8. Loss per share

(a) Basic loss per share

Basic loss per share is calculated by dividing the net loss attributable to equity holders of the Company by the weighted average number of ordinary shares outstanding during the financial period.

	The Group
	6 months ended 30 June 2023	6 months ended 30 June 2022
Net loss attributable to equity holders of the Company (RMB'000)	(35,307)	(83,030)

Basic loss per share (RMB per share)	(0.014)	(0.032)

(b) Diluted loss per share

For the purpose of calculating diluted loss per share, net loss attributable to equity holders of the Company and the weighted average number of ordinary shares outstanding are adjusted for the effects of all dilutive potential ordinary shares. As the effect of conversion of shares from perpetual convertible securities is anti-dilutive, the diluted loss per share is the same as the basic loss per share.

Outlook

Generally linked to the country's economic growth, the real estate market forms an integral part of the domestic economy.

In April 2023, China's National Bureau of Statistics announced that China's GDP grew by 4.5% in the first quarter. That marks the highest growth since the first quarter of last year — when China's economy grew by 4.8% — and better than the 4% forecast in a Reuters poll. On a quarter-on-quarter comparison, China's economy grew 2.2%. However, the economic rebound seen earlier this year has lost momentum in the second quarter in 2023 as manufacturers struggle with weak demand at home and abroad.

Despite signs of stabilising within the property market in early 2023, market conditions have softened since April 2023 as market sentiments remained cautious about big-ticket spending, amid concerns over incomes and jobs as the momentum of a post-pandemic recovery remains uncertain.

According to a June 2023 report by Goldman Sachs, China's property sector is set to be persistently weak for years, which will weigh markedly on economic growth for years to come because of the shift in policy priorities.

Against the backdrop of the evolving macro-economic challenges and uncertain market conditions, the Group has undertaken a strategic review in calibrating our business model, moving from asset heavy to asset light, focusing on property management services in order to mitigate the impact of regulatory measures over the real estate development sector, offload non-core property assets and to identify emerging growth opportunities that are aligned with China's 14th 5-year (2021-2025) development plan.

The Group's core real estate business activities are based in Chongqing and our investment property portfolio comprises integrated office and retail developments, residential properties and commercial properties. As at 30 June 2023, the Group's investment properties have a total gross floor area (GFA) of 333,294 square metres ("sqm") which comprises four main segments of retail (approximately 66%), office (approximately 10%), carpark and warehousing (approximately 24%).

According to a publication issued in July 2023 by Savills on Chongqing's retail property market, the total stock of high-quality retail properties in Chongqing is approximately 7.87 million sqm (including department stores). Overall vacancy rate of retail properties in the city increased to 20.6%. However, the vacancy rate in core business districts started to decline after experiencing three consecutive quarters of increase, mainly due to active adjustments in projects in Jiefangbei and Guanyinqiao business districts. In the second half of 2023, the Chongqing retail market is expected to have over 100,000 sqm of new supply.

In a separate publication issued in July 2023 by Savills on Chongqing's office property market, Chongqing Grade A office market had the addition of a total leasable area of 72,000 square meters in the first half of 2023, pushing the current citywide Grade A office stock to 2.62 million square meters. Against the backdrop of a sluggish recovery in new leasing demand, the overall improvement in tenant stability has driven the continuous rebound of net absorption in the city, reaching approximately 23,000 sqm. Although the rebound is significant, the entry of new projects has led to an increase in vacancy rate. In terms of rent, due to the challenging macroeconomic environment and limited recovery in market confidence, some landlords have continued to adjust rents to attract potential tenants. The average rent for Grade A office space decreased by 1.9% Y-o-Y. Looking ahead, while external leasing demand in the Chongqing market still needs to recover, the significant improvement in tenant stability may contribute to the long-term stability and healthy development of Chongqing's office property market. With more enterprise supporting policies valid in Chongqing, leasing demand is expected to gradually recover.

For the retail rental segment, the Group continues to closely monitor new retail trends and aims to explore new retail concepts and experiences with our tenants so that the Group's retail properties continue to be relevant and interesting amidst an increasingly competitive retail market.

On the office rental segment, the Group continues to focus on retaining existing quality tenants and attracting new tenants by integrating new innovations, creating conducive spaces and more agile workspaces.

Adhering to the Group's core values, the management team is committed to the strategy of developing a cross-border property investment and asset management platform, focusing on strengthening our core operating activities and increase the quality of our business development activities.

With the rising trend of eco-investment and development, the Group aims to leverage on our cross-border asset management capabilities and listing status in Singapore and track record in Chongqing to implement the Group's transformation towards emerging opportunities in China's real estate market.
