9 simplified approach and has calculated ECLs based on lifetime ECLs. The Group has established a provision matrix that is based on the Group’s historical credit loss experience, adjusted for forward-looking factors specific to the debtors and the economic environment.

For other debt financial assets, the ECLs are based on the 12-month ECLs. However, when there has been a significant increase in credit risk since origination, the allowance will be based on the lifetime ECLs.

When determining whether the credit risk of a financial asset has increased significantly since initial recognition and when estimating ECL, the Group considers reasonable and supportable information that is relevant and available without undue cost or effort. This includes both quantitative and qualitative information analysis, based on the Group’s historical experience and informed credit assessment and including forward-looking information.

The Group assumes that the credit risk on a financial asset has increased significantly if it is more than 30 days past due.

The Group considers a financial asset to be credit-impaired when: (1) the debtor is unlikely to pay its credit obligations to the Group in full, without recourse by the Group to actions such as realising security (if any is held); or (2) the financial asset is more than 90 days past due.

(ii) Impairment loss on financial assets – continued

Write-off

The gross carrying amount of a financial asset is written off (either partially or in full) to the extent that there is no realistic prospect of recovery. This is generally the case when the Group determines that the debtor does not have assets or sources of income that could generate sufficient cash flows to repay the amounts subject to the write-off. However, financial assets that are written off could still be subject to enforcement activities in order to comply with the Group's procedures for recovery of amounts due.

Interest income on credit-impaired financial assets is calculated based on the amortised cost (i.e. the gross carrying amount less loss allowance) of the financial asset. For non credit-impaired financial assets interest income is calculated based on the gross carrying amount.

(iii) Financial liabilities

The Group classifies its financial liabilities, depending on the purpose for which the liabilities were incurred. Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are initially measured at fair value and financial liabilities at amortised cost are initially measured at fair value, net of directly attributable costs incurred.

Financial liabilities at amortised cost

Financial liabilities at amortised cost including trade and other payables, bank and other borrowings, and lease liabilities are subsequently measured at amortised cost, using the effective interest method. The related interest expense is recognised in profit or loss.

Gains or losses are recognised in profit or loss when the liabilities are derecognised as well as through the amortisation process.

(iv) Effective interest method

The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a financial asset or financial liability and of allocating interest income or interest expense over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts or payments through the expected life of the financial asset or liability, or where appropriate, a shorter period.

(v) Equity instruments

Equity instruments issued by the Company are recorded at the proceeds received, net of direct issue costs.

(vi) Derecognition

The Group derecognises a financial asset when the contractual rights to the future cash flows in relation to the financial asset expire or when the financial asset has been transferred and the transfer meets the criteria for derecognition in accordance with HKFRS 9.

Financial liabilities are derecognised when the obligation specified in the relevant contract is discharged, cancelled or expires.

Where the Group issues its own equity instruments to a creditor to settle a financial liability in whole or in part as a result of renegotiating the terms of that liability, the equity instruments issued are the consideration paid and are recognised initially and measured at their fair value on the date the financial liability or part thereof is extinguished. If the fair value of the equity instruments issued cannot be reliably measured, the equity instruments are measured to reflect the fair value of the financial liability extinguished. The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability or part thereof extinguished and the consideration paid is recognised in profit or loss for the year.

Derivatives

Derivatives are initially recognised at fair value on the date a derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently remeasured to their fair value at the end of each reporting period. The accounting for subsequent changes in fair value depends on whether the derivative is designated as a hedging instrument, and if so, the nature of the item being hedged.

The Group's derivative contracts are held for trading and do not qualify for hedge accounting. Changes in the fair value of any derivative instrument that does not qualify for hedge accounting are recognised immediately in profit or loss and included in "other income and gain/(loss), net". Trading derivatives are classified as a current asset or liability.

Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs attributable directly to the acquisition, construction or production of assets which require a substantial period of time to be ready for their intended use or sale, are capitalised as part of the cost of those assets. Income earned on temporary investments of specific borrowings pending their expenditure on those assets is deducted from borrowing costs capitalised. All other borrowing costs are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they are incurred.

Other borrowings at FVTPL

Cryptocurrencies borrowed from counterparties are initially recognised at fair value, net of transaction costs incurred and are subsequently measured at fair value of relevant cryptocurrencies borrowed, which align with the fact that cryptocurrencies inventories are non-financial assets measured at fair value less costs to sell.

3. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES – continued

Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost comprises direct materials and, where applicable, direct costs and those overheads that have been incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Cost is calculated using the first-in, first-out method. Net realisable value represents the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less the estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

Cryptocurrencies

The Group trades cryptocurrencies, by purchasing cryptocurrencies with a view to their resale in the near future, and generating a profit from fluctuations in the prices, the Group applies the guidance in HKAS 2 for commodity broker-traders and measures the cryptocurrencies at fair value less costs to sell. The Group considers that there are no significant “costs to sell” virtual assets and hence the measurement of virtual assets is based on their fair values with changes in fair values recognised in profit or loss in the period of the changes.

The Group provides lending management service under lending arrangements but is not a party to originate such loan. According to the loan agreements, the borrowers shall place cryptocurrencies in the Group’s wallets as collaterals. Since the Group is able to utilise such collateral for its own economic benefits, it is recorded as cryptocurrencies of the Group. The corresponding liability due to the borrowers is recorded under “collateral payables” and is measured at fair value through profit or loss base on the fair value of relevant cryptocurrencies under current liabilities. The collateral shall be returned to the counterparties upon their settlement of the loans at respective maturity dates. It is classified as current liabilities unless the Group has an unconditional right to defer settlement of the liability for at least 12 months after the reporting period.

The Group received cryptocurrencies and held on behalf of customers under a custodian agreement. Since the Group is unable to utilise such cryptocurrencies for its own economic benefits, it is not recorded as cryptocurrencies of the Group.

Cash and cash equivalents

For the purpose of the consolidated statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents comprise cash in hand and demand deposits, and short term highly liquid investments that are readily convertible into known amounts of cash, are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value and have a short maturity of generally within three months when acquired, less bank overdrafts which are repayable on demand and form an integral part of the Group’s cash management.

For the purpose of the statement of financial position, cash and cash equivalents comprise cash in hand and at banks, including term deposits, and assets similar in nature to cash, which are not restricted as to use.

Provisions and contingent liabilities

Provisions are recognised when the Group has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, and it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle that obligation and a reliable estimate of the amount of the obligation can be made. Provisions are measured at the Directors' best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the obligation at the reporting date and are discounted to present value where the effect is material.

Where it is not probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required, or the amount cannot be estimated reliably, the obligation is disclosed as a contingent liability, unless the probability of outflow of economic benefits is remote. Possible obligations, the existence of which will only be confirmed by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more future events, are also disclosed as contingent liabilities unless the probability of outflow of economic benefits is remote.

Impairment of assets (other than financial assets)

At the end of the reporting period, the Group reviews the carrying amounts of its assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. If the recoverable amount of an asset is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset is reduced to its recoverable amount unless the relevant asset is carried at a revalued amount under the Group's accounting policy. The recoverable amount is the higher of fair value, reflecting market conditions less costs to sell, and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflect current market assessment of time value of money and the risk specific to the asset. An impairment loss is recognised as an expense immediately.

For the purposes of assessing impairment, where an asset does not generate cash inflows largely independent from those from other assets, the recoverable amount is determined for the smallest group of assets that generate cash inflows independently (i.e. a cash-generating unit). As a result, some assets are tested individually for impairment and some are tested at cash-generating unit level.

Where an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, so that the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset in prior periods. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognised as income immediately.

Taxation

Taxation represents the sum of the tax paid or currently payable and deferred tax. The tax currently paid and payable is based on taxable profit for the period. Taxable profit differs from profit as reported in the consolidated statement of profit or loss because it excludes items of income or expense that are taxable or deductible in other periods and it further excludes income statement items that are never taxable or deductible.

Deferred tax is the tax expected to be payable or recoverable on differences between the carrying amount of assets and liabilities in the financial statements and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit and is accounted for using the liability method. Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognised for all taxable temporary differences, and deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which deductible temporary differences can be utilised. Such assets and liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from goodwill or the initial recognition (other than in a business combination) of other assets and liabilities in a transaction that affects neither the taxable profit nor the accounting profit.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of the reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax is calculated at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period when the liability is settled or the asset is realised. Deferred tax is charged or credited to profit or loss, except when it relates to items charged or credited directly to other comprehensive income, in which case the deferred tax is also dealt with in other comprehensive income.

Deferred income tax is provided on temporary differences arising on interests in subsidiaries, except where the timing of the reversal of the temporary difference is controlled by the Group and it is probable that the temporary difference will not be reversed in the foreseeable future.

Foreign currencies

In preparing the financial statements of each individual Group entity, transactions in currencies other than the functional currency of that entity (foreign currencies) are recorded in the respective functional currency (i.e. the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates) at the rates of exchanges prevailing on the dates of the transactions. At the end of the reporting period, monetary items denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the rates prevailing on the reporting date. Non-monetary items carried at fair value that are denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the rates prevailing on the date when the fair value was determined. Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are not retranslated.

Exchange differences arising on the settlement of monetary items, and on the translation of monetary items, are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they arise. Exchange differences arising on the retranslation of non-monetary items carried at fair value are included in profit or loss for the period.

For the purposes of presenting the consolidated financial statements, the assets and liabilities of the Group's foreign operations are translated into the presentation currency of the Group (HK$) at the rate of exchange prevailing at that date, and their income and expenses are translated at the average monthly exchange rates for the period, unless exchange rates fluctuate significantly during the period, in which case, the exchange rates prevailing at the dates of transactions are used. Exchange differences arising, if any, are recognised as a separate component of other comprehensive income (the translation reserve). Such exchange differences are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which the foreign operation is disposed of. Goodwill and fair value adjustments arising on the acquisition of a foreign operation have been treated as assets and liabilities of the foreign operation and translated at the closing rates.

Leases

The Group as a lessee

All leases are required to be capitalised in the statement of financial position as right-of-use assets and lease liabilities, but accounting policy choices exist for an entity to choose not to capitalise (i) leases which are short-term leases and/or (ii) leases for which the underlying asset is of low-value. The Group has elected not to recognise right-of-use assets and lease liabilities for low-value assets and leases for which at the commencement date have a lease term less than 12 months. The lease payments associated with those leases have been expensed on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Right-of-use asset

The right-of-use asset initially recognised at cost and would comprise: (i) the amount of the initial measurement of the lease liability (see below for the accounting policy to account for lease liability); (ii) any lease payments made at or before the commencement date, less any lease incentives received; (iii) any initial direct costs incurred by the lessee; and (iv) an estimate of costs to be incurred by the lessee in dismantling and removing the underlying asset to the condition required by the terms and conditions of the lease, unless those costs are incurred to produce inventories. The Group measures the right-of-use assets applying the cost model. Under the cost model, the Group measures the right-to-use at cost, less any accumulated depreciation and any impairment losses, and adjusted for any remeasurement of lease liability. The right-of-use asset is depreciated over the shorter of the asset's estimated useful life and the lease term on a straight-line basis.

Lease liability

The lease liability is recognised at the present value of the lease payments that are not paid at the date of commencement of the lease. The lease payments are discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease, if that rate can be readily determined. If that rate cannot be readily determined, the Group uses the Group's incremental borrowing rate.

The following payments for the right-to-use the underlying asset during the lease term that are not paid at the commencement date of the lease are considered to be lease payments: (i) fixed payments less any lease incentives receivable; (ii) variable lease payments that depend on an index or a rate, initially measured using the index or rate as at commencement date; (iii) amounts expected to be payable by the lessee under residual value guarantees; (iv) the exercise price of a purchase option if the lessee is reasonably certain to exercise that option; and (v) payments of penalties for terminating the lease, if the lease term reflects the lessee exercising an option to terminate the lease.

Subsequent to the commencement date, the Group measures the lease liability by: (i) increasing the carrying amount to reflect interest on the lease liability; (ii) reducing the carrying amount to reflect the lease payments made; and (iii) remeasuring the carrying amount to reflect any reassessment or lease modifications, e.g., a change in future lease payments arising from change in an index or rate, a change in the lease term, a change in the in substance fixed lease payments or a change in assessment to purchase the underlying asset.

Equity-settled share-based payment transactions

Share options granted to Directors, employees or other eligible participants of the Company

The fair value of services received determined by reference to the fair value of share options granted at the grant date is expensed on a straight-line basis over the vesting period, with a corresponding increase in equity as share option reserve.

At the end of the reporting period, the Group revises its estimates of the number of options that are expected to ultimately vest. The impact of the revision of the original estimates, if any, is recognised in profit or loss over the remaining vesting period, with a corresponding adjustment to the share option reserve.

At the time when the share options are exercised, the amount previously recognised in the share option reserve will be transferred to share premium. When the share options are forfeited or are still not exercised at the expiry date, the amount previously recognised in share option reserve will be transferred to retained profits.

Where the terms and conditions of options are modified before they vest, the increase in the fair value of the options, measured immediately before and after the modification, is also recognised in profit or loss over the remaining vesting period.

Where an equity-settled award is cancelled, it is treated as if it had vested on the date of cancellation and any expense not yet recognised for the grant is recognised immediately. This includes any award where non-vesting conditions within the control of either the Group or the employee are not met.

Retirement benefits costs

Payments to the defined contribution retirement plans are charged as expenses when employees have rendered service entitling them to contributions.

The Group operates a defined contribution retirement benefits scheme under the Mandatory Provident Fund Schemes Ordinance (the “MPF Scheme”), for employees who are eligible to participate in the MPF Scheme. Contributions are made based on a percentage of the employees’ basic salaries and are charged to profit or loss as they become payable in accordance with the rules of the MPF Scheme. The assets of the MPF Scheme are held separately from those of the Group in an independently administered fund. The Group’s employer contributions vest fully with the employees when contributed into the MPF Scheme, except for the Group’s employer voluntary contributions, which are refunded to the Group when the employee leaves employment prior to the contributions vesting fully, in accordance with the rules of the MPF Scheme.

The employees of the Group’s subsidiaries which operate in Mainland China are required to participate in a central pension scheme operated by the local municipal government. The subsidiaries are required to contribute a certain percentage of its payroll costs to the central pension scheme. The contributions are charged to profit or loss as they become payable in accordance with the rules of the central pension scheme.

The employees of the Group's subsidiary which operates in Japan are required to participate in the employee's welfare pension insurance programme operated by the local government institution. Under the programme, the employer and employees are each required to make contributions at rates specified in the rules. The subsidiary has no further payment obligations once the contributions have been paid. The contributions are charged to profit or loss when they become payable.

The employees of Group's subsidiary which operates in Singapore are required to participate in the post-employment benefit plans under which the Group pays fixed contributions into separate entities such as the Central Provident Fund on a mandatory, contractual or voluntary basis. The Group has no further payment obligations once the contributions have been paid. The contributions are charged to profit or loss when they become payable.

The employees of the Group's subsidiaries which operate in the United States of America ("USA") are required to make payroll tax contributions in accordance with the Federal Insurance Contributions Act (the "FICA"). The FICA tax consists of both Social Security and Medicare taxes. FICA taxes are paid both by the employee and the employer, with each party paying half of these taxes, based on an employee's gross pay. Contributions are made at the rates dictated for the respective tax year. The Group has no further payment obligations once the contributions have been paid. The employer contributions are charged to profit or loss when they become payable.

Government grants

Government grants are not recognised until there is reasonable assurance that the Group will comply with the conditions attaching to them and that the grants will be received.

Government grants are recognised in profit or loss on a systematic basis over the periods in which the Group recognises as expenses the related costs for which the grants are intended to compensate. Specifically, government grants whose primary condition is that the Group should purchase, construct or otherwise acquire non-current assets are recognised as deferred revenue in the consolidated statement of financial position and transferred to profit or loss on a systematic basis over the useful lives of the related assets.

Government grants that are receivable as compensation for expenses or losses already incurred or for the purpose of giving immediate financial support to the Group with no future related costs are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they become receivable.

4. CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES AND JUDGEMENTS

Estimates and judgements are continually evaluated and are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

The Group makes estimates and assumptions concerning the future. The resulting accounting estimates will, by definition, seldom equal the related actual results. The estimates and assumptions that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year are discussed below:

4. CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES AND JUDGEMENTS – continued

Accounting for cryptocurrencies

HKFRSs do not specifically address accounting for cryptocurrencies. Accordingly, for the preparation of the consolidated financial statements, management needs to apply judgement in determining appropriate accounting policies based on the facts and circumstances of the Group's holding of cryptocurrencies. The Group trades cryptocurrencies over-the-counter and in cryptocurrency exchange, by purchasing cryptocurrencies with a view to their resale in the near future, and generating a profit from fluctuations in the prices, the Group applies the guidance in HKAS 2 for commodity broker-traders and measures the cryptocurrencies at fair value less costs to sell. The Group considers that there are no significant "costs to sell" virtual assets and hence the measurement of virtual assets is based on their fair values with changes in fair values recognized in profit or loss in the period of the changes.

The sale amounts received from counterparties are recorded as revenue on a gross basis and the associated cost as cost of revenues, as the Company is the principal in the trading transaction. The Company has concluded it is the principal because it controls the cryptocurrencies before delivery to the counterparties, it is primarily responsible for the delivery of the cryptocurrencies to the counterparties, it is exposed to risks arising from fluctuations of the market price and inventory risk of cryptocurrencies before delivery to counterparties, and has discretion in setting prices charged to counterparties.

Furthermore, in determining fair values, management needs to apply judgement to identify the relevant available markets, and to consider accessibility to and activity within those markets in order to identify the principal cryptocurrency markets for the Group.

Useful life of cryptocurrency mining equipment

The cryptocurrency mining equipment is used to generate cryptocurrency. The rate at which the Group generates cryptocurrency and consumes the economic benefits of its cryptocurrency mining equipment is influenced by the complexity of the cryptocurrency mining process which is driven by the algorithms contained within the cryptocurrency open source software.

Based on the Group and the industry's limited history to date, management is limited by the market data available. Furthermore, the data available also includes data derived from the use of economic modelling to forecast future cryptocurrencies and the assumptions included in such forecasts, including cryptocurrencies' price and network difficulty, are derived from management's assumptions which are inherently judgmental.

Based on current data available, management has determined that the straight-line method of amortization best reflects the current expected useful life of cryptocurrency mining equipment. Management will review their estimates at each reporting date and will revise such estimates as and when data become available. Management will review the appropriateness of its assumption related to residual value at each reporting date.

Impairment of trade receivables

The Group uses provision matrix to calculate impairment of trade receivables. The ECL rates are based on the past collection history as groupings of various debtors that have similar loss patterns. The provision matrix is based on the Group's historical default rates taking into consideration forward-looking information that is reasonable and supportable available without undue costs or effort. At the end of the reporting period, the historical observed default rates are reassessed and changes in the forward-looking information are considered. In addition, trade receivables with significant balances and credit impaired are assessed for impairment individually. Where the expectation is different from the original estimate, such differences will affect the carrying amount of receivables and thus the impairment loss in the period in which such estimate is changed. Further information is disclosed in note 22.

Impairment of property, plant and equipment and right-of-use assets

Property, plant and equipment and right-of-use assets are assessed at the end of the reporting period to identify indications that they may be impaired. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the assets is estimated. The recoverable amount of the assets is based on value-in-use calculations. These calculations are determined based on cash flow projections with reasonable assumptions that represent management's best estimate of the range of economic conditions over the remaining useful life of the assets. Changes in facts and circumstances may result in revisions to whether an indication of impairment exists and revised estimates of recoverable amounts, which would affect profit or loss in future years.

Impairment of inventories (other than cryptocurrencies)

Inventories are measured at the lower of cost and net realisable value. The management of the Group reviews the carrying amount of the inventories at the end of each reporting period and makes allowance for any inventory items identified to be carried at a recoverable value that is lower than cost through estimation of the expected selling prices under current market conditions.

Estimation of incremental borrowing rate for lease liabilities

The Group cannot readily determine the interest rate implicit in a lease, and accordingly, it uses an incremental borrowing rate ("IBR") to measure lease liabilities. The IBR is the rate of interest that the Group would have to pay to borrow over a similar term, and with a similar security, the funds necessary to obtain an asset of a similar value to the right-of-use assets in a similar economic environment. The IBR therefore reflects what the Group "would have to pay", which requires estimation when no observable rates are available (such as for subsidiaries that do not enter into financing transactions) or when it needs to be adjusted to reflect the terms and conditions of the lease. The Group estimates the IBR using observable inputs (such as market interest rates) when available and is required to make certain entity-specific estimates.

Notes to the Financial Statements

4. CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES AND JUDGEMENTS – continued

Estimates of current tax and deferred tax

The Group is required to recognise a provision for income taxes based upon the taxable income and temporary differences for each of the tax jurisdictions in which it operates and for all discrete reportable income streams within those jurisdictions. Significant judgement is required in determining the amount of the taxation provision and the timing of the payment thereon. Where the final tax outcome of these matters is different from the amounts that were initially recorded, such differences will impact the income tax and deferred tax provisions in the period in which such determination is made.

Estimation of fair value of financial instruments

The fair value of financial instruments that are not traded in active markets are determined by using valuation techniques according to the nature of the financial instruments. These include discounted cash flow method and option pricing models. The Group uses its judgement to select a variety of methods and make assumptions that are mainly based on market conditions existing at the end of each reporting period. Details of the key assumptions used, the impact of changes to these assumptions and the carrying amounts of financial assets at FVTOCI, financial assets at FVTPL and convertible loan receivable are disclosed in note 40(i) respectively.

Valuation of equity-settled share-based payment transactions

The fair values of share options have been calculated using the Binomial Option Pricing Model and the Black-Scholes Option Pricing Model which require the input of highly subjective assumptions, including the expected volatility of the share price. Because changes in subjective assumptions can materially affect the fair value estimate, in the opinion of the Directors, the existing model may not always necessarily produce a reliable single measure of the fair value of the share options. Details of the assumptions used are set out in note 32.

Determination of consolidation scope

Where the Group acts as an asset manager for several funds, the Group makes judgement on whether it is the principal or an agent to determine whether the Group controls the funds and should consolidate them. When performing this assessment, the Group considers several factors including, among other things, the scope of its decision-making authority over the funds, the rights held by parties, the remuneration to which it is entitled in accordance with the related agreements for the assets management services and the Group's exposure to variability of returns from other interests that it holds in the funds. The Group performs re-assessment periodically based on whether it has control if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the elements of controls.

Assets held as custodian

When the Group acts, in a fiduciary capacity, as custodian that results in the holding of digital assets on behalf of clients, the Directors make a judgement as to whether or not it is subject to substantial risks and rewards incidental to ownership of the assets and therefore, whether or not this should be excluded in the Group's consolidated financial statements. The assessment requires careful consideration of the terms of the agreement with its clients, the applicable laws governing the jurisdiction(s) in which the custodian operates and how the Group manages and stores the digital assets.

5. SEGMENT INFORMATION

The Group has determined its operating segments and prepared segmental information based on regular internal financial information reported to the chief operating decision makers, i.e. the executive Directors of the Company, who are responsible for making strategic decisions. The executive Directors review the Group's internal reporting in order to assess performance and allocate resources and have determined the operating segments based on these reports. During the year ended 30 September 2021, the Group started a new business of virtual asset ecosystem and had three reportable and operating segments as follows:

- (i) Virtual asset ecosystem;
- (ii) Provision of technology solution services; and
- (iii) Contract manufacturing.

Each of these operating segments is managed separately as each of them requires different resources.

The chief operating decision makers assess the performance of the operating segments based on a measure of operating profit. The measurement policies used by the Group for reporting segment results are consistent with those used in its financial statements prepared under HKFRSs, except for income tax expense and corporate income and expenses which are not directly attributable to the business activities of any operating segment and are not included in arriving at the operating results of the operating segment.

Segment assets include all assets other than unallocated corporate assets (mainly comprising certain property, plant and equipment, right-of-use assets, other receivables, financial assets at FVTOCI, convertible loan receivable, financial assets at FVTPL, and cash and bank balances).

Segment liabilities include all liabilities other than unallocated corporate liabilities (mainly comprising certain other payables, tax payable, other borrowings, lease liabilities and deferred tax liabilities).

Hong Kong profits tax is calculated at the rate of 16.5% (2021: 16.5%) on the estimated assessable profits for the year, except for the first HK$2,000,000 of a qualified entity's assessable profit which is calculated at 8.25%, in accordance with the new two-tiered tax rate regime with effect from the year of assessment 2018/2019.

A subsidiary of the Group received an enquiry for information from the Hong Kong Inland Revenue Department (the "IRD") in April 2015 due to a tax audit by the IRD on that subsidiary's profits tax affairs and received assessments for Hong Kong profits tax for prior years in March 2015, February 2016, December 2016, March 2018, February 2019 and March 2020. The Group had subsequently objected to the assessments made. In addition, in July 2016, May 2017, November 2017, December 2017 and August 2018, the same subsidiary received additional enquiries for information from the IRD. Based on the available information, the Group had made a provision in regards of the tax audit. The Directors believed the provision was adequate to reflect the potential tax liability at the respective year end dates. In April 2019 and January 2020, the subsidiary received the draft settlement and the revised draft settlement from the IRD for discussion respectively. During the year ended 30 September 2020, the Group concluded the final amount of additional tax, penalty and interest with the IRD, according to which an additional tax of HK$1,953,000 and interest of HK$81,000 had been settled before 30 September 2020 and the Group recognised over-provision of income tax in relation to the tax audit of HK$2,060,000 during the year ended 30 September 2020. The remaining penalty of HK$1,300,000 had been settled during the year ended 30 September 2021.

12. INCOME TAX EXPENSE – continued

The PRC corporate income tax charge of HK$1,557,000 (2021: HK$7,289,000) was determined in accordance with the relevant laws and regulations in Mainland China, and was assessed at a rate of 25% (2021: 25%).

Taxation arising in other jurisdictions is provided on the estimated taxable profits arising in those jurisdictions at the prevailing local rates.

The Group considers that, as it is probable that its operating subsidiary in the PRC will continue to distribute earnings in the foreseeable future, a deferred tax provision of HK$4,840,000 (2021: HK$5,041,000) has been established at the end of the reporting period in relation to withholding tax based on 5% of post 1 January 2008 unremitted earnings (note 29).

The reconciliation between income tax expense/(credit) and accounting profit/(loss) at applicable tax rates is as follows:

Less: Impairment provisions	–	–
Trade receivables – net	65,683	89,070

Included in trade receivables were amounts due from related companies amounting to HK$5,074,000 (2021: HK$942,000) in which Mr. Li Lin, a Director of the Company, has beneficial interests. The amounts are unsecured, interest-free and trade in nature.

The Group operates an asset-backed lending facility based on certain of its trade receivables. The discounting transactions are with recourse and accordingly, do not meet the requirements in HKFRS 9 for de-recognition of financial assets as the Group retains substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership of the discounted trade receivables. At 30 September 2022, trade receivables of HK$714,000 (2021: HK$14,723,000) continue to be recognised in the consolidated statement of financial position even though they have been legally transferred to the financial institutions. The proceeds of the discounting transactions are included in borrowings as asset-backed financing until the trade receivables are collected or the Group settles any losses suffered by the financial institutions. At 30 September 2022, the asset-backed lending liabilities amounted to HK$678,000 (2021: HK$13,987,000) (note 26).

Included in other receivables was an amount due from a related company amounting to HK$23,706,000 (2021: HK$37,995,000) in which Mr. Li Lin, a Director of the Company, has beneficial interests. The amount is unsecured, interest-free and repayable in 30 days.

	65,683	89,070

The Group allows credit periods ranging from 30 to 100 days (2021: 30 to 100 days) to its trade customers depending on their credit status and geographical location during the year. The Directors of the Company consider that the carrying amounts of trade and other receivables approximate to their fair values.

The aged analysis of the Group's trade receivables, based on due date, that were past due as at the reporting date but not impaired, is as follows:

	2022 HK$'000	2021 HK$'000

0 – 60 days past due	10,160	13,459

Trade receivables that were neither past due nor impaired related to a large number of customers for whom there has been no recent history of default. Based on past experience, the Directors of the Company are of the opinion that no provision for impairment is necessary in respect of these balances as there has not been a significant change in credit risk.

The asset-backed lending represents the amount of financing obtained in factoring transactions which do not meet the de-recognition requirements under HKFRS 9. The corresponding financial assets are included in trade receivables (note 22).

Bank borrowings are denominated in HK$ and US Dollars (“US$”), carry variable interest rates linked to the relevant prime rates and fixed interest rates applicable to the jurisdiction in which the facility has been taken out. The effective interest rates on the Group’s floating rate borrowings range from 2.1% to 4.11% per annum (2021: 2.1% to 2.6% per annum).

The fair values of the Group’s bank borrowings, determined as the present value of the estimated future cash flows, discounted using the prevailing market rate at the reporting date, approximate to their carrying values.

Refer to note 34 for details of pledged assets.

26. BANK AND OTHER BORROWINGS – continued

(b) Other borrowings – Loan from a former controlling shareholder

On 21 August 2018, as part of the sale and purchase agreement in relation to the sale and purchase of an aggregate of 215,576,000 sale shares, representing approximately 71.67% of the entire issued share capital of the Company originally owned by New Wave Capital Limited (“NWC”), a company owned by Mr. Simon Nai-cheng Hsu, NWC agreed to provide Pantene Industrial Co. Limited (“Pantene Industrial”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Group, a three-year interest-free and unsecured loan of HK$100,000,000 with maturity date of 24 August 2021. The borrower is entitled to early repay a portion or all of this loan without giving prior notice.

The HK$100,000,000 loan received was initially recognised at a fair value of HK$86,098,000 which was estimated by discounting the nominal value of the loan at an effective interest rate of 5.0% per annum and as a result, a fair value gain of HK$11,608,000 (net of deferred tax of HK$2,294,000) was credited to the other reserve for the year ended 30 September 2018. The loan was fully repaid during the year ended 30 September 2021. On 25 August 2021, NWC agreed to provide Pantene Industrial an unsecured loan of HK$60,000,000 with interest bearing at 4% per annum and maturity date of 25 February 2023.

For the year ended 30 September 2021, an imputed interest of HK$4,379,000 (with related deferred tax credit of HK$722,000) was charged to the consolidated statement of profit or loss (notes 9 and 29).

For the year ended 30 September 2022, an interest of HK$2,400,000 (2021: HK$243,000) was charged to the consolidated statement of profit or loss (note 9).

(c) Other borrowings – Loans from a related company

2019 Shareholder’s Facility

On 26 September 2019, the Company entered into a facility agreement with Huobi Cayman Holding Limited (formerly known as Huobi Global Limited) (“Huobi Global (Cayman)”), the then immediate holding company of the Company, pursuant to which Huobi Global (Cayman) agreed to make available to the Company an unsecured revolving facility up to the maximum aggregate amount of HK$471,000,000 (the “2019 Shareholder’s Facility”) for two years from 26 September 2019 to 25 September 2021. The 2019 Shareholder’s Facility does not bear any interest and will be utilised by the Company for the purpose of general working capital and business development. During the year ended 30 September 2019, the Company drew down approximately US$50,000,000 or HK$391,970,000, comprising US$40,000,000 or HK$313,576,000 being transferred from Huobi Global (Cayman) by cash and US$10,000,000 or HK$78,394,000 in the form of USDT, a blockchain-based cryptocurrency (being the fair value of the USDT units received at the date of drawdown).

The HK$391,970,000 loan received was initially recognised at a fair value of HK$370,205,000 which was estimated by discounting the nominal value of the loan at an effective interest rate of 2.86% per annum and as a result, a fair value gain of HK$18,174,000 (net of deferred tax of HK$3,591,000) was credited to the other reserve for the year ended 30 September 2019.

During the year ended 30 September 2020, the Group made partial repayments of HK$159,000,000. As the Shareholder’s Facility did not contain any terms for early repayment and any violation to be imposed for early repayment, the partial repayments were a result of renegotiation of the terms and did not constitute the breach of the Shareholder’s Facility. The Directors of the Company considered that such early repayments did not represent a substantial modification of the Shareholder’s Facility and accordingly, the early repayments did not result in the extinguishment of the financial liabilities.

On 25 September 2020, the Group and Huobi Global (Cayman) mutually agreed to extend the Shareholder's Facility until September 2023. As the Shareholder's Facility did not contain any terms for extension, the extension was a result of renegotiation of the terms and did not constitute the breach of the Shareholder's Facility. The Directors of the Company considered that such extension did not represent a substantial modification of the Shareholder's Facility and accordingly, the extension did not result in the extinguishment of the financial liabilities. Accordingly, the Group recognised a gain arising from modifications of the Shareholder's Facility of HK$5,278,000 (note 33) (net of deferred tax of HK$1,044,000 (note 29)) in other reserve for the year ended 30 September 2020.

On 14 September 2022, the Group and Huobi Global (Cayman) agreed to settle the loan from Huobi Global (Cayman) of approximately US$6,800,000 or HK$53,371,000 by setting off a consideration for disposal of a subsidiary (note 43), and a reversal of fair value gain of HK$1,291,000 (reversal of deferred tax liability HK$255,000) was debited to the other reserve for the year ended 30 September 2022.

During the year ended 30 September 2022, the Company drew down approximately US$6,000,000 or HK$47,098,000 by cash. The HK$47,098,000 loan received was initially recognised at a fair value of HK$45,474,000 which was estimated by discounting the nominal value of the loan at an effective interest rate of 1.17% per annum and as a result, a fair value gain of HK$1,355,000 (net of deferred tax of HK$269,000) was credited to the other reserve for the year ended 30 September 2022.

29. DEFERRED TAX LIABILITIES – continued

Pursuant to the PRC Corporate Income Tax Law, a 10% withholding tax is levied on dividends declared to foreign investment enterprises established in Mainland China. The requirement is effective from 1 January 2008 and applies to earnings after 31 December 2007. A lower withholding tax rate (5%) may be applied if there is a tax treaty between Mainland China and the jurisdiction of the foreign investors. For the Group, the applicable rate is 5%. The Group is therefore liable to withholding taxes on dividends distributed by its subsidiary established in Mainland China in respect of earnings generated from 1 January 2008. During the year ended 30 September 2022, a provision of HK$184,000 (2021: HK$913,000) has been charged to the consolidated statement of profit or loss representing 5% unremitted earnings incurred in the year.

At the reporting date, based on the estimation of future profit streams, the Group has unrecognised gross deferred tax assets (before applying tax rates prevailing in the respective jurisdictions) in respect of unused tax losses and other temporary differences available for offset against future profits, analysed as follows:

	2022 HK$'000	2021 HK$'000
Unused tax losses	379,705	166,171
Other temporary differences	10,159	7,205
	389,864	173,376

The Group records deferred tax assets in respect of tax losses and other tax credits only where there is a reasonable expectation that these tax losses and credits will be utilised in the foreseeable future. Based on forecast income streams and having considered potential future earnings volatility, the Group does not anticipate the utilisation of any significant proportion of these unrecognised tax losses and other tax credits or the material reversal of the other deferred tax temporary differences in the foreseeable future. The tax losses and other tax credits arising from subsidiaries incorporated in HKSAR will not expire under current tax legislation and can be carried forward indefinitely.

The tax losses arising from the subsidiaries established in Mainland China of approximately HK$22,304,000 (2021: HK$1,124,000) will expire if they are not utilised to set off against the taxable profits within five years from the year in which they arose under the current tax legislation in Mainland China.

The tax losses arising from the subsidiaries established in the USA of approximately HK$Nil (2021: HK$19,307,000) will expire if they are not utilised to set off against the taxable profits within twenty years from the year in which they arose under the current tax legislation in the USA.

Contractual option life	10 years
Risk-free rate	0.506%
Expected dividend yield	0%

The expected volatility is based on historical price volatility of similar listed companies in the past few years. The risk-free rate is the yields of Hong Kong government bonds and treasury bills as extracted from Bloomberg as at 14 October 2020. At the date options were granted on 14 October 2020, this was determined to be 0.506%. The dividend yield of the Company of 0% has been adopted.

Based on the fair values derived from the above pricing model, the fair value of the share options granted on 14 October 2020 was approximately HK$1,970,000 (HK$1.2841 each), of which HK$Nil (2021:HK$Nil) have been charged as share-based compensation expenses to profit or loss for the year ended 30 September 2022 as the related employee resigned during the year ended 30 September 2022.

The assumptions used in computing the fair value of the share options are based on management's best estimate. The valuation of options is dependent upon a number of variables using subjective assumptions. Any changes in the variables may materially affect the estimation of the fair value of an option.

There was no market vesting condition or non-market performance condition associated with the options granted.

After considering (i) the current remuneration package (including performance bonus) of the management and employees; and (ii) other incentive programme of the Group currently in place, the Board, as a commercial decision, has amended the schedule for vesting of options under the share option scheme to the effect that one-fourth of the options shall be vested in the holders of options on each anniversary of the first 4 years from the date of grant with effective from 17 November 2020. The amendments shall not apply to the outstanding options as at 17 November 2020 which have already been granted but remain unexercised under the share option scheme. For details, please refer to the Company's announcements dated 19 October 2020, 22 October 2020, 17 November 2020 and the circular dated 23 October 2020 respectively.

33. RESERVES

The amounts of the Group's reserves and the movements therein for the year are presented in the consolidated statement of changes in equity on pages 111 to 112 of the financial statements.

At the end of the reporting period, the Group revises its estimates of the number of options that are expected to ultimately vest and the impact of the revision of these estimates, if any, is recognised in the statement of profit or loss over the remaining vesting period, with a corresponding adjustment to the share option reserve.

At the time when the options are exercised, the amount previously recognised in the share option reserve is transferred to the share premium. When the share options are forfeited or are still not exercised at the expiry date, the amount previously recognised in the share option reserve is transferred to retained profits/accumulated losses.

Other reserve

The other reserve represents the deemed contribution from the Company's shareholders or its related companies with respect to (i) waiver of loans from/amount due to shareholders or its related companies; (ii) fair value gain on interest-free loans from shareholders or its related company; and (iii) gain on disposal of a subsidiary to a related company.

38. RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS – continued

On 28 October 2019, the Company was granted to use the trademark as the Group's logo from Huobi Global Limited ("Huobi Global (Seychelles)"), a company incorporated with limited liability under the law of Seychelles and is indirectly controlled by Mr. Li Lin, a Director of the Company, with a nominal consideration of HK$1. The licensed period shall be three years and renewable. On the same date, the Company was assigned to use the domain name "www.huobitech.com" from Mr. Lan Jianzhong, the then Director of the Company, with a nominal consideration of HK$1. The consideration of this transaction is determined and agreed by both parties.

On 26 February 2021, pursuant to a deed of novation entered into among Win Techno Inc. ("Win Techno"), a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Group, Huobi Global (Seychelles) and Huobi Worldwide Limited ("Huobi Worldwide"), a company incorporated in Hong Kong with limited liability and is indirectly controlled by Mr. Li Lin, a Director of the Company, in relation to the provision of financial assistance regarding payment agent services. Huobi Global (Seychelles) agreed to novate and Huobi Worldwide agreed to assume all rights and obligations of Huobi Global (Seychelles) in and under the service agreement (as amended by the First Supplemental Agreement) for the provision of payment agent services entered into between Win Techno and Huobi Global (Seychelles). Details of the Second Supplemental Agreement entered into between Huobi Global (Seychelles) and Huobi Worldwide on 11 March 2021 are set out in the Company's announcement dated 11 March 2021.

During the year ended 30 September 2022, the Group provided financial assistance to Huobi Global (Seychelles) and Huobi Worldwide, which are related companies of the Company in which Mr. Li Lin, a Director of the Company, has beneficial interests, in relation to payment agent services with aggregate amounts of HK$382,240,000 (2021: HK$405,640,000).

Customers of the Group to which SaaS services were provided utilised certain digital assets trading platform software and technologies provided by a related company. The consideration of such services were received through the same related company.

The key management personnel are the Directors and the five highest paid individuals of the Company. The details of the emoluments paid to them are set out in note 13.

Except as disclosed above, no transactions, arrangements or contracts of significance in relation to the Group's business to which the Company was a party and in which a Director of the Company or an entity connected with a Director had a material interest, whether directly or indirectly, subsisted during or at the end of the financial year.

39. CONTINGENT LIABILITIES

As at 30 September 2022, the Group did not have any material contingent liabilities (2021: HK$Nil).

40. FINANCIAL RISK AND VIRTUAL ASSET ECOSYSTEM RISK MANAGEMENT AND POLICIES

The Group is exposed to a variety of risks: market risk (including foreign currency risk, interest rate risk and price risk), credit risk and liquidity risk and virtual asset ecosystem risk. The Group's overall risk management focuses on unpredictability of financial markets and seeks to minimise potential adverse effects on the Group's financial performance. Risk management is carried out by key management under the policies approved by the Board. The Group does not have written risk management policies. However, the Board meets regularly and co-operates closely with key management to identify and evaluate risks and to formulate strategies to manage financial risks.

Foreign currency risk

Foreign currency risk is the risk that the value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in foreign exchange rates.

The Group's principal operating subsidiaries carry out their operations in the PRC (including HKSAR), Japan and US. Entities in the Group regularly transact in currencies other than their respective functional currencies with regard to the selling and purchase of products. As a consequence of the various trading activities, certain trade receivables and borrowings of the Group are denominated in foreign currencies. While the Group has no formal hedging policy, it does seek to manage its foreign currency exposures by constructing natural hedges as well as entering into certain forward foreign exchange contracts to minimise any currency exposure risks.

The Group's foreign currency risk is mainly concentrated on the fluctuation of the US$ against the RMB.

	2022 HK$'000	2021 HK$'000
Trade receivables	8,160	54,622
Cash and cash equivalents	40,830	73,865
Trade payables	(16,327)	(5,134)
Borrowings	—	(13,987)
Gross exposure arising from recognised financial assets and liabilities	32,663	109,366

Assuming sensitivity to a 5% increase where the RMB strengthens against the US$ there would be an increase in profit of approximately HK$1.36 million for the year (2021: HK$14.5 million). For a 5% weakening of the currency there would be an equal and opposite impact on profit or loss. The sensitivity analysis includes only outstanding foreign currency denominated monetary items and adjusts their translation at the reporting date for a 5% change in foreign currency rates.

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the year ended 30 September 2022

– continued

Interest rate risk

The Group's exposure to interest rate risk relates principally to its borrowings. The borrowings have floating and fixed interest rates and in the main are denominated in HK$, RMB and US$. The interest rates and terms of repayment of borrowings of the Group are disclosed in note 25. At present, the Group does not intend to seek to hedge its exposure to interest rate fluctuations. However, the Group will constantly review the economic situation and its interest rate profile and will consider appropriate hedging measures in the future which may be necessary.

The net interest expense experienced by the Group is HK$18,291,000 (2021: HK$13,221,000) for the year. If there were a 1% increase/(decrease), the net interest would increase/(decrease) by approximately HK$3,822,000 (2021: HK$2,016,000) for the year.

Risk related to digital assets and related digital asset business

The fast developing nature of digital asset markets including evolving regulations, custody and trading mechanisms, the dependency on information technology integrity and security, as well as valuation and volume volatility all subject the digital assets and business of the Group to unique risks. The Directors consider that such risks and uncertainties are largely related to information technology, safekeeping of digital assets, fluctuation of asset prices, compliance, and the ever-evolving nature of the markets. As the industry is in a growth stage, the Group has been implementing an operational infrastructure to support business development and growth. These initiatives include expanding IT infrastructure and hiring additional management personnel with an emphasis on experience in legal, regulatory, compliance, financial reporting, operations and technology development.

Price risk of digital assets

The Group received cryptocurrencies collateral under lending arrangements with counterparties (the "Cryptocurrencies Collateral") that the Group provides lending management service but is not a party to originate such loan. Since the Group is able to utilise such collateral for its own economic benefits, it is recorded as cryptocurrencies of the Group. The corresponding liability due to the counterparties is recorded under "collateral payables" and is measured at fair value through profit or loss base on the fair value of relevant cryptocurrencies under current liabilities. After excluding the Cryptocurrencies Collateral amounting to HK$124,758,000 that received from counterparties as custodian, the Group held cryptocurrencies amounting to HK$169,731,000 (2021: HK$3,072,000) as at 30 September 2022. The volatility and unpredictability of the price of cryptocurrencies relative to fiat currencies could cause impact to the Group's performance.

If there were a 35% increase/(decrease) (2021: 35%) on the price of cryptocurrencies held by the Group (being a reasonably expected change determined based on average monthly price movements) in the principal markets with other variables held constant, the prices of cryptocurrencies would increase/(decrease) by approximately HK$59,406,000 (2021: HK$1,075,000) for the year.

The Group provides trust and custody services to its clients. Such assets constitute trust assets and are not accounted for as assets of the Group and do not give rise to liabilities to the relevant customers. Accordingly, the Group has no price volatility exposure from these holdings.

– continued

Risks related to safekeeping of digital assets

The Group maintains digital assets in both “hot” (connected to the Internet) and “cold” (not connected to the Internet) wallets. “Hot” wallets are more susceptible to cyber-attacks or potential theft as they are connected to the public internet.

To mitigate such risks, the Group has implemented a series of internal controls, including but not limited to the implementation of two-factor authentication, segregation of duties, and day-to-day wallet management.

Risks related to anti-money laundering

As aforementioned, the Group provides trust and custody services to its clients and is required to comply with the relevant requirements of the Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorist Financing Ordinance (Chapter 615 of the Laws of Hong Kong) and the guidelines issued by the Companies Registry of Hong Kong.

To mitigate such risks, the Group has implemented policies and procedures for Anti-Money Laundering and Know-Your-Customer that are initiated during the client onboarding process and are applied by way of continuous monitoring and reporting. In enhancing these policies and procedures, the Group has also considered industry best practice and the recommendations of the Financial Action Task Force.

Credit risk

Credit risk refers to the risk that a counterparty will default on its contractual obligations resulting in financial loss to the Group. The Group’s credit risk primarily relates to the Group’s time deposits and bank balances, trade receivables and other receivables. The maximum exposure to credit risk in the event that the counterparties fail to perform their obligations as at end of the financial period in relation to each class of recognised financial assets is the carrying amount of those assets as stated in the statement of financial position. In order to minimise the risk, the Board closely monitors overdue debts. The recoverable amount of each individual debt is reviewed at each reporting period and adequate allowance for doubtful debts has been made for irrecoverable amounts. In this regard, the Board considers that credit risk associated with the Group’s trade receivables and other receivables is significantly reduced.

(i) Time deposits and bank balances

The Group expects that there is no significant credit risk associated with cash deposits at banks since they are substantially deposited at state-owned banks and reputable banks. Management does not expect that there will be any significant losses from non-performance by these counterparties.

(ii) Trade receivables

The Group applies the simplified approach to provide for ECLs prescribed by HKFRS 9, which permits the use of the lifetime ECL provision for all trade receivables. To measure the ECLs, trade receivables have been grouped based on shared credit risk characteristics and the days past due. The ECLs also incorporate forward-looking information.

As at 30 September 2022, trade receivables of HK$27,928,000 (2021: HK$63,042,000) were contributed by the top five customers. The Group has monitoring procedures to ensure that follow up action is taken to recover overdue debts. The Group applies the simplified approach to provide for ECLs prescribed by HKFRS 9, which permits the use of the lifetime ECL provision for all trade receivables. To measure the ECLs, trade receivables have been grouped based on shared credit risk characteristics and the days past due. The ECLs also incorporate forward-looking information. The Group has identified the GDP and the unemployment rate of the countries in which it sells the goods and renders the services to be the most relevant factors, and accordingly adjusts the ECL rates based on expected changes in these factors. The ECL rate of collectively assessed trade receivables that were neither past due nor impaired is 0.06% (2021: 0.01%), past due between 0 to 60 days is 0.37%-1.21% (2021: 0.20%) and past due more than 60 days is 6.55% (2021: 6.76% to 27.50%). The Directors consider that there are no significant credit risk on trade receivables due to the past payment history and taking into account of the sound financial performance and position of the debtors to meet contractual cash flow obligations in the near term. Accordingly, the ECL on trade receivables was assessed to be minimal and no provision was made for the year (2021: HK$Nil).

(iii) Other receivables

The Group has adopted general approach to measure ECLs on financial assets included in prepayments and other receivables, and other financial assets at amortised cost. Under the general approach, the Group applies the “3-stage” impairment model for ECLs measurement based on change in credit risk since initial recognition as follows:

Stage 1: If the credit risk of the financial instrument has not increased significantly since initial recognition, the financial instrument is included in Stage 1.

Stage 2: If the credit risk of the financial instrument has increased significantly since its initial recognition but is not deemed to be credit-impaired, the financial instrument is included in Stage 2.

Stage 3: If the financial instrument is credit-impaired, the financial instrument is included in Stage 3.

The ECLs for financial instruments in Stage 1 are measured at an amount equivalent to 12-month ECLs whereas the ECLs for financial instruments in Stage 2 or Stage 3 are measured at an amount equivalent to lifetime ECLs.

When determining whether the risk of default has increased significantly since initial recognition, the Group considers reasonable and supportable information that is relevant and available without undue cost or effort. This includes both quantitative and qualitative information and analysis, based on the Group's historical experience and informed credit risk assessment and including forward-looking information.

Having regard to industry practice and relevant regulation, as well as the background and behaviour of the debtors/counterparties, the Group assumes that the credit risk on a financial asset has increased significantly if it is more than 30 days past due unless the Group has reasonable and supportable information that demonstrates otherwise. In addition, the Group considers that a financial asset to be in default when: (i) the debtor is unlikely to pay its credit obligations to the Group in full, without recourse by the Group to actions such as realising security (if any is held); or (ii) the financial asset is more than 90 days past due, unless the Group has reasonable and supportable information to demonstrate that a more lagging default criteria is more appropriate.

At the end of the reporting period, the Group assesses whether a financial asset is credit-impaired. A financial asset is considered as credit-impaired when one or more events that have a detrimental impact on the estimated future cash flows of the financial asset have occurred. Evidence that a financial asset is credit-impaired includes observable data about the following events:

- (a) significant financial difficulty of the debtor;
- (b) a breach of contract, such as a default or past due event;
- (c) granting a concession to the debtors that the debtor would not otherwise consider for economic or contractual reasons relating to the debtor's financial difficulty; or
- (d) it is becoming probable that the debtor will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganisation.

The Group makes periodic collective assessments as well as individual assessment on the recoverability of other receivables based on historical settlement records and past experience as well as ECL assessment. The Directors believe that there is no material credit risk inherent in the Group's outstanding balance of deposits and other receivables. Accordingly, the ECL rate on deposits and other receivables was assessed to be minimal and no provision was recognised for the year (2021: HK$Nil).

Liquidity risk

The Group's objective is to ensure that adequate funds are available to meet commitments associated with its financial liabilities.

The Group manages its liquidity needs by carefully monitoring short-term and long-term cash outflows on a regular basis. The Group mainly utilises cash to meet its liquidity requirements for periods up to 30 days. Funding for long-term liquidity needs will be considered when liquidity requirements in the long term are identified.

The table below analyses the Group's financial liabilities that will be settled on a net basis into relevant maturity groupings based on the remaining period at the reporting date to the contractual maturity date. The contractual maturity analysis below is based on the undiscounted cash flows of the financial liabilities and the earliest date the Group can be required to pay.

Fair value measurement

The fair value measurement of the Group's financial assets and liabilities utilises market observable inputs and data as far as possible. Input used in determining fair value measurements are categorised into different levels based on how observable inputs used in the valuation technique utilised (the "fair value hierarchy") are:

Level 1: Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;

Level 2: Inputs other than quoted prices included within level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices); and

Level 3: Inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

(i) Financial instruments measured at fair value

At the end of the reporting period, convertible loan receivable, unlisted equity investments and derivative financial instrument included in the consolidated financial statements require measurement at, and disclosure of, fair value.

The following methods and assumptions were used to estimate the fair values:

As at 30 September 2022, the fair value of an unlisted equity investment was determined using market approach with reference to recent transaction price which amounting to HK$5,425,000 (2021: Nil). The fair value was determined by the directors of the Company with reference to the valuation performed by an independent professional valuer.

The fair values of three (2021: one) unlisted equity investments were determined using market approach with reference to recent transaction price which amounting to HK$24,637,000 (2021: Nil). The fair values were determined by the directors of the Company.

The key input to determine the fair value of the above unlisted equity investments are the share transaction price. A higher in the share transaction price would result in an increase in the fair value of unlisted equity investments, and vice versa.

The fair value of Company B was determined using option pricing method ("OPM") which is determined by the directors of the Company with reference to the valuation performed by an independent professional valuer. Under the OPM, each class of stock is modeled as a call option with a distinct claim on the enterprise value of the Company. At the time of a liquidity event, both the common stock and preferred stock have payoff diagrams that are similar to the payoff diagrams of regular call options. The characteristics of each class of stock, including the conversion ratio and any liquidation preference of the preferred stock, determine the class of stock's claim on the enterprise value.

The key input to determine the fair value of Company B are risk free rate (0.873%), expected volatility (46.94%) and time to liquidity (4.53 years). The higher in the risk free rate, expected volatility and time to liquidity would result in a decrease in the fair value of Company B, and vice versa.

As at 30 September 2021, the fair value of convertible loan receivable is calculated using Binomial Option Pricing Model which is determined by the directors of the Company with reference to the valuation performed by an independent professional valuer, with the following key assumptions:

Stock price	CHF1.35
Dividend yield	Nil
Expected volatility	15.45%

The key significant unobservable inputs to determine the fair value of convertible loan receivable are the stock price and expected volatility. A higher in the stock price and expected volatility would result in an increase in the fair value of convertible loan receivable, and vice versa.

The valuation techniques and significant unobservable inputs used in determining the fair value measurement of level 2 and level 3 financial instruments, as well as the relationship between key unobservable inputs and fair value are set out in notes (iii) and (iv) below.

(ii) Financial instruments not measured at fair value

Financial instruments not measured at fair value include cash and bank balances, trade and other receivables, pledged bank deposit, trade and other payables, bank and other borrowings and lease liabilities.

The fair values of the Group's current financial assets and liabilities are not materially different from their carrying amounts because of the immediate or short-term maturity of these financial assets and liabilities.

The fair values of non-current financial liabilities for disclosure purposes are estimated by discounting the future contractual cash flows at the current market interest rate available to the Group for similar financial instruments.

(iii) Information about level 2 fair value measurement

The fair values of the financial instruments included in the level 2 category have been determined with reference to generally accepted pricing models based on quoted prices for identical or similar or liabilities in markets that are not active.

(iv) Information about level 3 fair value measurement

The fair values of the financial instruments, including two of the unlisted equity investments, derivative financial instrument and convertible loan receivable, included in the level 3 category as at the end of the reporting period have been determined by the directors with reference to the valuation performed by an independent professional valuer. The fair value of three unlisted equity investment is determined using the market approach based on recent transaction prices.
