7. MANAGEMENT ANALYSIS AND DISCUSSION

(1) Change of Solvency Ratios and the Reasons therefor

As at June 30, 2025, the core solvency ratio and comprehensive solvency ratio of the Company were 139.54% and 190.94%, respectively, representing decreases of 6.58 percentage points and 8.40 percentage points as compared to those as at the end of the previous quarter. The main reason for the change is divided into two aspects:

Firstly, actual capital decreased by RMB1,162 million from the end of the previous quarter, as a result of which the comprehensive solvency ratio decreased by 0.23 percentage point. In particular, admitted assets rose by RMB219,104 million from the end of the previous quarter, which was primarily due to an increase of RMB189,872 million in investment assets, an increase of RMB13,742 million in cash and liquidity management tools, and an increase of RMB14,133 million in equities in subsidiaries, joint ventures and associates; and admitted liabilities rose by RMB220,267 million from the end of the previous quarter, which was mainly attributable to an increase of RMB154,498 million in reserve liabilities, an increase of RMB49,546 million in financial liabilities and an increase of RMB14,573 million in payables and advance receipts.

Secondly, the minimum capital increased by RMB22,042 million from the end of the previous quarter, as a result of which the comprehensive solvency ratio decreased by 8.17 percentage points. In particular, the minimum capital for insurance risk increased by RMB2,009 million, the minimum capital for market risk increased by RMB20,481 million, and the minimum capital for credit risk decreased by RMB878 million.

In general, the core solvency ratio and comprehensive solvency ratio of the Company are well above the regulatory requirements, and the Company has sufficient solvency.

(2) Change of Regulatory Indicators for Liquidity Risk and the Reasons therefor

At the end of the second quarter of 2025, the regulatory indicators for liquidity risk of the Company were conformed to the regulatory standards. There was no significant change in the liquidity coverage ratio as compared to that of the previous quarter. Backtracking of net cash flow from operating activities has shown positive deviation, and the cumulative net cash flow as at the end of second quarter amounted to RMB35,458 million. Pursuant to the provisions of the "Solvency Regulatory Rules for Insurance Companies No. 13: Liquidity Risk" and the relevant requirements, the Company has established a well-developed liquidity risk management mechanism to monitor various regulatory indicators for liquidity risk on a quarterly basis, with a view to preventing liquidity risk in an effective manner.

(3) Analysis of the Change in the IRR Results

According to the C-ROSS Supervision Information System of the NFRA, the result of the IRR of the Company in the first quarter of 2025 was AAA Category, which maintained at A Category for 28 consecutive quarters and remained stable.

(4) Analysis of the Key Risks Faced by the Company

In light of the financial environment and capital market, and after taking into account the measures adopted and initiatives taken by it in respect of risks, the Company conducted a comprehensive analysis of the key risks affecting solvency, with the specific details as follows:

Currently, the Company faces an increasingly complex and severe external environment in its business development. Globally, the momentum for economic growth is insufficient, and the factors contributing to geopolitical tensions are increasing, which may directly impact global market expectations and investment confidence, and heighten the risk of international market volatility. Domestically, the foundation for economic recovery remains unstable, with insufficient effective demand, which is accelerating the restructuring of industry operating logic. Since 2025, the Company has faced new pressures in its business development, with rampant new "illegal policy surrender" activities and unresolved industry irregularities. On the other hand, balancing asset safety and returns in a low-interest-rate environment still requires further refinement, and the pace of high-quality development needs further acceleration. Moreover, the life insurance industry is contending with frequent incidents of negative public opinion, rapidly disseminated through social media, resulting in a significant rise in industry complaints. In this context, as a leading enterprise in the industry, the Company faces heightened challenges in managing reputational risks, which are becoming increasingly unpredictable, contagious, and external in nature.
