Chairman's Letter to Shareholders

A Letter to Shareholders

Dear Shareholders of ZG Group,

The reason for writing this letter is that a single annual report and the figures within it are not sufficient to clearly depict some of the Company's strategic key points. Therefore, please allow me to briefly outline some of the major work highlights of the past year and the strategic intentions reflected therein.

As you know, after submitting the application on August 31, 2023, the Company went through a long waiting period before Listing, and was officially listed on March 10 last year. This prolonged waiting time exceeded management's expectations and indeed caused some unforeseen disruptions for the Company. However, after the Listing, within seven to eight months, the Company quickly made corresponding adjustments, successfully overcame some of these disruptions, and is now on a solid footing, moving forward towards new goals.

First, the Company has maintained its industry-leading business scale, with GMV exceeding RMB150 billion. After overcoming previous disruptions, all aspects of the business showed healthy growth in Q4 2025.

ZG Group's industry sector belongs to the industrial products B2B market, which is a sector with very significant economies of scale. As scale grows, we are able to better capture service-related income and reduce marginal costs of business. This is reflected in the detailed financial analysis, which I will not elaborate on here.

I believe that when the future turning point to profitability arrives, the market will once again respect our scale and seriously evaluate the commercial value contained therein.

Second, the main factors driving the Company's growth today are as follows:

1. EXTENSIVE USE OF AI TOOLS CONTINUES TO ENHANCE OUR SERVICE EFFICIENCY AND SUPPORT OUR ENTRY INTO MORE INDUSTRIAL PRODUCT CATEGORIES

As early as 14 years ago, when I founded ZG Group, I realized that the greatest information dilemma in this industry was that the information flow of a trade order and the trade flow were disconnected. The information flow includes the price, quantity, delivery location, after-sales conditions, etc. of industrial products, and this information is scattered in instant messaging software, from QQ in the past to WeChat today; while the trade flow (management of inventory, funds and invoices) is concentrated in enterprises' ERP software or Excel spreadsheets. This disconnection not only caused huge transaction costs but also reduced trade efficiency.

In ZG Group's external and internal business, billions of chat records are generated every year. After our customer service staff finish chatting with suppliers and users, the confirmed information flow is entered into the Company's ERP system to complete the transaction.

Therefore, it can be seen that ZG Group has always attached great importance to the operation and development around the integration of instant messaging software and trade flow, from the joint venture with Tencent in 2018 (around Enterprise QQ) to the signing of a strategic cooperation agreement with Enterprise WeChat in 2023. We are the only company in the industry with profound understanding and accumulation in this area.

Chairman's Letter to Shareholders

Since the essence of information flow lies in chats within instant messaging software, when ChatGPT emerged years ago, we attached great importance to the progress of related AI technologies. Because we deeply understand that in the world of all B2B trade, the most efficient form in the future must be “RM (Relationship Management) + Agent”. Simply put, it is “chat equals transaction”. Once the transaction information is confirmed, the Agent will automatically process it. If it is the procurement of standardized products, it may even evolve into an “Agent to Agent” form.

We are major beneficiaries of the rapid development of AI technology and we are fully prepared. Today, the Company has already begun to extensively adopt more than ten Agents such as AI Procurement Assistants and AI Sales Assistants, which have greatly improved operational efficiency. At the same time, in September 2025, the Company obtained the industry large-model filing from the Cyberspace Administration of China, and we have successfully obtained three important invention patents in the field of AI applications.

2. WITH THE APPLICATION OF AGENT TOOLS, THE COMPANY SUCCESSFULLY ENTERED CERTAIN INDUSTRIAL PRODUCT CATEGORIES WITH HIGHLY COMPLEX SPECIFICATIONS AND MATERIALS IN 2025

In traditional steel trading, the processing of information for product categories such as shaped steel and pipes has always been an industry challenge. These categories have extremely complex specification parameters. Taking pipes as an example, a steel pipe needs to be labeled with more than a dozen dimensions of information, including material, wall thickness, outer diameter, length, and anti-corrosion grade, and each dimension has a very wide range of values. In the past, the processing method could only rely on manual entry one by one, which was not only inefficient but also had a high error rate.

When our AI technology matured, AI Agents could quickly parse technical parameter documents sent by suppliers, automatically extract key information, and match it to the correct SKU classification. In 2025, we officially launched the “Shaped Steel and Pipes Marketplace” channel. AI Agents helped us quickly parse and process the collection, organization and quotation of complex material information such as shaped steel and pipes. In the past, a quotation sheet required half a day of work by a business staff member, but now AI can complete it within seconds, with accuracy far exceeding manual work, and the profit is several times that of ordinary steel.

At present, the “Shaped Steel and Pipes Marketplace” has already become one of the Company's key development categories. The market scale of these small industrial materials is enormous and has long been recognized in the industry as a high-value sector. In the past, due to the bottleneck in information processing, we had never been able to fully enter this market. Now, with the support of AI Agents, we are confident of achieving greater breakthroughs in this field and making it a new growth point for the Company's profits.

3. IN TERMS OF REGIONAL EXPANSION, THE COMPANY'S INTERNATIONALIZATION STRATEGY CONTINUES TO ADVANCE AND HAS ACHIEVED INTERIM RESULTS

Around the strategic goal of “rebuilding another ZG Group overseas within three years”, the Company has continued to deepen its layout in the Southeast Asia and Middle East markets, and has already achieved multiple breakthroughs.

Chairman's Letter to Shareholders

In the Southeast Asian market, countries such as Thailand, Indonesia and Malaysia are in the stage of accelerated industrialization. Coupled with the global computing power infrastructure entering a new construction cycle, Southeast Asia is gradually becoming an important destination for global computing power investment, opening up new growth space for the Company. In 2025, the Company participated in multiple computing center infrastructure projects, achieving effective accumulation in supply chain service capabilities, project execution experience and customer resources, and established stable cooperative relationships with several general contractors and owners of computing centers. In the future, the Company will form a professional computing infrastructure team, focusing on expanding related products such as power distribution, transformers, industrial control, cooling, and wires and cables, thereby promoting the extension of business into the AI infrastructure supply chain.

In the Middle East and North Africa region, on the basis of consolidating the UAE market, the Company successfully expanded into core countries such as Saudi Arabia and Egypt. In March 2026, the Company's first platform-type processing plant in Dubai Industrial City was officially put into operation. Once reaching full production, it will become the leading single-site steel processing base in the UAE. As an important node of the Company's "Middle East Steel Super Hub" strategy, this project will further connect key links such as trading, processing, logistics and warehousing, enhance regional fulfillment capabilities, and provide customers with integrated industrial product service solutions.

4. IN THE NON-STEEL COMMODITIES SECTOR, THE COMPANY CONTINUES TO ADVANCE INDUSTRIAL EXPANSION AND UPGRADE VALUE-ADDED SERVICES

In July 2025, the Company and Trafigura Group jointly established the LYKOS non-ferrous metals industrial internet platform. As Trafigura's exclusive digital platform for non-ferrous metals in China, focusing on online trading of copper, aluminum, lead, and zinc, the KYKOS platform achieved GMV of several billion yuan during its trial operation stage, validating the feasibility of the model and its growth potential, and laying a solid foundation for the Company's layout in the non-ferrous sector.

In the ZG Industrial Products business, the Company has continued to deepen its layout in the electronic components and industrial electrical fields. By leveraging AI technology to empower supply-demand matching and transaction efficiency, the business has developed rapidly. Within just over a year, the Company has established a leading advantage in certain sub-categories such as PLC, and through continuous expansion of product categories and brand resources, it is gradually evolving into a multi-category industrial products digital platform.

Overall, AI is continuously disrupting the circulation industry, with trading habits shifting from "communicate first, then trade" to "communication equals transaction". The Company is integrating Enterprise WeChat to build an "industry-level AI trading system gateway", and in the future, in addition to fixed fees, will achieve higher returns through multiple models such as AI profit sharing and token-based fees. AI and internationalization have become the Company's clear second growth curve. With the expansion of new business scale and structural optimization, the Company's profitability will continue to improve, and the turning point to profitability is gradually emerging. The Company will continue to advance the implementation of its strategy to create more sustainable returns for Shareholders.

Non-IFRS Financial Measures

To supplement our consolidated financial statements which are presented in accordance with IFRS, we also use non-IFRS measures, namely adjusted net loss (non-IFRS measure) and adjusted EBITDA (non-IFRS measure) as additional financial measures, which are not required by or presented in accordance with IFRS. We believe that such non-IFRS measures facilitate comparisons of operating performance from year to year and company to company by eliminating potential impacts of certain items, and provide useful information to investors and others in understanding and evaluating our consolidated results of operations in the same manner as it helps our management. However, our presentation of such non-IFRS measures may not be comparable to similarly titled measures presented by other companies. The use of such non-IFRS measures has limitations as an analytical tool, and you should not consider it in isolation from, or as substitute for analysis of, our results of operations or financial condition as reported under IFRS.

We define adjusted net loss (non-IFRS measure) as loss for the year adjusted by adding back fair value change of convertible preferred shares and warrants, share-based payment expenses, De-SPAC Transaction expenses and professional fees and expenses related to De-SPAC Transaction (as defined under the “Business Review and Outlook” section). The convertible preferred shares and warrants automatically convert into ordinary shares upon the satisfaction of certain conditions, and no further loss or gain on fair value changes is expected to be recognized afterwards. In addition, share-based payment expenses are non-cash in nature and do not result in cash outflow, and the adjustments have been consistently made during the Reporting Period. We also exclude professional fees, expenses related to De-SPAC Transaction and De-SPAC Transaction expenses. We define adjusted EBITDA (non-IFRS measure) as adjusted net loss (non-IFRS measure) for the year adjusted by adding back income tax expense, finance costs, interest on bank deposit related to borrowings and depreciation and amortization.

	For the Year Ended December 31,
	2025	2024

Financial Highlights

Included in the adjusted net loss (non-IFRS measure) and adjusted EBITDA (non-IFRS measure) of RMB222.1 million and loss of RMB175.2 million in 2025 (2024: RMB53.7 million and RMB7.1 million), respectively, an amount of RMB86.8 million, represents the expected credit loss recognized in relation to other receivables (2024: expected credit loss of RMB59.0 million), and a gain of RMB2.6 million (2024: loss of RMB0.9 million) from fair value changes of financial assets measured at fair value through profit or loss, and an amount of loss of RMB0 million (2024: loss of RMB7.3 million) from other gains and losses including loss on disposal of interests in associates, impairment loss on investments in associates and loss on disposal of subsidiaries which are not directly related to the Group's daily operation.

Management believes that excluding these items, which are not incurred during the Group's normal core business activities, provides a clearer reflection of the Group's underlying operating performance and better illustrates the results of its normal core business operations.

For illustrative purposes only, after excluding these amounts, the adjusted net loss (non-IFRS measure) and adjusted EBITDA (non-IFRS measure) would have been RMB138.0 million and loss of RMB91.0 million in 2025, respectively, compared to adjusted net income (non-IFRS measure) of RMB13.5 million, and adjusted EBITDA (non-IFRS measure) of RMB74.3 million in 2024, respectively.

Business Review and Outlook

OVERVIEW

Aquila Acquisition Corporation (“Aquila”), a special purpose acquisition company focused on technology-enabled businesses in Asia, completed a transformative De-SPAC transaction with ZG Group (formerly Zhaogang.com Inc.), upon completion of the De-SPAC transaction on March 10, 2025, now known as the Company. This business combination was effected through a series of agreements, including the Business Combination Agreement, under which Aquila merged with a wholly-owned subsidiary of ZG Group, resulting in Aquila becoming a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company. The transaction also included private investment in public equities totalling HK$535.8 million (the “PIPE Investments”) from eight investors, a bonus share issue to incentivize Aquila shareholders, and a promoter earn-out right granting additional shares to Aquila’s promoters upon meeting certain conditions. Valued at HK$10.0 billion, the De-SPAC transaction enabled the Company’s listing on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited (the “Stock Exchange”), marking the culmination of Aquila’s mission to partner with a leading player in the new economy sector – ZG Group, one of China’s largest digital platform for third-party steel transactions (the “De-SPAC Transaction”).

Upon completion of the De-SPAC Transaction, Aquila shareholders and PIPE investors became shareholders of the Company, which now operates as a listed entity on the Stock Exchange, advancing its mission to revolutionize the steel transaction industry through technology and innovation. This results announcement covers the Company’s first full financial year as a publicly listed entity, reflecting the continued momentum following the successful completion of the De-SPAC Transaction and ongoing strategic initiatives in its growth journey. The year 2025 continued to be a year of sustained progress and business development for the Group by leveraging its listed platform.

REVIEW AND OUTLOOK

In 2025, ZG Group’s domestic foundation steadily recovered, while its AI-driven and international businesses experienced rapid development, with revenue and gross profit contributions from new businesses rising significantly.

Against the backdrop of the flourishing AI era, the Company undertook a comprehensive upgrade of its strategy and positioning. ZG Group is a technology services company built upon authentic industrial transaction data, with AI Agents as the execution core, dedicated to achieving a complete closed loop from data insights to transaction execution. We are committed to providing customers in the industrial and construction sectors across China, Southeast Asia and the Middle East with integrated services such as intelligent transactions and smart logistics, while also engaging in supply chain fintech services through equity participation, continuously enhancing industrial efficiency through AI.

The Company has built datasets covering transactions, logistics and credit data based on hundreds of millions of conversational records and millions of structured order records generated annually. Leveraging these datasets, the Company has developed a full set of AI Agent ecosystem encompassing transactions and services, assisting in the delivery of high-quality integrated offerings such as intelligent transactions, smart logistics and supply chain fintech services. The full-chain services generate more high-quality data, which in turn creates a recurring growth flywheel.

Business Review and Outlook

In the AI domain, the Company established the Intelligent Transaction Business Group and the AI Application Laboratory. Through AI Agents, the Company expanded its product categories to electronic components, industrial electrical products and shaped steel and pipes products. As a result, AI-driven GMV surged by 464.1% to RMB1.7 billion, while AI revenue and AI gross profit grew by 217.5% and 202.8% year-on-year, reaching RMB334.6 million and RMB22.7 million, respectively. AI revenue accounted for 15.8% of total revenue, and AI gross profit represented 6% of total gross profit. In addition, the Company plans to sell AI Agents to ecosystem partners, thereby establishing an Agent-to-Agent transaction and service system, reshaping business processes through AI.

In globalization, the Company established a subsidiary in Saudi Arabia and plans to set up a company in Egypt. International business revenue increased by 71.5% year-on-year, while gross profit rose by 93.9%. International revenue accounted for 48.0% of total revenue, and international gross profit represented 21.3% of total gross profit. The Company expanded its business scope from transactions to processing and MRO products, with its processing plant scheduled to commence production in 2026. At present, the Group's international business supplies large volumes of steel and MRO products to computing center projects, and the Company plans to establish a computing infrastructure team to further expand into AI infrastructure-related products such as power distribution, transformers, industrial control, cooling systems, and wires and cables.

During the year, the Company achieved revenue of RMB2.1 billion, representing a year-on-year increase of 36.7%, and gross profit of RMB379.1 million, representing a year-on-year decrease of 11.1%, while operating cash flow remained positive. In the fourth quarter, the Company's fintech business resumed through equity participation, and logistics tonnage also rose rapidly. Steel transaction volume for the quarter reached 13.6 million tons, representing a year-on-year increase of 35.9%, and the Company achieved monthly profitability on its management accounts. For the full year, the Company recorded a loss of RMB591.7 million. The increase of loss was primarily due to non-operating and non-cash expenses arising from the De-SPAC listing and share-based payments.

Business Review and Outlook

I. Breakthrough Development in AI Business with Scaled Gross Profit Contribution

(1) Data + Scenarios Form ZG Group's Core AI Moat

Tracing the path of ZG Group's AI deployment, the early bottleneck restricting intelligent development lay in the difficulty of privatizing massive volumes of upstream and downstream interaction data, which prevented the formation of a high-quality data system to support the growth of intelligent agents. To address this, the Group has spent six years of continuous effort consolidating the foundation of AI transformation from three major directions: first, by establishing a joint venture with Tencent and entering into a strategic cooperation with WeCom, thereby creating a full-enterprise private domain environment and resolving the challenge of information not being retained; second, by implementing a procurement-sales separation reform to streamline information flows and lay the groundwork for standardized data; and third, by launching products such as AI transaction assistant and AI procurement assistant to build data bridges, serving as an important prelude to the Group's AI deployment.

On the solid foundation built over six years, the Group has now fully integrated AI technology into its entire business process. With "data + scenarios + ecosystem" as its core pillars, the Group has not only constructed high-quality industrial datasets but also innovated new AI transaction cooperation models, achieving significant growth in AI revenue and gross profit.

At the data level, the Group has deeply collaborated with WeCom to build a productive service system covering inquiry, transaction, logistics, warehousing, processing and finance. This has gradually formed a "digital mirror" reflecting the real operating mechanisms of industrial product transactions, and on this basis, the Group has accumulated industrial-grade digital assets with high reuse value. During the Reporting Period, the Company engaged third-party intermediary institutions to carry out digital asset capitalization for its core digital assets, including the self-developed AI Agent, logistics intelligent tracking APP, and automated transaction data analysis system etc.. As a result, the Group recognized digital assets amounting to over RMB7.28 million. At the scenario application level, ZG Group has independently developed 12 digital employees covering transactions, fulfillment and internal collaboration, embedding AI capabilities in the form of AI Agents deeply into the WeCom ecosystem. This enables seamless integration of AI with business scenarios without altering users' existing transaction habits. At the ecosystem level, ZG Group has established deep strategic cooperation with leading internet companies such as Tencent, building AI Agents that connect instant messaging (IM) platforms, thereby creating a new generation transaction and service system. In the future, the Company will serve as a core supplier of Tencent, assisting Tencent in upgrading WeCom into an industry-level AI operating system gateway.

Business Review and Outlook

(2) AI Generated Scaled Gross Profit Contribution

With the empowerment of AI, the platform's transaction categories further expanded into industrial electrical products (PLC, low-voltage electrical equipment, CNC tools), electronic components (chip connectors) and shaped steel and pipes. At the same time, we innovatively introduced a new AI Agent cooperation model for new categories — charging fees based on transaction matching effectiveness. This model not only aligns with the essence of B2B transactions but also enables the AI business to form a stable commercial closed loop. As of December 31, 2025, AI-related revenue accounted for 15.8% of the Group's total revenue, while gross profit accounted for 6%, with revenue generated from AI Agent transaction matching being the core component.

Meanwhile, AI-empowered transactions drove significant growth in ZG Industrial Products. By the end of 2025, ZG Industrial Products connected with 2,625 downstream customers, had 720 suppliers, covered 5,043 SKUs, and completed 53,876 orders, representing a year-on-year increase of 102%.

Business Review and Outlook

As the online steel transaction remains the Group's core foundation, AI has significantly enhanced operational efficiency, enabling instant quotations and completing transactions within three minutes, improving middle and back office efficiency by more than 60%, while substantially reducing manual errors and lowering labor costs. As of December 31, 2025, the Company's self-developed SaleMatch transaction engine processed over 16 million messages per day based on AI large models, achieving a parsing accuracy rate of more than 95%, and completed hundreds of millions of intelligent transaction matches. The "AI Procurement Assistant" automatically organizes market dynamics, intelligently monitors inventory price changes, and tracks price trends to assist procurement in smart pricing. It has already connected with nearly 14,000 supplier employees and automatically updated more than 49 million product information records. In sales and after-sales processes, FatCat Cloud's "AI Manager" acts as an enterprise intelligent manager for FatCat Cloud users, arranging AI business assistants to automatically generate, print, and send over 820,000 business documents, thereby improving efficiency. The AI Finance Specialist automates payment collection and disbursement, accelerating cash flow, and has processed nearly 5.5 million collection and payment orders. The AI Risk Control Specialist strictly reviews vehicle qualifications, monitors logistics, and ensures transaction security, having reviewed nearly 140,000 vehicle qualifications and supervised more than 610,000 logistics trajectories. The AI Warehousing Specialist operates 24/7 to accurately complete cargo ownership confirmation and instruction dispatch, having already been deployed in 230 warehouses and automatically processed more than 58,000 receipt confirmations.

(3) Organizational Structure Further Upgraded, Plans to Sell AI Products to Users

To further unlock the potential of AI, the Group completed an internal organizational restructuring in 2025. We established the Intelligent Transaction Business Group, focusing on the overall planning and implementation of AI transaction-related businesses, integrating business-side resources, and driving the rapid application of AI Agents across product categories to achieve deep integration of AI with business operations. At the same time, within the R&D Center, we set up the AI Application Laboratory to systematically advance the development of intelligent agent capabilities, with a focus on industrial large-model training, AI accuracy optimization and cross-scenario application adaptation, thereby enhancing the Group's core AI technological strength.

The Group has defined a clear future development path for AI, centered on "extending scenarios and enabling openness". Step by step, the Group will expand AI from a single transaction link to the full process covering logistics and payment, and upgrade from inquiry and quotation to conversational information interaction. In addition, the Company will sell AI digital employees to upstream and downstream users, with the AI procurement assistant priced at RMB60,000 per year and AI transaction assistant priced at RMB28,800 per year, commencing official sales on March 18, 2026. This enables AI Agents to evolve from "internal use" to "upstream and downstream empowerment", thereby creating a new Agent-to-Agent transaction process. Looking ahead, we will build a universal B2B full-process AI Agent for the entire industry value chain, further expanding AI revenue scale, improving gross profit levels, and consolidating the Group's leading position in the field of technology service platforms.

Business Review and Outlook

II. International Business Expanded into Processing and MRO products, Plans to Establish Computing Infrastructure Team

(1) Rapid Business Growth

The Group has set the strategic goal of “rebuilding another ZG Group overseas within three years”, continuously empowering the internationalization of Chinese manufacturing through digital innovation capabilities. In 2025, the Group achieved sustained breakthroughs in overseas trade and processing businesses, establishing a comprehensive localized supply chain service system abroad. The Group’s international business transaction volume exceeded 220,000 tons, representing a year-on-year increase of 98.8%. Operating revenue exceeded RMB1.0 billion, representing a year-on-year increase of 71.5%, while gross profit amounted to RMB80.9 million, representing a year-on-year increase of 93.9%.

It is worth noting that the Group has focused on deepening its presence in Southeast Asia and the Middle East markets. In 2025, the Company’s Southeast Asia business experienced explosive growth, with transaction volume increasing by 1,634.4% year-on-year and operating revenue accounting for 63.1% of international revenue, representing a year-on-year increase of 1,562.4%. Among them, the businesses in Thailand and Indonesia showed strong momentum, with transaction volumes increasing by 15,459.7% and 13,184.6% year-on-year, and revenues increasing by 15,932.1% and 9,654.8% year-on-year, respectively. At the same time, the Company successfully expanded into the two core markets of Saudi Arabia and Egypt, with the Saudi subsidiary already officially in operation, serving as an important strategic hub for the Middle East market layout.

(2) Business Model Expanded into Processing and MRO products

In international trading business, the Group leverages AI Agents to achieve efficient linkage between domestic procurement sourcing and international exports, creating an innovative “Domestic AI + Overseas Services” business model. At present, the Group has successfully supplied voltage transformers to PT Voksel Electric Tbk, a well-known listed company in Indonesia, and future business will further extend into markets such as Malaysia and Thailand. In processing business, by early-to-mid 2026, the Group’s first platform-based processing plant in Dubai Industrial City will commence operations, with an annual production capacity of 400,000 tons upon reaching full output. Looking ahead, our processing plant will deeply integrate transactions, finance, logistics and warehousing, striving to build a “Middle East Steel Super Hub”.

(3) Plans to Establish Computing Infrastructure Team

Global computing infrastructure construction has entered a new investment cycle, with Southeast Asia gradually becoming an important region for global data center investment. Areas such as Johor in Malaysia, the Eastern Economic Corridor in Thailand, and Greater Jakarta in Indonesia are forming regional-scale, ultra-large computing infrastructure clusters.

Business Review and Outlook

During the Reporting Period, leveraging its localized business presence in Thailand, Indonesia and Malaysia, the Group participated in data center projects covering approximately 1GW-scale computing infrastructure parks, with total infrastructure investment estimated to exceed USD10 billion. In cooperation with general contractors, the Group participated in and provided services for 13 representative data center projects in Southeast Asia, including GDS Data Center (萬國數據控股有限公司), PDG DATA CENTER PROJECT (Princeton Digital Group), DAMAC DIGITAL JKT 02 PROJECT (阿聯酋達馬克集團), GALAXY PEAK Data center project (Galaxy Peak Data Center Co., Ltd.), Z DATA GP3 PROJECT (ZDATA Technologies Co., Ltd.), MY07 (Bridge Data Centres (Malaysia) Sdn. Bhd.), MY02 (Bridge Data Centres (Malaysia) Sdn. Bhd.), MY03 (Bridge Data Centres (Malaysia) Sdn. Bhd.) etc.

With continued growth in computing infrastructure investment in Southeast Asia, the Group plans to establish a computing infrastructure team, leveraging its digital industrial supply chain platform capabilities, overseas localized service system and engineering client resources. The team will focus on selling equipment such as power distribution systems, transformers, industrial control systems, cooling systems, and wires and cables, driving computing infrastructure-related business to become an important growth direction of the Group's international operations.

III. Significant Enhancement in Value-Added Service Capabilities Driving Recovery in Core Transaction Volume

(1) Significant Enhancement in Value-Added Service Capabilities

In fintech, the Group advanced its business smoothly through equity participation. Leveraging the strong business advantages accumulated in terminal distribution by state-owned enterprises, the Group partnered with Chongqing Fumin Bank to launch the “Daolerong” (到樂融) industrial chain finance project. The Daolerong project aims to address the funding needs of material distribution for construction projects undertaken by central and state-owned enterprises through supply chain financial services. Under a non-recourse factoring model, the bank pays suppliers on behalf of customers, thereby optimizing cash flow. Daolerong fills a market gap by introducing innovative financial tools tailored to specific business scenarios, significantly enhancing the stability and competitiveness of the terminal distribution supply chain of central and state-owned enterprises. While providing financial services to customers, the project also increases procurement volume on the Group's platform, leveraging the Group's industry expertise and logistics trajectory verification value to achieve a win-win outcome. In December 2025, Daolerong was selected by Financial Times as part of the “2025 China Financial Institutions Golden Dragon Award List – Five Major Financial Articles” case studies. As of December 31, 2025, outstanding loan balances reached RMB1.6 billion, with cumulative transactions amounting to RMB2.2 billion.

Business Review and Outlook

In logistics business, 2025 marked a breakthrough as more users and suppliers recognized the value of the Company's logistics network and value-added services. Logistics revenue exceeded RMB480 million, representing a year-on-year increase of 19.2% compared with 2024, while gross profit approached RMB29.5 million. Logistics tonnage approached 8 million tons, representing a year-on-year increase of 15%. As of December 31, 2025, the platform had partnerships with 1,884 carriers and more than 241,000 trucks, respectively. In terms of business structure and focus, in 2025 the Group promoted the alliance model, with the FatCat Alliance achieving coverage in 100 cities in the fourth quarter, signing 190 franchisees, and completing 440,000 tons of shipments, representing a doubling of tonnage quarter-on-quarter. In December 2025, external business accounted for 52% of total logistics operations. In cooperation models, the Group actively expanded into the aftermarket and non-steel transaction businesses. By December 2025, total business volume approached 1 million tons. In the future, FatCat Logistics plans to launch an AI-powered intelligent capacity pool covering 95% of major routes nationwide, enabling automatic matching, automatic scheduling, automatic accounting, automatic monitoring and automatic forecasting, thereby creating a "super brain" for the logistics industry.

(2) Trading Business Recovered with Year-on-Year Growth in Q4, Operating Cash Flow Remained Positive

As of December 31, 2025, the Group's registered corporate users in steel trading exceeded 199,000, covering more than 684,000 SKUs. For the full year 2025, transaction volume reached 45.6 million tons, representing a decline of 11.3%, primarily due to the short-term impact of business adjustments. With the enhancement of value-added service capabilities and the significant strengthening of AI capabilities, transaction volume returned to growth in the fourth quarter, exceeding 13.6 million tons, representing year-on-year growth of over 35%. For the full year, the average commission per ton for small and medium-sized customers increased from RMB5.6 in the same period of 2024 to RMB5.9 (excluding one-off impacts). In addition, the KA business within transaction services has become more focused on industrial material end-users, now covering 80 industries including power generation, energy storage, chemicals, automobiles, home appliances, machinery and technology manufacturing. The gross profit of the KA business is significantly higher than that of SME customers, making it a key development focus for transaction services going forward.

In terms of cash flow, the Group continued to maintain resilient and stable cash flow, further optimizing the capital turnover cycle of upstream suppliers and downstream customers. In 2025, operating cash flow reached RMB681 million, representing year-on-year growth of more than 60%.

Business Review and Outlook

IV. Scale Efficiency and AI-Driven Internal Application Enhancing Operational Efficiency

As the Company's scale effects continue to be released, synergies have become increasingly evident. Benefiting from breakthroughs in cost reduction and efficiency improvement in 2025, the Group's investment in AI large models directly and significantly enhanced per capita output. While further optimizing upstream and downstream transaction linkages, this also drove clear operating leverage effects across the three major expense categories. Excluding the impact of share-based payment expenses, the ratios of administrative expenses, selling expenses and R&D expenses to revenue were 4.9%, 15.9% and 1.9%, respectively (compared with 5.0%, 18.9% and 3.1% in the same period of 2024). The Group's capital structure remained solid, with finance expenses achieving a substantial decline of more than 39%. In the fourth quarter of 2025, average gross profit per sales employee exceeded RMB112,000, representing an increase of nearly 15% compared with RMB98,000 in the fourth quarter of 2024. Looking ahead, the ratio of expenses to revenue is expected to further decline as the Group's AI strategy continues to be deeply implemented at the corporate level.

Management Discussion and Analysis

Transaction Services

Revenue generated from transaction services primarily consists of income from steel transactions on our digital platform, where we sell steel products to buyers through our digital platform and charge commissions from sellers on a per-ton basis. We do not obtain ownership of the steel products sold through our platform. In accordance with IFRS 15, we act as an agent because the specified goods remain under the control of the sellers before they are transferred to the buyers. Revenue related to commissions is reported on a net basis and recognized when the relevant transaction is completed (i.e., when the right to receive the commission becomes unconditional).

Revenue generated from transaction services decreased by 16.1% from RMB313.2 million for 2024, to RMB262.8 million for 2025 mainly due to (i) the decrease in our overall steel transaction volume, and (ii) our cessation of FatCat Bai Tiao and FatCat Easy Procurement and related systems by August 2024.

Transaction Support Services

The following table sets forth a breakdown of our transaction support services revenue by nature for the years indicated.

	For the Year Ended December 31,
	2025		2024
	RMB	(%)	RMB	(%)
(in thousands, except percentages)
Logistics, warehousing and processing services	489,617	100.0	412,916	95.6
Platform users	430,799	88.0	400,729	92.8
Non-platform users	58,818	12.0	12,187	2.8
Transaction settlement services	–	–	19,187	4.4
Total	489,617	100.0	432,103	100.0

Logistics, Warehousing and Processing Services

We coordinate logistics, warehousing, and processing for buyers who choose to use our services by engaging and matching suitable carriers for the delivery of steel products, and relevant warehousing and processing service providers for warehousing and steel product processing. Through this, we earn the fee difference between the fees charged to buyers on a per-ton basis and payments to partnered third-party service providers. Service income is recognized over the service period when the services are performed.

Revenue generated from transaction support services increased by 13.3% from RMB432.1 million for 2024, to RMB489.6 million for 2025, mainly due to the rise in logistics transportation volume.

Management Discussion and Analysis

Technology Subscription Services

We provide a range of digital solutions through our digital platform to facilitate user transaction services, including our SaaS products, data analytics, and other value-added services such as advertising services. Revenue generated from technology subscription services is recognized over the service period during which the services are provided. We have assessed that the stage of completion is determined based on the proportion of the total service period that has elapsed as of the end of the Reporting Period, as this is an appropriate method to measure progress towards complete satisfaction of these performance obligations in accordance with IFRS 15, because buyers simultaneously receive and consume the services we provide during the service period.

Revenue generated from technology subscription services increased by 2.4% from RMB28.3 million for 2024, to RMB29.0 million for 2025, mainly due to the increase in sales volume of our SaaS products.

Overseas Transaction Business

The following table sets forth a breakdown of revenue generated from our overseas transaction business by geographical location for the years indicated.

	For the Year Ended December 31,
	2025		2024
	RMB	(%)	RMB	(%)
(in thousands, except percentages)
Southeast Asia	642,013	63.1	38,619	6.5
Middle East	359,516	35.3	415,183	70.0
East Asia	15,915	1.6	139,506	23.5
Total	1,017,444	100.0	593,308	100.0

During the Reporting Period, we operated in overseas markets through a project direct supply model. In accordance with IFRS 15, we primarily act as a principal under the project direct supply model because we obtain control over the specified goods before they are transferred to the buyers. Revenue generated from overseas transaction business is primarily reported on a gross basis and recognized when signed receipt documents are received from buyers and the goods are received by buyers at the premises specified in the contract (i.e., when buyers obtain control over the goods and we fulfill our performance obligations).

Revenue generated from overseas transaction business increased by 71.5% from RMB593.3 million for 2024, to RMB1,017.4 million for 2025, mainly due to our deepening of international business layout, leveraging the development opportunities of the Belt and Road Initiative, coupled with strong infrastructure demand in Middle East and Southeast Asian countries. To this end, we invested more resources in developing overseas transaction business, resulting in increased transaction volumes in regions such as Thailand, Indonesia, and Malaysia. Meanwhile, our platform-based processing plant in Dubai industrial city will commence operations, with an annual production capacity of 400,000 tons upon reaching full output.

Management Discussion and Analysis

Non-steel Transaction Business

We actively develop diversified business lines across industry sectors, mainly including electrical and electronic products, non-ferrous metals, and wires and cables.

Revenue generated from non-steel transaction business increased by 74.6% from RMB184.2 million for 2024, to RMB321.5 million for 2025, mainly due to the continued expansion of our non-steel transaction business.

COST OF REVENUE

Our cost of revenue primarily consists of (i) logistics, warehousing, and processing costs; (ii) product procurement costs, representing steel product procurement costs for overseas transaction sales and other procurement costs of non-steel products; (iii) stamp duty and extra charges; and (iv) service fees.

The table below sets forth a breakdown of our cost of revenue by nature and as a percentage of total cost of revenue for the years indicated.

Service fees	2,003	0.1	2,271	0.2
Total	1,741,228	100.0	1,124,854	100.0

Our cost of revenue was RMB1,741.2 million for 2025, a 54.8% increase from RMB1,124.9 million for 2024, in line with our revenue growth. Our product procurement costs were RMB1,248.3 million for 2025, a 72.1% increase from RMB725.4 million for 2024, primarily due to the expansion of overseas transaction business and non-steel transaction business. Meanwhile, our logistics, warehousing and processing costs increased by 21.7% from RMB377.5 million in 2024 to RMB459.5 million in 2025, in line with the growth trend of our logistics revenue.

Transaction Support Services

Our gross profit from transaction support services was RMB29.9 million for 2025, a 44.6% decrease from RMB54.0 million for 2024, primarily due to our cessation of FatCat Bai Tiao and FatCat Easy Procurement and related systems by August 2024. Management Discussion and Analysis

In terms of transaction services, we charge sellers a commission and buyers a service fee. As we typically collect advances from buyers and disburse prepayments to sellers on a back-to-back basis, we recognize the advances from buyers and the prepayments to sellers.

Our trade receivables, prepayments and other receivables were RMB8,415.8 million as of December 31, 2025, a 3.3% decrease from RMB8,703.8 million as of December 31, 2024, mainly due to the decrease in prepayments to sellers relating to our transaction services, which was driven by lower outstanding balances of trading volume and a decline in average steel prices as of December 31, 2025. The decrease in trading volume was primarily attributable to our cessation of FatCat Bai Tiao and FatCat Easy Procurement by August 2024.

Management Discussion and Analysis

PLEDGE OF ASSETS

As of December 31, 2025, we had pledged land use rights and property, plant and equipment with net book values of RMB16,128,360 and RMB193,897,286, respectively, as security for the Group's short-term borrowings of RMB280,000,000. The Group is not allowed to use such assets as security for other borrowings.

TREASURY POLICIES

We adopt a prudent and conservative treasury management approach to maintain adequate liquidity and financial stability. The Board oversees the Group's liquidity position to ensure that funding requirements arising from operations and other commitments can be met as they fall due. Surplus funds, where available, are managed and invested prudently with due consideration of credit, liquidity and market risks.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE EXPOSURE

We primarily conduct our operations in China, with the majority of our transactions settled in RMB. Our exposure to foreign exchange risks arises predominantly from international transaction business, involving currencies such as the USD, Hong Kong dollar, Dirham, Ringgit, Indonesian Rupiah, Singapore dollar, and Thai Baht. Therefore, foreign exchange risks mainly stem from assets and liabilities recognized when we receive or anticipate receiving foreign currency from overseas business partners, or when we pay or expect to pay foreign currency to them. As of December 31, 2025, with the increase in the scale of international transaction business, we actively prevent exchange rate fluctuation risks to ensure overall control of exchange rate risks. Based on business development, we actively take the following measures to prevent foreign exchange risks: (i) reasonably arrange financing and foreign exchange receipts and payments, and timely adjust foreign exchange fund management plans; and (ii) in combination with changes in exchange rates and interest rates, timely use foreign exchange hedging tools to avoid foreign exchange risks.

EMPLOYEES

As of December 31, 2025, we employed 1,321 full-time staff. Our success hinges on our ability to attract, retain, and motivate qualified personnel. As part of our human resources strategy, we offer competitive salaries, performance-linked bonuses, and other incentives to our employees. Additionally, we have implemented robust training programs for new hires and provide tailored online and offline regular and professional training based on the needs of employees across different departments. These training courses are customized according to the roles and skill levels of new hires, current employees, and management.

As required by regulations in China, we participate in various government statutory employee benefit plans. These include social insurance plans – covering retirement, medical, unemployment, work-related injury, and maternity benefits – as well as housing provident funds. Under Chinese law, we must contribute to these employee benefit plans at specified percentages of our employees' salaries, bonuses, and certain allowances, up to a maximum amount determined periodically by local governments.

We believe that we maintain good working relationships with our employees and during the Reporting Period, we have not experienced any strikes nor labour disputes that had any material adverse effect on our operations.

CONTINUING CONNECTED TRANSACTIONS

Contractual Arrangements

Background of the Contractual Arrangements

We primarily engage in the provision of internet information services. As advised by our PRC Legal Advisor, internet information services are subject to foreign investment restrictions under current PRC laws and regulations. It was not viable for us to hold the Consolidated Affiliated Entities directly through equity ownership. Hence, in line with common practice, we, through WFOE 1, our indirect wholly-owned subsidiary, entered into the Contractual Arrangements with the Consolidated Affiliated Entities and the Registered Shareholders of Zhaogang Netcom to gain effective control over, and receive all the economic benefits generated by, the businesses currently operated by the Consolidated Affiliated Entities.

To comply with PRC laws and regulations, while availing ourselves of international capital markets and maintaining effective control over all of our operations, we commenced a series of reorganization activities. Pursuant to the Reorganization, the Contractual Arrangements currently in effect were entered into on May 18, 2018, whereby WFOE 1 acquired effective control over the Consolidated Affiliated Entities and has become entitled to all the economic benefits derived from their operations. The Contractual Arrangements enable the results of operations, assets, and liabilities of the Consolidated Affiliated Entities to be consolidated into our results of operations, assets, and liabilities under IFRS as if they are our subsidiaries. Under the Contractual Arrangements, we do not directly own any equity interest in the Consolidated Affiliated Entities.

The Consolidated Affiliated Entities are Zhaogang Netcom and its subsidiaries. As of December 31, 2025, the principal activities of each of the Consolidated Affiliated Entities are as follows:

To the extent that any of these entities conduct any material activities, they will only conduct activities subject to foreign investment restrictions, failing which we shall restructure them so that we will directly own them to the extent permitted by relevant laws.
- (3) These entities are investment holding entities of certain minority interests and do not have any business operations of their own.
- (4) We plan to dissolve this entity in accordance with our business plans.

A summary of our business that is subject to foreign investment restrictions in accordance with the Negative List (2024), effective from November 1, 2024, is set out below:

Categories	Our Business
Restricted Value-added telecommunication services business	The principal business of Zhaogang Netcom, Pangmao Logistics, and Pangmao Logistics Gansu involves the provision of internet information services through mobile apps and websites, which falls within the scope of “value-added telecommunications services” under the Telecommunications Regulations of the PRC 《中華人民共和國電信條例》. Each of Zhaogang Netcom, Pangmao Logistics, and Pangmao Logistics Gansu holds an ICP License for the provision of internet information services. According to the Negative List (2024), foreign investors are not allowed to hold more than 50% equity interests in any enterprise conducting such business (except for the specified exceptions).

Directors' Report

We operate a third-party digital platform, Zhaogang Mall, in the steel transaction sector that can be accessed via our official websites and mobile apps. Our core business model is centered around our digital platform, through which we offer the following services: (1) transaction services; and (2) transaction support services, including logistics services, warehousing and processing services, and technology subscription services (collectively, the "Supporting Services", and together with (1), the "Relevant Businesses").

The transaction services, being our core business, require an ICP license and are subject to foreign investment restrictions in the PRC. Zhaogang Netcom possesses an ICP License to carry out our transaction services through the digital platform. Therefore, as confirmed by our PRC Legal Advisor, the Consolidated Affiliated Entities (other than those with no material business activities as mentioned above) conduct value-added telecommunication services via our digital platform, which are considered "restricted" where foreign investors are restricted from holding more than 50% equity interests in companies providing such services and shall meet certain qualification requirements (the "Restricted Business").

Although the Supporting Services do not require an ICP License or fall into any foreign prohibited or foreign-restricted business category, the Supporting Services are fully integrated with the transaction services and cannot be separated from the digital platform. We are of the view that the Contractual Arrangements are narrowly tailored for the reasons below:

- (1) Our core business model is centered around our digital platform, Zhaogang Mall. Since our inception, our digital platform has provided the foundation for substantially all of our businesses. The transaction services offered through the digital platform generate the online traffic and users for almost all of our other business services. As we accumulated a substantial steel buyer and seller base, we expanded our business by providing transaction services under the ICP License;
- (2) The Supporting Services are fully integrated with the digital platform and rely on steel buyer and data accumulated from the digital platform. The Supporting Services are considered supplementary to the steel transactions on the digital platform, and splitting services across different companies and platforms, rather than offering them seamlessly through a single checkout process, would impair the convenience and efficiency of the digital platform for steel buyers and undermine the "one-stop" shop experience that lies at the core feature of the digital platform;
- (3) From a technological support perspective, there is only one unified technical support service. The integration of technical support extends to the entire steel transaction ecosystem, including but not limited to the transaction services and the Supporting Services. Our proprietary technology and cloud-based infrastructure supports each segment of our business. Therefore, it is technologically impossible to separate the transaction services and the Supporting Services into two different entities without fundamentally changing our digital platform;
- (4) From a documentation perspective, the agreements and invoices documenting the provision of services from the transaction services and/or certain services provided to the steel buyers and sellers are premised on the one unified platform; and

Directors' Report

- (5) Separating the Supporting Services would fundamentally undermine our transaction services. We benefit from our digital infrastructure that redefined the transaction process and service standards. Our logistics fulfillment network and technological management tools have enabled our digital transaction platform to cover pre-sales, in-sales, and post-sales transaction processes to achieve standardized management of buyers, sellers, and all aspects of transactions, which significantly improve transaction efficiency and effectively reduce the manpower involved. The Supporting Services, comprising logistics services, warehousing and processing services, and technology subscription services, are integral parts of our digital infrastructure and are practically inseparable from the digital platform.

Furthermore, in order to create more potential cooperation opportunities and obtain potential investment gain in the future, the Consolidated Affiliated Entities make minority investments in companies which we consider to have increasing market value and expanding prospects of business diversity. These investments are primarily made through (i) Zhaogang Netcom, and (ii) Qimao Equity Investment, Xinmao Equity Investment, and Steel Searcher, all of which are subsidiaries of Zhaogang Netcom. The investments are passive, non-controlling interests that are classified as (i) financial assets at fair value through profit or loss or (ii) interests in associates and joint ventures, and are neither consolidated in our financial statements nor form part of our group. Our Directors consider that the minority investments are not material to us. Given their immateriality and the fact that we do not consolidate or control these investee companies, our Directors consider that the Contractual Arrangements are narrowly tailored notwithstanding the minority investments.

By way of illustration that none of the investments held under the Contractual Arrangements are material to us, the long-term investments measured as financial assets at FVTPL and interests in associates and joint ventures held under the Contractual Arrangements accounted for approximately 0.8%, and 0.9% of our total assets as of December 31, 2024, and December 31, 2025, respectively. The long-term investments measured as financial assets at FVTPL and interests in associates and joint ventures attributed by the top 5 investments held under the Contractual Arrangements in aggregate account for approximately 0.4%, and 0.4% of our total assets as of December 31, 2024, and December 31, 2025, respectively.

The fair value gains on investments measured at fair value through profit or loss under the Contractual Arrangements and share of losses of results of associates and joint ventures under the Contractual Arrangements account for approximately 2.4% and 0.2% of our net losses for the year ended December 31, 2024 and December 31, 2025, respectively.

Based on the above and as set out in the section headed “Contractual Arrangements of Our Group” in the Prospectus, we believe that the Contractual Arrangements are narrowly tailored to minimize potential conflicts with relevant PRC laws and regulations.

Risks Relating to the Group's Contractual Arrangements

- If the PRC government finds that the structure we have adopted for our business operations does not comply with PRC laws and regulations, or if any new interpretation on these regulations emerges, we could be subject to severe penalties, including the nullification of the Contractual Arrangements, or be forced to relinquish our interests in those operations.
- We rely on Contractual Arrangements with our Consolidated Affiliated Entities and their shareholders for our business operations, which may not be as effective as direct ownership in providing operational control.

Directors' Report

- Any failure by our Consolidated Affiliated Entities or their shareholders to perform their obligations under our Contractual Arrangements with them would have a material adverse effect on our business.
- The shareholders, directors, and executive officers of our Consolidated Affiliated Entities may have potential conflicts of interest with us, which may materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial performance.
- Contractual Arrangements in relation to our Consolidated Affiliated Entities may be subject to scrutiny by the PRC tax authorities and they may determine that we or our Consolidated Affiliated Entities owe additional taxes, which could negatively affect our financial performance.
- We conduct business operations in the PRC through our Consolidated Affiliated Entities by way of the Contractual Arrangements, but certain of the terms of the Contractual Arrangements may not be enforceable under applicable laws.
- Our exercise of the options to acquire equity ownership and assets of our Consolidated Affiliated Entities may subject us to certain limitations and substantial costs.
- We may lose the ability to use licenses, approvals, and assets held by our Consolidated Affiliated Entities that are material to the operation of certain portions of our business if the Consolidated Affiliated Entities go bankrupt or become subject to a dissolution or liquidation proceeding.
- The interpretation and implementation of the PRC Foreign Investment Law may impact the viability of our current corporate structure, corporate governance and business operations.

The structuring and implementation of the Contractual Arrangements, including the detailed terms discussed in this annual report and in the Prospectus under the section headed “Contractual Arrangements of the Target Group”, are designed to mitigate these risks.

Summary of the Material Terms of the Contractual Arrangements

A summary description of each of the specific agreements that comprise the Contractual Arrangements is set out below.

Under the exclusive business cooperation agreement dated May 18, 2018, between Zhaogang Netcom and WFOE 1 (the “Exclusive Business Cooperation Agreement”), Zhaogang Netcom engaged WFOE 1, our indirect wholly-owned subsidiary, as its exclusive provider of technical support, consultation, and other services, including the following:

Pursuant to the Exclusive Business Cooperation Agreement, the service fees shall be 100% of the total consolidated profit of Zhaogang Netcom before tax, after the deduction of any accumulated deficit of the Consolidated Affiliated Entities in respect of the preceding financial years, operating costs, expenses, taxes, and other statutory contributions. Notwithstanding the foregoing, WFOE 1 may adjust the scope and amount of service fees according to PRC tax law and tax practices, and Zhaogang Netcom will accept such adjustments. WFOE 1 shall calculate the service fee on a monthly basis and issue a corresponding invoice to Zhaogang Netcom. Notwithstanding the payment arrangements in the Exclusive Business Cooperation Agreement, WFOE 1 may adjust the payment time and payment method, and Zhaogang Netcom will accept any such adjustment.

In addition, absent our prior written consent through WFOE 1, during the term of the Exclusive Business Cooperation Agreement, with respect to the services and other matters subject to the Exclusive Business Cooperation Agreement, Zhaogang Netcom shall not directly or indirectly enter into any same or similar exclusive business cooperation agreement with any third party, accept the same or any similar services provided by any third party, and shall not establish cooperation relationships similar to that formed by the Exclusive Business Cooperation Agreement with any third party. WFOE 1 may appoint other parties, who may enter into certain agreements with Zhaogang Netcom, to provide Zhaogang Netcom with the services under the Exclusive Business Cooperation Agreement.

The Exclusive Business Cooperation Agreement also provides that WFOE 1 has the exclusive proprietary rights to and interests in any and all intellectual property rights developed or created by Zhaogang Netcom during the performance of the Exclusive Business Cooperation Agreement.

Directors' Report

The Exclusive Business Cooperation Agreement became effective upon its execution and shall remain effective unless terminated (a) upon mutual agreement between WFOE 1 and Zhaogang Netcom; or (b) in writing by WFOE 1.

Exclusive Option Agreements

Zhaogang Netcom, WFOE 1 and the Registered Shareholders of Zhaogang Netcom, at that time entered into an option agreement on May 18, 2018, which was subsequently amended and restated on August 31, 2021 and on September 29, 2022 (the “Exclusive Option Agreement”). WFOE 1 may terminate the Exclusive Option Agreement upon written notice according to its own discretion.

Equity Pledge Agreements

Zhaogang Netcom, WFOE 1 and the Registered Shareholders at that time entered into an equity pledge agreement on May 18, 2018, which was subsequently amended and restated on August 31, 2021 and on September 29, 2022 (the "Equity Pledge Agreement"). Pursuant to the Equity Pledge Agreement, the Registered Shareholders pledged all their respective equity interests in Zhaogang Netcom, including any interest or dividend paid for the shares, to WFOE 1 as a security interest to guarantee the performance of contractual obligations and the payment of outstanding debts.

Directors' Report

The pledge in respect of Zhaogang Netcom takes effect upon the completion of registration with the relevant administration for industry and commerce and shall remain valid until after (i) all the contractual obligations of the Registered Shareholders and Zhaogang Netcom under the relevant Contractual Arrangements have been fully performed and all the outstanding debts of the Registered Shareholders and Zhaogang Netcom under the relevant Contractual Arrangements have been fully paid, or (ii) WFOE 1 and/or its appointee(s) decide to purchase all equity interests of Zhaogang Netcom to the extent acceptable by the PRC laws pursuant to the Exclusive Option Agreement, the equity interests of Zhaogang Netcom has been transferred to WFOE 1 and/or its appointee(s) pursuant to laws, and WFOE 1 and/or its appointee(s) could lawfully engage in the business of Zhaogang Netcom. Upon the occurrence and during the continuance of an event of default, WFOE 1 shall have the right to dispose the pledge after sending the notice of default to the Registered Shareholders. WFOE 1 shall also have the right to exercise all such rights as a secured party under any applicable PRC laws and the Equity Pledge Agreement, including without limitations, being paid in priority with the equity interests based on the monetary valuation that such equity interests are converted into or from the proceeds from auction or sale of the equity interest upon written notice to the Registered Shareholders.

Powers of Attorney

Under the Powers of Attorney, the Registered Shareholders irrevocably appointed WFOE 1 and its designated persons (including the Directors and their only and exclusive successors and liquidators replacing the Directors) as their attorneys-in-fact to exercise on their behalf:

- (1) to convene and attend shareholders' meetings of Zhaogang Netcom;
- (2) to file documents with the relevant company registry;

Directors' Report

Further, the Powers of Attorney shall remain effective for so long as each shareholder holds equity interest in Zhaogang Netcom.

Confirmations from the Relevant Individual Shareholders

Each of the Relevant Individual Shareholders, namely, Mr. Wang Dong, Mr. Wang Changhui and Mr. Rao Huigang, has confirmed to the effect that (i) his spouse does not have the right to claim any interests in the equity interest of Zhaogang Netcom (together with any other interests therein) or exert influence on the day-to-day management by Zhaogang Netcom; (ii) in the event of his death, incapacity, divorce or any other event which causes his/her inability to exercise his rights as a shareholder of Zhaogang Netcom, they will take necessary actions to safeguard their interests in Zhaogang Netcom (together with any other interests therein) and their successors (including his/her spouse) will not take any actions to claim any interests in Zhaogang Netcom (together with any other interests therein) such that its interests in Zhaogang Netcom shall not be affected.

Spouse Undertakings

The spouse of each of the Relevant Individual Shareholders, where applicable, has signed an undertaking (the "Spouse Undertakings") to the effect that (i) the respective Relevant Individual Shareholder is entitled to dispose of the interests in Zhaogang Netcom (together with any other interests therein) and (ii) she will not have any claim on such interests.

The PRC Legal Advisor to the Company is of the view that (i) the above arrangements provide protection to WFOE 1 (as an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of the Group) even in the event of death or divorce of any Relevant Individual Shareholders or bankruptcy of any corporate Registered Shareholders; and (ii) the death, bankruptcy or divorce (where applicable) of such shareholder would not affect the validity of the Contractual Arrangements, and pursuant to the Contractual Arrangements, relevant provisions thereunder (as applicable) are also binding on the successors or permitted transferees of the Registered Shareholders.

Based on the above, the Board is of the view that the Contractual Arrangements provide sufficient protection to the Group in the event of death, bankruptcy or divorce of the Registered Shareholders.

Directors' Report

Confirmation from the Company's independent auditor

According to the Practice Note 740 "Auditor's Letter on Continuing Connected Transactions Under Hong Kong Listing Rules" issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants, auditors are not typically required to provide confirmation regarding annual caps for transactions under the Contractual Arrangements. This is because the Stock Exchange does not usually mandate the establishment of annual caps for such transactions.

Having considered this, our independent external auditor has confirmed in a letter to our Board that, with respect to the continuing connected transactions of our Company:

- (1) nothing has come to the auditor's attention that causes the auditor to believe that the disclosed continuing connected transactions have not been approved by our Board;
- (2) nothing has come to the auditor's attention that causes the auditor to believe that the transactions were not entered into, in all material respects, in accordance with the relevant agreements governing such transactions; and
- (3) with respect to the transactions contemplated under the Contractual Arrangements among the Company, WFOE, the Consolidated Affiliated Entities and Registered Shareholders of Zhaogang Netcom, nothing has come to the auditor's attention that causes the auditor to believe that there were any dividends or other distributions made by the Consolidated Affiliated Entities to the Registered Shareholders of Zhaogang Netcom.

Confirmation from the Independent Non-Executive Directors

The Directors (including the independent non-executive Directors) are of the view that the Contractual Arrangements and the transactions contemplated therein are fundamental to the Group's legal structure and business operations, and the relevant transactions have been and will be entered into in its ordinary and usual course of business, are on normal commercial terms or better and in accordance with the relevant agreements governing them on terms that are fair and reasonable and in the interests of the Company Shareholders as a whole. The Directors (including the independent non-executive Directors) also confirmed that no dividends or other distributions have been made by the Consolidated Affiliated Entities to the holders of its equity interests which are not otherwise subsequently assigned or transferred to the Group.

RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

During the Reporting Period, save as disclosed in this annual report, no related party transaction disclosed in Note 40 to the consolidated financial statements falls under the definition of "connected transaction" or "continuing connected transaction" in Chapter 14A of the Listing Rules for which disclosure is required.

The Directors confirmed that the Company has complied with the disclosure requirements in accordance with Chapter 14A of the Listing Rules during the Reporting Period.

Directors' Report

WEIGHTED VOTING RIGHTS

The Company is controlled through a WVR structure. Under this structure, each Class A Share entitles the holder to exercise one vote, while each Class B Share entitles the holder to exercise ten votes on all matters requiring a shareholder vote, except for the Reserved Matters, where each share carries one vote as mandated by Rule 8A.24 of the Listing Rules. The Reserved Matters include: (i) any amendment to the constitutional documents of the Company, including variations to class rights, (ii) the appointment, election, or removal of independent non-executive Directors, (iii) the appointment or removal of the Company's auditors, and (iv) the voluntary liquidation or winding-up of the Company. This WVR structure allows Mr. Wang Dong and Mr. Wang Changhui, the holders of Class B Shares (the "WVR Beneficiaries"), to exercise voting control over the Company despite not holding a majority economic interest in its share capital. This arrangement enables the Company to benefit from the continued vision and leadership of the WVR Beneficiaries.

Shareholders and prospective investors should note the potential risks associated with investing in companies with a WVR structure. The interests of the WVR Beneficiaries may not always align with those of the Company Shareholders as a whole, and the WVR Beneficiaries are positioned to exert significant influence over the Company's affairs and the outcome of shareholders' resolutions, regardless of how other shareholders vote. Prospective investors are urged to carefully consider these factors before deciding to invest in the Company.

As of December 31, 2025, the WVR Beneficiaries collectively hold 36,198,114 Class A Shares, representing approximately 3.4% of the issued share capital and approximately 1.3% of the voting rights, and 190,945,862 Class B Shares, representing approximately 17.8% of the issued share capital and approximately 68.5% of the voting rights with respect to shareholders' resolutions on matters other than the Reserved Matters. Class B Shares may be converted into Class A Shares on a one-to-one basis. Upon full conversion of all issued and outstanding Class B Shares into Class A Shares, the Company would issue an additional 190,945,862 Class A Shares, bringing the total to 1,070,631,861 Class A Shares, with the converted shares then representing approximately 17.8% of the total issued share capital.

As of December 31, 2025, Mr. Wang Dong beneficially owns 157,464,385 Class B Shares, representing approximately 56.5% of the voting rights in the Company with respect to matters other than the Reserved Matters. These shares are held through Wangdong Holdings and Pangmao1 Ltd, with Pangmao1 Ltd wholly owned by Wangdong Holdings, a company indirectly wholly-owned by a trust established by Mr. Wang Dong for the benefit of himself and his family. As of the same date, Mr. Wang Changhui beneficially owns 33,481,477 Class B Shares, representing approximately 12.0% of the voting rights in the Company with respect to matters other than the Reserved Matters. COMPLIANCE WITH THE CORPORATE GOVERNANCE CODE

The Company and the Directors are committed to upholding and implementing the highest standards of corporate governance and recognize the importance of protecting the rights and interests of all shareholders of the Company (the “Shareholders”), including the rights and interests of the minority Shareholders. In light of this, the Company has established a corporate governance committee which has adopted terms of reference consistent with Code Provision D.3.1 of Appendix C1 to the Listing Rules, and Rule 8A.30 of the Listing Rules. The members of the corporate governance committee are independent non-executive Directors. The primary duties of the corporate governance committee are to ensure that the Company is operated and managed for the benefit of all Shareholders and to ensure the Company’s compliance with the Listing Rules and safeguards relating to the WVR structure of the Company.

Under the Company Articles, Shareholders, including holders of Class A ordinary shares, holding not less than one-tenth of the paid-up capital of the Company that carries the right of voting at general meetings (on a one share one vote basis) are entitled to convene an extraordinary general meeting of the Company and add resolutions to the meeting agenda. In addition, pursuant to the Shareholder communication policy, Shareholders are encouraged to put governance related matters to the Directors and the Company directly in writing.

The Group has adopted the following measures to ensure good corporate governance standards and to avoid potential conflicts of interest between the Group and the controlling shareholders (namely Mr. Wang Dong, Mr. Wang Changhui, Mr. Rao Huigang, Jeremy Global Development Limited, Kiwi Global Development Limited, Restriven Limited, Wangdong Holdings Limited, Pangmao1 Ltd, Wangchanghui Holdings Limited, Pangmao2 Ltd and Raohuigang Holdings Limited, collectively the “Controlling Shareholders”):

- (a) under the Company Articles, where a Shareholders’ meeting is to be held for considering proposed transactions in which the Controlling Shareholders has a material interest, the relevant Controlling Shareholders will not vote on the relevant resolutions;
- (b) the Company has established internal control mechanisms to identify connected transactions, and will comply with applicable Listing Rules upon entering into connected transactions;
- (c) the independent non-executive Directors will review, on an annual basis, whether there are any conflict of interest between the Group and the Controlling Shareholders and provide impartial and professional advice to protect the interests of the minority Shareholders;
- (d) the Controlling Shareholders will undertake to provide all information necessary, including all relevant financial, operational and market information and any other necessary information as required by the independent non-executive Directors of the Company for the purpose of their annual review;
- (e) the Company will disclose decisions on matters reviewed by the independent non-executive Directors either in its annual reports or by way of announcements as required by the Listing Rules;
- (f) where the Directors reasonably request the advice of independent professionals, such as financial advisors, the appointment of such independent professionals will be made at the Company’s expense;

Corporate Governance Report

- (g) the Company has appointed a compliance adviser, namely Altus Capital Limited, on a permanent basis, to provide advice and guidance to the Group in respect of compliance with the applicable laws and regulations, as well as the Listing Rules, including various requirements relating to corporate governance; and
- (h) the Company has established its Audit Committee, Remuneration Committee, Nomination Committee and Corporate Governance Committee with written terms of reference in compliance with the Listing Rules and the Corporate Governance Code and the Corporate Governance Report in Appendix C1 to the Listing Rules and Chapter 8A to the Listing Rules. All members of the audit committee and the corporate governance committee, including the chairman, are independent non-executive Directors.

Based on the above, during the Reporting Period, the Directors are satisfied that sufficient corporate governance measures have been put in place to manage conflicts of interest that may arise between the Group and the Controlling Shareholders, and to protect the minority Company Shareholders' interests. During the Reporting Period, the Company has complied with all applicable code provisions set out in the "Corporate Governance Code" contained in Part 2 of Appendix C1 to the Listing Rules as at June 30, 2025*, save for the deviation set out below.

Code Provision C.2.1 of the Corporate Governance Code

Pursuant to code provision C.2.1 of the Corporate Governance Code, the roles of chairman and chief executive should be separate and should not be performed by the same individual.

In view of Mr. Wang Dong's experience, personal profile and his roles in the Company and that Mr. Wang Dong has assumed the role of chief executive officer of the Company since its commencement of business, the Board considers it beneficial to the business prospect and operational efficiency of the Company that upon the completion of the De-SPAC Transaction, Mr. Wang Dong acts as the chairman of the Board and continues to act as the chief executive officer of the Company. While this will constitute a deviation from Code Provision C.2.1 of the Corporate Governance Code as set out in Appendix C1 to the Listing Rules, the Board believes that this structure will not impair the balance of power and authority between the Board and the management of the Company, given that: (i) decision to be made by the Board requires approval by at least a majority of the Directors; (ii) Mr. Wang Dong and the other Directors are aware of and undertake to fulfil their fiduciary duties as Directors, which require, among other things, that he acts for the benefit and in the best interests of the Company and will make decisions for the Company accordingly; and (iii) the balance of power and authority is ensured by the operations of the Board which comprises experienced and high caliber individuals who meet regularly to discuss issues affecting the operations of the Company. Moreover, the overall strategic and other key business, financial, and operational policies of the Company are made collectively after thorough discussion at both board and senior management levels. The Board will continue to review the effectiveness of the corporate governance structure of the Company in order to assess whether separation of the roles of chairman of the Board and chief executive officer is necessary.

* The amendments to the Corporate Governance Code effective on July 1, 2025 will apply to the corporate governance reports and annual reports of the Company for financial years commencing on or after July 1, 2025.

BOARD DIVERSITY POLICY

The Board has adopted a board diversity policy (the “Board Diversity Policy”) which sets out the approach to achieve diversity on the Board. The Company recognizes and embraces the benefits of having a diverse Board and sees increasing diversity at the board level as an essential element in supporting the attainment of the Company’s strategic objectives and sustainable development. The Company seeks to achieve board diversity through the consideration of a number of factors, including but not limited to talent, skills, gender, age, cultural and educational background, ethnicity, professional experience, independence, knowledge and length of service. The Company will select potential board candidates based on merit and his/her potential contribution to the Board while taking into consideration the Company’s own business model and specific needs from time to time. All Board appointments will be based on meritocracy and candidates will be considered against objective criteria, having due regard to the benefits of diversity on the Board.

The Board has a balanced mix of knowledge, skills and experience, including but not limited to operation, management, financial investment, administrative management, economics, electrical technology and marketing. They completed studies in various majors including but not limited to accounting, industrial and construction, physics, management and engineering. The Company has three independent non-executive Directors who have different industry backgrounds, including but not limited to accounting and auditing, management, industrial and construction. Furthermore, the Directors are of a wide range of age, from 37 to 66 years old. Taking into account the Company’s business model and specific needs as well as the presence of two female Directors out of a total of nine Board members (representing approximately 22.2%), the Company considers that the composition of the Board satisfies the Board Diversity Policy.

The Company recognizes the particular importance of gender diversity on the Board. The Company has taken and will continue to take steps to promote and enhance gender diversity at all levels of the Company, including but not limited to the board and senior management levels. The Board Diversity Policy provides that the Board shall take opportunities when selecting and making recommendations on suitable candidates for Board appointments with the aim of increasing the proportion of female members over time. The Company will also ensure that there is gender diversity when recruiting staff at the middle to senior levels so that the Company has a pipeline of female senior management and potential successors to the Board going forward. It is the Company’s objective to maintain an appropriate balance of gender diversity with reference to the stakeholders’ expectations and international and local recommended best practices.

Corporate Governance Report

As at December 31, 2025, the Group had 1,321 employees, of which approximately 60.7% were male and approximately 39.3% were female. The Board considers the current gender diversity across its employees to be satisfactory and targets to maintain the current gender ratio. The Company has been taking, and will continue to take steps to promote gender diversity across the workforce.

We value gender equality and diversity, and we have taken initiatives to broaden the impact of female workers, empower and encourage them to share their perspectives. We believe that diversity, including but not limited to gender diversity, is important to us in thriving in the business environment. We are on a continuous journey to improve well-being of everyone working with and for us. We foster inclusion and equality among employees from all backgrounds, regardless of religion, age, gender, disability, citizenship status and parental status, among others. Corporate Governance Report

DIVIDEND POLICY

Currently, the Company does not have a formal dividend policy or a fixed dividend payout ratio. Any future determination of the Company to pay dividends will be made at the discretion of its directors and may be based on a number of factors, including its future operations and earnings, capital requirements and surplus, general financial condition, contractual restrictions and other factors that the directors may deem relevant. As advised by the Company's Cayman Islands legal counsel, under Cayman Islands law, a position of accumulated losses and net liabilities does not necessarily restrict the Company from declaring and paying dividends to the shareholders out of either the Group's profit or its share premium account, provided this would not result in the Company being unable to pay its debts as they fall due in the ordinary course of business. You should not make your investment decision with the expectation of receiving cash dividends. The Company did not declare or pay any dividends on its Shares during the Reporting Period, and it does not anticipate paying any cash dividends in the foreseeable future.

The company is a holding company incorporated under the laws of the Cayman Islands. As a result, the payment and amount of any future dividend will also depend on the availability of dividends received from its subsidiaries. PRC laws require that dividends be paid only out of the profit for the year calculated according to PRC accounting principles, which differ in many aspects from the generally accepted accounting principles in other jurisdictions, including IFRS. PRC laws also require a foreign-invested enterprise to set aside at least 10% of its after-tax profits, if any, to fund its statutory reserves, which are not available for distribution as cash dividends. Distributions from the Company and its subsidiaries may also become subject to any restrictive covenants in bank credit facilities, convertible bond instruments or other agreements that the Company or its subsidiaries may enter into in the future.

RISK MANAGEMENT AND INTERNAL CONTROL

The Board acknowledges its responsibility for the risk management and internal control systems and for reviewing their effectiveness. Such systems are designed to manage rather than eliminate the risk of failure to achieve business objectives, and can only provide reasonable and not absolute assurance against material misstatement or loss.

We are dedicated to the establishment and maintenance of a robust risk management and internal control system. We have adopted and implemented risk management policies and corporate governance measures to identify, assess, evaluate and monitor key risks associated with our strategic objectives on an on-going basis. These risk management policies and internal control measures cover various aspects of our business operations, including supply chain management, financial control, information system and data security, human resources, and anti-corruption.

The main features of the risk management and internal control systems of the Group are to provide a clear governance structure, policies and procedures, as well as reporting mechanism to facilitate the Group to manage its risks across its business operations. The Group has established a risk management framework comprising the Board, the Audit Committee, the internal control and compliance department and the risk management department. Senior management of the Company identifies potential risks by collecting and analysing both internal and external information, and develops and updates risk handling mechanisms on a timely basis. In addition to the annual review conducted as part of the Group's audit process, the management of each business segment regularly evaluates risks arising in the course of its business operations and reports such risks to the risk management department. This reporting process enables the Group to respond to potential risks in a timely and appropriate manner.

Corporate Governance Report

The Company has established an internal audit function through its Internal Control and Compliance Department, which operates under the leadership of the Audit Committee and reports directly to it. This department conducts independent and objective audits to supervise and evaluate the authenticity, legality, and effectiveness of the Company's operations and internal controls. The internal audit function assists the Board and management in evaluating and improving the effectiveness and efficiency of corporate governance, risk management, and internal control processes. It also identifies deficiencies in internal control systems, provides improvement recommendations, and ensures the sustained effectiveness of these systems.

The Board, supported by the internal control and compliance department, is responsible for supervising the operations of our business and managing the overall risks of the Company. It is tasked with considering, reviewing, and approving significant business decisions involving material risk exposures. The Board monitors the ongoing implementation of our risk management policies and corporate governance measures. The risk management and internal control systems are reviewed at least annually by the Board, with additional reviews conducted as needed based on audit findings or significant changes in the business environment. The internal control and compliance department submits reports to the Audit Committee at least quarterly, detailing the execution of the internal audit plan, significant issues identified, and proposed solutions.

During the Reporting Period, our Board reviewed the Company's risk management and internal control systems and considers them effective and adequate.

Financial Reporting Risk Management

We have in place a set of accounting policies in connection with our financial reporting risk management, such as financial report management policies, budget management policies, financial statements preparation policies and financial department and staff management policies. We have various procedures in place to implement accounting policies, and our financial department reviews our management accounts based on such procedures. We also provide regular training to our financial department staff to ensure that they understand our accounting policies.

Information System Risk Management

Sufficient maintenance, storage and protection of user data and other related information is critical to our success. We have implemented relevant internal procedures and controls to ensure that user data is protected and to prevent leakage and loss of such data. During the Reporting Period, we did not experience any material information leakage or loss of user data. Our technology department is responsible for ensuring that the usage, maintenance and protection of data are in compliance with our internal rules and applicable laws and regulations. We provide regular training to our information technology team and discuss key issues or updates on a timely basis.

Human Resources Risk Management

We provide regular and specialized training tailored to the needs of our employees in different departments. We regularly organize internal training sessions conducted by senior employees or outside consultants on topics of interest of our employees. Through these trainings, we ensure that our staff's skill sets remain up-to-date and enable them to discover and meet our buyers' needs.

Corporate Governance Report

We have in place an employee handbook approved by our management and distributed to all our employees, which contains internal rules and guidelines regarding best commercial practices, work ethics, fraud prevention mechanisms, negligence and corruption. We provide employees with regular trainings and resources to explain the guidelines contained in the employee handbook.

Internal Control on Anti-Money Laundering and Anti-Corruption

To protect our reputation and integrity, we have implemented an anti-bribery, anti-money laundering and anti-corruption policy to prohibit any form of fraud or corruption by our service providers or employees during our business operations. Our service providers must comply with all the applicable laws and regulations relating to the procurement transactions in relevant countries or regions and our anti-bribery. SHARE SCHEMES

The Company has adopted the 2023 Pre-Listing Share Option Scheme and the 2025 Share Award Scheme.

2023 Pre-Listing Share Option Scheme

The 2023 Pre-Listing Share Option Scheme was approved by the Board of the Company on July 14, 2023, and remained in force during the Reporting Period. No further options will be granted under the 2023 Pre-Listing Share Option Scheme after the Listing, as it does not involve the grant of options by the Company to subscribe for Company Shares after Listing. The awards previously granted and outstanding, along with their evidencing original award agreements, shall survive the termination of the 2023 Pre-Listing Share Option Scheme and remain effective until the expiration of their original terms, as may be amended from time to time.

Purpose

The purpose of the 2023 Pre-Listing Share Option Scheme is to provide selected participants with the opportunity to acquire proprietary interests in the Company, to encourage them to enhance the value of the Company and its Shares for the benefit of the Company and its shareholders as a whole, and to offer a flexible means of retaining, incentivizing, rewarding, remunerating, compensating, and/or providing benefits to selected participants.

Other Information

Eligible Participants

The Directors may determine the persons belonging to any of the following classes of participants, who the Board considers, in its sole discretion, have contributed or will contribute to the Company, to take up options to subscribe for Shares:

- (a) any directors and former or present employees of any members of the Group; and
- (b) any consultants of the Group.

For the avoidance of doubt, the grant of any options by the Company for the subscription of Shares or other securities of the Group to any person who falls within any of these classes of participants shall not, by itself, unless the Directors otherwise so determine, be construed as a grant of option under the 2023 Pre-Listing Share Option Scheme.

The eligibility of any of these classes of participants to the grant of any option shall be determined by the Directors from time to time on the basis of the Directors' opinion as to the participant's contribution to the development and growth of the Group.

Types of Awards

The 2023 Pre-Listing Share Option Scheme permits the grant of options to subscribe for Shares. No other types of awards (such as restricted shares or restricted share units) are specified under this scheme.

Scheme Limit and Number of Company Shares Available for Grant

The maximum aggregate number of shares that may be issued upon exercise of all outstanding options granted and yet to be exercised under the 2023 Pre-Listing Share Option Scheme is 71,578,750 Shares (as adjusted after the Pre-Merger Capital Restructuring), representing the Scheme Limit. No options may be granted under any schemes of the Company (or its subsidiaries) if this will result in the Scheme Limit being exceeded. Option lapsed and/or cancelled in accordance with the terms of the 2023 Pre-Listing Share Option Scheme shall not be counted for the purpose of calculating the Scheme Limit and shall be counted for as unissued options, and the number of shares in respect of which options may be granted under the 2023 Pre-Listing Share Option Scheme shall be increased by the same number of options lapsed and/or cancelled.

Performance Targets

Unless as prescribed under the 2023 Pre-Listing Share Option Scheme or Directors otherwise determine and state in the offer of the grant of options to a grantee, a grantee is not required to achieve any performance targets before any options granted under the 2023 Pre-Listing Share Option Scheme can be exercised.

- (a) the number or nominal amount of shares comprised in each option so far as unexercised; and/or
- (b) the subscription price; and/or
- (c) the method of exercise of the option,

or any combination thereof, as the auditors or a financial advisor engaged by the Company for such purpose shall, at the request of the Company, certify in writing, either generally or as regards any particular grantee, to be in their opinion fair and reasonable, provided always that any such adjustments should give each grantee the same proportion of the equity capital of the Company as that to which that grantee was previously entitled prior to such adjustments, and no adjustments shall be made which will enable a share to be issued at less than its nominal value.

OPINION

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of ZG Group (the “Company”) and its subsidiaries, including the consolidated affiliated entities (collectively referred to as the “Group”) set out on pages 110 to 239, which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as at 31 December 2025, and the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, consolidated statement of changes in equity and consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including material accounting policy information and other explanatory information.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements give a true and fair view of the consolidated financial position of the Group as at 31 December 2025, and of its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with IFRS Accounting Standards as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (“IASB”) and have been properly prepared in compliance with the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance.

BASIS FOR OPINION

We conducted our audit in accordance with Hong Kong Standards on Auditing (“HKSA”) issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants (the “HKICPA”). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor’s Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the HKICPA’s Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (the “Code”), as applicable to audits of the financial statements of public interest entities. We have also fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

KEY AUDIT MATTER

Key audit matter is the matter that, in our professional judgment, was of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. This matter was addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on this matter.

Key audit matter	How our audit addressed the key audit matter
------------------	--

Revenue recognition for transaction services

The Group generates revenue mainly from commission income and sales of goods, which represent the majority of its total revenue. This revenue is primarily derived from two distinct business models: (i) acting as an agent and recognising revenue from commission income on a net basis, and (ii) acting as a principal and recognising revenue from sales of goods on a gross basis.

Commission income from transaction services is a key contributor to the Group's profitability, despite representing a relatively smaller portion of total revenue than sales of goods. The recognition of this income depends on whether the underlying performance obligations have been fully satisfied.

Given the significance of this revenue stream, any misstatement in the recognition of commission income from transaction services could have a material impact on the consolidated financial statements. We therefore identified the occurrence assertion for revenue recognition of commission income as a key audit matter.

Our procedures to address the risk of revenue recognition for transaction services included the following:

- Understanding the key controls over the occurrence assertion of revenue recognition for transaction services, and evaluating the design, implementation and operating effectiveness of these controls;
- Inquiring the Group's management and examining the contracts relating to transaction services, on a sampling basis, to assess the appropriateness of revenue presentation, the identification of performance obligations and the timing of revenue recognition determined by the management;
- Selecting samples from recorded revenue for transaction services and examining supporting evidence to verify whether performance obligations have been fulfilled. This includes tracing transactions to contracts with steel buyers and steel sellers that specify performance obligations, reviewing documentation evidencing goods delivery, and examining buyer acknowledgments confirming receipt; and
- Evaluating whether the revenue from transaction services recognized by the Group had been appropriately determined by management in accordance with IFRS 15 – Revenue from Contracts with Customers, based on the results of our audit procedures.

OTHER INFORMATION

The directors of the Company are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the annual report, but does not include the consolidated financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF DIRECTORS AND THOSE CHARGED WITH GOVERNANCE FOR THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation of the consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with IFRS Accounting Standards as issued by the IASB and the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance, and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the directors are responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

AUDITOR'S RESPONSIBILITIES FOR THE AUDIT OF THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion solely to you, as a body, in accordance with our agreed terms of engagement, and for no other purpose. We do not assume responsibility towards or accept liability to any other person for the contents of this report. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with HKSA's will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with HKSAAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Plan and perform the group audit to obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business units within the group as a basis for forming an opinion on the group financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and review of the audit work performed for purposes of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, actions taken to eliminate threats or safeguards applied.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine the matter that was of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and is therefore the key audit matter. We describe this matter in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partner on the audit resulting in this independent auditor's report is Leung, David (practicing certificate number: P05614).

1. GENERAL INFORMATION AND BASIS OF PREPARATION OF CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1.1 General Information

ZG Group (the “Company”) was incorporated in the Cayman Islands as an exempted company with limited liability under the laws of the Cayman Islands on 27 February 2012, and its shares have been listed by way of De-SPAC Transaction on the Main Board of the Stock Exchange on 10 March 2025.

Mr. Wang Dong, Mr. Wang Changhui, and Mr. Rao Huigang, co-founders of the Company, have acted in concert since 2018. Under a Concert Party Agreement (“CPA”) dated 28 August 2023, and a supplemental agreement following the exercise of options under the 2023 Pre-Listing Share Option Scheme, they, along with the entities controlled by Jeremy Global Development Limited, Kiwi Global Development Limited, Restriven Limited, Wangdong Holdings Limited, Pangmao1 Ltd, Wangchanghui Holdings Limited, Pangmao2 Ltd, and Raohuigang Holdings Limited (collectively, the “Concert Parties”), agreed to act in concert for all the operational and others matters at the board meeting or shareholders’ meeting of the Company. These entities are controlled by Mr. Wang Dong, Mr. Wang Changhui, and Mr. Rao Huigang, respectively.

Pursuant to the CPA, the Concert Parties agreed to vote in concert with the others on all operational and strategic matters at the Company’s board or shareholders’ meetings. In case of disputes, they are required to follow Mr. Wang Dong’s instructions. Consequently, Mr. Wang Dong, Mr. Wang Changhui, and Mr. Rao Huigang are collectively the controlling shareholders of the Company.

The addresses of the registered office and principal place of business of the Company are disclosed in the corporate information section to the annual report.

The Company acts as an investment holding company and its subsidiaries, including the consolidated affiliated entities (together, the “Group”), as set out in Note 42, are principally engaged in providing an integrated suite of services across the steel trading value chain, including online steel commerce, logistics, warehousing and processing services, and transaction services for steel in overseas.

The consolidated financial statements are presented in the currency of Renminbi (“RMB”), which is the Company’s functional currency.

1. GENERAL INFORMATION AND BASIS OF PREPARATION OF CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (CONTINUED)

1.2 Basis of preparation of consolidated financial statements

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with IFRS Accounting Standards issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (“IASB”). For the purpose of preparation of consolidated financial statements, information is considered material if such information is reasonably expected to influence decisions made by primary users. In addition, the consolidated financial statements include applicable disclosures required by the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on the Stock Exchange (“Listing Rules”) and by the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance.

Going concern assessment

The directors of the Company have, at the time of approving the consolidated financial statements, a reasonable expectation that the Group has adequate resources to continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future. Thus, they continue to adopt the going concern basis of accounting in preparing the consolidated financial statements.

De-SPAC Transaction

A business combination agreement (“Business Combination Agreement”) was entered into on 31 August 2023 and amended on 9 December 2024 among the Company, ZG Merger Sub Limited, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company (the “Merger Sub”) and Aquila Acquisition Corporation (the “Aquila”) as part of the De-SPAC Transaction (as defined below). Aquila was formerly a special purpose acquisition company (“SPAC”) incorporated on 25 November 2021 in Cayman Islands with limited liability company formed for the purpose of acquiring a suitable target that results in the listing of a successor company (referred to as a “De-SPAC Transaction”). Aquila completed its initial public offering on 18 March 2022.

Upon the completion of the De-SPAC Transaction on 10 March 2025 (the “Closing Date”):

- a) the Merger Sub and Aquila amalgamated and continue as one company, following which the separate existence of Merger Sub will cease and Aquila will continue as the surviving entity and become a direct, wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company;
- b) pursuant to the Business Combination Agreement, (i) each issued and outstanding ordinary share of the Company (other than those beneficially owned by Mr. Wang Dong or Mr. Wang Changhui) was redesignated and reclassified as a class A share of the Company, (ii) each issued and outstanding ordinary share of the Company beneficially owned by Mr. Wang Dong or Mr. Wang Changhui was redesignated and reclassified as a class B share of the Company, and (iii) each existing option of the Company (whether vested or unvested), that is outstanding and unexercised as of immediately prior to the Closing Date was, automatically and without any required action on the part of any holder or beneficiary thereof, be converted into an option to purchase the Company’s class A shares; and
- c) the Company’s 7,869,750 class A shares were issued to the non-redeeming Aquila’s class A shareholders pursuant to the Business Combination Agreement.

The results of Aquila have been consolidated to the Group’s consolidated financial statements since the Closing Date of the De-SPAC Transaction and further details of the De-SPAC Transaction are set out in Note 34.

Contractual Arrangements

The operating activities of the Group are mainly carried out by Zhaogang Netcom and its subsidiaries (collectively, the “Consolidated Affiliated Entities”).

On 14 June 2012, to comply with relevant laws and regulations in PRC which prohibit or restrict foreign ownership of companies that provide value-added telecommunications services, which include certain activities and services operated by the Group, Zhaogang Netcom, together with its then equity holder, Beijing Steel, and Beijing Steel’s then equity holders entered into a series of contractual arrangements with Beijing Gangfu Management Consulting Co., Ltd. (“Beijing Gangfu”), an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company.

On 18 May 2018, Zhaogang Netcom, together with its then equity holders, and Beijing Gangfu entered into a new series of contractual arrangements (the “Contractual Arrangements”) that supersede and replace in its entirety the prior contractual arrangements dated 14 June 2012. On the same day, the old contractual arrangement between Beijing Steel and Beijing Gangfu was terminated. Accordingly, Beijing Steel was disposed, with insignificant financial impact, and was no longer within the Group since then.

The Contractual Arrangements included exclusive business cooperation agreement, exclusive option agreement, equity pledge agreement, powers of attorney, confirmations from the relevant individual shareholders, spouse undertakings. The Contractual Arrangements can be extended at Beijing Gangfu’s option prior to the expiration date.

The Contractual Arrangements enable Beijing Gangfu to control Zhaogang Netcom by:

- Exercising effective financial and operational control over Zhaogang Netcom;
- Exercising equity holders’ voting rights of Zhaogang Netcom;
- Receiving substantially all of the economic interest returns generated by the Consolidated Affiliated Entities in consideration for the business support, technical and management consultancy services provided by Beijing Gangfu;

- Preventing Zhaogang Netcom to sell, transfer, pledge or dispose of in any manner any material assets of Zhaogang Netcom or legal or beneficial interest in the material business or revenues of Zhaogang Netcom or allow the encumbrance of any secured interest of Zhaogang Netcom without prior consent of Beijing Gangfu; and
- Preventing Zhaogang Netcom to make any distributions to their equity holders without prior consent of Beijing Gangfu.

Pursuant to the Contractual Arrangements, Beijing Gangfu continues to maintain its effective control over Zhaogang Netcom and entitled to all the economic benefits derived from its operations.

1.2 Basis of preparation of consolidated financial statements (continued)

The Company does not have any equity interest in the Consolidated Affiliated Entities. However, as a result of the Contractual Arrangements, the Company has power over the Consolidated Affiliated Entities, has rights to variable returns from its involvement with the Consolidated Affiliated Entities and is therefore considered to have control over the Consolidated Affiliated Entities. Consequently, the Company regards the Consolidated Affiliated Entities as indirect subsidiaries. The Group has consolidated the financial position and results of the Consolidated Affiliated Entities in the consolidated financial statements since the date of the Contractual Arrangements.

New and amendments to IFRS Accounting Standards in issue but not yet effective

The Group has not early applied the following new and amendments to the IFRS Accounting Standards that have been issued but not yet effective:

2. APPLICATION OF NEW AND AMENDMENTS TO IFRS ACCOUNTING STANDARDS AND MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICY INFORMATION (CONTINUED)

2.1 Application of new and amendments to ifrs accounting standards (continued)

IFRS 18 Presentation and Disclosure in Financial Statements

IFRS 18 Presentation and Disclosure in Financial Statements, which sets out requirements on presentation and disclosures in financial statements, will replace IAS 1 Presentation of Financial Statements. This new IFRS Accounting Standard, while carrying forward many of the requirements in IAS 1, introduces new requirements to present specified categories and defined subtotals in the statement of profit or loss; provide disclosures on management-defined performance measures (MPMs) in the notes to the financial statements and improve aggregation and disaggregation of information to be disclosed in the financial statements. In addition, some IAS 1 paragraphs have been moved to IAS 8 Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors (the title of which will be changed to Basis of Preparation of Financial Statements upon effective of IFRS 18) and IFRS 7. Minor amendments to IAS 7 Statement of Cash Flows and IAS 33 Earnings per Share are also made.

IFRS 18, and amendments to other standards, will be effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2027, with early application permitted. IFRS 18 requires retrospective application with specific transition provisions. The application of the new standard is not expected to have significant impact on the financial performance and positions of the Group in terms of recognition and measurement. However, it is expected to affect the structure and presentation of the consolidated statement of profit or loss. Additional disclosures required for the Group's MPMs will be disclosed in a separate note to the consolidated financial statements.

2.2 Material accounting policy information

Basis of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements incorporate the financial statements of the Company and entities (including structured entities) controlled by the Company and its subsidiaries. Control is achieved when the Company:

- has power over the investee;
- is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee; and
- has the ability to use its power to affect its returns.

The Group reassesses whether or not it controls an investee if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the three elements of control listed above.

2. APPLICATION OF NEW AND AMENDMENTS TO IFRS ACCOUNTING STANDARDS AND MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICY INFORMATION (CONTINUED)

When the Group has less than a majority of the voting rights of an investee, it considers that it has power over the investee when the voting rights are sufficient to give it the practical ability to direct the relevant activities of the investee unilaterally. The Group considers all relevant facts and circumstances in assessing whether or not the Group's voting rights in an investee are sufficient to give it power, including:

- the size of the Group's holding of voting rights relative to the size and dispersion of holdings of the other vote holders;
- potential voting rights held by the Group, other vote holders and other parties;
- rights arising from other contractual arrangements; and
- any additional facts and circumstances that indicate that the Group has, or does not have, the current ability to direct the relevant activities at the time that decisions need to be made, including voting patterns at previous shareholders' meetings.

Consolidation of a subsidiary begins when the Group obtains control over the subsidiary and ceases when the Group loses control of the subsidiary. Specifically, income and expenses of a subsidiary acquired or disposed of during the year are included in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income from the date the Group gains control until the date when the Group ceases to control the subsidiary.

Profit or loss and each component of other comprehensive income are attributed to the owners of the Company and to the non-controlling interests. Total comprehensive income of the subsidiaries is attributed to the owners of the Company and to the non-controlling interests even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance.

All intragroup assets and liabilities, equity, income, expenses and cash flows relating to transactions between members of the Group are eliminated in full on consolidation.

Non-controlling interests in subsidiaries are presented separately from the Group's equity therein, which represent present ownership interests entitling their holders to a proportionate share of net assets of the relevant subsidiaries upon liquidation.

Acquisition of a subsidiary not constituting a business and settle through allotment of Company's shares

When the Group acquires a group of assets and liabilities that do not constitute a business, the Group identifies and recognises the individual identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed by allocating the purchase price first to the financial assets and financial liabilities at the respective fair values, the remaining balance of the purchase price is then allocated to the other individual identifiable assets and liabilities on the basis of their relative fair values at the date of purchase. Such a transaction does not give rise to goodwill or bargain purchase gain.

The issue of equity is accounted for as an equity-settled share-based payment transaction and measured indirectly by reference to the fair value of the equity instruments issued in accordance IFRS 2 "Share-based Payment", any excess of the fair value of the Company's share issued over the fair value of the SPAC's identifiable net assets represents a listing service received by the Company and is recognised in profit or loss as De-SPAC Transaction expenses arising from capital reorganisation.

Goodwill

Goodwill arising on an acquisition of a business is carried at cost as established at the date of acquisition of the business (see the accounting policy above) less accumulated impairment losses, if any.

For the purposes of impairment testing, goodwill is allocated to each of the Group's cash-generating units (or group of cash-generating units) that is expected to benefit from the synergies of the combination, which represent the lowest level at which the goodwill is monitored for internal management purposes and not larger than an operating segment.

A cash-generating unit (or group of cash-generating units) to which goodwill has been allocated is tested for impairment annually or more frequently when there is indication that the unit may be impaired. For goodwill arising on an acquisition in an annual period, the cash-generating unit (or group of cash-generating units) to which goodwill has been allocated is tested for impairment before the end of that annual period. If the recoverable amount is less than its carrying amount, the impairment loss is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill and then to the other assets on a pro-rata basis based on the carrying amount of each asset in the unit (or group of cash-generating units).

Goodwill (continued)

On disposal of the relevant cash-generating unit or any of the cash-generating unit within the group of cash-generating units, the attributable amount of goodwill is included in the determination of the amount of profit or loss on disposal. When the Group disposes of an operation within the cash-generating unit (or a cash-generating unit within a group of cash-generating units), the amount of goodwill disposed of is measured on the basis of the relative values of the operation (or the cash-generating unit) disposed of and the portion of the cash-generating unit (or the group of cash-generating units) retained.

The Group's policy for goodwill arising on the acquisition of an associate and a joint venture is described below.

Investments in associates and a joint venture

An associate is an entity over which the Group has significant influence. Significant influence is the power to participate in the financial and operating policy decisions of the investee but is not control or joint control over those policies.

A joint venture is a joint arrangement whereby the parties that have joint control of the arrangement have rights to the net assets of the joint arrangement. Joint control is the contractually agreed sharing of control of an arrangement, which exists only when decisions about the relevant activities require unanimous consent of the parties sharing control.

The results and assets and liabilities of associates and joint ventures are incorporated in the consolidated financial statements using the equity method of accounting. The financial statements of associates and a joint venture used for equity accounting purposes are prepared using uniform accounting policies as those of the Group for like transactions and events in similar circumstances.

Under the equity method, an investment in an associate or a joint venture is initially recognised in the consolidated statement of financial position at cost and adjusted thereafter to recognise the Group's share of the profit or loss and other comprehensive income of the associate or joint venture. When the Group's share of losses of an associate or joint venture exceeds the Group's interest in that associate or joint venture (which includes any long-term interests that, in substance, form part of the Group's net investment in the associate or joint venture), the Group discontinues recognising its share of further losses. Additional losses are provided for, and a liability is recognised only to the extent that the Group has incurred legal or constructive obligations or made payments on behalf of the associate or joint venture.

2. APPLICATION OF NEW AND AMENDMENTS TO IFRS ACCOUNTING STANDARDS AND MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICY INFORMATION (CONTINUED)

An investment in an associate or a joint venture is accounted for using the equity method from the date on which the investee becomes an associate or a joint venture. On acquisition of the investment in an associate or a joint venture, any excess of the cost of the investment over the Group's share of the net fair value of the identifiable assets and liabilities of the investee is recognised as goodwill, which is included within the carrying amount of the investment. Any excess of the Group's share of the net fair value of the identifiable assets and liabilities over the cost of the investment, after reassessment, is recognised immediately in profit or loss in the period in which the investment is acquired.

The Group assesses whether there is an objective evidence that the interest in an associate or a joint venture may be impaired. When any objective evidence exists, the entire carrying amount of the investment (including goodwill) is tested for impairment in accordance with IAS 36 as a single asset by comparing its recoverable amount (higher of value in use and fair value less costs of disposal) with its carrying amount. Any impairment loss recognised is not allocated to any asset, including goodwill, that forms part of the carrying amount of the investment. Any reversal of that impairment loss is recognised in accordance with IAS 36 to the extent that the recoverable amount of the investment subsequently increases.

When the Group ceases to have significant influence over an associate or joint control over a joint venture, it is accounted for as a disposal of the entire interest in the investee with a resulting gain or loss being recognised in profit or loss. When the Group retains an interest in the former associate or joint venture and the retained interest is a financial asset within the scope of IFRS 9, the Group measures the retained interest at fair value at that date and the fair value is regarded as its fair value on initial recognition. The difference between the carrying amount of the associate or joint venture and the fair value of any retained interest and any proceeds from disposing of the relevant interest in the associate or joint venture is included in the determination of the gain or loss on disposal of the associate or joint venture. In addition, the Group accounts for all amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income in relation to that associate or joint venture on the same basis as would be required if that associate or joint venture had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities. Therefore, if a gain or loss previously recognised in other comprehensive income by that associate or joint venture would be reclassified to profit or loss on the disposal of the related assets or liabilities, the Group reclassifies the gain or loss from equity to profit or loss (as a reclassification adjustment) upon disposal/partial disposal of the relevant associate or joint venture.

When a group entity transacts with an associate or a joint venture of the Group, profits and losses resulting from the transactions with the associate or joint venture are recognised in the consolidated financial statements only to the extent of interests in the associate or joint venture that are not related to the Group.

Revenue from contracts with customers

Information about the Group's accounting policies relating to revenue from contracts with customers is provided in Note 4.

Leases

The Group assesses whether a contract is or contains a lease based on the definition under IFRS 16 at inception of the contract. Such contract will not be reassessed unless the terms and conditions of the contract are subsequently changed.

The Group as a lessee

Allocation of consideration to components of a contract

For a contract that contains a lease component and one or more additional lease or non-lease components, the Group allocates the consideration in the contract to each lease component on the basis of the relative stand-alone price of the lease component and the aggregate stand-alone price of the non-lease components.

Non-lease components are separated from lease component and are accounted for by applying other applicable standards.

Short-term leases

The Group applies the short-term lease recognition exemption to leases office premises and dormitory that have a lease term of 12 months or less from the commencement date and do not contain a purchase option. Lease payments on short-term leases are recognised as expense on a straight-line basis unless another systematic basis is more representative of the time pattern in which economic benefits from the leased assets are consumed.

Right-of-use assets

The cost of right-of-use assets include the amounts of the initial measurement of the lease liabilities.

Right-of-use assets are measured at cost, less any accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, and adjusted for any remeasurement of lease liabilities.

Right-of-use assets are depreciated on a straight-line basis over the shorter of its estimated useful life and the lease term.

The Group presents right-of-use assets as a separate line item on the consolidated statement of financial position.

Leases (continued)

Refundable rental deposits

Refundable rental deposits paid are accounted under IFRS 9 and initially measured at fair value. Adjustments to fair value at initial recognition are considered as additional lease payments and included in the cost of right-of-use assets.

Lease liabilities

At the commencement date of a lease, the Group recognises and measures the lease liability at the present value of lease payments that are unpaid at that date. In calculating the present value of lease payments, the Group uses the incremental borrowing rate at the lease commencement date if the interest rate implicit in the lease is not readily determinable. The incremental borrowing rate depends on the term, currency and start date of the lease.

The lease payments include:

- fixed payments (including in-substance fixed payments) less any lease incentives receivable; and
- variable lease payments that depend on an index or a rate, initially measured using the index or rate as at the commencement date.

After the commencement date, lease liabilities are adjusted by interest accretion and lease payments.

The Group presents lease liabilities as a separate line item on the consolidated statement of financial position.

Foreign currencies

In preparing the financial statements of each individual group entity, transactions in currencies other than the functional currency of that entity (foreign currencies) are recognised at the rates of exchanges prevailing on the dates of the transactions. At the end of each reporting period, monetary items denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the rates prevailing at that date. Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are not retranslated.

Exchange differences arising on the settlement of monetary items, and on the retranslation of monetary items, are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they arise.

For the purposes of presenting the consolidated financial statements, the assets and liabilities of the Group's foreign operations are translated into the presentation currency of the Group (i.e. RMB) using exchange rates prevailing at the end of each reporting period. Income and expenses items are translated at the average exchange rates for the period. Exchange differences arising, if any, are recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity under the heading of other reserve (attributed to non-controlling interests as appropriate).

Borrowing costs

All borrowing costs are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they are incurred.

Government grants

Government grants are not recognised until there is reasonable assurance that the Group will comply with the conditions attaching to them and that the grants will be received.

Government grants are recognised in profit or loss on a systematic basis over the periods in which the Group recognises as expenses the related costs for which the grants are intended to compensate.

Government grants related to income that are receivable as compensation for expenses or losses already incurred or for the purpose of giving immediate financial support to the Group with no future related costs are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they become receivable. Such grants are presented under "other income".

Employee benefits

Retirement benefits costs

Payments to defined contribution retirement benefit plans/state-managed retirement benefit schemes/the mandatory provident fund scheme are recognised as an expense when employees have rendered service entitling them to the contributions.

Short-term employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits are recognised at the undiscounted amount of the benefits expected to be paid as and when employees rendered the services. All short-term employee benefits are recognised as an expense unless another IFRS Accounting Standard requires or permits the inclusion of the benefit in the cost of an asset.

A liability is recognised for benefits accruing to employees (such as wages and salaries) after deducting any amount already paid.

Share-based payments

Equity-settled share-based payment transactions

Share options granted to employees

Equity-settled share-based payments to employees (including directors of the Company) are measured at the fair value of the equity instruments at the grant date.

The fair value of the equity-settled share-based payments determined at the grant date without taking into consideration all non-market vesting conditions is expensed on a straight-line basis over the vesting period, based on the Group's estimate of equity instruments that will eventually vest, with a corresponding increase in equity (equity-settled share-based compensation reserve). At the end of each reporting period, the Group revises its estimate of the number of equity instruments expected to vest based on assessment of all relevant non-market vesting conditions. The impact of the revision of the original estimates, if any, is recognised in profit or loss such that the cumulative expense reflects the revised estimate, with a corresponding adjustment to the equity-settled share-based compensation reserve. For share options that vest immediately at the date of grant, the fair value of the share options granted is expensed immediately to profit or loss.

When the share options are exercised, the amount previously recognised in equity-settled share-based compensation reserve will be transferred to share capital and share premium. When the share options are forfeited after the vesting date or are still not exercised at the expiry date, the amount previously recognised in equity-settled share-based compensation reserve will continue to be held in equity-settled share-based compensation reserve.

Restricted share award payment transactions

For shares of the Group granted under 2025 Share Award Scheme ("Restricted Shares", as defined in Note 32), the fair value of the employee services received is determined by reference to the fair value of the Restricted Shares granted at the grant date and is expensed on a straight-line basis over the vesting period, with a corresponding increase in equity (equity-settled share-based compensation reserve). At the end of each reporting period, the Group revises its estimates of the number of Restricted Shares that are expected to vest based on assessment of all relevant non-market vesting conditions. The impact of the revision of the estimates, if any, is recognized in the profit or loss such that the cumulative expense reflects the revised estimate, with a corresponding adjustment to equity-settled share-based compensation reserve.

When the Restricted Shares are vested, the amount previously recognized in equity-settled share-based compensation reserve will be transferred to share premium.

Taxation

Income tax expense represents the sum of current and deferred income tax expense.

The tax currently payable is based on taxable profit for the year. Taxable profit differs from loss before tax because of income or expense that are taxable or deductible in other years and items that are never taxable or deductible. The Group's liability for current tax is calculated using tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of each reporting period.

Deferred tax is recognised on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the consolidated financial statements and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit. Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognised for all taxable temporary differences. Deferred tax assets are generally recognised for all deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which those deductible temporary differences can be utilised. Such deferred tax assets and liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from the initial recognition (other than in a business combination) of assets and liabilities in a transaction that affects neither the taxable profit nor the accounting profit and at the time the transaction does not give rise to equal taxable and deductible temporary differences. In addition, deferred tax liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from the initial recognition of goodwill.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries and associates, and interests in joint venture, except where the Group is able to control the reversal of the temporary difference and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future. Deferred tax assets arising from deductible temporary differences associated with such investments and interests are only recognised to the extent that it is probable that there will be sufficient taxable profits against which to utilise the benefits of the temporary differences and they are expected to reverse in the foreseeable future.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of each reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the liability is settled or the asset is realised, based on tax rate (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

The measurement of deferred tax liabilities and assets reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Group expects, at the end of the reporting period, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.

For leasing transactions in which the tax deductions are attributable to the lease liabilities, the Group applies IAS 12 requirements to the lease liabilities and the related assets separately. The Group recognises a deferred tax asset related to lease liabilities to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary difference can be utilised and a deferred tax liability for all taxable temporary differences.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and when they relate to income taxes levied to the same taxable entity by the same taxation authority.

Current and deferred tax are recognised in profit or loss, except when they relate to items that are recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case, the current and deferred tax are also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity respectively. Where current tax or deferred tax arises from the initial accounting for a business combination, the tax effect is included in the accounting for the business combination.

Property and equipment

Property and equipment are tangible assets that are held for use in the supply of services, or for administrative purposes. Property and equipment are stated in the consolidated statement of financial position at cost less subsequent accumulated depreciation and subsequent accumulated impairment losses, if any.

Buildings and equipment in the course of construction for production, supply or administrative purposes are carried at cost, less any recognised impairment loss. Costs include any costs directly attributable to bringing the asset to the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the manner intended by management, including costs of testing whether the related assets is functioning properly and, for qualifying assets, borrowing costs capitalised in accordance with the Group's accounting policy. Depreciation of these assets, on the same basis as other property assets, commences when the assets are ready for their intended use.

When the Group makes payments for ownership interests of properties which includes both leasehold land and building elements, the entire consideration is allocated between the leasehold land and the building elements in proportion to the relative fair values at initial recognition. To the extent the allocation of the relevant payments can be made reliably, interest in leasehold land is presented as "right-of-use assets" in the consolidated statement of financial position. When the consideration cannot be allocated reliably between non-lease building element and undivided interest in the underlying leasehold land, the entire properties are classified as property and equipment.

Depreciation is provided to write off the cost of items of property and equipment other than construction in progress less their residual values over their estimated useful lives using the straight-line method. The estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis.

An item of property and equipment is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from the continued use of the asset. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition of the asset is determined as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the item is recognised in profit or loss.

Intangible assets

Intangible assets acquired separately

Intangible assets with finite useful lives that are acquired separately are carried at costs less accumulated amortisation and any accumulated impairment losses. Amortisation for intangible assets with finite useful lives is recognised on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives. The estimated useful life and amortisation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate being accounted for on a prospective basis.

Internally-generated intangible assets – research and development expenditure

Expenditure on research activities is recognised as an expense in the period in which it is incurred.

An internally-generated intangible asset arising from development activities (or from the development phase of an internal project) is recognised if, and only if, all of the following have been demonstrated:

- the technical feasibility of completing the intangible
- asset so that it will be available for use or sale;
- the intention to complete the intangible asset and use or sell it;
- the ability to use or sell the intangible asset;
- how the intangible asset will generate probable future economic benefits;
- the availability of adequate technical, financial and other resources to complete the development and to use or sell the intangible asset; and
- the ability to measure reliably the expenditure attributable to the intangible asset during its development.

The amount initially recognized for internally-generated intangible asset is the sum of the expenditure incurred from the date when the intangible asset first meets the recognition criteria listed above. Where no internally-generated intangible asset can be recognized, development expenditure is recognized in profit or loss in the period in which it is incurred.

Subsequent to initial recognition, internally-generated intangible assets are reported at cost less accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment losses (if any), on the same basis as intangible assets that are acquired separately.

Intangible assets acquired in a business combination

Intangible assets acquired in a business combination are recognised separately from goodwill and are initially recognised at their fair value at the acquisition date (which is regarded as their cost).

Subsequent to initial recognition, intangible assets acquired in a business combination with finite useful lives are reported at costs less accumulated amortisation and any accumulated impairment losses, on the same basis as intangible assets that are acquired separately. Intangible assets acquired in a business combination with indefinite useful lives are carried at cost less any subsequent accumulated impairment losses.

An intangible asset is derecognised on disposal, or when no future economic benefits are expected from use or disposal. Gains and losses arising from derecognition of an intangible asset, measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset, are recognised in profit or loss when the asset is derecognised.

Impairment on property and equipment, right-of-use assets, and intangible assets other than goodwill

At the end of each reporting period, the Group reviews the carrying amounts of its property and equipment, right-of-use assets, intangible assets with finite useful lives to determine whether there is any indication that these assets have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the relevant asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss (if any). Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives are tested for impairment at least annually, and whenever there is an indication that they may be impaired.

The recoverable amount of property and equipment, right-of-use assets, and intangible assets are estimated individually. When it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount individually, the Group estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs.

In testing a cash-generating unit for impairment, corporate assets are allocated to the relevant cash-generating unit when a reasonable and consistent basis of allocation can be established, or otherwise they are allocated to the smallest group of cash generating units for which a reasonable and consistent allocation basis can be established. The recoverable amount is determined for the cash-generating unit or group of cash-generating units to which the corporate asset belongs, and is compared with the carrying amount of the relevant cash-generating unit or group of cash-generating units.

Recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset (or a cash-generating unit) for which the estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted.

If the recoverable amount of an asset (or a cash-generating unit) is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (or a cash-generating unit) is reduced to its recoverable amount. For corporate assets or portion of corporate assets which cannot be allocated on a reasonable and consistent basis to a cash-generating unit, the Group compares the carrying amount of a group of cash-generating units, including the carrying amounts of the corporate assets or portion of corporate assets allocated to that group of cash-generating units, with the recoverable amount of the group of cash-generating units. In allocating the impairment loss, the impairment loss is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill (if applicable) and then to the other assets on a pro-rata basis based on the carrying amount of each asset in the unit or the group of cash-generating units. The carrying amount of an asset is not reduced below the highest of its fair value less costs of disposal (if measurable), its value in use (if determinable) and zero. The amount of the impairment loss that would otherwise have been allocated to the asset is allocated pro rata to the other assets of the unit or the group of cash-generating units. An impairment loss is recognised immediately in profit or loss.

Where an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset (or cash-generating unit or a group of cash-generating units) is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but so that the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset (or a cash-generating unit or a group of cash-generating units) in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognised in profit or loss immediately.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents presented on the consolidated statement of financial position include:

- (a) cash, which comprises of cash on hand and demand deposits; and
- (b) cash equivalents, which comprises of short-term deposits (generally with original maturity of three months or less). Cash equivalents are held for the purpose of meeting short-term cash commitments rather than for investment or other purposes.

For the purposes of the consolidated statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents consist of cash and cash equivalents as defined above.

Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Costs of inventories are determined on a first-in-first-out method. Net realisable value represents the estimated selling price for inventories less all estimated costs of completion and costs necessary to make the sale. Costs necessary to make the sale include incremental costs directly attributable to the sale and non-incremental costs which the Group must incur to make the sale including costs to be incurred in marketing, selling and distribution.

Financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised when a group entity becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Financial assets and financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value except for trade receivables arising from contracts with customers which are initially measured in accordance with IFRS 15. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets or financial liabilities at FVTPL) are added to or deducted from the fair value of the financial assets or financial liabilities, as appropriate, on initial recognition. Transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets or financial liabilities at FVTPL are recognised immediately in profit or loss.

The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a financial asset or financial liability and of allocating interest income and interest expense over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts and payments (including all fees and points paid or received that form an integral part of the effective interest rate, transaction costs and other premiums or discounts) through the expected life of the financial asset or financial liability, or, where appropriate, a shorter period, to the net carrying amount on initial recognition.

Interest income which are derived from the Group's ordinary course of business are presented as revenue.

Financial assets

All regular way purchases or sales of financial assets are recognised and derecognised on a trade date basis. Regular way purchases or sales are purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within the time frame established generally by regulation or convention in the market place concerned.

All recognised financial assets are measured subsequently in their entirety at either amortised cost or fair value, depending on the classification of the financial assets.

Classification and subsequent measurement of financial assets

Financial assets that meet the following conditions are subsequently measured at amortised cost:

- the financial asset is held within a business model whose objective is to collect contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Financial assets that meet the following conditions are subsequently measured at FVTOCI:

- the financial asset is held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both selling and collecting contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

(i) Amortised cost and interest income

Interest income is recognised using the effective interest method for financial assets measured subsequently at amortised cost and debt instruments/receivables subsequently measured at FVTOCI. Interest income is calculated by applying the effective interest rate to the gross carrying amount of a financial asset, except for financial assets that have subsequently become credit-impaired (see below). For financial assets that have subsequently become credit-impaired, interest income is recognised by applying the effective interest rate to the amortised cost of the financial asset from the next reporting period. If the credit risk on the credit-impaired financial instrument improves so that the financial asset is no longer credit-impaired, interest income is recognised by applying the effective interest rate to the gross carrying amount of the financial asset from the beginning of the reporting period following the determination that the asset is no longer credit-impaired.

(ii) Financial assets classified as at FVTOCI

Subsequent changes in the carrying amounts for financial assets classified as at FVTOCI as a result of interest income calculated using the effective interest method are recognised in profit or loss. The amounts that are recognised in profit or loss are the same as the amounts that would have been recognised in profit or loss if these debt instruments/receivables had been measured at amortised cost. All other changes in the carrying amount of these receivables are recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated under the heading of other reserve. Impairment allowances are recognised in profit or loss with corresponding adjustment to other comprehensive income without reducing the carrying amounts of these receivables. When these receivables are derecognised, the cumulative gains or losses previously recognised in other comprehensive income are reclassified to profit or loss.

(iii) Financial assets at FVTPL

Financial assets that do not meet the criteria for being measured at amortised cost or FVTOCI or designated as FVTOCI are measured at FVTPL.

Financial assets at FVTPL are measured at fair value at the end of each reporting period, with any fair value gains or losses recognised in profit or loss. The net gain or loss recognised in profit or loss excludes any dividend or interest earned on the financial asset and is included in the "other gains and losses" line item.

Impairment of financial assets subject to impairment assessment under IFRS 9

The Group performs impairment assessment under ECL model on financial assets including trade receivables, other receivables and receivables at FVTOCI which are subject to impairment assessment under IFRS 9. The amount of ECL is updated at each reporting date to reflect changes in credit risk since initial recognition.

Lifetime ECL represents the ECL that will result from all possible default events over the expected life of the relevant instrument. In contrast, 12-month ECL ("12m ECL") represents the portion of lifetime ECL that is expected to result from default events that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date. Assessments are done based on the Group's historical credit loss experience, adjusted for factors that are specific to the debtors, general economic conditions and an assessment of past events and current conditions at the reporting date as well as the forecast of future economic conditions.

The Group always recognises lifetime ECL for trade receivables resulting from transactions that are within the scope of IFRS 15.

For all other instruments, the Group measures the loss allowance equal to 12m ECL, unless there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, in which case the Group recognises lifetime ECL. The assessment of whether lifetime ECL should be recognised is based on significant increases in the likelihood or risk of a default occurring since initial recognition.

(i) Significant increase in credit risk

In assessing whether the credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition, the Group compares the risk of a default occurring on the financial instrument as at the reporting date with the risk of a default occurring on the financial instrument as at the date of initial recognition. In making this assessment, the Group considers both quantitative and qualitative information that is reasonable and supportable, including historical experience and forward-looking information that is available without undue cost or effort.

In particular, the following information is taken into account when assessing whether credit risk has increased significantly:

- an actual or expected significant deterioration in the financial instrument's external (if available) or internal credit rating;
- significant deterioration in external market indicators of credit risk, e.g. a significant increase in the credit spread, the credit default swap prices for the debtor;
- existing or forecast adverse changes in business, financial or economic conditions that are expected to cause a significant decrease in the debtor's ability to meet its debt obligations;
- an actual or expected significant deterioration in the operating results of the debtor;
- an actual or expected significant adverse change in the regulatory, economic, or technological environment of the debtor that results in a significant decrease in the debtor's ability to meet its debt obligations.

Irrespective of the outcome of the above assessment, the Group presumes that the credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition when contractual payments are aged more than 180 days, unless the Group has reasonable and supportable information that demonstrates otherwise.

Despite the foregoing, the Group assumes that the credit risk on the other financial instrument has not increased significantly since initial recognition if the other financial instruments (not including trade receivables resulting from transactions that are within the scope of IFRS 15) are determined to have low credit risk at the reporting date. Other financial instruments are determined to have low credit risk if (i) it has a low risk of default, (ii) the borrower has a strong capacity to meet its contractual cash flow obligations in the near term and (iii) adverse changes in economic and business conditions in the longer term may, but will not necessarily, reduce the ability of the borrower to fulfil its contractual cash flow obligations. The Group considers other financial instruments to have low credit risk when it has an internal or external credit rating of “investment grade” in accordance with the globally understood definition or if an external rating is not available, the asset has an internal rating of “performing”. Performing means that the counterparty has a low risk of default (i.e. stated-owned enterprise and government-linked corporation) and the contractual payment are aged less than 180 days.

The Group regularly monitors the effectiveness of the criteria used to identify whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk and revises them as appropriate to ensure that the criteria are capable of identifying significant increase in credit risk before the amount becomes past due.

(ii) Definition of default

For internal credit risk management, the Group considers an event of default occurs when information developed internally or obtained from external sources indicates that the debtor is unlikely to pay its creditors, including the Group, in full (without taking into account any collaterals held by the Group).

Irrespective of the above analysis, the Group considers that default has occurred when a financial asset is more than 90 days past due for corporate/individual debtors unless the Group has reasonable and supportable information to demonstrate that a more lagging default criterion is more appropriate.

(iii) Credit-impaired financial assets

A financial asset is credit-impaired when one or more events that have a detrimental impact on the estimated future cash flows of that financial asset have occurred. Evidence that a financial asset is credit-impaired includes observable data about the following events:

- (a) significant financial difficulty of the issuer or the borrower;
- (b) a breach of contract, such as a default or past due event;
- (c) the lender(s) of the borrower, for economic or contractual reasons relating to the borrower's financial difficulty, having granted to the borrower a concession(s) that the lender(s) would not otherwise consider;
- (d) it is becoming probable that the borrower will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganisation; or
- (e) the disappearance of an active market for that financial asset because of financial difficulties.

(iv) Write-off policy

The Group writes off a financial asset when there is information indicating that the counterparty is in severe financial difficulty and there is no realistic prospect of recovery, for example, when the counterparty has been placed under liquidation or has entered into bankruptcy proceedings. Financial assets written off may still be subject to enforcement activities under the Group's recovery procedures, taking into account legal advice where appropriate. A write-off constitutes a derecognition event. Any subsequent recoveries are recognised in profit or loss.

(v) Measurement and recognition of ECL

The measurement of ECL is a function of the probability of default, loss given default (i.e. the magnitude of the loss if there is a default) and the exposure at default. The assessment of the probability of default and loss given default is based on historical data and forward-looking information. Estimation of ECL reflects an unbiased and probability-weighted amount that is determined with the respective risks of default occurring as the weights.

Generally, the ECL is the difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to the Group in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the Group expects to receive, discounted at the effective interest rate determined at initial recognition.

Trade and other receivables that are credit-impaired are assessed for ECL individually. Lifetime ECL for remaining trade receivables are considered on a collective basis taking into consideration past due information and relevant credit information such as forward looking macroeconomic information.

For collective assessment, the Group takes into consideration the following characteristics when formulating the grouping:

- Past-due status;
- Nature, size and industry of debtors; and
- External credit ratings where available.

The grouping is regularly reviewed by management to ensure the constituents of each group continue to share similar credit risk characteristics.

Interest income is calculated based on the gross carrying amount of the financial asset unless the financial asset is credit-impaired, in which case interest income is calculated based on amortised cost of the financial asset.

Except for financial assets that are measured at FVTOCI, the Group recognises an impairment gain or loss in profit or loss for all financial instruments by adjusting their carrying amount, with the exception of trade receivables and other receivables where the corresponding adjustment is recognised through a loss allowance account.

Foreign exchange gains and losses

The carrying amount of financial assets that are denominated in a foreign currency is determined in that foreign currency and translated at the spot rate at the end of each reporting period. Specifically:

- For financial assets measured at amortised cost, exchange differences are recognised in profit or loss in the 'Other gains and losses' line item as part of the net foreign exchange gain/(loss);
- For financial assets measured at FVTOCI, exchange differences on the amortised cost of the debt instrument are recognised in profit or loss in the 'Other gains and losses' line item as part of the net foreign exchange gain/(loss). As the foreign currency element recognised in profit or loss is the same as if it was measured at amortised cost, the residual foreign currency element based on the translation of the carrying amount (at fair value) is recognised in other comprehensive income in the other reserve;
- For financial assets measured at FVTPL, exchange differences are recognised in profit or loss in the 'Other gains and losses' line item as part of the fair value gain/(loss) of financial assets.

Derecognition of financial assets

The Group derecognises a financial asset only when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the asset expire, or when it transfers the financial asset and substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the asset to another entity. If the Group neither transfers nor retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership and continues to control the transferred asset, the Group recognises its retained interest in the asset and an associated liability for amounts it may have to pay. If the Group retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of a transferred financial asset, the Group continues to recognise the financial asset and also recognises a collateralised borrowing for the proceeds received.

On derecognition of a financial asset measured at amortised cost, the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the sum of the consideration received and receivable is recognised in profit or loss. In addition, on derecognition of financial assets measured at FVTOCI, the cumulative gain or loss previously accumulated in other reserve is reclassified to profit or loss.

Financial liabilities and equity

Classification as debt or equity

Debt and equity instruments are classified as either financial liabilities or as equity in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangements and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument.

Equity instruments

An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of an entity after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments issued by the Group are recognised at the proceeds received, net of direct issue costs.

Financial liabilities

All financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method or at FVTPL.

Financial liabilities at amortised cost

Financial liabilities, including trade, bills and other payables, advances received from buyers in relation to transaction services and transaction support services, and bank and other borrowings are subsequently measured at amortised cost, using the effective interest method.

Financial liabilities at FVTPL

Financial liabilities are classified as at FVTPL when the financial liability is (i) contingent consideration of an acquirer in a business combination to which IFRS 3 applies, (ii) held for trading or (iii) it is designated as at FVTPL.

A financial liability is held for trading if:

- it has been incurred principally for the purpose of repurchasing it in the near term; or
- on initial recognition it is part of a portfolio of identified financial instruments that the Group manages together and has a recent actual pattern of short-term profit-taking; or
- it is a derivative, except for a derivative that is a financial guarantee contract or a designated and effective hedging instrument.

A financial liability other than a financial liability held for trading or contingent consideration of an acquirer in a business combination may be designated as at FVTPL upon initial recognition if:

- such designation eliminates or significantly reduces a measurement or recognition inconsistency that would otherwise arise; or
- the financial liability forms part of a group of financial assets or financial liabilities or both, which is managed and its performance is evaluated on a fair value basis, in accordance with the Group's documented risk management or investment strategy, and information about the grouping is provided internally on that basis; or
- it forms part of a contract containing one or more embedded derivatives, and IFRS 9 permits the entire combined contract to be designated as at FVTPL.

For financial liabilities that are designated as at FVTPL, the amount of changes in the fair value of the financial liability that is attributable to changes in the credit risk of that liability is recognised in other comprehensive income, unless the recognition of the effects of changes in the liability's credit risk in other comprehensive income would create or enlarge an accounting mismatch in profit or loss.

Preferred shares

The preferred shares are initially recognised at fair value. The Group does not account for the embedded derivatives separately from the host contract and designates the entire preferred shares as financial liabilities at FVTPL with fair value change recognised in “fair value changes of financial liabilities at FVTPL” in profit or loss.

Given that the preferred shares include counterparty conversion options that do not meet equity instruments classification by applying IAS 32, and the convertible options are exercisable by the holders anytime, such convertible preferred shares designated at FVTPL are classified as current liabilities when the holders have the options to convert within twelve months after the reporting period.

Foreign exchange gains and losses

For financial liabilities that are denominated in a foreign currency and are measured at amortised cost at the end of each reporting period, the foreign exchange gains and losses are determined based on the amortised cost of the instruments. These foreign exchange gains and losses are recognised in the ‘Other gains and losses’ line item in profit or loss as part of net foreign exchange gain/(loss) for financial liabilities.

The fair value of financial liabilities denominated in a foreign currency is determined in that foreign currency and translated at the spot rate at the end of the reporting period. For financial liabilities that are measured as at FVTPL, the foreign exchange component forms part of the fair value gains or losses and is recognised in profit or loss for financial liabilities.

Derecognition of financial liabilities

The Group derecognises financial liabilities when, and only when, the Group’s obligations are discharged, cancelled or have expired. The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability derecognised and the consideration paid and payable is recognised in profit or loss.

Derivative financial instruments

Derivatives are initially recognised at fair value at the date when derivative contracts are entered into and are subsequently remeasured to their fair value at the end of the reporting period. The resulting gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss.

A derivative is presented as a non-current asset or a non-current liability if the remaining maturity of the instrument is more than 12 months and it is not due to be realised or settled within 12 months. Other derivatives are presented as current assets or current liabilities.

3. CRITICAL ACCOUNTING JUDGEMENTS AND KEY SOURCES OF ESTIMATION UNCERTAINTY

In the application of the Group's accounting policies, the management of the Group is required to make judgements, estimates and assumptions about the carrying amounts of assets that are not readily apparent from other sources. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that are considered to be relevant. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an on-going basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period, or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects both current and further periods.

Critical judgements in applying accounting policies

The following is the critical judgements, apart from those involving estimations (see below), that the directors of the Company have made in the process of applying the Group's accounting policies and that have the most significant effect on the amounts recognised in the consolidated financial statements.

Consolidation of structured entities

The directors of the Company assessed whether or not the Group has control over the Consolidated Affiliated Entities based on whether the Group has power over the Consolidated Affiliated Entities, has rights to variable returns from its involvement with the Consolidated Affiliated Entities and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the Consolidated Affiliated Entities. After assessment, the directors of the Company concluded that the Group has control over the Consolidated Affiliated Entities as a result of the Contractual Arrangements and other measures. Details of the Contractual Arrangement are set out under the header “Contractual Arrangements” in Note 1.2.

Nevertheless, the Contractual Arrangements and other measures may not be as effective as direct legal ownership in providing the Group with direct control over the Consolidated Affiliated Entities and the future changes in the PRC legal system from time to time could affect the Group’s beneficiary rights of the results, assets and liabilities of the Consolidated Affiliated Entities in the future. The directors of the Company, based on the advice of its legal counsel, consider that the contractual arrangements in relation to Consolidated Affiliated Entities are in compliance with the relevant PRC laws and are legally enforceable.

Control over an entity for which the Group does not have more than 50% ownership interest

Shanghai Tengcai Technology Co., Ltd. (previously known as FatCat Cloud (Shanghai) Technology Co., Ltd., “Tengcai”) is accounted for as a subsidiary of the Group even though the Group has only 48.06% ownership interest in this entity.

Management of the Company assessed whether the Group has control over this entity based on whether the Group has the practical ability to direct the relevant activities of Tengcai unilaterally. In making their judgement, management considers the Group’s voting rights arising from the contractual arrangements, in which the Group has entered into a power of attorney with Tianjin Pangmao Yuanzheng Business Management Partnership (L.P.) (“Pangmao Yuanzheng”), one of the shareholders of Tengcai. Following that, Pangmao Yuanzheng transferred its 5.34% voting rights in Tengcai to the Group, accordingly the Group’s voting rights in Tengcai increased from 48.06% to 53.40%. After the assessment, management concludes that the Group has dominant voting rights and power to direct the relevant activities of Tengcai and therefore the Group has unilateral control over Tengcai.

Principal versus agent

As more fully disclosed in Note 4, in determining whether the Group is acting as a principal or as an agent in the sales of goods and services requires judgement and consideration of all relevant facts and circumstances. In evaluation of the Group acting as a principal or an agent, the Group considers whether it obtains control of the goods and if necessary, also considers individually or in combination, whether the Group is primarily responsible for fulfilling the contracts, is subject to inventory risk, has discretion in establishing prices for the goods and services. Significant judgement is required when inventory risk is not significant. Having considered the relevant facts and circumstances, management considers that the Group obtains control of goods sold for direct sales while the Group does not obtain control of goods sold for transaction services before the goods are transferred to the customers. Accordingly, the Group is acting as a principal for the direct sales and the corresponding revenue is presented on a gross basis while the Group is acting as an agent for transaction services and the corresponding revenue is presented on a net basis.

Key sources of estimation uncertainty

The following are the key assumptions concerning the future, and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the end of the reporting period that may have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets within the next financial year.

Estimated loss allowance of trade and other receivables

Trade and other receivables that are credit-impaired are assessed for ECL individually. For the remaining trade and other receivables, the Group applies a collective assessment by grouping the debtors based on shared credit risk characteristics. Subsequently, the Group determines the internal credit rating and provision rates for each group. The provision rates are based on the Group's reasonable and supportable information, including credit worthiness, past collection history, subsequent receipts from the debtors, future economic conditions of the industry in which the debtors operate, and any forward-looking information that is available without undue cost efforts.

The provision of ECL is sensitive to changes in estimates. The information about the ECL in the Group's trade and other receivables is disclosed in Note 38.

Estimated impairment of goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite life

Determining whether goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite life are impaired requires an estimation of the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite life has been allocated, which is the higher of the value in use and fair value less costs of disposal. The value in use calculation requires the Group to estimate the future cash flows expected to arise from the cash-generating unit and a suitable discount rate in order to calculate the present value. Where the actual future cash flows are less than expected, or changes in facts and circumstances which result in downward revision of future cash flows or upward revision of discount rate, a material impairment loss or further impairment loss may arise.

As at 31 December 2025, the carrying amount of goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite life was approximately RMB124,954,000 (2024: RMB124,954,000). Details of the impairment test are set out in Note 19.

For steel buyers which are classified as key accounts, the Group charges commission fees to key accounts directly, whereas for the remaining steel buyers, the Group charges commission fees to steel sellers. Service income

Transaction support services

The Group provides logistics, warehousing, processing and transaction settlement services to customers.

The Group renders logistics services to the customers who are mainly steel buyers when the goods are delivered from origin to destination as specified in the contracts. Revenue is recognised over time as customers simultaneously receive and consume the benefits provided by the Group's performance as the goods were delivered from one location to another.

Revenue from provision of warehousing services to steel buyers is charged at a fixed rate on a per-day and per-ton basis. The warehousing service revenue is recognised over time by reference to the progress towards complete satisfaction of the relevant performance obligation as the buyers simultaneously receive and consume the benefits provided by the Group when the Group renders the service.

Revenue from provision of processing services is charged to the steel buyers on a per-ton basis and is recognised at a point in time when the processing services are rendered to the steel buyers.

Transaction settlement services

- Trilateral Bai Tiao (三方白條)

The Group typically enters into cooperation agreements with collaborative financial institutions, and enters into technical service agreements with steel buyers of the Group ("Trilateral Bai Tiao users"), whereas Trilateral Bai Tiao users enter into credit facility agreements with the financial institutions directly in order to obtain the funding specifically for the purpose of purchasing steel products from the Group. The Group charges financial institutions a service fee based on a fixed rate on the provided funding on a per-day basis. Revenue from Trilateral Bai Tiao is recognised by the Group at a point in time when the financial institutions contracted with the Trilateral Bai Tiao users for providing the credit funding, with variable considerations as the days of the funding used by the steel buyers are uncertain. Revenue from technical service fee charged to Trilateral Bai Tiao users is recognised over the service period when services are rendered. The Group has ceased providing Trilateral Bai Tiao services in August 2024.

- Trilateral Easy Procurement (三方易採)

The Group partners with non-bank capital providers, such as state-owned enterprises, and serves as a bridge linking these non-bank capital providers to the steel buyers who require funding to purchase steel products ("Trilateral Easy Procurement users"). Under this Trilateral Easy Procurement model, the non-bank capital providers would pay the upstream steel mills or distributors on behalf of the Trilateral Easy Procurement users and the Group charge such non-bank capital providers a service fee based on a fixed rate on the provided funding on a per-day basis. Revenue from Trilateral Easy Procurement is recognised at a point in time when the non-bank capital providers entered contracts with the Trilateral Easy Procurement users for the provision of such transaction settlement services, with variable considerations as the days of the funding used by the Trilateral Easy Procurement users are uncertain. The Group has ceased providing Trilateral Easy Procurement services in August 2024.

Technology subscription services

The Group provides digital transaction solutions via digital platforms to facilitate transaction services among users, including SaaS services, data analytics and other value-added services.

Revenue from technology subscription services is recognised over the service period when services are rendered.

Under the direct sales business model, the Group procures steel products from steel suppliers and distributes to customers through its overseas distribution channels. Revenue from sales of goods is recognised at a point in time, being the time the products are received by the customers at the premises specified in the contract.

Non-steel transaction business

10. INCOME TAX EXPENSE (CONTINUED)

Under the PRC Enterprise Income Tax Law (the “EIT Law”), the standard EIT rate for PRC operating entities is 25%.

The EIT Law and its implementation rules permit certain High and New Technologies Enterprises (“HNTEs”) to enjoy a reduced 15% EIT rate subject to these HNTEs meeting certain qualification criteria. Certain entities of the Group are qualified as HNTEs, and accordingly are subject to a preferential income tax rate of 15%.

According to the relevant laws and regulations in the PRC, enterprises engaging in research and development activities were entitled to claim 200% of their research and development expenses so incurred as tax deductible expenses when determining their assessable profits for that year (“Super Deduction”).

Under the two-tiered profits tax rates regime in Hong Kong, the first HK$2 million of profits of the qualifying group entity will be taxed at 8.25%, and profits above HK$2 million will be taxed at 16.5%. However, each group of connected entities can only nominate one entity to enjoy the two-tiered tax rates.

The Group is operating in certain jurisdictions where the Pillar Two Rules are effective. However, as the Group’s consolidated annual revenue is not expected to be 750 million euros or more in the consolidated financial statements in at least two of the four fiscal years preceding the relevant fiscal year, the management of the Group considered the Group is not liable to income taxes under the Pillar Two Rules.

Taxation arising in other jurisdictions is calculated at the rate in the relevant jurisdictions.

The know-how represented the SaaS platform acquired through business combination of Tengcai. The know-how is considered by the management of the Group as having an indefinite useful life because it is related to the programming language platform which is the core of the business and the demand may continue for many years, even as new technologies emerge. The know-how will not be amortised until its useful life is determined to be finite. Instead, it will be tested for impairment annually and whenever there is an indication that it may be impaired. Particulars of the impairment testing are disclosed in Note 19.

The trademark and client relationship are also acquired through business combination of Tengcai and are amortised on a straight-line basis over useful lives of 10 years and 3 years, respectively. In estimating the useful lives of the acquired customer relationship, the management considered the estimated retention rate of Tengcai's current customers as of the acquisition date, the historical retention rate and projected future revenues associated with such customers. The management performs periodic review of the useful lives and will revise the estimated useful lives when estimated useful lives differ from actual economic useful life.

19. IMPAIRMENT TESTING ON GOODWILL AND INTANGIBLE ASSETS WITH INDEFINITE USEFUL LIVES

For the purpose of impairment tests, goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite useful life sets out in Notes 17 and 18 have been allocated to an individual cash-generating unit, comprising four subsidiaries in technology subscription services segment.

The Group engaged PGA Valuation Consultants LLC ("PGA") to perform impairment assessments on the goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite useful life. As at 31 December 2025, for the purpose of impairment review, the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit containing goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite useful lives were determined based on value-in-use calculations by using the discounted cash flow method, based on 5-year period financial projections with the forecasted average annual revenue growth rates of 31% (2024: 32%) following the business plan approved by the management, plus a terminal value related to cash flows beyond the projection period extrapolated at an estimated terminal growth rates of 1.5% (2024: 1.5%). Pre-tax discount rates of 19.43% (2024: 18.33%) were used to reflect market assessment of time value and the specific risks relating to the cash-generating unit. The forecast is based on the cash-generating unit's past performance, and the management's expectation of future business plans and market developments.

The recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit containing goodwill and intangible assets exceeds its carrying amount by RMB4,879,000. If the pre-tax discount rate was changed to 21.8% or the expected annual growth rate were decreased by 1.0%, while other parameters remain constant, the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit containing goodwill and intangible assets would equal its carrying amount.

As at 31 December 2024, the management of the Group believes that any reasonably possible change in any of these assumptions would not result in impairment.

Prior to the conversion into ordinary shares of the Company, the Group applied the discounted cash flow method to determine the underlying equity value of the Company and adopted option-pricing method and equity allocation model to determine the fair value of the convertible preferred shares. The Group engages an independent qualified valuation specialist, PGA to perform the valuation. Key assumptions are set out as below:

	As at 31 December 2024
Equity value (RMB million)	9,405
Discount rate	15.50%
Risk-free interest rate	4.37%
Discount for lack of marketability ("DLOM")	5.00%
Expected volatility	43.39%

Discount rate was estimated by weighted average cost of capital as of each reporting period. The Group estimated the risk-free interest rate based on the yield of government bond with maturity matching the time to expiration as of the valuation date plus country risk spread. The DLOM was estimated based on the option-pricing method. Under the option pricing method, the cost of put option, which can hedge the price change before the private held share can be sold, was considered as a basis to determine the lack of marketability discount. Volatility was estimated based on annualized standard deviation of daily stock price return of comparable companies for the period before respective valuation date and with similar span as time to expiration. In addition to the assumptions adopted above, the Company's projections of future performance were also factored into the determination of the fair value of the preference shares as at the end of current and prior reporting periods.

Redeemable preferred shares

In February 2021, Tengcai entered into definitive agreements with a third party investor, Welight Capital L.P. ("Welight Capital") and issued redeemable preferred shares for a cash consideration of RMB20,000,000.

The primary preference rights of the redeemable preferred shares are as follows:

Voting rights

The holder of redeemable preferred shares shall carry such number of votes as is equal to the number of votes of ordinary shares of Tengcai.

Redemption rights

Upon the earlier to occur of (i) Tengcai has not completed an initial public offering following the seventh anniversary of the issuance date of the redeemable preferred shares, or (ii) any material breach of any transaction agreement by Tengcai or any founder party of Tengcai, any holder of the redeemable preferred shares may require Tengcai to redeem any or all of the outstanding equity securities held by such holders at the redemption price which represent the repurchase price, plus an interest at an annual rate of 8% calculating from the issuance date to the payment date, plus any dividend declared but collected by such holder.

Anti-dilution protection

Since the date of the definitive agreement signed to the date of successful listing of Tengcai, Tengcai is prohibited to sell/issue additional shares for consideration per share less than the consideration per share paid by Welight Capital. Otherwise, a full ratchet clause will be applied. Under the full ratchet clause, Tengcai is obliged to compensate the Welight Capital by reducing the conversion price of its shares down to newly issued share price. Effectively, this means that the Welight Capital would need to be given new shares (at no additional cost) in order to ensure that its overall ownership is not diminished by the sale of the new ordinary shares.

The movements of the fair value of the redeemable preferred shares are set out as below:

	2025 RMB'000	2024 RMB'000
Carrying amounts at the beginning of the year	27,759	25,008

Promoter Warrants

Pursuant to the Business Combination Agreement, the Company issued 30,131,879 promoter warrants ("Promoter Warrants") exchanged for Aquila's promoter warrant upon listing. Each Promoter Warrant gives the holder the right to subscribe for one ordinary share of the Company at HK$11.50 per share. The Promoter Warrants are exercisable 12 months after the completion of the De-SPAC Transaction. The contractual life of the Promoter Warrants is until 10 March 2030.

For the Promoter Warrants issued, those warrant holders will not be serving as employees of the Group nor will they provide services to the Group after the De-SPAC Transaction. Therefore, the Aquila's promoter warrants were assumed by the Company and the Promoter Warrants are regarded as part of the De-SPAC Transactions and IFRS 9 is applied in accounting for them.

Promoter Earn-out Rights

Pursuant to the promoter earn-out and lock-up agreement, the Company grants to the Promoters the right to receive a maximum of 12,508,125 ordinary shares of the Company.

The Promoter Earn-out Right is triggered only if the volume weighted average price of the Company (calculated based on the daily quotation sheets of the Stock Exchange) equals or exceeds HK$12 per share for a period of not less than 20 trading days within a 30 consecutive trading day period commencing six months after, and ending on the fifth anniversary of the date of, the completion of the De-SPAC Transaction. No service conditions for the Promoters was stipulated. Therefore, the earn-out arrangement is regarded as part of the De-SPAC Transaction instead of as post-acquisition remuneration and IFRS 9 is applied in accounting for this agreement.

Presentation and Classification

The directors of the Company considered that the Listed Warrants, Promoter Warrants and Promoter Earn-Out Rights are accounted for as financial liabilities measured at FVTPL.

The directors of the Company also considered that the changes in the fair value of the Listed Warrants, Promoter Warrants and Promoter Earn-Out Rights attributable to the change in credit risk of these financial liabilities are minimal. Changes in fair value of the Listed Warrants, Promoter Warrants and Promoter Earn-Out Rights not attributable to the change in credit risk of the financial liabilities are charged to profit or loss and presented as "fair value changes of financial liabilities at FVTPL".

The Listed Warrants, Promoter Warrants and Promoter Earn-Out Rights were valued by the directors of the Company with reference to valuation reports carried out by an independent qualified professional valuer, PGA, which has appropriate qualifications and experiences in valuation of similar instruments.

The estimated fair value of the share options at the date of grant were approximately RMB106,034,000 for Batch 2 and Batch 3 granted in 2025. The fair value was calculated using the Binomial model. The major inputs into the model are as follows:

	Batch 2	Batch 3
Equity value per share (RMB)	9.25	9.25
Exercise price (RMB)	0.0009-6.45	3.62
Expected volatility	50.59%	50.59%
Expected life (years)	10	10
Risk-free interest rate	1.81%	1.81%
Forfeiture rate	0.00%	0.00%-16.29%

The risk-free interest rate was based on market yield rate of PRC government bonds with the term corresponding to the contractual life of the options. Expected volatility was determined by using the historical volatility of the comparable companies. Changes in variables and assumptions may result in changes in the fair values of the share options.

The variables and assumptions used in computing the fair value of the share options are based on the directors of the Company's best estimate. The value of an option varies with different variables of certain subjective assumptions.

The Group recognised total expense of approximately RMB94,697,000 for the year ended 31 December 2025 (31 December 2024: nil) in relation to options granted by the Company under the 2023 Pre-Listing Share Option Scheme.

34. CAPITAL REORGANISATION

Capital reorganisation as part of the De-SPAC Transaction ("Capital Reorganisation") is accounted for as share-based payment transaction under IFRS 2 and the shares allotted and issued to effect the Capital Reorganisation are measured at fair value of the equity consideration issued to the former owners of Aquila.

Since the Company has issued shares with a fair value in excess of the net assets of Aquila acquired, the difference is recognised in profit or loss as De-SPAC Transaction expenses arising from Capital Reorganisation.

34. CAPITAL REORGANISATION (CONTINUED)

The fair value of the consideration was determined as follows:

- (i) Based on the number of non-redeeming shares of Aquila outstanding immediately prior to the Capital Reorganisation, plus the bonus share issued immediately prior to the Capital Reorganisation, totalling 7,869,750 shares, with a share price of HK$10 per share; and
- (ii) Based on the number of Aquila's promoter shares outstanding immediately prior to the Capital Reorganisation, totalling 24,109,411 shares, also at a share price of HK$10 per share.

Accordingly, the deemed consideration amount to approximately RMB295,184,000.

The fair value hierarchy of the input (i.e. share price of Aquila) to determine De-SPAC Transaction expense is categorised under Level 1 by reference to the quoted bid prices in an active market.

The carrying amount of the identifiable assets and liabilities of Aquila acquired or assumed upon the Capital Reorganisation in exchange for the issued share capital of the Company and the De-SPAC Transaction expense arising from the capital reorganisation are set out as follows:

	RMB'000
Ordinary shares of the Company issued:
– In exchange of non-redeeming Aquila's Class A shareholders	69,184
– As bonus shares issue to non-redeeming Aquila's Class A shareholders	3,459

37. CAPITAL RISK MANAGEMENT

The Group manages its capital to ensure that entities in the Group will be able to continue as a going concern while maximising the return to shareholders through the optimisation of the debt and equity balance.

The capital structure of the Group consists of net debt, which includes the lease liabilities, financial liabilities at FVTPL and bank and other borrowings disclosed in Notes 29, 30 and 27, respectively, net of cash and cash equivalents, and equity attribute to owners of the Company, comprising share capital and reserves and non-controlling shareholders.

The directors of the Company review the capital structure regularly. As part of this review, the directors consider the cost of capital and the risk associated with each class of capital. Based on recommendation of the directors, the Group will balance its overall capital structure through new share issues, share buy-backs as well as the issue of new debt or the redemption of existing debts.

b. Financial risk management

The Group's major financial instruments include financial assets/liabilities at FVTPL, trade and other receivables, prepayment to sellers in relation to transaction services and transaction support services, financial assets at FVTOCI, derivative financial assets/liabilities, cash and cash equivalents and restricted cash, trade, bills and other payables, advances received from buyers in relation to transaction services and transaction support services, bank and other borrowings and lease liabilities. Details of these financial instruments are disclosed in respective notes. The risks associated with these financial instruments include market risk (currency risk, interest rate risk and price risk), credit risk and liquidity risk. The policies on how to mitigate these risks are set out below. The management of the Group manages and monitors these exposures to ensure appropriate measures are implemented on a timely and effective manner.

Market risk

(i) Currency risk

The Group operates internationally and is exposed to foreign exchange risk arising from various currency exposures comprising RMB, US$, JPY and HK$. The Group maintains natural hedges, whenever possible, by borrowing in currencies that match the future revenue stream to be generated from its investments.

The significant carrying amounts of monetary assets and monetary liabilities denominated in currencies other than the functional currencies of the relevant group entities at the end of each reporting period, are as follows:

	Assets		Liabilities
	2025 RMB'000	2024 RMB'000	2025 RMB'000	2024 RMB'000
RMB	22	1,861	–	537
US$	13,158	3,983	27,377	4,442
JPY	–	2	–	–
HK$	547	36	201	206

The above foreign currency denominated monetary assets and monetary liabilities mainly represent the Group's trade and other receivables, trade payable, pledged bank deposits and cash and cash equivalent.

Sensitivity analysis

The following tables detail the Group's sensitivity to a 10% increase and decrease in the functional currency against US$ and RMB. 10% is the sensitivity rate used when reporting foreign currency risk internally to key management personnel and represents management's assessment of the reasonably possible change in foreign exchange rates. The sensitivity analysis includes only outstanding foreign currency denominated monetary items, and adjusts their translation at the end of the reporting period for a 10% change in foreign currency rates. A positive (negative) number below indicates a decrease (an increase) in loss after taxation where US$ and RMB strengthens 10% against the functional currency of each group entity.

	US$ impact
	2025 RMB'000	2024 RMB'000
Loss after tax	(1,066)	(34)

	RMB impact
	2025 RMB'000	2024 RMB'000

The impact of JPY and HK$ is not presented, since the outstanding monetary items denominated in JPY and HK$ are not significant and their impact is immaterial.

b. Financial risk management (continued)

(ii) Interest rate risk

The Group's fair value interest rate risk mainly relate to fixed-rate borrowings, pledged bank deposits and bank balances.

In order to exercise prudent management against interest rate risk, the Group continues to review market trends against its business operations and financial position in order to arrange the most effective interest rate risk management tools.

(iii) Price risk

The Group is exposed to price risk in respect of its financial assets at FVTPL. The management strictly monitors this exposure by maintaining a portfolio of investments with different levels of risks. The Group has designated a team to monitor the price risk and will consider hedging the risk exposure should the need arises.

Sensitivity analysis

If the prices of the respective financial assets at FVTPL had increased/decreased by 5% with all other variables held constant, the post-tax loss for the year ended 31 December 2025 would decrease/increase by RMB1,790,500 (2024: RMB1,605,000), respectively.

Credit risk and impairment assessment

Credit risk refers to the risk that the Group's counterparties default on their contractual obligations resulting in financial losses to the Group. The Group's credit risk exposures are primarily attributable to trade and other receivables, prepayment to sellers in relation to transaction services and transaction support services, financial assets at FVTOCI, cash and cash equivalents and restricted cash. The carrying amounts of each class of the above financial assets represent the Group's maximum exposure to credit risk in relation to financial assets. Trade and other receivables that are credit-impaired are assessed for ECL individually. For the remaining trade and other receivables, the Group applies a collective assessment by grouping the debtors based on shared credit risk characteristics. The Group engages an independent qualified valuation specialist, PGA, to assess the expected credit losses.

Trade receivables (excluding trade receivables in relation to transaction services)

In order to minimise the credit risk, the management of the Group has delegated a team responsible for determination of credit limits and credit approvals. Before accepting any new buyer, the Group uses an internal credit scoring system to assess the potential buyer's credit quality and defines credit limits by buyer. Other monitoring procedures are in place to ensure that follow-up action is taken to recover overdue debts.

Loss allowance for trade receivables other than trade receivables in relation to transaction services are measured at an amount equal to lifetime ECL. Trade receivables are mainly amounts due from public companies, state-owned enterprises, reputable and sizeable steel trading companies. The ECL on trade balances are estimated by reference to past default experience of the debtor and an analysis of the debtor's current financial position, adjusted for factors that are specific to the debtor's general economic conditions of the industry in which the debtors operate and an assessment of both the current as well as the forward-looking macroeconomic factors affecting the ability of the debtors to settle the receivables. In this regard, the directors of the Company consider that the Group's credit risk is significantly reduced. The Group does not have any significant credit risk exposure to any single counterparty or any group of counterparties having similar characteristics and trade receivables are generally considered as having low risk of default.

The Group has concentration of credit risk as 19% (2024: 20%) of the total trade receivables was due from the Group's largest customer within the overseas transaction business.

Cash and cash equivalents, restricted cash and financial assets at FVTOCI

Loss allowance for cash and cash equivalents, restricted cash and financial assets at FVTOCI are measured at an amount equal to 12m ECL. The credit risk on cash and cash equivalent, restricted cash and financial assets at FVTOCI is limited because the counterparties are banks with high credit-ratings assigned by credit rating agencies. The Group assessed the loss allowance to be insignificant and no provision is provided.

Prepayment to sellers in relation to transaction services and transaction support services, other receivables and trade receivables in relation to transaction services

For trade receivables in relation to transaction services, the Group has applied the general approach in IFRS 9 to measure the loss allowance approximate to such at 12m ECL, unless there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, in which case the Group recognises lifetime ECL. The ECL on these items are assessed individually, estimated based on historical credit loss experience on the past default experience of the debtor, general economic conditions of the industry in which the debtors operate and an assessment of both the current as well as the forecast direction of conditions at the reporting date.

The Group assessed that the loss allowance from the prepayment to sellers in relation to transaction services and transaction support services to be insignificant and no loss allowance is recognised.

The Group's current credit risk grading framework comprises the following categories:

Categories	Description	Basis for recognising ECL
Performing	The counterparty has a low risk of default (i.e. state-owned enterprise ("SOE") and government-linked corporation ("GLC") with aging less than 180 days)	12m ECL or lifetime ECL – not credit-impaired
Watch list	The counterparties who are SOE and GLC with aging more than 180 days but within 1 year; or the counterparty other than SOE and GLC with aging less than 180 days	12m ECL or lifetime ECL – not credit-impaired
Doubtful	The counterparty other than SOE and GLC with aging more than 180 days but within 1 year, new counterparty other than SOE and GLC, or there have been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition (i.e. counterparties who are SOE and GLC with aging above 1 year)	Lifetime ECL – not credit-impaired
Loss	There is evidence indicating the debtor is credit-impaired	Lifetime ECL – credit-impaired
Write-off	There is evidence indicating that the debtor is in severe financial difficulty and the Group has no realistic prospect of recovery	Amount is written off

The Group writes off trade and other receivables when there is information indicating that the debtor is in severe financial difficulty and there is no realistic prospect of recovery, e.g. when the debtor has been placed under liquidation or has entered into bankruptcy proceedings. The Group has taken legal action against the debtors to recover the amount due.

For all other instruments, the Group measures the loss allowance equal to 12m ECL, unless when there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, on which the Group recognises lifetime ECL. The assessment of whether lifetime ECL should be recognised is based on significant increases in the likelihood or risk of a default occurring since initial recognition.

Liquidity risk

The convertible preferred shares are non-redeemable and automatically converted into ordinary shares of the Company upon the listing of the Company shares on 10 March 2025, details of which are set out in Note 30.

The Group closely monitors its cash position resulting from its operations and maintains a level of cash and cash equivalents deemed adequate by the management to enable the Group to meet in full its financial obligations as they fall due for the foreseeable future. The Group monitors the utilisation of bank borrowings and ensure compliance with loan covenants.

The following table details the Group's remaining contractual maturity for its financial liabilities and derivative instruments, except for listed warrants, promoter warrants and earn-out rights which to be settled on a cashless basis. The table has been drawn up based on the undiscounted cash flows of financial liabilities based on the earliest date on which the Group can be required to pay.

The table includes both interest and principal cash flows. To the extent that interest flows are floating rate, the undiscounted amount is derived from interest rate at the end of each reporting period.

In addition, the following table details the Group's liquidity analysis for its derivative financial instruments. The tables have been drawn up based on the undiscounted contractual net cash (inflows) and outflows on derivative instruments that settle on a net basis, and the undiscounted gross (inflows) and outflows on those derivatives that require gross settlement.

Sensitivity analysis

Fair value of financial assets at FVTPL, including preferred shares investments and unlisted equity investments, is affected by changes in equity value of the investees. If the equity value had increased/decreased by 10% with other variables held constant, the loss after tax for the year ended 31 December 2025 would have been lower/higher by approximately RMB3,581,000 (2024: RMB3,210,000).

Fair value of financial liabilities at FVTPL, including convertible preferred shares, warrants and redeemable preferred shares, is affected by changes in equity value of the Company and Tengcai. If the equity value had increased/decreased by 10% with all other variables held constant, the loss after tax for the year ended 31 December 2025 would have been higher/lower by approximately RMB1,964,000 (2024: RMB513,727,000). Subsequent to the reporting period, the convertible preferred shares have been converted into ordinary shares of the Company upon listing, accordingly, the impact shown in this sensitivity analysis may not represent actual impact to the profit or loss of the Group.

There were no transfers between Level 1, 2 and 3 during the year.

Fair value measurements and valuation processes

The directors of the Company have closely monitored and determined the appropriate valuation techniques and inputs for fair value measurements.

In estimating the fair value of an asset, the Group uses market-observable data to the extent it is available. For instruments with significant unobservable inputs under Level 3, the Group engages an independent qualified valuation specialist, PGA, to perform the valuation. Management of the Group works closely with the qualified external valuers to establish the appropriate valuation techniques and inputs to the model on a regular basis, or when needs arise and will report the significant results and findings to the board of directors of the Company. The Group uses valuation techniques that include inputs that are not based on observable market data to estimate the fair value of certain types of financial instruments.

e. Transferred financial assets that are derecognised in their entirety but have continuing involvement

As at 31 December 2025, the Group has derecognised bills discounted to the banks or endorsed to certain sellers but not expired amounting to RMB8,436,141,000 (2024: RMB9,964,372,000). These bills are issued or guaranteed by reputable PRC banks with high credit ratings, as such, the directors of the Company consider the substantial risks in relation to these bills are interest risk as the credit risk arising from these bills are minimal, the Group has transferred substantially all the risks (i.e. interest risks) of these bills to relevant banks or sellers. However, if the bills cannot be accepted at maturity, the relevant banks or sellers have the right to require the Group to pay off the outstanding balance. Although the Group continues to have involvement in these bills, the management of the Group estimates that the exposure of incurring a loss from its continuing involvement in the derecognised financial assets is insignificant.
