The Group had changed its presentation currency from HKD to RMB for the presentation of its financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2022. The change of presentation currency will be applied retrospectively. The comparative figures for the years ended 31 December 2021, 2020 and 2019 have been restated in RMB.

As set out in the note 7 to the financial statements, the Sui-Yue Expressway segment owned and operated by Hunan Daoyue Expressway Industry Co., Ltd. (湖南道岳高速公路實業有限公司, "Daoyue") was not previously classified as held-for-sale or a discontinued Sui-Yue Expressway operation. The comparative consolidated statement of profit or loss for the year ended 31 December 2021 has been re-presented to show the discontinued Sui-Yue Expressway operation separately from continuing operations. For the interests of the shareholders of the Company (the "Shareholders"), the results for the years ended 31 December 2020 and 2019 are not restated in this respect.

Chairman Statement

On behalf of the board (the "Board") of directors (the "Directors") of Huayu Expressway Group Limited (the "Company"), I am pleased to present the annual report of the Company and its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Group") for the year ended 31 December 2023.

With the successful prevention and control of the COVID-19 pandemic and the domestic recovery of economic and social activities, the Group maintained its level of business throughout 2023. The Group recorded revenue of approximately RMB407.1 million for the year ended 31 December 2023, a slight drop of 0.7% from the previous year. Since there was a gain on disposal of the discontinued Sui-Yue Expressway (Hunan Section) (the "Sui-Yue Expressway") operation of about RMB320.3 million, the profit for the year was about RMB359.3 million, significantly increased by about 313.4% from about RMB86.9 million for the year ended 31 December 2022.

In December 2022, we entered into an agreement to dispose of the 60% equity interest in our Sui-Yue Expressway operation. Upon completion on 25 April 2023, we received a substantial amount of consideration which significantly improved our cash position. This disposal provided an opportunity to unlock our investment amid the recent uncertain economic environment in the People's Republic of China (the "PRC").

After the disposal of the Sui-Yue Expressway operation, trading of liquor and spirits became one of the most significant business segments in the Group. Even though there was a successful control over the COVID-19 pandemic, the weak economic growth and reduced entertainment activities adversely affected the growth in the business of liquor and spirits during the year. In future, we will continue our effort in the brand building for Huamaojiu and Xijiushaofang through our active marketing campaigns and promotion, such as the wine tasting events and promotion conference.

In addition to the trading of liquor and spirits business, we also invested in the development of base wine production facility in Guizhou, the PRC for the year ended 31 December 2023. In June 2023, the Group acquired 21% equity interest in Guizhou Renhuai Huayu Wine Co., Ltd. (the "Guizhou Renhuai"). Upon completion in August 2023, the Group held 51% of equity interest in Guizhou Renhuai, which is mainly engaged in the business of winemaking and other related business. This acquisition provided the Group with an opportunity to expand its business of liquor and spirits to the upstream of the industry.

In June 2023, the Group also acquired 28% equity interest in Huajia Winery (Shenzhen) Co., Ltd. (the "Huajia"). Huajia is a company established in the PRC and is principally engaged in trading of liquor and spirits and investment holding business in the PRC. Huajia currently holds 44.94% equity interest in Guizhou Zunpeng Winery Co., Ltd. ("Guizhou Zunpeng"), which is principally engaged in the production and sales of base wine. With this strategic investment along the liquor and spirits supply chain in furtherance of the Group's liquor and spirits trading business, the Group is able to tap into the manufacturing side of the liquor and spirits supply chain.

About our toll road operation, the Qing Ping Expressway provides a stable income to the Group. After the COVID-19 pandemic, the traffic flow and the toll revenue recovered and were back to normal for the year 2023. Located in Shenzhen, with a high growth rate in the economic activities, the expressway will be one of the major sources of cash flow to the Group in the future.

Chairman Statement

With the success in the liquor and spirits trading business, we are keeping our eyes on other prosperous business opportunities. In accordance with our strategy, we will pursue other infrastructure projects in the PRC whenever suitable opportunities arise. Furthermore, we will also consider extending our operations to include other prosperous businesses once favourable opportunities appear.

On behalf of the Board, I would like to express my deepest gratitude to our shareholders, investors, business partners and customers for their unwavering trust and support, and to our directors, management and staff for their invaluable contributions over the past years. We will continue to recalibrate our efforts to bring greater returns to all the shareholders of the Company (the "Shareholders") as the Group embraces a sustainable and prosperous future.

Pursuant to the sale and purchase agreement, the Group agreed to sell its entire equity interest in Daoyue to NWS at a consideration of RMB555.7 million, subject to adjustments (the "Disposal"). The Disposal was completed on 25 April 2023. Accordingly, the Sui-Yue Expressway segment owned and operated by Daoyue was classified as discontinued operation.

Huamaojiu was still the main brand of liquor sold by the Group during the year ended 31 December 2023, accounting for about 82.9% of the total revenue of the segment of business. In addition, the Group also sold other brands of liquor during the year.

COST AND GROSS PROFIT

The Group had a gross profit of about RMB115.0 million for the year ended 31 December 2023, decreased by about 3.9% from about RMB119.7 million for the year ended 31 December 2022. The decrease in gross profit was mainly due to the decrease in the total revenue during the year. The gross profit ratio was about 28.3% for the year ended 31 December 2023, decreased from about 29.2% for the year ended 31 December 2022.

For the Qing Ping Expressway, the cost of sales was about RMB69.2 million and the gross profit ratio was about 11.2% for the year ended 31 December 2023. The decrease in the gross profit ratio of the Qing Ping Expressway from about 20.5% for the year ended 31 December 2022 was mainly due to the increase in the unit amortisation charge of the intangible asset relating to service concession arrangement as a result of the change in accounting estimate about the future toll revenue.

The total cost of sales for the liquor and spirits trading business was about RMB222.9 million and its gross profit ratio was about 32.3% for the year ended 31 December 2023. There was no material fluctuation in the gross profit ratio from about 31.0% for the year ended 31 December 2022.

The Group recorded selling and distribution costs of about RMB15.4 million, including advertising fee and staff salary for the year ended 31 December 2023, decreased by about 3.1% from about RMB15.9 million for the year ended 31 December 2022. PROSPECTS

With the successful prevention and control of the COVID-19 pandemic and the domestic recovery of economic and social activities, the operations of the Group returned to normal for the year ended 31 December 2023.

For the Qing Ping Expressway, with the recovery and growth in the economic activities in Shenzhen during the year ended 31 December 2023, the traffic flow and the toll revenue increased by more than 10% compared to the year ended 31 December 2022. This segment of business continues to be one of the cash generators of the Group.

On the other hand, the business of trading of liquor and spirits was affected by the weak economic growth and reduced entertainment activities in the PRC. The revenue and profit from this segment was slightly decreased compared to the previous year. Since Huamaojiu is one of the famous brands of Chinese liquors in the PRC, the Group is full of confidence about the performance of this business segment in the future. The Group will continue its effort in improving its marketing network and the efficiency of the distribution channel. More sales and marketing activities will be arranged in the future, such as the wine tasting events and promotion conference.

After the realisation of 60% equity interest in the Sui-Yue Expressway, there was a substantial cash inflow of more than RMB400 million. This amount will significantly improve the liquidity and cash flow of the Group. In addition, the disposal of the Sui-Yue Expressway will significantly reduce the gearing of the Group and increase its sustainability, especially in the high interest rate environment.

In order to raise the competitiveness of the Group, the Group has decided to expand its business of liquor and spirits to the upstream of the industry through investing in winery, winemaking, warehousing and logistics, packaging and operation centres. During the year, the Group acquired a further 21% equity interest in Guizhou Renhuai and the Group in total owns 51% equity interest in Guizhou Renhuai. It will be developed into the major production and logistic base of the Group in the future. The Group also intends to develop its own brand of liquor and spirits through Guizhou Renhuai.

In addition, the Group acquired 28% equity interest in Huajia, which holds 44.94% equity interest in Guizhou Zunpeng. With this strategic investment along the liquor and spirits supply chain in furtherance of the Group's liquor and spirits trading business, the Group is able to tap into the manufacturing side of the liquor and spirits supply chain.

With the experience of the Directors in successfully completing other PRC toll-expressway projects, and the connections and reputation established by them in the PRC, the Group will continue to tap and pursue opportunities which are consistent with its overall business strategies, and will aim to generate a satisfactory return on investment. In accordance with this strategy, the Group may pursue other infrastructure projects in the PRC whenever suitable opportunity arises. Apart from infrastructure projects, the Group may also consider continuing to develop and expand the liquor and spirits business including but not limited to acquisition of wine manufacturing businesses shall appropriate opportunities arise. Furthermore, the Group will also consider extending its operation to include some other prosperous businesses once favourable opportunity appears.

1 ABOUT THIS REPORT

1.1 Overview

This is the Environmental, Social and Governance report ("ESG report") of Huayu Expressway Group Limited (the "Company", together with its subsidiaries, "Huayu" or the "Group") for the year from 1 January 2023 to 31 December 2023 ("reporting period").

1.2 About Our Business

The Group is principally engaged in the investment, construction, operation and management of infrastructure projects in the People's Republic of China ("PRC"). During the reporting period, the Group manages the Qing Ping Expressway in Shenzhen, a dual three-lane expressway with a length of approximately 24.08 km and discontinued the operation of the Sui-Yue Expressway (Hunan Section). The Group also engages in the trading business of liquor and spirits in collaboration with the Kweichow Moutai Group and is the sole distributor of the Huamaojiu (a famous brand liquor produced by Kweichow Moutai Group). In the second half of 2023, the Group completed the acquisition of an additional 21% equity interests in Guizhou Renhuai Huayu Wine Co., Ltd. ("Guizhou Renhuai"), making Guizhou Renhuai an indirect 51%-owned subsidiary of the Group. Guizhou Renhai has been developed into a winery and operating centre in late 2023. During the same period, the Group also completed the acquisition of 28% equity interests in Guizhou Zunpeng Winery Co., Ltd. ("Guizhou Zunpeng"), in which Huajia holds approximately 44.94% ownership.

1.3 Scope of this Report

Unless otherwise stated, the reported ESG data covers the Group's expressway operation (including the expressway, office and dormitories) in Shenzhen, the liquor and spirits trading offices also in Shenzhen, and the winery and operating centre in Renhuai¹. Huajia and Guizhou Zunpeng are excluded from the scope of this report, for Huajia mainly operates through Guizhou Zunpeng and the Group holds less than 50% interest in Guizhou Zunpeng.

2 OUR APPROACH TO ESG

2.1 ESG Governance and Risk Management

The Board acknowledges its responsibilities to ensure that sound and effective internal control systems are maintained to safeguard the Group's assets and the interest of the shareholders of the Company (the "Shareholders"). The Board has developed its systems of internal control and risk management and is also responsible for overseeing, reviewing, and maintaining the adequate risk management and internal control systems to safeguard the interests of the Shareholders and the assets of the Group.

ESG governance is embedded in our daily corporate operation and management. We adopt a topdown approach to review and manage ESG-related issues including the Group's strategic objectives, performance against targets set, and the assessment of material ESG issues. Key functional departments work closely to gather quantitative and qualitative information for the preparation of the ESG report and report ESG related matters to the Board to ensure that they align with our development goals and targets.

For details regarding corporate governance discussions, please refer to the Corporate Governance Report section of the Group's Annual Report 2023.

2.2 Stakeholder Engagement and Materiality Assessment

We believe that the approach of stakeholder engagement is integral to the sustainable development of the Group. We stay connected with our stakeholders through an array of communication channels, which helps us to collect the views of different stakeholders and identify the most important material ESG issues.

We also validate from time to time the material ESG issues with our internal stakeholders including senior management such as key departmental heads, who possess not only hands-on experience of our operations, but also understand our key investors and business partners well.

Previously through the facilitation of a third-party consultant, we collected our management's views through engagement surveys and interviews and identified the below material ESG issues, which we consider to be still applicable to the Group's operations. We also report our sustainability approach, performance, and initiatives to address the identified material ESG issues. We consider the list of issues still valid for our current operations.

	Aspects	Relevance to business
Social	Health and safety	Occupational health and safety are crucial to our toll road operation, and we are committed to preventing workplace injuries and occupational disease.
	Anti-corruption	Integrity is a core value of the Group and must always be upheld by all our staff to avoid any incidents of bribery and corruption.
Environmental	Use of electricity	The major sources of our electricity consumption are the lightings at our toll stations and from the daily operations of our dormitories and offices.
	Use of water	The major source of our water consumption is the staff consumption at our offices and dormitories.

3 ENVIRONMENT

3.1 Emissions

The Group does not generate a substantial amount of direct environmental emissions due to the nature of our business operations. Instead, most of our air pollutants originate from the vehicles using our expressway, over which we have limited control. Nevertheless, we have taken several steps to reduce the emissions coming from our staff dormitories and office areas. We also strictly adhere to the applicable laws and regulations and work to mitigate the environmental impacts in managing both our own and other road users' emissions.

Toll road operation

For toll road operations in Mainland China, the major source of air emissions is the vehicles using the expressway. The emissions from our own activities are relatively insignificant compared to the vast number of vehicles passing through the expressway. Although we have limited control over the emissions of road users, we strictly follow government directives to bar vehicles with substandard emission performance. We conduct regular inspections to prevent traffic accidents attributable to road quality issues and strive to ensure a smooth traffic flow. We respond swiftly to traffic incidents to minimise congestion and subsequent on-road emissions.

Another significant source of emissions from our toll road operation is the noise produced by traffic flow. To mitigate the impact of noise on sensitive receivers, such as schools and residential buildings along the roads, we install noise barriers at certain sections of the expressways.

Offices and staff dormitories

In our toll road offices and staff dormitories, the major types of emissions and waste are domestic wastewater, general waste, and a minimal amount of hazardous waste. The same applies to our liquor and spirits trading offices, where we engage only in office activities and outsource logistics and warehousing activities to third-party service providers.

We manage general waste at our offices and dormitories by adopting the '3R' principles of 'Reduce, Reuse, and Recycle'. General wastes are collected centrally and handled by the local sanitation department to ensure proper disposal. Non-confidential documents, books, cartons, plastic bottles, and food waste are separated from other wastes for recycling. Our operations generate minimal hazardous wastes, primarily from used batteries, printer cartridges, and waste oils. To comply with relevant local laws and regulations, we engage qualified third parties to collect and dispose of hazardous wastes. As for some of the empty cartridges, we refill them with toner for reuse.

Greenhouse gas emissions

Fuel use and purchased electricity are the two primary sources of carbon emissions for the Group. Our major fuel consumption includes diesel and gasoline used for our vehicles, as well as the natural gas used in our canteens. While greenhouse gas emissions are not considered material to our operations, we are still committed to reducing our carbon footprint. Various energy conservation measures that we have implemented are described in the section below headed "Use of Resources".

Summary of environmental emissions in 2023

The details of our environmental emissions in 2023 are as follows:

	Unit	2022	2023
General wastes	tonnes	71	72
Greenhouse gas emission (Scope 1) ²	tonnes CO2e	307 ³	236 ⁴
Greenhouse gas emission (Scope 2) ²	tonnes CO2e	2,672	807 ⁴

Regulatory compliance

During the reporting period, we are not aware of any material non-compliance with laws and regulations relating to environmental emissions.

3.2 Use of Resources

Toll road operation

The major energy consumption in our toll road operations is at the toll stations. To save energy, we are using LED lights for all our high-mast lighting, which are more energy-efficient than traditional lighting options. We are also gradually phasing out and replacing old vehicles with more fuel-efficient vehicles.

Offices and staff's dormitories

Given the nature of our business operations, our offices generate a relatively small environmental footprint. Our energy and water usage primarily supports the daily operations and the basic living needs of employees residing in the dormitories. Energy consumption includes electricity and natural gas for our canteens, as well as diesel and gasoline for our vehicles.

The Group is committed to staying informed about energy-saving technologies and practices as part of our effort to minimise environmental impact.

2 Emission factors are referenced from the Appendix 2: Reporting Guidance on Environmental KPIs of HKEX's publication How to prepare an ESG Report.

3 2022 Scope 1 emission has been restated due to a change in the calculation methodology of gasoline and diesel consumption in 2023.

Due to the discontinued operations of the Sui-Yue Expressway (Hunan Section), there was a significant reduction in greenhouse gas emission compared to 2022.

We have adopted several green practices and have encouraged our employees to conserve energy and water in the office environment. Initiatives carried out in offices and dormitories over the past year included:

- Turning off idle lights and electronic equipment to reduce energy waste;
- Implementing duplex printing and promoting the reuse of single-sided paper;
- Encouraging electronic communication to lessen paper use;
- Gradually installing energy-saving devices, such as water-efficient fixtures;
- Establishing recycling stations in offices to sort and collect recyclable materials;
- Utilising solar water heating systems in the dormitories; and
- Updating kitchen appliances to more energy-efficient models and modernising natural gas pipelines in our canteens.

Summary of resources consumption in 2023

3.3 The Environment and Natural Resources

The significant environmental issues faced in our business regarding emissions and the use of resources are already disclosed in the above sections.

3.4 Climate Change

The Group recognises the impact of climate change, and it is crucial that we respond to the climate change risks that may affect our business operations. Particularly, our toll road operations are exposed to both physical and transition risks caused by climate change. For example, physical risks in the form of acute events such as severe flooding may damage our facilities, and failure to keep up with the transition to a low-carbon operation may adversely impact the Group's business cost and potentially our reputation. Extreme weather would also have a negative impact on our trading business of liquor and spirits trading. For example, it may damage the inventories in third-party warehouses.

In response to the associated risks posed by climate change, we have adopted various practices to mitigate climate change issues in our business operation. Examples are as follows:

- Formulated emergency and implementation plan for flood control to reduce and prevent the detrimental effects of floodwaters on our operations; and
- Replaced existing lighting and company vehicles which are more energy efficient, hence reducing our carbon emission.

4.1 Employment and Labour Practices

Employment

The Group embraces a people-oriented approach and has established a series of employment policies and standards to uphold our employees' legitimate rights and interests. We strictly comply with laws and regulations, including the "Labour Law of the People's Republic of China," "Labour Contract Law of the People's Republic of China," and "Social Insurance Law of the People's Republic of China," among others, in managing our talent. We strive to foster a corporate culture that promotes mutual trust, respect, and teamwork. Additionally, we are committed to providing a rewarding and pleasant work environment for all employees.

Regarding employees' remuneration, recruitment, and dismissal, we strictly adhere to local labour laws, including the "Employment Ordinance (Cap.57)" in Hong Kong and the "Labour Contract Law of the People's Republic of China." We have established policies for employee recruitment, dismissal, appraisal, remuneration, and other benefits across different business units. For our expressway operations, we have implemented policies such as the 'Management Measures for Employee Recruitment' and the 'Wage and Welfare Regulations'. Our liquor and spirits trading business maintains a salary and performance appraisal management policy, offering competitive compensation packages to employees who contribute to the business's growth.

We explain all relevant policies and guidance materials to new joiners to provide them with a comprehensive understanding of the Group's human resources management system and ensure they are informed about their rights and responsibilities.

To safeguard our employees' welfare and promote a healthy work-life balance, the Group regularly organises team-building events and activities, such as hiking, picnic and a Sports Day. During the holiday season, we distributed New Year's food to our employees. Additionally, our dormitories offer recreational facilities, including a basketball court and snooker tables, for leisure time enjoyment. We are committed to maintaining our staff's physical and mental health and promoting a balanced work-life environment.

Labour practices

The Group abides by relevant labour laws and regulations to strictly prohibit forced and child labour employment. During the recruitment process, applicants' identification documents are verified to prevent the hiring of underaged labour. We also respect the freedom of expression of our staff and encourage them to discuss any concerns they have with their supervisors or the labour union. To encourage employees to report any suspected misconduct, we have set up a 'General Manager mailbox' in the offices where staff can voice their concerns to higher-level management.

Staff composition⁸

As of 31 December 2023, the Group has a total of 347 full-time employees and 1 part-time employee. 337 of them are located in Mainland China and 11 of them are in Hong Kong. The breakdown of employees by gender and age group is as follows:

4.2 Health and Safety

The Group places high importance on the health and safety of our employees, and we are devoted to providing good working conditions and a safe work environment for our employees to avoid occupational hazards. We have developed detailed road maintenance guidelines to enable our employees to safely perform their tasks. We strictly abide by relevant health and safety regulations, such as the provisions of the "Production Safety Law of the People's Republic of China" and the "Law of the People's Republic of China on the Prevention and Control of Occupational Diseases".

We recognise that a significant portion of safety risks arise within our expressway operations, where employees are stationed on busy highways. To safeguard the well-being of both our employees and road users, we have developed and implemented comprehensive policies such as the 'Safety Management System for Highway Maintenance Operations', and 'Guidelines for Safety Prevention and Rescue at the Accident Site'. Moreover, we have formed a dedicated committee, led by our management team, to monitor and improve the health and safety standards of our workforce and operational activities. During the reporting period, we conducted training sessions designed to enhance our employees' ability to anticipate and identify large vehicles, helping to prevent these vehicles from mistakenly entering the regular traffic lanes. We have also provided specialized training to bolster personal safety measures for employees at toll stations, especially in response to unusual or emergency situations.

To increase health and safety awareness among our staff, we provide different safety training to employees depending on their roles to minimise the risks of hidden workplace hazards at least once a month. Before performing their duties, all new employees must receive a 'Three Degree Safety Education' safety training. Special positions such as drivers, electricians, security personnel, and cooks shall receive professional training tailored to their duties. We also provide personal protection equipment such as reflective vests to employees, as well as a biannual health check and medical insurance to ensure timely diagnosis and treatment of occupational health issues.

In addition, we organised several first aid training on different themes for our employees during the reporting period to prepare them in case of emergencies. We also invited external lecturers to provide fire safety talks to our employees, featuring basic knowledge of evacuation and handling in case of fire and fostering a sense of occupational health and safety.

We conduct frequent and ad hoc safety inspections to reduce safety risks in our operations. The safety inspection addresses topics such as potential safety hazards, proper implementation of safety precaution procedures, equipment conditions, etc. For any potential safety issue identified, we formulate corrective measures and appoint the employee responsible for the matter to ensure preventive actions are implemented on time. We also carry out safety production meetings every quarter to analyse and resolve any identified hidden occupational hazards in our operation.

4.3 Development and Training

Here at Huayu, we believe that talents are the foundation of our sustainable development and that a well-trained team is the key to boosting the overall performance of the Group. As a result, we have developed separate employee training policies tailored to different business operations to encourage our employees to develop and advance their careers in the Group.

For our expressway operations, we offer a variety of training opportunities, including topics like etiquette, business-related processes, management skills, and professional skills for our employees to attend voluntarily. To help new joiners settle down, we provide them with training on our corporate culture, rules and regulations, and the business process of their roles.

Besides, we encourage our expressway employees to attend external training in addition to internal training to strengthen their job performance. Employees who successfully apply may be eligible for training cost reimbursement. We encourage our staff to improve their qualifications and offer incentives to those who do so. Depending on the length of service, the maximum rebate amount can range from RMB2,000 to RMB50,000.

For employees in the liquor trading business, we have established a specialised 'Employee Training Management System' to provide guidance to their training process. Under the system, the Human Resources department of the liquor trading segment formulates training plans based on the input of different departments. During the reporting period, we also updated and developed internal training courseware for job training, induction training, professional skills training, and training for internal management to ensure that employees have access to the most up-to-date and applicable skills.

4.4 Supply Chain Management

Expressway operation

The Group recognises that supply chain management is an integral part of corporate social responsibility and places high importance on the potential risks along the supply chain. In general, we evaluate our suppliers' capability, price, quality, qualification, and ESG performance. For large-scale procurement practices, the Group adopts a sophisticated set of tendering and is required to enlist at least three competent suppliers for comparison before placing orders.

To preserve the quality of our suppliers, we evaluate their performance either annually or at the end of their contracts, and only those suppliers who meet our requirements are qualified to continue doing businesses with the Group.

We also consider ESG factors in our procurement process. We prioritise green products where practicable and consider suppliers' environmental and social impacts when procuring from them.

Liquor and spirits trading

As the sole distributor of Huamaojiu, we rely on our upstream suppliers to support our operations, particularly in terms of providing liquor and packaging materials. Our upstream suppliers deliver liquor products straight to downstream distributors for further distribution and retail. We are committed to working with suppliers who have a proven track record in sustainability. We have established the 'Supply Department Standardised Management Manual' to guide our collaboration with upstream suppliers and the 'Market Management Manual' for our collaboration with downstream distributors.

The 'Supply Department Standardised Management Manual' defines the roles and responsibilities of the Supply Department and guides the entire procurement process. All new suppliers have to undergo a comprehensive assessment to ensure that they comply with relevant national standards, regulations, and our requirements before collaboration. Approved suppliers will be included in our list of qualified suppliers. Regular monitoring is carried out to evaluate our suppliers' performance, and suppliers with unsatisfactory performance will be disqualified.

For downstream distributors and sales channels, our collaboration with them is managed by the 'Market Management Manual'. Distributors and sales channels are prohibited from selling Huamaojiu in places not specified in our contract with them and shall price the products by our mutual agreement. Based on the number of violations, distributors may be subjected to disciplinary actions such as repurchase of products at distributors' cost, deduction of deposit and annual rebates, or even cancellation of their distributor status. We are committed to working with suppliers who have demonstrated a commitment to sustainability.

As at 31 December 2023, the Group has a total of 35 suppliers, all of which are in the PRC.

4.5 Product Responsibility

Based on the nature of our business, the Group's focus is on responsible marketing, service and maintenance. We strive to deliver the best quality products and services to our valued customers. For liquor trading, since we are the distributor of Maotai Group's Huamaojiu, we are not involved in the manufacturing or retail process. We mainly follow the strict requirements of Maotai Group on product quality and recall procedures. For expressway operation where we have more control, we seek to provide high-quality road services with the following two goals in mind:

- Maintaining a safe and efficient expressway; and
- Maintaining high service quality.

Maintaining a safe and efficient expressway

The Group recognises the importance of our business and therefore takes the utmost care in the maintenance of our roads to ensure that they are as safe as possible. Our road construction department handles the overall management of the expressway, following the relevant road safety laws and regulations. Other daily operational tasks handled by the department include hardware maintenance, emergency planning, and coordination with government departments on special road arrangements.

We have policies in place to regularly conduct routine inspections of the expressway to ensure road safety. Through our frequent inspections, we can detect any structural damage to the road and its hardware promptly, for example, cracks on the road surface and worn-out road surface markings, and immediately repair the damages with the assistance of our outsourced maintenance team. At the same time, we strictly require employees involved in road maintenance and have formulated a series of guidance documents for road maintenance and repair, aiming to provide solid safety guarantees for our customers.

We have also established an emergency management mechanism for the expressway that addresses emergency and contingency solutions to various situations, including peak hours during festivals and holidays, traffic accidents, construction, and extreme weather conditions. We also conduct emergency drills at least once a year in collaboration with the local government and service area operators to ensure a rapid and appropriate response to emergencies. We aspire to constantly improve our services to be faster, better, and more appropriate to ensure the quality of road use.

Maintaining high service quality

In terms of service quality, we have implemented a number of initiatives to ensure high service quality at our toll stations. To begin with, we require all new toll collectors to attend a one-week training on interacting with road users politely. For existing employees, we provide similar training on their etiquette as a toll collector every two years, and low performers will be required to attend additional training. To motivate our staff, road user surveys are conducted to monitor the performance of toll collectors, and the high performers will be rewarded with monetary prizes.

We also put great effort into improving the efficiency of the toll collection process. In addition to providing training on the toll collection process to our employees, we also seek innovative means to speed up the payment process. Currently, e-payment options such as WeChat Pay and Alipay are available at our toll stations to offer road users faster and more convenient payment methods.

Intellectual property protection & customer privacy

The Group strictly complies with the relevant intellectual property laws in which it operates to safeguard intellectual properties. For our liquor and spirits trading business, we strictly follow the legitimate intellectual property application procedures formulated by the Kweichow Moutai Group on designs, labels, and trademarks of their liquor products. To protect intellectual property, we legally signed contracts with suppliers for the commercial usage of fonts. Furthermore, we only use software with legal licenses in our daily operations.

We place high importance on our customer information privacy and strictly comply with relevant national laws and regulations, including the "Personal Information Protection Law of the People's Republic of China". Only authorised personnel can access customer information, and sensitive customer information is not allowed to be taken out of offices.

Regulatory compliance

During the reporting period, we are not aware of any material non-compliance with laws and regulations regarding product responsibility.

4.6 Anti-corruption

Throughout our operations, the Group strives to establish and maintain high standards of openness, integrity and accountability. We attached great importance to anti-corruption and strictly adhered to jurisdictional laws such as the "Prevention of Bribery Ordinance" of Hong Kong and the "Criminal Law of the People's Republic of China".

We ensure that all our employees are aware of our zero-tolerance towards bribery, extortion, fraud, or money laundering, whether in dealing with public officials or individuals in the private sector. Any staff of the Group is not permitted to demand or accept any form of bribery, including money, gifts, rewards, services, or privileges, in connection with their duties. We have formulated a strict punitive measure, and the corresponding punishment shall be given according to the severity of the conflict of interest. In addition, anti-corruption training are provided to management and general staff to raise staff awareness towards anti-corruption topics and foster a culture of integrity.

In our liquor and spirits training business, we have an 'Expense Management Regulation' to govern expense claims and encourage employees to report any misconduct in handling marketing expenses to the General Manager, and validated reports will be awarded 5-10 marks in the monthly performance appraisal. Simultaneously, we emphasise commercial anti-corruption matters in internal meetings, reminding suppliers not to offer commercial bribes when signing the Contract. As for our expressway operation, we have also formulated the 'Procedures for Toll Operations' to monitor the toll collection process and prevent any dishonest acts of collecting extra money or other forms of corruption. We have also installed surveillance cameras at our toll houses.

4.7 Community Investment

As the Group grows steadily, it remains mindful of its corporate social responsibility and is committed to giving back to society. We take pride in providing safe, time-saving, economical, and comfortable expressway transportation services to road users. Through the operation and maintenance of the expressway, we set up linkages between the local residences to other parts of the country, creating significant positive influences on regional economic development.

During the reporting period, our liquor and spirits trading business demonstrated its commitment to social and community betterment through various initiatives. A notable example was the organisation of a charitable evening, wherein a portion of every liquor sold was donated to the Bama Education Foundation⁹. We have also made monetary donations to the Education Bureau of Bama county, in the hope of supporting education opportunities and enhancing the overall quality of education in the region.

BUSINESS REVIEW

GENERAL

For the review of the business of the Group, please refer to the section headed "Management Discussion and Analysis" on pages 6 to 12 of this annual report. This discussion forms part of this Report of the Directors.

PRINCIPAL RISKS AND UNCERTAINTIES FACING THE GROUP

The following section lists out the key risks and uncertainties faced by the Group. It is a non-exhaustive list and there may be other risks and uncertainties further to the key risks outlined below. Further, this annual report does not constitute a recommendation or an advice for anyone to invest in the securities of the Company and investors are advised to make their own judgment or consult their own investment advisors before making any investment in the securities of the Company.

Changes to the provincial government's transportation-related policies

The Group's operations are sensitive to changes in the PRC Government's policies relating to all aspects of the transportation sector, for example, changes to transportation networks, traffic regulation, licensing and toll regime, etc. Such changes may have an adverse effect on the revenue or results of operations of the Group. The Directors will monitor the applicable and relevant government policies closely and will take immediate and appropriate actions in response to any changes in the policies with a view to minimise its impact on the infrastructure projects and the Group.

Revenue is heavily dependent on traffic volume and may be affected by competing roads and bridges and other modes of transportation

Revenue to be generated from collection of toll is heavily dependent on traffic volume. Traffic volume is directly and indirectly affected by a number of factors, including the road's connectivity with other parts of the local and national highway network. There can be no assurance that future changes in the highway system and network will not adversely affect the traffic volume on the expressways. There is also no assurance that other road or mode of transportation will not be constructed or introduced in future which may prove to be better alternatives to the Group's existing expressway projects. In such case, the Group's business and operating results may be materially and adversely affected.

Notwithstanding the above, the Directors believe that the rising trend of the economic growth in PRC will be sustained in the foreseeable future. With this growth, the Directors expect that the revenue for toll road project will continue to increase in the coming years.

Risks pertaining to the relationship with the major supplier

Most of the Group's liquor and spirits trading business relies on the sole distributorship of Huamaojiu granted by the major supplier, Kweichow Moutai Group. The sole distributorship agreement has been reviewed annually. The failure in negotiation of the agreement may cause a substantial effect to the Group's liquor and spirits trading business. The Directors will monitor the relationship with Kweichow Moutai Group closely to ensure the successful negotiation in the sole distributorship agreement.

Risks pertaining to the distributorship model

The Group's liquor and spirits trading business relies primarily on a number of third-party distributors for sales of the Group's products. Each distributor has exclusive distribution rights over a certain geographical area, the failure by such distributor to perform its obligations under its distributorship agreement with the Group may result in a material adverse effect on the business of the authorised retailers in such area. The Directors will regularly review the performance of each distributor and take appropriate actions to minimise the effect of the failure of performance by the distributors.

Risks pertaining to force majeure events, natural disasters or outbreaks of contagious diseases

The Group's business may be adversely affected by natural disasters or outbreaks of epidemics, which may affect the procurement of raw materials and manufacture, sales and exportation of the Group's products. Epidemics, pandemics or outbreaks or escalation of diseases, including, among others, severe acute respiratory syndromes (SARS), avian influenza, swine flu (H1N1), novel coronavirus (COVID-19) and other diseases, may affect the livelihood of people in the PRC. These natural disasters, outbreaks of contagious diseases, and other adverse public health developments in the PRC may severely disrupt the Group's business operations by restricting travel and sales activities and delaying delivery of the Group's products and services, affect the productivity of the workforce, or reduce the demand for the Group's products, which may materially and adversely affect business, financial condition and results of operations of the Group.

Past performance and forward looking statements

The performance and the results of operations of the Group as set out in this annual report are historical in nature and past performance is not a guarantee for future performance of the same. This annual report may contain forward-looking statements and opinions that involve risks and uncertainties. Actual results may also differ materially from expectations discussed in such forward-looking statements and opinions. Neither the Group nor the Directors, employees or agents of the Group assume any obligations or liabilities in the event that any of the forward-looking statements or opinions does not materialise or turns out to be incorrect.

Independent auditor's report to the shareholders of Huayu Expressway Group Limited (Incorporated in the Cayman Islands with limited liability)

OPINION

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of Huayu Expressway Group Limited ("the Company") and its subsidiaries ("the Group") set out on pages 65 to 154, which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as at 31 December 2023, the consolidated statement of profit or loss, the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, the consolidated statement of changes in equity and the consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including material accounting policies information.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements give a true and fair view of the consolidated financial position of the Group as at 31 December 2023 and of its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standards ("HKFRSs") issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants ("HKICPA") and have been properly prepared in compliance with the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance.

BASIS FOR OPINION

We conducted our audit in accordance with Hong Kong Standards on Auditing ("HKSAs") issued by the HKICPA. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the consolidated financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the HKICPA's Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants ("the Code") together with any ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the consolidated financial statements in the Cayman Islands, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

KEY AUDIT MATTERS

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgement, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Revenue recognition: sales of liquor and spirits under distributor arrangement

Refer to Note 3 to the consolidated financial statements and the accounting policies on page 92.

The Key Audit Matter

During the year ended 31 December 2023, the Group's revenue from its liquor and spirits trading business amounted to RMB329 million, RMB309 million of which was generated from sales under distributor arrangement. The Group enters into framework distribution agreements with its distributors every year. According to the terms of the framework distribution agreements, revenue is recognised when the goods are delivered to the distributors' premises, which is the point when the control of the goods is considered to have transferred to its distributors.

We identified the recognition of revenue from sales of liquor and spirits under the distributor arrangements as a key audit matter because revenue is one of the key performance indicators of the Group, and there is an inherent risk of manipulation of the timing of recognition of revenue by management to meet specific targets or expectations.

How the matter was addressed in our audit

Our audit procedures to assess the revenue recognition: sales of liquor and spirits under distributor arrangement included the following:

- obtaining an understanding of the Group's accounting policy for the recognition of revenue from sales of liquor and spirits under distributor arrangement; and assessing the design, implementation and operating effectiveness of key internal controls over the recognition of revenue of sales to distributor;
- inspecting, on a sample basis, the framework distribution agreements with distributors to understand key terms and conditions of sales including the terms of delivery, applicable rebate and/or discount arrangements and any sales return arrangements to assess if the Group's revenue recognition criteria were in accordance with the requirements of the prevailing accounting standards;

Revenue recognition: sales of liquor and spirits under distributor arrangement

The Key Audit Matter

How the matter was addressed in our audit

- testing revenue transactions, on a sample basis, by examining the relevant supporting documents, including sales orders from distributors, goods delivery notes and distributors' acknowledgement of receipt notes;
- obtaining external confirmations of the value of sales transactions for the year ended 31 December 2023 and outstanding trade receivable or receipt in advance balances as at that date directly from distributors, on a sample basis;
- for sales transactions around the financial year end, comparing, on a sample basis, details in the sales invoices to the relevant goods delivery notes, which were signed by the distributors, to assess if the related revenue had been recognised in the appropriate financial period on the basis of the terms of sales as set out in the distribution agreements;
- identifying significant sales returns from the sales ledger after the year end and inspecting the underlying documentation in relation to these sales returns to assess if the related adjustments to revenue had been accounted for in the appropriate accounting period; and
- inspecting a sample of manual adjustments to revenue raised during the reporting period, enquiring of management the reasons for such adjustments and comparing the details of the adjustments with relevant underlying documentation.

OTHER MATTER

The consolidated financial statements of the Group for the year ended 31 December 2022 were audited by another auditor who expressed an unmodified opinion on those statements on 30 March 2023.

INFORMATION OTHER THAN THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND AUDITOR'S REPORT THEREON

The directors are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises all the information included in the annual report, other than the consolidated financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE DIRECTORS FOR THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The directors are responsible for the preparation of the consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with HKFRSs issued by the HKICPA and the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the directors are responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

The directors are assisted by the Audit Committee in discharging their responsibilities for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

AUDITOR'S RESPONSIBILITIES FOR THE AUDIT OF THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. This report is made solely to you, as a body, and for no other purpose. We do not assume responsibility towards or accept liability to any other person for the contents of this report.

Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with HKSAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with HKSAs, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the Group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with the Audit Committee regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide the Audit Committee with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence and communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence and, where applicable, actions taken to eliminate threats or safeguards applied.

From the matters communicated with the Audit Committee, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

(Expressed in Renminbi unless otherwise indicated)

1 MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

(a) Statement of compliance

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with all applicable Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standards (HKFRSs), which collective term includes all applicable individual Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standards, Hong Kong Accounting Standards (HKASs) and Interpretations issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants (HKICPA) and the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance. These financial statements also comply with the applicable disclosure provisions of the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited. Material accounting policies adopted by the Group are disclosed below.

The HKICPA has issued certain amendments to HKFRSs that are first effective or available for early adoption for the current accounting period of the Group. Note 1(c) provides information on any changes in accounting policies resulting from initial application of these developments to the extent that they are relevant to the Group for the current accounting period reflected in these financial statements.

(b) Basis of preparation of the financial statements

The consolidated financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2023 comprise the Company and its subsidiaries (together referred to as the "Group") and the Group's interests in associates.

The measurement basis used in the preparation of the financial statements is the historical cost basis, except that the following assets and liabilities are stated at their fair value as explained in the accounting policies set out below:

- investment in wealth management product (see Note 1(f));
- contingent consideration receivables (see Note 18).

Non-current assets and disposal group held for sale are stated at the lower of carrying amount and fair value less costs to sell (see Note 1(x)).

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with HKFRSs requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of policies and reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and various other factors that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis of making the judgements about carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period, or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects both current and future periods.

Judgements made by management in the application of HKFRSs that have significant effect on the financial statements and major sources of estimation uncertainty are discussed in Note 2.1.

(Expressed in Renminbi unless otherwise indicated)

(c) Changes in accounting policies

(i) New and amended HKFRSs

The Group has applied the following new and amended HKFRSs issued by the HKICPA to these financial statements for the current accounting period:

- HKFRS 17, Insurance contracts
- Amendments to HKAS 8, Accounting policies, changes in accounting estimates and errors: Definition of accounting estimates
- Amendments to HKAS 1, Presentation of financial statements and HKFRS Practice Statement 2, Making materiality judgements: Disclosure of accounting policies
- Amendments to HKAS 12, Income taxes: Deferred tax related to assets and liabilities arising from a single transaction
- Amendments to HKAS 12, Income taxes: International tax reform Pillar Two model rules

The Group has not applied any new standard or interpretation that is not yet effective for the current accounting period. Impacts of the adoption of the new and amended HKFRSs are discussed below:

HKFRS 17, Insurance contracts

HKFRS 17, which replaces HKFRS 4, sets out the recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure requirements applicable to issuers of insurance contracts. The standard does not have a material impact on these financial statements as the Group does not have contracts within the scope of HKFRS 17.

Amendments to HKAS 8, Accounting policies, changes in accounting estimates and errors: Definition of accounting estimates

The amendments provide further guidance on the distinction between changes in accounting policies and changes in accounting estimates. The amendments do not have a material impact on these financial statements as the Group's approach in distinguishing changes in accounting policies and changes in accounting estimates is consistent with the amendments.

(Expressed in Renminbi unless otherwise indicated)

(c) Changes in accounting policies (continued)

Amendments to HKAS 1, Presentation of financial statements and HKFRS Practice Statement 2, Making materiality judgements: Disclosure of accounting policies

The amendments require entities to disclose material accounting policy information and provide guidance on applying the concept of materiality to accounting policy disclosure. The Group has revisited the accounting policy information it has been disclosing and considered it is consistent with the amendments.

Amendments to HKAS 12, Income taxes: Deferred tax related to assets and liabilities arising from a single transaction

The amendments narrow the scope of the initial recognition exemption such that it does not apply to transactions that give rise to equal and offsetting temporary differences on initial recognition such as leases and decommissioning liabilities. For leases and decommissioning liabilities, the associated deferred tax assets and liabilities are required to be recognised from the beginning of the earliest comparative period presented, with any cumulative effect recognised as an adjustment to retained earnings or other components of equity at that date. For all other transactions, the amendments are applied to those transactions that occur after the beginning of the earliest period presented. Prior to the amendments, the Group did not apply the initial recognition exemption to lease transactions and had recognised the related deferred tax, except that the Group previously determined the temporary difference arising from a rightof-use asset and the related lease liability on a net basis on the basis they arise from a single transaction. Following the amendments, the Group has determined the temporary differences in relation to right-of-use assets and lease liabilities separately. The change primarily impacts disclosures of components of deferred tax assets and liabilities, but does not impact the overall deferred tax balances presented in the consolidated statement of financial position as the related deferred tax balances qualify for offsetting under HKAS 12.

Amendments to HKAS 12, Income taxes: International tax reform – Pillar Two model rules

The amendments introduce a temporary mandatory exception from deferred tax accounting for the income tax arising from tax laws enacted or substantively enacted to implement the Pillar Two model rules published by the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development ("OECD") (income tax arising from such tax laws is hereafter referred to as "Pillar Two income taxes"), including tax laws that implement qualified domestic minimum top-up taxes described in those rules. The amendments also introduce disclosure requirements about such tax including the estimated tax exposure to Pillar Two income taxes. The amendments are immediately effective upon issuance and require retrospective application. After assessment, the amendments does not have a material impact on these financial statements.

(Expressed in Renminbi unless otherwise indicated)

(ii) New HKICPA guidance on the accounting implications of abolition of the MPF-LSP offsetting mechanism

In June 2022 the Hong Kong SAR Government (the "Government") gazetted the Hong Kong Employment and Retirement Schemes Legislation (Offsetting Arrangement) (Amendment) Ordinance 2022 (the "Amendment Ordinance"), which will come into effect from 1 May 2025 (the "Transition Date"). Once the Amendment Ordinance takes effect, an employer can no longer use any of the accrued benefits derived from its mandatory contributions to mandatory provident fund ("MPF") scheme to reduce the long service payment ("LSP") in respect of an employee's service from the Transition Date (the abolition of the "offsetting mechanism"). In addition, the LSP in respect of the service before the Transition Date will be calculated based on the employee's monthly salary immediately before the Transition Date and the years of service up to that date.

In July 2023, the HKICPA published "Accounting implications of the abolition of the MPF-LSP offsetting mechanism in Hong Kong" that provides accounting guidance relating to the offsetting mechanism and the abolition of the mechanism with effective from 1 May 2025. The abolition of offsetting mechanism did not have a material impact on the Group's reveal and financial position.

(d) Subsidiaries and non-controlling interests

Subsidiaries are entities controlled by the Group. The Group controls an entity when it is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the entity. When assessing whether the Group has power, only substantive rights (held by the Group and other parties) are considered.

An investment in a subsidiary is consolidated into the consolidated financial statements from the date that control commences until the date that control ceases. Intra-group balances, transactions and cash flows and any unrealised profits arising from intra-group transactions are eliminated in full in preparing the consolidated financial statements. Unrealised losses resulting from intra-group transactions are eliminated in the same way as unrealised gains but only to the extent that there is no evidence of impairment.

(Expressed in Renminbi unless otherwise indicated)

Non-controlling interests represent the equity in a subsidiary not attributable directly or indirectly to the Company, and in respect of which the Group has not agreed any additional terms with the holders of those interests which would result in the Group as a whole having a contractual obligation in respect of those interests that meets the definition of a financial liability. For each business combination, the Group can elect to measure any non-controlling interests either at fair value or at the non-controlling interests' proportionate share of the subsidiary's net identifiable assets.

Non-controlling interests are presented in the consolidated statement of financial position within equity, separately from equity attributable to the equity shareholders of the Company. Non-controlling interests in the results of the Group are presented on the face of the consolidated statement of profit or loss and the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income as an allocation of the total profit or loss and total comprehensive income for the year between non-controlling interests and the equity shareholders of the Company. Loans from holders of non-controlling interests and other contractual obligations towards these holders are presented as financial liabilities in the consolidated statement of financial position in accordance with note 1(p) depending on the nature of the liability.

Changes in the Group's interests in a subsidiary that do not result in a loss of control are accounted for as equity transactions, whereby adjustments are made to the amounts of controlling and non-controlling interests within consolidated equity to reflect the change in relative interests, but no adjustments are made to goodwill and no gain or loss is recognised.

In the Company's statement of financial position, an investment in a subsidiary is stated at cost less impairment losses (see note 1(j)(ii)).

(e) Associates

An associate is an entity in which the Group or Company has significant influence, but not control or joint control, over its management, including participation in the financial and operating policy decisions.

(Expressed in Renminbi unless otherwise indicated)

(e) Associates (continued)

An investment in an associate is accounted for in the consolidated financial statements under the equity method. Under the equity method, the investment is initially recorded at cost, adjusted for any excess of the Group's share of the acquisition-date fair values of the investee's identifiable net assets over the cost of the investment (if any). The cost of the investment includes purchase price, other costs directly attributable to the acquisition of the investment, and any direct investment into the associate that forms part of the Group's equity investment. Thereafter, the investment is adjusted for the post acquisition change in the Group's share of the investee's net assets and any impairment loss relating to the investment (see note 1(j)(ii)). Any acquisition-date excess over cost, the Group's share of the post-acquisition, post-tax results of the investees and any impairment losses for the year are recognised in the consolidated statement of profit or loss, whereas the Group's share of the post-acquisition post-tax items of the investees' other comprehensive income is recognised in the consolidated statement of profit or loss, and other comprehensive income.

When the Group's share of losses exceeds its interest in the associate, the Group's interest is reduced to nil and recognition of further losses is discontinued except to the extent that the Group has incurred legal or constructive obligations or made payments on behalf of the investee. For this purpose, the Group's interest is the carrying amount of the investment under the equity method, together with any other long-term interests that in substance form part of the Group's net investment in the associate, after applying the ECL model to such other long-term interests where applicable (see note 1(j)(i)).

Unrealised profits and losses resulting from transactions between the Group and its associates are eliminated to the extent of the Group's interest in the investee, except where unrealised losses provide evidence of an impairment of the asset transferred, in which case they are recognised immediately in profit or loss.

(f) Investment in wealth management product

Investment in wealth management product with expiry date less than one year at the reporting date is classified as financial assets at fair value through profit or loss (FVPL) under other current asset. Changes in the fair value of the investment (including investment income) are recognised in profit or loss.

(Expressed in Renminbi unless otherwise indicated)

(g) Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment, including right-of-use assets, are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses (see note 1(j)(ii)).

Gains or losses arising from the retirement or disposal of an item of property, plant and equipment are determined as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the item and are recognised in profit or loss on the date of retirement or disposal.

Depreciation is calculated to write off the cost of items of property, plant and equipment, less their estimated residual value, if any, using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives as follows:

-	Toll station and ancillary equipment	5 – 10 years
_	Other machinery and equipment	5 years
_	Motor vehicles	5 years
_	Furniture and fixtures	5 years

 Other properties leased for own use are depreciated over the shorter of the unexpired term of lease and their estimated useful lives.

Where parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful lives, the cost of the item is allocated on a reasonable basis between the parts and each part is depreciated separately. Both the useful life of an asset and its residual value, if any, are reviewed annually.

(h) Intangible asset – service concession arrangement

The Group has entered into contractual service arrangement with local government authorities for its participation in the construction, operation and management of an expressways in Mainland China. The Group carries out the construction of an expressways for the granting authorities and receives in exchange for the right to operate the expressways concerned and the entitlement to toll fees collected from users of the concession infrastructure.

The Group recognises an intangible asset arising from a service concession arrangement when it has a right to charge for usage of the concession infrastructure. The concession grantor has not provided any contractual guarantee in respect of the amounts of construction costs incurred to be recoverable. Intangible assets received as consideration for providing construction work and project management services in a service concession arrangement are measured at fair value upon initial recognition. Subsequent to initial recognition the intangible asset is measured at cost less accumulated amortisation and impairment losses (see note 1(j)(ii)).

Land collection costs incurred in conjunction with the service concession arrangement are recognised as intangible asset acquired under the service concession arrangement.

Subsequent expenditure is capitalised only when it increases the future economic benefits embodied in the specific asset to which it relates. All other expenditure is recognised in profit or loss as incurred.

Amortisation is calculated to write off the cost of the intangible asset arising from a service concession arrangement on a unit of usage basis whereby amortisation is provided based on the proportion of actual traffic volume for a particular period over the total projected traffic volume throughout the periods within which the Group is granted the rights to operate those expressways. It is the Group's policy to review regularly the total projected traffic volume throughout the operative periods of the respective expressways. If it is considered appropriate, independent professional traffic studies will be performed. Appropriate adjustment will be made should there be a material change. Where an item of infrastructure assets included in the intangible asset arising from a service concession arrangement has different period of expected future economic benefits flowing to the Group than the concession period, it is amortised separately.

Both the period and method of amortisation are reviewed annually.

(i) Leased assets

At inception of a contract, the Group assesses whether the contract is, or contains, a lease. A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. Control is conveyed where the customer has both the right to direct the use of the identified asset and to obtain substantially all of the economic benefits from that use.

(Expressed in Renminbi unless otherwise indicated)

(i) Leased assets (continued)

(i) As a lessee

Where the contract contains lease component(s) and non-lease component(s), the Group has elected not to separate non-lease components and accounts for each lease component and any associated non-lease components as a single lease component for all leases.

At the lease commencement date, the Group recognises a right-of-use asset and a lease liability, except for short-term leases that have a lease term of 12 months or less and leases of low-value assets. When the Group enters into a lease in respect of a low-value asset, the Group decides whether to capitalise the lease on a lease-by-lease basis. The lease payments associated with those leases which are not capitalised are recognised as an expense on a systematic basis over the lease term.

Where the lease is capitalised, the lease liability is initially recognised at the present value of the lease payments payable over the lease term, discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease or, if that rate cannot be readily determined, using a relevant incremental borrowing rate. After initial recognition, the lease liability is measured at amortised cost and interest expense is calculated using the effective interest method. Variable lease payments that do not depend on an index or rate are not included in the measurement of the lease liability and hence are charged to profit or loss in the accounting period in which they are incurred.

The right-of-use asset recognised when a lease is capitalised is initially measured at cost, which comprises the initial amount of the lease liability plus any lease payments made at or before the commencement date, and any initial direct costs incurred. Where applicable, the cost of the right-of-use assets also includes an estimate of costs to dismantle and remove the underlying asset or to restore the underlying asset or the site on which it is located, discounted to their present value, less any lease incentives received. The right-of-use asset is subsequently stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses (see notes 1(g) and 1(j)(ii)).

The lease liability is remeasured when there is a change in future lease payments arising from a change in an index or rate, or there is a change in the Group's estimate of the amount expected to be payable under a residual value guarantee, or there is a change arising from the reassessment of whether the Group will be reasonably certain to exercise a purchase, extension or termination option. When the lease liability is remeasured in this way, a corresponding adjustment is made to the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset, or is recorded in profit or loss if the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset has been reduced to zero.

The Group presents right-of-use assets in property, plant and equipment and presents lease liabilities separately in the consolidated statement of financial position.

(i) Leased assets (continued)

(ii) As a lessor

When the Group acts as a lessor, it determines at lease inception whether each lease is a finance lease or an operating lease. A lease is classified as a finance lease if it transfers substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to the ownership of an underlying assets to the lessee. If this is not the case, the lease is classified as an operating lease.

When a contract contains lease and non-lease components, the Group allocates the consideration in the contract to each component on a relative stand-alone selling price basis. The rental income from operating leases is recognised in accordance with note 1(t)(iii).

(j) Credit losses and impairment of assets

(i) Credit losses from financial instruments

The Group recognises a loss allowance for expected credit losses (ECLs) on financial assets measured at amortised cost (i.e. trade and other receivables).

Financial assets measured at fair value are not subject to the ECL assessment.

Measurement of ECLs

ECLs are a probability-weighted estimate of credit losses. Generally, credit losses are measured as the present value of all expected cash shortfalls (i.e. the difference between the cash flows due to the Group in accordance with the contract and the cash flows that the Group expects to receive).

The expected cash shortfalls are discounted using the following discount rates where the effect of discounting is material:

- fixed-rate financial assets, and trade and other receivables: effective interest rate determined at initial recognition or an approximation thereof;
- variable-rate financial assets: current effective interest rate.

The maximum period considered when estimating ECLs is the maximum contractual period over which the Group is exposed to credit risk.

(Expressed in Renminbi unless otherwise indicated)

(j) Credit losses and impairment of assets (continued)

In measuring ECLs, the Group takes into account reasonable and supportable information that is available without undue cost or effort. This includes information about past events, current conditions and forecasts of future economic conditions.

ECLs are measured on either of the following bases:

- 12-month ECLs: these are losses that are expected to result from possible default events within the 12 months after the reporting date; and
- lifetime ECLs: these are losses that are expected to result from all possible default events over the expected lives of the items to which the ECL model applies.

Loss allowances for trade receivables are always measured at an amount equal to lifetime ECLs. ECLs on these financial assets are estimated using a provision matrix based on the Group's historical credit loss experience, adjusted for factors that are specific to the debtors and an assessment of both the current and forecast general economic conditions at the reporting date.

For all other financial instruments, the Group recognises a loss allowance equal to 12-month ECLs unless there has been a significant increase in credit risk of the financial instrument since initial recognition, in which case the loss allowance is measured at an amount equal to lifetime ECLs.

Significant increases in credit risks

In assessing whether the credit risk of a financial instrument has increased significantly since initial recognition, the Group compares the risk of default occurring on the financial instrument assessed at the reporting date with that assessed at the date of initial recognition. In making this reassessment, the Group considers that a default event occurs when (i) the borrower is unlikely to pay its credit obligations to the Group in full, without recourse by the Group to actions such as realising security (if any is held); or (ii) the financial asset is 90 days past due. The Group considers both quantitative and qualitative information that is reasonable and supportable, including historical experience and forward-looking information that is available without undue cost or effort.

(Expressed in Renminbi unless otherwise indicated)

(j) Credit losses and impairment of assets (continued)

(i) Credit losses from financial instruments (continued)

In particular, the following information is taken into account when assessing whether credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition:

- failure to make payments of principal or interest on their contractually due dates;
- an actual or expected significant deterioration in a financial instrument's external or internal credit rating (if available);
- an actual or expected significant deterioration in the operating results of the debtor; and
- existing or forecast changes in the technological, market, economic or legal environment that have a significant adverse effect on the debtor's ability to meet its obligation to the Group.

Depending on the nature of the financial instruments, the assessment of a significant increase in credit risk is performed on either an individual basis or a collective basis. When the assessment is performed on a collective basis, the financial instruments are grouped based on shared credit risk characteristics, such as past due status and credit risk ratings.

ECLs are remeasured at each reporting date to reflect changes in the financial instrument's credit risk since initial recognition. Any change in the ECL amount is recognised as an impairment gain or loss in profit or loss. The Group recognises an impairment gain or loss for all financial instruments with a corresponding adjustment to their carrying amount through a loss allowance account.

Credit-impaired financial assets

At each reporting date, the Group assesses whether a financial asset is credit-impaired. A financial asset is credit-impaired when one or more events that have a detrimental impact on the estimated future cash flows of the financial asset have occurred.

(Expressed in Renminbi unless otherwise indicated)

(j) Credit losses and impairment of assets (continued)

(i) Credit losses from financial instruments (continued)

Evidence that a financial asset is credit-impaired includes the following observable events:

- significant financial difficulties of the debtor;
- a breach of contract, such as a default or delinquency in interest or principal payments;
- the restructuring of a loan or advance by the Group on terms that the Group would not consider otherwise;
- it is probable that the debtor will enter into bankruptcy or other financial reorganisation; or
- the disappearance of an active market for a security because of financial difficulties of the issuer.

Write-off policy

The gross carrying amount of a financial asset is written off (either partially or in full) to the extent that there is no realistic prospect of recovery. This is generally the case when the Group determines that the debtor does not have assets or sources of income that could generate sufficient cash flows to repay the amounts subject to the write-off.

Subsequent recoveries of an asset that was previously written off are recognised as a reversal of impairment in profit or loss in the period in which the recovery occurs.

(ii) Impairment of other assets

Internal and external sources of information are reviewed at the end of each reporting period to identify indications that the following assets may be impaired or an impairment loss previously recognised no longer exists or may have decreased:

- property, plant and equipment, including right-of-use assets;
- intangible asset service concession arrangement; and
- investments in subsidiaries and associates in the Company's statement of financial position.

(Expressed in Renminbi unless otherwise indicated)

(j) Credit losses and impairment of assets (continued)

(ii) Impairment of other assets (continued)

If any such indication exists, the asset's recoverable amount is estimated.

- Calculation of recoverable amount

The recoverable amount of an asset is the greater of its fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. Where an asset does not generate cash inflows largely independent of those from other assets, the recoverable amount is determined for the smallest Group of assets that generates cash inflows independently (i.e. a cash-generating unit).

- Recognition of impairment losses

An impairment loss is recognised in profit or loss if the carrying amount of an asset, or the cash-generating unit to which it belongs, exceeds its recoverable amount. Impairment losses recognised in respect of cash-generating units are allocated to reduce the carrying amount of the assets in the unit (or Group of units) on a pro rata basis, except that the carrying value of an asset will not be reduced below its individual fair value less costs of disposal (if measurable) or value in use (if determinable).

- Reversals of impairment losses

An impairment loss is reversed if there has been a favourable change in the estimates used to determine the recoverable amount.

A reversal of an impairment loss is limited to the asset's carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised in prior years. Reversals of impairment losses are credited to profit or loss in the year in which the reversals are recognised.

(Expressed in Renminbi unless otherwise indicated)

(k) Inventories

Inventories are carried at the lower of cost and net realisable value.

Cost is calculated using the weighted average cost formula and comprises all costs of purchase, costs of conversion and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition.

Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less the estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

When inventories are sold, the carrying amount of those inventories is recognised as an expense in the period in which the related revenue is recognised.

The amount of any write-down of inventories to net realisable value and all losses of inventories are recognised as an expense in the period the write-down or loss occurs. The amount of any reversal of any write-down of inventories is recognised as a reduction in the amount of inventories recognised as an expense in the period in which the reversal occurs.

(I) Contract liabilities

A contract liability is recognised when the customer pays non-refundable consideration before the Group recognises the related revenue (see note 1(t)). A contract liability is also recognised if the Group has an unconditional right to receive non-refundable consideration before the Group recognises the related revenue. In such latter cases, a corresponding receivable is also recognised (see note 1(m)).

(m) Trade and other receivables

A receivable is recognised when the Group has an unconditional right to receive consideration. A right to receive consideration is unconditional if only the passage of time is required before payment of that consideration is due.

Receivables are stated at amortised cost using the effective interest method less allowance for credit losses (see note 1(j)(i)).

(Expressed in Renminbi unless otherwise indicated)

(n) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash at bank and on hand, demand deposits with banks and other financial institutions, and short-term, highly liquid investments that are readily convertible into known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value, having been within three months of maturity at acquisition.

(o) Trade and other payables

Trade and other payables are initially recognised at fair value and thereafter stated at amortised cost unless the effect of discounting would be immaterial, in which case they are stated at invoice amounts.

(p) Interest-bearing borrowings

Interest-bearing borrowings are measured initially at fair value less transaction costs. Subsequent to initial recognition, interest-bearing borrowings are stated at amortised cost using the effective interest method. Interest expense is recognised in accordance with the Group's accounting policy for borrowing costs (see note 1(v)).

(q) Employee benefits

(i) Short-term employee benefits and contributions to defined contribution retirement plans

Salaries, annual bonuses, paid annual leave, contributions to defined contribution retirement plans and the cost of non-monetary benefits are accrued in the year in which the associated services are rendered by employees. Where payment or settlement is deferred and the effect would be material, these amounts are stated at their present values.

(ii) Share-based payments

Restricted shares

The difference between the granted price and the fair value of the restricted shares granted to employees is recognised as an employee cost with a corresponding increase in share-based compensation reserve within equity. The fair value of the restricted shares is measured at date of grant by reference to the market price or the valuer's valuation of the underlying shares. Where the employees have to meet vesting conditions before becoming unconditionally entitled to the restricted shares, the total difference between the granted price and the fair value of the options is spread over the vesting period, taking into account the probability that the options will vest.

(Expressed in Renminbi unless otherwise indicated)

(q) Employee benefits (continued)

Share options

The fair value of share options granted to employees is recognised as an employee cost with a corresponding increase in a capital reserve within equity. The fair value is measured at grant date using binomial option pricing model, taking into account the terms and conditions upon which the options were granted. Where the employees have to meet vesting conditions before becoming unconditionally entitled to the options, the total estimated fair value of the options is spread over the vesting period, taking into account the probability that the options will vest.

During the vesting period, the number of share options that is expected to vest is reviewed. Any resulting adjustment to the cumulative fair value recognised in prior years is charged/credited to the profit or loss for the year of the review, unless the original employee expenses qualify for recognition as an asset, with a corresponding adjustment to the capital reserve. On vesting date, the amount recognised as an expense is adjusted to reflect the actual number of options that vest (with a corresponding adjustment to the capital reserve) except where forfeiture is only due to not achieving vesting conditions that relate to the market price of the Company's shares. The equity amount is recognised in the capital reserve until either the option is exercised (when it is included in the amount recognised in share capital for the shares issued) or the option expires (when it is released directly to retained profits).

(iii) Termination benefits

Termination benefits are recognised at the earlier of when the Group can no longer withdraw the offer of those benefits and when it recognises restructuring costs involving the payment of termination benefits.

(r) Income tax

Income tax for the year comprises current tax and movements in deferred tax assets and liabilities. Current tax and movements in deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognised in profit or loss except to the extent that they relate to items recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case the relevant amounts of tax are recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, respectively.

Current tax is the expected tax payable on the taxable income for the year, using tax rates enacted or substantively enacted at the end of the reporting period, and any adjustment to tax payable in respect of previous years.

(Expressed in Renminbi unless otherwise indicated)

(r) Income tax (continued)

Deferred tax assets and liabilities arise from deductible and taxable temporary differences respectively, being the differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and their tax bases. Deferred tax assets also arise from unused tax losses and unused tax credits.

Apart from certain limited exceptions, all deferred tax liabilities, and all deferred tax assets to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which the asset can be utilised, are recognised. Future taxable profits that may support the recognition of deferred tax assets arising from deductible temporary differences include those that will arise from the reversal of existing taxable temporary differences, provided those differences relate to the same taxation authority and the same taxable entity, and are expected to reverse either in the same period as the expected reversal of the deductible temporary differences or in periods into which a tax loss arising from the deferred tax asset can be carried back or forward. The same criteria are adopted when determining whether existing taxable temporary differences support the recognition of deferred tax assets arising from unused tax losses and credits, that is, those differences are taken into account if they relate to the same taxation authority and the same taxable entity, and are expected to reverse in a period, or periods, in which the tax loss or credit can be utilised.

The limited exceptions to recognition of deferred tax assets and liabilities are temporary differences relating to investments in subsidiaries to the extent that, in the case of taxable differences, the Group controls the timing of the reversal and it is probable that the differences will not reverse in the foreseeable future, or in the case of deductible differences, unless it is probable that they will reverse in the future.

The amount of deferred tax recognised is measured based on the expected manner of realisation or settlement of the carrying amount of the assets and liabilities, using tax rates enacted or substantively enacted at the end of the reporting period. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are not discounted.

The carrying amount of a deferred tax asset is reviewed at the end of reporting period and is reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow the related tax benefit to be utilised. Any such reduction is reversed to the extent that it becomes probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available.

Additional income taxes that arise from the distribution of dividends are recognised when the liability to pay the related dividends is recognised.

(Expressed in Renminbi unless otherwise indicated)

(r) Income tax (continued)

Current tax balances and deferred tax balances, and movements therein, are presented separately from each other and are not offset. Current tax assets are offset against current tax liabilities, and deferred tax assets against deferred tax liabilities, if the Company or the Group has the legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the following additional conditions are met:

- in the case of current tax assets and liabilities, the Company or the Group intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously; or
- in the case of deferred tax assets and liabilities, if they relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority on either:
 - the same taxable entity; or
 - different taxable entities, which, in each future period in which significant amounts of deferred tax liabilities or assets are expected to be settled or recovered, intend to realise the current tax assets and settle the current tax liabilities on a net basis or realise and settle simultaneously.

(s) Provisions and contingent liabilities

Provisions are recognised when the Group has a legal or constructive obligation arising as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made. Where the time value of money is material, provisions are stated at the present value of the expenditure expected to settle the obligation.

Where it is not probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required, or the amount cannot be estimated reliably, the obligation is disclosed as a contingent liability, unless the probability of outflow of economic benefits is remote. Possible obligations, whose existence will only be confirmed by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more future events are also disclosed as contingent liabilities unless the probability of outflow of economic benefits is remote.

(Expressed in Renminbi unless otherwise indicated)

(t) Revenue and other income

Income is classified by the Group as revenue when it arises from the sale of goods, the provision of services or the use by others of the Group's assets under leases in the ordinary course of the Group's business.

Revenue is recognised when control over a product or service is transferred to the customer, or the lessee has the right to use the asset, at the amount of promised consideration to which the Group is expected to be entitled, excluding those amounts collected on behalf of third parties. Revenue excludes value added tax or other sales taxes and is after deduction of any trade discounts.

Further details of the Group's revenue and other income recognition policies are as follows:

(i) Toll revenue

The Group's toll revenue is measured based on the consideration the Group expects to be entitled from the contract with the customer and excludes those amounts collected on behalf of third parties. The Group recognises toll revenue when the vehicles go through the Expressway and pass the toll stations, which means it transfers control over services to customers. Due to the implementation of unified toll collection policy on the Expressway, the settlement period of the toll revenue from toll road operation is normally within a month.

(ii) Sale of goods

Revenue is recognised when the customer takes possession of and accepts the products. If the products are a partial fulfilment of a contract covering other goods and/or services, then the amount of revenue recognised is an appropriate proportion of the total transaction price under the contract, allocated between all the goods and services promised under the contract on a relative stand-alone selling price basis.

(iii) Rental income from operating leases

Rental income receivable under operating leases is recognised in profit or loss in equal instalments over the periods covered by the lease term, except where an alternative basis is more representative of the pattern of benefits to be derived from the use of the leased asset. Lease incentives granted are recognised in profit or loss as an integral part of the aggregate net lease payments receivable. Contingent rentals are recognised as income in the accounting period in which they are earned.

(Expressed in Renminbi unless otherwise indicated)

(t) Revenue and other income (continued)

(iv) Interest income

Interest income is recognised as it accrues under the effective interest method. For financial assets measured at amortised cost that are not credit-impaired, the effective interest rate is applied to the gross carrying amount of the asset.

(u) Translation of foreign currencies

Foreign currency transactions during the year are translated at the foreign exchange rates ruling at the transaction dates. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the foreign exchange rates ruling at the end of the reporting period. Exchange gains and losses are recognised in profit or loss.

Non-monetary assets and liabilities that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the foreign exchange rates ruling at the transaction dates. The transaction date is the date on which the Company initially recognises such non-monetary assets or liabilities.

The results of foreign operations are translated into RMB at the exchange rates approximating the foreign exchange rates ruling at the dates of the transactions. Statement of financial position items are translated into RMB at the closing foreign exchange rates at the end of the reporting period. The resulting exchange differences are recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated separately in equity in the exchange reserve.

(v) Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of an asset which necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use or sale are capitalised as part of the cost of that asset. Other borrowing costs are expensed in the period in which they are incurred.

(w) Dividend distribution

Dividend distribution to the Company's ordinary shareholders is recognised as a liability in the Group's and the Company's financial statements in the period in which the dividends are approved by the Company's shareholders or directors, when appropriate.

(Expressed in Renminbi unless otherwise indicated)

(x) Non-current assets held for sale and discontinued operations

(i) Non-current assets held for sale

A non-current asset (or disposal group) is classified as held for sale if it is highly probable that its carrying amount will be recovered through a sale transaction rather than through continuing use and the asset (or disposal group) is available for sale in its present condition. A disposal group is a group of assets to be disposed of together as a group in a single transaction, and liabilities directly associated with those assets that will be transferred in the transaction.

When the Group is committed to a sale plan involving loss of control of a subsidiary, all the assets and liabilities of that subsidiary are classified as held for sale when the above criteria for classification as held for sale are met, regardless of whether the Group will retain a non-controlling interest in the subsidiary after the sale.

Immediately before classification as held for sale, the measurement of the non-current assets (and all individual assets and liabilities in a disposal group) is brought up-to-date in accordance with the accounting policies before the classification. Then, on initial classification as held for sale and until disposal, the non-current assets (except for certain assets as explained below), or disposal groups, are recognised at the lower of their carrying amount and fair value less costs to sell. The principal exceptions to this measurement policy so far as the financial statements of the Group and the Company are concerned are deferred tax assets, assets arising from employee benefits and financial assets (other than investments in subsidiaries, associates and joint ventures). These assets, even if held for sale, would continue to be measured in accordance with the policies set out elsewhere in note 1.

Impairment losses on initial classification as held for sale, and on subsequent remeasurement while held for sale, are recognised in profit or loss. As long as a non-current asset is classified as held for sale, or is included in a disposal group that is classified as held for sale, the non-current asset is not depreciated or amortised.

(Expressed in Renminbi unless otherwise indicated)

(x) Non-current assets held for sale and discontinued operations (continued)

(ii) Discontinued operations

A discontinued operation is a component of the Group's business, the operations and cash flows of which can be clearly distinguished from the rest of the Group and which represents a separate major line of business or geographical area of operations, or is part of a single co-ordinated plan to dispose of a separate major line of business or geographical area of operations, or is a subsidiary acquired exclusively with a view to resale.

Classification as a discontinued operation occurs upon disposal or when the operation meets the criteria to be classified as held for sale (see (i) above), if earlier. It also occurs if the operation is abandoned.

Where an operation is classified as discontinued, a single amount is presented on the face of the statement of profit or loss, which comprises:

- the post-tax profit or loss of the discontinued operation; and
- the post-tax gain or loss recognised on the measurement to fair value less costs to sell, or on the disposal, of the assets or disposal group(s) constituting the discontinued operation.

(y) Related parties

- (a) A person, or a close member of that person's family, is related to the Group if that person:
 - (i) has control or joint control over the Group;
 - (ii) has significant influence over the Group; or
 - (iii) is a member of the key management personnel of the Group or the Group's parent.

(Expressed in Renminbi unless otherwise indicated)

(y) Related parties (continued)

- (b) An entity is related to the Group if any of the following conditions applies:
 - (i) The entity and the Group are members of the same group (which means that each parent, subsidiary and fellow subsidiary is related to the others).
 - (ii) One entity is an associate or joint venture of the other entity (or an associate or joint venture of a member of a group of which the other entity is a member).
 - (iii) Both entities are joint ventures of the same third party.
 - (iv) One entity is a joint venture of a third entity and the other entity is an associate of the third entity.
 - (v) The entity is a post-employment benefit plan for the benefit of employees of either the Group or an entity related to the Group.
 - (vi) The entity is controlled or jointly controlled by a person identified in (a).
 - (vii) A person identified in (a)(i) has significant influence over the entity or is a member of the key management personnel of the entity (or of a parent of the entity).
 - (viii) The entity, or any member of a group of which it is a part, provides key management personnel services to the Group or to the Group's parent.

Close members of the family of a person are those family members who may be expected to influence, or be influenced by, that person in their dealings with the entity.

(z) Segment reporting

Operating segments, and the amounts of each segment item reported in the financial statements, are identified from the financial information provided regularly to the Group's most senior executive management for the purposes of allocating resources to, and assessing the performance of, the Group's various lines of business and geographical locations.

Individually material operating segments are not aggregated for financial reporting purposes unless the segments have similar economic characteristics and are similar in respect of the nature of products and services, the nature of production processes, the type or class of customers, the methods used to distribute the products or provide the services, and the nature of the regulatory environment. Operating segments which are not individually material may be aggregated if they share a majority of these criteria.

(Expressed in Renminbi unless otherwise indicated)

2.1 ACCOUNTING JUDGEMENT AND ESTIMATES

Estimates and judgements are continually evaluated and are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

The selection of critical accounting policies, the judgements and other uncertainties affecting application of those policies and the sensitivity of reported results to changes in condition and assumptions are factors to be considered when reviewing the financial statements. The principal accounting policies are set forth in note 1. The Group believes the following critical accounting policies involve the most significant judgements and estimates used in the preparation of the financial statements.

(a) Amortisation of intangible asset – service concession arrangement

The Group applied HK (IFRIC) Interpretation 12 and recognised intangible asset – service concession arrangement and provides amortisation thereon.

Amortisation of intangible asset – service concession arrangement is provided on unit of usage basic as set out in accounting policy in Note 1(h). Material adjustments may need to be made to the carrying amounts of intangible assets – service concession arrangement should there be a material difference between total projected traffic volume and the actual results.

The directors perform a periodic assessment of the total projected traffic volume and will prospectively adjust the amortisation unit according to revised projected traffic volume.

(b) Impairment of property, plant and equipment and intangible assets

If circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of property, plant and equipment and intangible assets may not be recoverable, these assets may be considered "impaired" and an impairment loss may be recognised in profit or loss. The carrying amounts of these assets are reviewed periodically in order to assess whether the recoverable amounts have declined below the carrying amounts. These assets are tested for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that their recorded carrying amounts may not be recoverable. When such a decline has occurred, the carrying amount is reduced to recoverable amount.

The recoverable amount is the greater of the fair value less costs to sell and the value in use. In determining the value in use, the expected cash flows generated by the asset are discounted to their present value, which requires significant judgement relating to the level of future toll revenue and the amount of operating costs. The Group uses all readily available information in determining an amount that is a reasonable approximation of the recoverable amount, including estimates based on reasonable and supportable assumptions and projections of toll revenue and the amount of operating costs, and discount rate.

(Expressed in Renminbi unless otherwise indicated)

2.2 CHANGE IN SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING ESTIMATE

(b) Segment reporting

The Group manages its businesses by divisions, which are organised by a mixture of both business lines and geographical location. In a manner consistent with the way in which information is reported internally to the Group's most senior executive management for the purposes of resource allocation and performance assessment, the Group has presented the following three reportable segments.

Continuing reportable segments:

- Qing Ping Expressway, construction, operation and management of the Qing Ping Expressway;
- Liquor and spirits, mainly distribution of Huamaojiu and Xijiushaofang.

Discontinued reportable segment:

Sui-Yue Expressway, construction, operation and management of the Sui-Yue Expressway.

(i) Segment results, assets and liabilities

For the purposes of assessing segment performance and allocating resources between segments, the Group's senior executive management monitors the results to each reportable segment on the following bases:

Segment assets include all tangible, intangible assets and current assets with the exception of deferred tax assets and other corporate assets. Segment liabilities include accruals, bills payable and lease liabilities attributable to the expressways operations and sales activities of the individual segments and bank borrowings managed directly by the segments.

Revenue and expenses are allocated to the reportable segments with reference to sales generated by those segments and the expenses incurred by those segments or which otherwise arise from the depreciation or amortisation of assets attributable to those segments.

The measure used for reporting segment profit is "adjusted EBITDA" i.e. "adjusted earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortisation", where "depreciation and amortisation" is regarded as including impairment losses on non-current assets. To arrive at adjusted EBITDA, the Group's earnings are further adjusted for items not specifically attributed to individual segments, such as directors' and auditors' remuneration and other head office or corporate administration costs.

Considering that the disposal group's fair value less costs to sell assessed by management as at 31 December 2022 were higher than its carrying amount, the assets and liabilities held for sale were measured at their carrying amounts. As at 31 December 2022, the disposal group comprised the following assets and liabilities after inter-company elimination:

- (ii) In 2021, four individuals ("Plaintiffs") had collectively initiated legal proceedings in against Daoyue, for disputes in respect of construction contracts. The Group had appealed after Daoyue received a judgement from the court which was in favour of the Plaintiffs and the case was remitted for retrial. In September 2022, the court affirmed the judgment while Daoyue had appealed again and no verdicts were concluded up to the date of the annual report of the year ended 31 December 2022. As of 31 December 2022, Management considered that the retrial upheld the original judgment and the related legal compensation was probable, hence the provisions of RMB9,000,000 had been made based on the expected monetary compensation plus the related finance costs and court fees.

In 2023, the final court trial ruled in favor of Daoyue's appeal and Daoyue was not required to assume any monetary compensation obligation. Therefore, provisions of approximately RMB5.8 million were reversed based on the final legal costs incurred.

(iii) The loans are secured by the rights to operate the Sui-Yue Expressway and receive toll fees therefrom owned by Daoyue. As at 31 December 2022, none of the covenants relating to the loan has been breached.

(d) Nature and purpose of reserves (continued)

(ii) Statutory reserve

Pursuant to applicable PRC regulations, PRC subsidiaries are required to appropriate 10% of their profit after taxation (after offsetting prior years' losses) to the reserve until such reserve reaches 50% of the registered capital. The transfer to the reserve must be made before distribution of dividends to shareholders. The statutory reserve can be utilised, upon approval by the relevant authorities, to offset accumulated losses or to increase paid-in capital of the subsidiary, provided that the balance after such issue is not less than 25% of its registered capital.

(iii) Other reserve

Other reserve includes:

- (2) the difference between the assigned receivable balances over the nominal value of the shares issued by the Company in exchange pursuant to the Group's reorganisation before its initial public offering; and
- (3) the differences between the fair value of consideration and the net book value of equity interest and other directly related transaction costs for the acquisition and disposal of interest of subsidiaries from and to non-controlling interest respectively.

(iv) Share-based compensation reserve

(1) Restricted Share Award Scheme in 2019

The Group operates an equity-settled share-based compensation plan, under which the entity receives services from employee as consideration for equity instruments (restricted shares) of a subsidiary. The executive director of a subsidiary approved the Restricted Share Award Scheme (the "Award Scheme") on 18 June 2019 and 30 July 2019 respectively (the "Grant Date"). Subsequently the restricted shares were allotted to the selected participants. Selected participants are entitled to the related distribution derived from the relevant restricted shares during the period from the data of the allotted of the restricted shares to the vesting date (both dates inclusive) of such restricted shares.

The above transaction was considered as equity-settled share-based payment to employee. (e) Capital management

The Group's primary objectives when managing capital are to safeguard the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, so that it can provide returns for shareholders and benefits for other stakeholders in the long run, by pricing services commensurately with the level of risk and by securing access to financing at a reasonable cost.

The Group actively and regularly reviews and manages its capital structure to maintain a balance between shareholder returns that might be possible with higher levels of borrowings and the advantages and security afforded by a sound capital position and makes adjustments to the capital structure in light of changes in economic conditions.

The Group monitors its capital structure on the basis of a debt-to-equity ratio, excluding the debt included in the disposal group. For this purpose, total debt includes interest-bearing loans and borrowings and lease liabilities of the Group but excludes those debt included in the disposal group. 29 FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT

Exposure to credit, liquidity, interest rate and currency risks arises in the normal course of the Group's business. The Group's exposure to these risks and financial risk management policies and practices used by the Group to manage these risks are described below.

(a) Credit risk

Credit risk refers to the risk that a counterparty will default on its contractual obligations resulting in a financial loss to the Group. The Group's credit risk is primarily attributable to trade and other receivables, and cash at bank and on hand. Management has a credit policy in place and the exposures to these credit risks are monitored on an ongoing basis.

The Group measures loss allowances for trade receivables at an amount equal to lifetime ECLs, which is calculated using a provision matrix. As the Group's historical credit loss experience does not indicate significantly different loss patterns for different customer segments, the loss allowance based on past due status is not further distinguished between the Group's different customer bases.

To measure ECLs, trade receivables have been grouped based on shared credit risk characteristics and the days past due. The ECLs also incorporate forward looking information. Given the settlement period of the toll revenue receivables is normally within a month due to the implementation of unified toll collection policy on the expressways, management considered the default rate of trade receivables to be minimal and the expected credit loss rate of local government authorities and government agencies to be nil. As a result, no provision for impairment of trade receivables is necessary.

Sales from liquor and spirits are mainly settled by advances from customers. Accordingly, there is no significant credit risk related to these customers.

Credit risk in respect of other receivables, the Group monitors the exposures and manages them based on historical settlement records and past experience, current conditions and forecast of future economic conditions. The management will continue to monitor the progress of the recoverability of the other receivables and chase for settlement of the outstanding balances from the debtors regularly.

Credit risk in respect of contingent consideration receivables, the management is confident the second and third instalments (see Note 7) will be settled respectively upon fulfilment (or waiver) of the conditions precedent.

(Expressed in Renminbi unless otherwise indicated)

(a) Credit risk (continued)

No loss allowance was made for other receivables and contingent consideration receivables since the Group considers the probability of default is minimal after assessing the counter-parties' financial background and creditability.

As a result of the business nature of the Group, the Group has no significant concentration of credit risk arising from its customers.

(b) Liquidity risk

Individual operating entities within the Group are responsible for their own cash management, including the raising of loans to cover expected cash demands subject to approval by the Company's management when the borrowings exceed certain predetermined levels of authority. The Group's policy is to regularly monitor its liquidity requirements to ensure that it maintains sufficient reserves of cash, adequate committed lines of funding from major financial institutions and support from the controlling shareholder of the Company to meet its liquidity requirements in the short and longer term. The Company can control the dividend policy of the subsidiaries and request the subsidiaries to declare dividends should the Company need to fulfil its payment obligations.

The following tables show the remaining contractual maturities at the end of the reporting period of the Group's financial liabilities (excluding the liabilities directly associated to assets held for sale), which are based on contractual undiscounted cash flows (including interest payments computed using contractual rates or, if floating, based on rates current at the end of the reporting period) and the earliest date the Group can be required to pay.

(c) Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Group's policy is to manage its interest rate risk to ensure there are no undue exposures to significant interest rate movements.

The Group does not account for any fixed rate financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss.

At the end of the reporting period, the Group does not expose to significant interest rate risk.

(d) Currency risk

The Group's exposure at the end of reporting period to currency risk arising from recognised assets or liabilities denominated in a currency other than the functional currency of the entity to which they relate. Individual companies within the Group have limited foreign currency risk as most of the transactions are denominated in the functional currency of the operations in which they relate. Accordingly, the Group does not expose to significant currency risk as at 31 December 2023 and 2022.

(Expressed in Renminbi unless otherwise indicated)

30 CONTINGENT LIABILITIES

Financial guarantees issued

As at 31 December 2022, the Company has issued guarantees to certain banks in respect of the credit facility granted to Daoyue and Healthy Wine. As at 31 December 2022, the directors do not consider it probable that a claim will be made against the Company under any of the guarantee. The maximum liability of the Company at the end of the reporting period under the guarantees issued is the bank loans borrowed by Daoyue and Healthy Wine of RMB927,924,000 (2021: RMB987,924,000). The guarantee in respect of bank loans borrowed by Daoyue was released after the completion of disposal of Daoyue.

The Company did not recognise any deferred income in respect of this guarantee as its fair value cannot be reliably measured using observable market data and its transaction price was nil.
