During the Reporting Period, the Company's revenue decreased slightly year-on-year, mainly due to pressure on global automotive production and sales, with relatively weak market performance in China and North America, and the deconsolidation of the weighing apparatus business following its disposal by the Company's listed subsidiary Guangdong Senssun Weighing Apparatus Group Ltd. at the end of 2025.

While revenue experienced short-term fluctuations, the Company's ongoing cost and expense improvement and control measures implemented over the past few years have gradually delivered tangible results, with particularly notable and sustained improvement in overseas regions. As a result, overall gross margin remained relatively stable year-on-year during the Reporting Period, and operating resilience continued to strengthen. The Company also exercised effective control over selling, administrative, finance and tax-related items, all of which decreased year-on-year. Meanwhile, the Company continued to increase R&D investment in cutting-edge areas such as intelligent driving, emerging intelligent agents and server power supplies, and accelerated the implementation of key customer nominations. Although such initiatives had a certain impact on net profit for the current period, they are expected to support long-term performance growth. During the Reporting Period, the Company achieved net profit attributable to the shareholders of approximately RMB400 million, representing a year-on-year increase of approximately 18.1%, maintaining a rapid growth momentum. In addition, working capital management continued to achieve notable results, with net cash flows from operating activities reaching approximately RMB910 million, up approximately 5.5% year-on-year, reflecting further improvement in operating quality.

In terms of new business, the Company made a solid start in the first quarter of 2026, securing new nominated projects with a total life-cycle order value of approximately RMB27.5 billion, including RMB16.1 billion for the safety business and RMB11.4 billion for the electronics business. During the Reporting Period, the Company's intelligent driving business progressed smoothly, having successively secured nominations for intelligent driving solution from a domestic brand and a joint-venture brand, and obtained a nomination for an intelligent cockpit project for overseas models of a leading domestic new energy vehicle manufacturer, actively supporting Chinese automakers in their global expansion.
