STATEMENT FROM CHAIRMAN AND CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Dear Shareholders:

In 2025, the global economic landscape remained complex and volatile, with geopolitical tensions continuing to escalate as the international order undergoes a critical phase of restructuring. Meanwhile, China's consumer market gradually returned to a "value-for-money" orientation amidst challenges. In response to the new industry norm of shifting from scale expansion to value cultivation, Cosmo Lady steadily advanced its strategy of providing "high-quality and affordable national intimate wear". During the year, we leveraged internal momentum to address external uncertainties, reshaped market perception through a brand strategy targeting younger consumers, and stimulated market demand with a product matrix for best-sellers. We achieved steady progress in various areas, including e-commerce expansion, channel upgrades, and new business incubation, allowing the Group to maintain its market-leading position in China's women's intimate wear sales for the eighth consecutive year.

During the year, the Group achieved breakthrough progress in various core areas, including product upgrades, brand rejuvenation, channel distribution, supply chain optimization, and organizational transformation. Meanwhile, we gradually improved our retail network structure and continued to solidify the foundation of our business operations. These efforts have injected strong momentum into the Group's long-term development and opened up new avenues for growth.

Zheng Yaonan
Chairman and Chief Executive Officer

Statement from Chairman and Chief Executive Officer

I. Marketing Mix Strategies Driving Brand Rejuvenation

In 2025, we continued to advance our brand strategy targeting younger consumers, adhering to the principles of meticulous cultivation and refined operations. We achieved steady development through a pragmatic approach and deeply explored the value of our national brand.

In terms of brand promotion, the Group launched a series of marketing initiatives, including signing celebrity endorsements with Guli Nazha（古力娜扎）and Hou Minghao（侯明昊）to leverage their highly adaptable national influence and convey a new brand image. During the 9th Asian Winter Games 2025 in Harbin, we engaged short track speed skating world champions, namely Liu Shaolin and Liu Shaoang, to promote our "Black Gold Lightweight Down", further enhancing brand visibility. In addition, we engaged young consumers through diverse social and cultural activities, such as collaborating with Tsinghua University to host a music festival and partnering with Tmall and Vipshop to illuminate landmarks in Guangzhou. These efforts further expanded brand exposure and facilitated a transition from being a "national brand" to a "cultural benchmark", effectively reducing communication costs with the young customer base. The Group also placed advertisements at approximately 230 high-speed rail stations nationwide and on outdoor screens in core commercial districts of Beijing, Shanghai, Guangzhou, and Shenzhen. Through visual impact and contextual immersion, these displays continuously strengthened brand awareness, providing strong momentum for the brand's growth. The above mix strategies on marketing collectively enhanced Cosmo Lady's brand influence, further solidifying its position in the minds of young consumers.

II. Leapfrog Online Expansion: Building Strong Edge via Best-selling Product Cocreation

2025 was a year of transformative growth for the Group's e-commerce business. Our e-commerce gross merchandise value ("GMV") experienced significant growth from approximately RMB1.6 billion in 2024 to over RMB4.3 billion in 2025.

(i) Omnichannel growth driven by bestsellers: During the year, Cosmo Lady collaborated with Nobel Prize laureates and authoritative scientific research experts to establish the Extreme Cold Fabric Research Center. Through innovation in patented technology, we launched the Airheat "Canadian Goose Down Thermal Clothes" series products, which has been highly received by the market.

(ii) Strong performance in online channels: The Cosmo Lady brand recorded an e-commerce GMV of RMB3.23 billion, representing a year-on-year increase of approximately 270%. The Ordifen brand also delivered a solid performance with a GMV of RMB1.08 billion, representing a year-on-year increase of 70%. During the key Double 11 promotion period, Cosmo Lady rose to the top five in the intimate wear category on Tmall, with our official flagship store ranking among the top fourteen single stores. Meanwhile, the brand strengthened its collaboration with Douyin, achieving leading transaction volume throughout the Double 11 event. Notably, our thermal products reached the top of the product rankings for the first time. These achievements underscore the Group's strong competitive advantages across key areas, including flagship product incubation, supply chain agility, and co-creation of best-selling products with platform partners.

III. Sub-brand Cotton Regions Expanding New Retail Opportunities and Filling Market Gaps

Cotton Regions has continued to develop new retail scenarios by creating a "family-oriented retail environment" that offers the Group new growth opportunities and fills existing business gaps. Over the past 4 years, Cotton Regions has achieved rapid breakthroughs in both performance and retail network. During the year, Cotton Regions recorded a revenue of RMB150 million, representing a year-on-year increase of approximately 50%. Cotton Regions actively expanded its retail network, reaching approximately 150 stores during the year, enhancing the Group's presence in shopping malls in first- and second-tier cities.

IV. The Core Brand Cosmo Lady Focusing on Refined Operation and Improving Operational Efficiency

On the offline front, the core brand, namely Cosmo Lady, has successfully pivoted from an expansion-driven strategy to focus on refined operations.

(i) Implementation of various effective measures to enhance store sales

Through initiatives such as the upgrade of 7S store image, membership activities, and marketing promotions, store performance has significantly improved. Meanwhile, through optimized merchandise operations and the B2B intelligent allocation system, inventory recorded a marked year-on-year decrease, leading to an overall enhancement in operational efficiency and quality. The Group also continued to strengthen membership management. By leveraging data analytics and precision marketing strategies, we drove growth in new members and increased repeat purchase rates. These initiatives have laid a solid foundation for the sustainable and stable development of the core brand Cosmo Lady.

(ii) Bestsellers Achieved Remarkable Results with Continuous R&D Innovation

We continued to focus on product research and development, achieving remarkable success with our bestseller strategy. In the 2025 Autumn/Winter season, we redefined the thermal intimate wear segment by launching the "Canadian Goose Down Thermal Clothes" through innovative scientific research, providing the market with a revolutionary combination of "lightweight, thin, and warm" experiences and establishing a benchmark position in the market. In the bra category, our "Push-Up Thin Cup", "Water Gloss Cup" and "Peach Cup" series nearly reached a 90% sell-through rate, demonstrating outstanding performance.

During the year, the Group filed a total of 561 patent applications and was honored with multiple awards at the Annual Top Ten Textile Innovation Awards and the BIDA Awards. Sustained investment in innovation provides robust support for the Group's product technology and its brand development strategy of "high-quality and affordable".

Outlook: Steady Development and Overseas Layout

Looking ahead to 2026, Cosmo Lady will maintain its strategic focus and adhere to the principle of seeking progress while maintaining stability.

For our core brand, we will adhere to a prudent development strategy. We will implement a diversified multi-channel layout and gradually close underperforming stores, concentrating resources on enhancing the performance of our top-performing outlets. At the same time, the Group will improve overall store efficiency and consolidate its market share through strict new store procedures, refined membership operations and an O2O model.

In terms of e-commerce, we have set a target of achieving a GMV of RMB7 billion. The Group will continue to deepen collaboration with its suppliers, and persist in our bestseller co-creation strategy, particularly with items like the Autumn/Winter "Canadian Goose Down Thermal Clothes 2.0" version, while also expanding high-quality supply chain resources and strengthening efforts to incubate billion-level e-commerce affiliate clients.

For Cotton Regions, we will maintain a high-growth momentum. By strengthening our product matrix, optimizing operational management, and establishing model stores in urban areas, we aim to solidify the brand's leading position in the home and lifestyle category.

Furthermore, we have commenced our strategic layout in overseas markets and successively opened pilot stores in Vietnam. This marks the official commencement of Cosmo Lady's new chapter of internationalization.

On behalf of the Board, I would like to express my heartfelt gratitude to our consumers, partners, all employees, and shareholders for their continued trust and support. In 2026, Cosmo Lady will remain committed to our original vision of "high-quality and affordable". We will strengthen corporate governance standards by enhancing our brand image with more vitality and developing a more competitive product matrix, actively fulfill our corporate social responsibilities, and create greater value for our shareholders and stakeholders.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Profit attributable to the owners of the Company and the segment results

Profit attributable to the owners of the Company for the year ended 31 December 2025 (the "Year") was approximately RMB123,410,000 (2024: RMB126,157,000), which decreased by approximately 2% as compared with that of the corresponding year in 2024. However, the results from the intimate wear products and industrial projects and logistic segments of the Group for the Year were approximately RMB137,746,000 (2024: RMB88,961,000) and approximately RMB33,839,000 (2024: RMB122,055,000), respectively, representing an increase of approximately 55% and a decrease of approximately 72%, respectively, as compared with that for the year ended 31 December 2024.

It was mainly due to (i) the Group's successful cooperation with its partners to expand its e-commerce business since last year, and effectively increased the market share of the Group's brands, with the gross merchandise value ("GMV") of approximately RMB4.2 billion (2024: RMB1.2 billion) transacted on the relevant e-commerce platforms that the Group established corporations with during the Year, from which the Group received service income of approximately RMB103.9 million during the Year (2024: RMB59.4 million), contributing to the continued improvement in performance of the intimate wear product segment; and (ii) during the Year, the Group primarily delivered the remaining units of the industrial projects of the Group located in Fenggang, Dongguan, Guangdong Province, the PRC (the "Yuquan Project"), with the number of units delivered significantly decreased as compared with that for the year ended 31 December 2024.

Revenue

The revenue of Cosmo Lady (China) Holdings Company Limited (the "Company") and its subsidiaries (the "Group") is mainly derived from sales of intimate wear products to the franchisees and to consumers through self-managed/cooperative stores and online sales platforms, development of industrial projects and provision of logistic services in the PRC. The breakdown of the revenue is as follows:

Management Discussion and Analysis

During the Year, the changes in revenue of the Group were mainly driven by the following factors:

– In respect of the intimate wear products segment, the revenue growth during the Year was mainly attributed to the continuous expansion of the offline cooperative store network, which further drove the expansion of the retail business scale; and – The decrease in revenue from industrial projects and logistics was due to the decrease in industrial projects sales. Since 2022, the Group has transformed the former old warehouses in Yuquan, the PRC, into the modern industrial and intelligent logistic warehousing industrial projects, which has been completed and approved by the relevant authorities during 2024. During the Year, the Group mainly delivered the remaining units of the Yuquan Project. The number of units delivered decreased significantly as compared with that of the previous year, resulting in a corresponding decrease in related sales.

Gross profit margin

In 2025, the gross profit margin of the Group remained steady at approximately 46.8% as compared with that for the year ended 31 December 2024 (2024: 45.7%), in which the gross profit margin of intimate wear products also remained steady during the Year at approximately 48.9% as compared with that for the year ended 31 December 2024 (2024: 47.3%). The gross profit margin of industrial projects and logistic decreased to approximately 27.9% (2024: 36.6%) during the Year, which was mainly due to the decrease in sales from the industrial projects during the Year.

Selling and marketing expenses

Selling and marketing expenses primarily consist of employee benefit expenses, lease expenses in respect of stores under cooperative arrangements, marketing and promotion expenses, e-commerce platforms commission expenses, depreciation and amortisation and others.

The increase in selling and marketing expenses by about 5.8% for the year ended 31 December 2025 to approximately RMB1,079,580,000 (2024: RMB1,019,925,000) was mainly due to the continuous expansion of the offline cooperative store network, resulting in an increase in related operating expenses.

General and administrative expenses

General and administrative expenses primarily consist of employee benefit expenses, consulting service expenses, travelling expenses, depreciation and amortisation and others.

The decrease in general and administrative expenses by about 13.3% for the year ended 31 December 2025 to approximately RMB159,934,000 (2024: RMB184,383,000) was mainly attributable to the continuous and effective cost control measures implemented during the Year.

Finance expenses – net

Finance expenses – net represents financial expenses on bank borrowings and lease liabilities less interest income on bank deposits.

The decrease in finance expenses – net to approximately RMB18,985,000 in 2025 (2024: RMB19,840,000) was mainly due to the decrease in bank interest rates during the Year.

Income tax expense

As at 31 December 2025, the Group had fulfilled all its tax obligations and did not have any unresolved tax disputes.

The income tax expense during the Year decreased to approximately RMB23,541,000 (2024: RMB52,946,000). Such decrease was mainly due to the PRC land appreciation tax charges arising from the sales and profits from industrial projects during the Year decreased to approximately RMB5,403,000 (2024: RMB33,074,000).

LIQUIDITY AND FINANCIAL RESOURCES

The Group maintained a strong and healthy financial position. As at 31 December 2025, the Group's restricted bank deposits and cash and cash equivalents amounted to approximately RMB614,140,000 (31 December 2024: RMB621,871,000) and borrowings amounted to approximately RMB447,600,000 (31 December 2024: RMB395,630,000). As at 31 December 2025, the current ratio was about 2.2 times (31 December 2024: 1.6 times).

As at 31 December 2025, the Group's gross gearing ratio, which was calculated on the basis of the amount of bank borrowings as a percentage of the total shareholders' equity, was approximately 21.1% (31 December 2024: 19.6%). The net gearing ratio, which was calculated on the basis of the amount of bank borrowings less restricted bank deposits and cash and cash equivalents as a percentage of the total shareholders' equity, was approximately negative 7.9% (31 December 2024: negative 11.2%). The Group's financial ratios remained at healthy level.

As at 31 December 2025, the Group provided guarantees amounting to approximately RMB297,846,000 (2024: RMB250,023,000) to certain banks in respect of loans granted by banks for purchasers of the properties. The Group considers that in case of default in payments, the net realizable value of the related properties will be sufficient to cover the repayment of the outstanding loan principals together with the accrued interest and penalty.

TREASURY POLICY

We will continue to follow a prudent policy in managing the Group's cash and cash equivalents and maintain a strong and healthy liquidity position to ensure that the Group is well-placed to capture future growth opportunities.

FOREIGN CURRENCY RISK

Most of the Group's income, expenses and purchases of raw materials are denominated in Renminbi. The Group has never encountered any significant difficulties in obtaining sufficient foreign currencies for repatriation of profits declared by the subsidiaries in mainland China to the overseas holding companies.

The Group provides similar training for both internal staff and employees from third-party business partners, who are included in the calculation of the above average training hours.

Labor Standards

The Group holds in high regard and actively safeguards the legitimate rights and interests of our employees, and the Group's policy of employment and labour standards is fully compliant with the Labour Laws of the PRC and the Employment Ordinance of Hong Kong as well as other applicable laws and regulations of the jurisdictions in which it operates. Regular review mechanisms on employment arrangements encompassing working environment, social insurance, and non-discrimination are in place to preserve the rights of employees. The Group has established precautionary measures to prevent immoral or corrupt practices within its business operations in line with its commitment to conduct ethical business. These measures are continuously improved to align with necessary remedial measures. In case any child labour or forced labour is discovered, the Group will terminate the employment contract immediately and impose appropriate penalties on the erring employees.

In strict compliance with the Labour Contract Law of the PRC, the Law of the PRC on Promotion of Employment, and the Employment Ordinance of Hong Kong, the Group prohibits any form of forced labour and hiring of child labour, as stipulated in the "Recruitment Management" manual and the "Employee Handbook". At the same time, the Group strictly follows the Provisions on the Prohibition of Using Child Labour of PRC and the Employment of Children Regulations of Hong Kong to protect the human rights of children and disadvantaged groups. The Group has not identified any significant issues that would have a material impact on the Group and constitute serious violations of relevant applicable labour-related laws and regulations in the relevant jurisdictions.

OPERATING PRACTICES

The Group strives to maintain its brand reputation as China's intimate wear industry leader through continuous improvements in its internal processes, product design, and supply chain network. To ensure that its business is in accordance with the highest ethical, social and environmental standards, the Group also strictly abides by applicable laws in China and practices due diligence in the following areas:

- Supply chain management
- Product responsibility
- Anti-corruption

Supply Chain Management

The Group has an extensive supply chain network in the PRC for sourcing garments in Guangdong, Jiangsu, Zhejiang and other regions in the PRC. The Group continues to adopt stringent supplier selection criteria and regularly evaluates supplier performance. In 2025, the Group worked closely with 126 outstanding suppliers to further stabilise its business and continue to provide high-quality products to its customers. This section will further describe the Group's supply chain management process. The table below sets forth the Group's suppliers by geographical region:

Supplier location	2025	2024
Guangdong	99	86
Jiangsu and Zhejiang	16	13
Other region	11	7

The Group considers partnerships with suppliers and franchisees as a crucial factor in providing quality products to customers. Therefore, when selecting new business partners, the Group will consider various factors such as the quality of the products supplied and the ethical standards of potential business partners, such procedure applies to all the Group's suppliers. Since 2020, the Group has incorporated several new considerations into its procedures for onboarding new suppliers and renewing existing ones, in alignment with its sustainable development strategy, with a view to establishing a green supply chain in the future. The Group is continuously refining the selection process so that suppliers with better environmental performance will be given preference. For example, the Group will consider the pollution emissions, social responsibility, and integrity of suppliers, and conduct necessary background checks annually to evaluate potential suppliers in any of these areas. In the annual review process, suppliers that generate significant amounts of pollution or hazardous waste, have disputes with stakeholders, or are potentially at risk of fraud are given a lower ranking. The Group strives to achieve consistency between parties when there are misalignments and/or inconsistencies in product design, sourcing, packaging or distribution stages prior to the commencement of the relationship, for example, in business operations, product design specifications and risk mitigation requirements.

The Group adopts a strict procurement policy in its business operations as the first step towards achieving sustainability in the supply chain. The Group strives to source materials that meet specific environmental standards, such as products with authoritative independent certificates issued by third parties, to ensure a sustainable supply of products and to promote a greener environment. To ensure continued business growth, the Group has established formal processes to select and evaluate suppliers and to communicate with existing and potential suppliers. The Group will update the supplier list as appropriate to confirm that all suppliers meet the latest standards.

Pre-screening	• Assess the supplier's supply chain management procedures, production capacity, product quality, and research and development ("R&D") capabilities
Implementation	• Implement the procurement and production plan according to the Group's product listing specification as well as the supplier's comprehensive production capacity • Monitor production and supply progress and quality
Testing	• Evaluate the supplier's performance indicators such as R&D capabilities, degree of production coordination, delivery conditions and product quality on a monthly or quarterly basis • Provide training and incentives to the suppliers according to their performance evaluation

The Group has established a set of "Qualified Supplier Rating Criteria" to assess suppliers' performance, and assessments are carried out by independent departments to ensure objectivity of the assessments. The "Qualified Supplier Rating Criteria" has two goals:

- Ensure that the service performance and product quality of new suppliers meet the Group's standards; and
- Perform quarterly assessments of existing suppliers to evaluate whether they continue to meet the Group's contractor criteria. This also helps enhance their service performance and product quality.

The Group established the "Business Integrity Agreement" and the "Supplementary Agreement on Quality Management Improvement", which take into consideration the performance in terms of business compliance, energy conservation, environmental protection and emission reduction, and occupational health and safety, it puts forward specific requirements for suppliers to abide by business ethics, use energy-saving and environmentally friendly materials, and energy- saving and emission-reduction technologies.

Product Responsibility

The Group is dedicated to strengthening its brand recognition, solidifying its industry-leading position and offering consumers superior products. The Group strictly complies with the applicable laws of the PRC on product quality, advertisements, and protection of consumer rights and interests. For example, the Group's child products meet the requirements of the Safety Technical Code of the PRC for infants and children textile products implemented in 2016. Different policies and procedures have been drafted to facilitate the integration of such commitment into the Group's daily operations. Clear descriptions of the duties, control methods, and requirements for quality and safety management are published across the Group's properties. The policies focus on the following areas:

- Quality and safety of products and services
- R&D and design
- Product transport and packaging
- Customers

Protection of Consumer Data and Privacy

Specifically, product responsibilities are categorised into three major areas, namely, product information, selection and advice, and accidental injury and privacy protection. In response to the Group's concerns regarding product safety and customer privacy issues, the Group has implemented a set of product quality and safety procedures that deal with the pre-sales and post-sales business phases. These procedures encompass the Group's advertisements, store shopping guides, and customer service hotlines (i.e., telephone and network) among other service sectors. In addition, the Group provides a "7-day no reason return and exchange" after-sales service, ensuring that customers can freely return or exchange products within 7 days of purchase to meet their needs and provide excellent after-sales support.

Activities such as online ordering and other interactive programs require the Group to handle or retain customers' sensitive information such as personal contact details and their product preferences. Therefore, strict policies are in place to protect the personal data collected for transaction purposes. To prevent information leakage, the Group has also implemented a secured member management system that serves the purpose of data collection, transmission, and storage of membership information. In 2025, there have been no complaints regarding customer privacy or loss of customer data. The Group monitors consumer data protection and privacy policies through a structured framework of accountability and quality control. It adheres to relevant laws, imposing fines for non-compliance, and conducts annual reviews of data management practices across various business domains. This includes self-assessments by data managers, regular inspections, and annual audits. The Group has complied with relevant applicable laws and regulations in respect of data protection including but are not limited to the Personal Information Protection Law of the PRC and the Personal Data (Privacy) Ordinance of Hong Kong during 2025.

Quality Assurance

The Group believes that providing a high-quality shopping experience remains the best way to promote customer loyalty and attract new customers. Therefore, numerous strategies have been implemented at different levels across the Group. At the group level, initiatives such as "Customer Service Management System", "Store Shopping Guide Process" and "Exhibition Guideline" are continuously optimised across different business departments in the Group. At the retail level, staff is required to undergo training to master the "Underwear Product Knowledge Dictionary". This allows the Group's staff to be proficient with the available products and to assist potential customers in finding their best fit through introducing comprehensive intimate wear information in a friendly environment. In order to further optimise products, enhance customer satisfaction, drive store traffic, and improve employee retention, the Customer Service Department has been consistently conducting multiple research projects targeting both consumers and staff employees. These projects include the analysis of primary reasons for customer churn, investigation into the frequency of in-store member activities, profiling of Cosmo Lady's consumer demographics, exploration of effective store operation practices, and a study on the consumption preferences of teenagers regarding intimate apparel under Cosmo Lady.

To prevent any adverse effect of products on consumers, the Group's quality control department adopts the most stringent quality inspection procedures that adhere to national standards. The Group obtained ISO 9001:2015 certification for underwear design, production, sales, warehousing, and freight transportation (within permitted areas) processes. The achievement reaffirms the Group's commitment to ensuring the consistency of the quality of products and services. As a pioneer for product quality within the industry, the Group has established an in-house physical and chemical laboratory to support the supply chain. The Group's testing capability has long been compared with national laboratory testing technology to maintain the level, of testing technology is in line with the technical capabilities of nationally accredited laboratories.

The Group has established the "400 Hotline Service Procedure" and "Customer Service Centre Business Process Guidelines" to standardise the customer service details and follow-up procedures of the "400 Hotline". To improve customer satisfaction, an independent department was established with personnel responsible for hotline work, including consultation and complaints handling for consumer and franchise customer service. At the same time, in order to ensure that high-quality customer service is provided by each employee, the Group will record the customer satisfaction data of the "400 hotline" to evaluate the service level of each employee and to understand the needs of customers and expectations. In 2025, there were no products recalled due to safety and health reasons. If any product fails to meet the Group's standards, it will be addressed according to internal recall guidance. The Group received a total of 113 complaints regarding products and services, all of which have been followed up on and addressed. In addition, the Group has established "E-commerce Platform Customer Returned Products Management Measures" and "Returned Product Quality Determination Procedure" to screen the returned products to ensure that they meet the requirements of the Group's standards, that substandard products will not be sold, thereby minimising the incidence of customer complaints.

PROTECTION OF INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS

The Group consults legal advice from solicitors for drafting patent licence agreements or service contracts to prevent any infringement of intellectual property rights (i.e., trademarks, patents and designs) as well as ensuring all business activities are in compliance with all the national laws and regulations such as the Patent Law of the PRC and the Implementation Rules of Patent Law of the PRC. In 2025, there was no incidents relating to intellectual property rights infringement. For online procedures, the Group has established a dedicated team responsible for weekly monitoring of several e-commerce platforms such as Taobao, JD.com, Pinduoduo and Rednote in order to identify any counterfeit trademarked products or infringement clues available on the market. The Group takes action against counterfeit products by filing complaints with the platforms to remove infringing goods or stores. Additionally, the Group may report the infringement to relevant local authorities or initiate legal proceedings as necessary.

Advertising and Labelling

The Group prohibits advertisements to disclose descriptions, claims or illustrations that are not true. To align with the relevant laws and code of practices, the Group has established procedures to ensure that its published advertisements are truthful, fair and reasonable, and free of misleading elements for the protection of consumers' interests. In 2025, the Group won several prestigious awards and recognitions for its quality products and service commitments. These include the following awards:

This year, the Group signed Gulinazha as its brand ambassador, while also signing Hou Minghao as the Asia-Pacific spokesperson for Cosmo Lady. The dual-ambassador strategy marks a key step in Cosmo Lady's drive toward a younger, more diversified brand image. Looking ahead, the brand will continue to collaborate with Gulinazha and Hou Minghao, focusing on product innovation as its core and value-driven messaging as its bridge. It will consistently provide "good yet affordable" intimate apparel solutions for consumers of different genders and age groups. While accompanying millions of users in achieving comfortable dressing, the brand also conveys a confident and diverse modern lifestyle, setting a new industry benchmark for the long-term operation of a national brand.

Anti-corruption

The Group regards honesty, integrity, and fairness as valuable intangible assets of an organisation. To promote ethical behaviours within business operations, the Group formulated the "Anti-fraud Reporting Incentive Scheme" and "Supplier Anti-Commercial Bribery Agreement Regulations" based on the Criminal Law and the Anti-unfair Competition Law of the PRC and the Prevention of Bribery Ordinance in Hong Kong. Anti-corruption policies and training are regularly reviewed, adopted, delivered, and communicated within the Group. The Group has developed the following guidelines and management systems:

- Employee handbook
- Employee award management system
- Anti-fraud management system
- Tendering and bidding management system
- Reward and punishment management system
- Anti-corruption training for the employees and board members

The Group has a zero-tolerance policy for any form of unethical behaviour, including fraud, bribery, forgery, extortion, conspiracy, embezzlement and collusion. Employees shall not abuse their position to obtain illegal benefits in the form of money or non-monetary benefits. The Group continues to implement the "Related Party Transaction Reporting System", under which employees are required to report potential conflicts of interest, receipt of gifts of any kind and related party transactions within one month of receiving the benefit. In order to better communicate the expectations of employees' conduct and to implement relevant anti-corruption measures, the Group has established a "Reward and Punishment Management System" and regularly disseminates anti-corruption knowledge to employees. During the period, the Group provided training related to corporate governance, with a total of 2.5 learning hours for the 9 board members. 5 sessions of "Integrity Culture Knowledge Presentation" with a total learning of 4 hours were conducted for new employees and anti-corruption case warning and presentation on the "Sunshine Beauty" WeChat platform were carried out more than once a month to enhance the employees' anti-corruption awareness. In 2025, "Sunshine Beauty" WeChat platform released 109 articles on anti-corruption, and the content is available to all personnel (including but not limited to employees and directors) for review. Besides, a reporting hotline and a reporting mini programme were set up. Once an incident of unethical behaviour is reported, investigated and verified by the internal testing centre, the Group will impose penalties accordingly. Employees involved in unethical behaviour may be subject to the following penalties:

- Termination of labour contract
- Recovery of the proceeds of discipline and the losses caused to the Group
- Legal proceedings to recover possible financial damage caused to the Group

As an effective anti-corruption program requires the full cooperation of all stakeholders, the Group requires suppliers and third-party companies to agree to revised anti-bribery agreements to ensure the integrity of all transactions. The Group's risk control centre also works with local legal and law enforcement authorities to follow up on confirmed corruption cases and other wrongdoings. The Group will continue to assist the judiciary in preventing and combating economic crimes. To minimise the risk of wrongdoing that could seriously damage the Group's reputation, the Group encourages employees to report any suspected bribery through our reporting channels.

In 2025, the Group did not identify any significant issues that violated laws and regulations related to preventing bribery, extortion, fraud, and money laundering and there were no concluded corruption legal cases involving the Group.

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION

The Group is committed to reducing its environmental impact through continuous improvements in the sustainability of its daily activities. The Group complies with all applicable environmental protection laws and regulations across all operations, which include the revised Environmental Protection Law of the PRC and regulations set by the Environmental Protection Bureau of the local government in the PRC. The Group has also attained ISO 14001:2015 Environment Management Systems to reinforce the Group's commitment to environmental protection.

The Group has implemented policies, procedures, and initiatives to govern the environmental protection objectives to address the following aspects:

- Emission
- Use of resources
- The environment and natural resources
- Climate change

Environmental Targets

Taking into account international concerns and the Group's own operational situations, the Group established these three-year targets in 2022 to reduce carbon emissions and waste emissions, and better utilise resources. By setting these targets and actively working towards them, the Group demonstrates its commitment to sustainable development, environmental protection, and responsible business practices. These efforts not only align with global environmental trends but also contribute to the Group's long-term success and resilience.

Aspect	Target	Progress
Greenhouse gas ("GHG") emission	• In 2022, the Group set a target to maintain or reduce the intensity of GHG emissions over the next three years as compared with 2021. • In 2025, the Group set a target to maintain or reduce GHG emission intensity by 2030 as compared to the 2025 level.	• Achieved • In progress. The Group is actively promoting a series of energy-saving measures aimed at further reducing GHG emissions in the future.
Waste management	• In 2022, the Group set a target to maintain or reduce the intensity of hazardous and non-hazardous wastes emissions for the next three years as compared to 2021. • In 2025, the Group set a target to maintain or reduce the intensity of hazardous and non-hazardous waste emissions by 2030 as compared to the 2025 level.	• Achieved • In progress. The Group has not generated any significant hazardous waste during its operations. We are committed to developing more eco-friendly packaging methods to further reduce the consumption of packaging materials.
Energy management	• In 2022, the Group set a target to maintain or reduce the intensity of energy consumption for the next three years as compared to 2021. • In 2025, the Group set a target to maintain or reduce total energy consumption by 2030 as compared to the 2025 level.	• Achieved • In progress. The Group is implementing a series of energy-saving measures with the goal of reducing energy consumption in the coming year.
Water management	• In 2022, the Group set a target to maintain or reduce the intensity of water consumption for the next three years as compared to 2021. • In 2025, the Group set a target to maintain or reduce water consumption intensity by 2030 as compared to the 2025 level.	• Achieved • In progress. The Group will continue to promote water-saving initiatives among employees, including adjusting the water pressure of faucets to appropriate levels, regularly checking water sources to prevent leaks, and encouraging the recycling of water resources.

Emissions

To achieve continuous improvements in environmental performance, the Group has established various initiatives to achieve significant reductions in various aspects, namely, air and GHG emissions, discharges into water and land, and hazardous and non-hazardous waste generation, including providing shuttle buses to employees to reduce emissions from private vehicles. To reduce emissions from a business perspective, the Group would only employ and purchase green-label certified products to satisfy the Group's transportation and logistics requirements.

The Group encourages responsible management of emissions, natural resources, and the environment in accordance with the Group's "Environment Management Systems". Adhering to the principle of "Reduce, Reuse and Recycle", the Group advocates and facilitates the following segregation, storage, and handling practices:

- Encourage the use of reusable stainless-steel tableware and restrict the use of disposable items in the staff canteen;
- Use organic fertilisers, environmentally friendly pesticides and cleaning agents in daily operations.;
- Inspect the grease trap to identify any further maintenance required;
- Conduct large-scale publicity and promotional activities to endorse the proper use and handling of recyclable materials;
- Reuse existing office equipment and furniture after the relocation of the office; and
- In 2025, reallocate redundant equipment and furniture from existing retail stores or reusable equipment and furniture from closed retail stores to new retail stores opened.

Furthermore, the Group has established the "Management Measures for Water, Air, and Soil Pollution Prevention and Control" internally. These measures are based on relevant laws and regulations and outline provisions for preventing water, air, and soil pollution to protect the environment of the Group and its surrounding areas. The Group takes various measures to minimise environmental pollution, such as adopting clean production processes that have high material utilisation efficiency and minimal pollutant emissions, thereby reducing the generation of air pollutants; and strict operational and maintenance systems are implemented for equipment and facilities that could potentially become pollution sources. In addition, the Group implements separate processing for industrial waste and has entered into industrial waste management agreements with third-party companies to ensure compliance with waste management and the effective implementation of environmental protection measures.

The Group regularly monitors the latest environmental protection laws and regulations at the national and regional levels to strengthen its environmental protection measures, striving to comply with local government regulations and implement environmental policies. The Group strictly adheres to regulations, including but not limited to the "Environmental Protection Law of the PRC," the "Water Pollution Prevention and Control Law of the PRC," and the "Waste Disposal Ordinance" in Hong Kong. In 2025, the Group did not have any significant issues of non-compliance with the relevant applicable local environmental laws and regulations regarding emissions of exhaust gases and GHG, pollution discharge into water and land, or the discharge of hazardous and non-hazardous waste.

Use of Resources

The Group has adopted various initiatives to promote the efficient use of resources, which include implementing energy conservation programs across its properties to increase energy efficiency and reduce energy usage, and mitigating its contribution to water pollution through fresh water resources preservation. Some specific examples of these policies and initiatives include:

Energy-saving initiatives	Water resources preservation initiatives
• Control air conditioning temperature and reduce air conditioning execution time through the air conditioning light intelligent management platform • Promote the culture of environmental friendliness to staff • Maintain an average indoor temperature of 26°C • Install LEDs or energy-efficient lights in offices and shops • Utilize natural light when possible in the interior design of department stores to reduce the energy used for lighting • Reduce one shuttle bus to lower exhaust emissions and air pollution	• Install efficient water dispensers that minimize water wastage • Provide water conservation training to staff • Adopt stricter water utilization supervision to reduce water usage within operational processes • Install flow regulators on faucets and sensor-activated taps in public restrooms to effectively reduce water consumption

The Group's "Management Measures for Water, Air, and Soil Pollution Prevention and Control" clearly outlines measures for wastewater management such as promoting the use of clean production processes with high material utilisation efficiency and minimal pollutant emissions and strengthening management to reduce water pollution. The Group has no major issues regarding the acquisition of suitable water sources.

The Group also has the "Water/Energy Conservation Management Regulations" in place to educate employees about saving energy and reducing waste. Each department is required to provide training on electricity conservation awareness to employees, strict operating procedures must be followed for machinery and equipment with high electricity consumption, and process improvements are implemented to reduce energy consumption while increasing production output per unit. These measures aim to achieve energy savings by improving the production capacity per unit of electricity consumed.

The Group acknowledges the impact of excess packaging on the environment. Therefore, to encourage efficient utilisation of packaging materials for products, the Group has the following measures and practices in place:

- Optimised product wrapping design to mitigate overpacking of finished products;
- Repaired and re-used damaged cargo pads to minimise timber consumption;
- Recycled product carton; and
- Replaced paper receipts by adopting electronic based record.

In addition, the Group is committed to the R&D of innovative and sustainable products, actively collaborating with renowned raw material suppliers to develop new fabrics. We have incorporated more herbal plant ingredients into our new products, aiming to provide consumers with more comfortable and healthier choices. For example, we have developed a camellia-scented fabric, used in new bra and lounge-wear collections, which features antibacterial and antioxidant properties. At the same time, the newly launched men's herbal guide underwear integrates environmental friendliness and functionality into its design. The Group will continue to increase investment in product development and material selection.

The Group does not generate any material hazardous waste during its production and operations. The Group is committed to implementing the four fundamental waste-reduction principles of reduce, reuse, recycle, and replace, and promoting waste sorting concepts in our operations to manage waste effectively.

Environmental, Social and Governance Report

The Environment and Natural Resources

The Group is committed to managing its impacts on the environment and natural resources. With various targets and responsibility assessments, strict environmental management policies are in place to strive for continuous improvement in the environmental management system. These strategies aim to minimise the negative impacts on the environment and natural resources when the Group conducts business. The Group's commitment to environmental protection is evident throughout its factory, office space and other facilities. For instance, the Group installed an air quality-processing device that measures and assesses the quality of air emitted from exhaust pipes in the staff cafeteria. The Group also controls noise pollution from facilities, by prohibiting the use of car horns in the factory. The plant equipment is calibrated in a timely manner to prevent environmental impact.

Climate Change

Governance

The Group has established a climate change governance framework under the overall supervision of the Board of Directors and implemented by the ESG Working Group, adopting a top-down management approach. The Board is responsible for setting ESG policies and strategies, reviewing progress on material ESG issues at least annually, and ensuring the effective operation of risk management and internal controls. The ESG Working Group, composed of dedicated personnel (including representatives from risk control and internal audit departments), is tasked with data collection, report preparation, identification of climate-related issues, and regular review of environmental performance and management strategies. It reports annually to the Board to facilitate the assessment, revision, and implementation of climate-related strategies, thereby forming a systematic governance cycle from decision-making to execution.

Strategy

Public awareness of climate change is continuously growing, and climate change remains one of the most widely discussed global topics. The latest Sixth Assessment Report of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) further underscores the severity and urgency of the climate crisis. The Group recognises the importance of identifying and addressing significant climate-related issues, closely monitors the potential impacts of climate change on its operations and business activities, and is committed to managing climate-related risks that may affect its performance. To more accurately identify and analyse the potential physical and transitional risks facing the Group, we refer to the IPCC's Shared Socioeconomic Pathways (SSP1-1.9 and SSP5-8.5). Through climate scenario analysis based on varying levels of global average temperature rise, we are able to identify potential risks and opportunities, assess the extent to which different climate risks may impact the business, strategy, and finances, and accordingly develop policies and strategies to further enhance resilience in the face of climate change.

The following table details the primary climate change-related physical and transition risks and opportunities we have identified, including their potential impacts, the anticipated time horizon of their effects on the Group's operations, and the Group's response measures:

Risk Category	Risk Factor	Risk Description	Mitigation Measures
Physical Risk	Extreme weather events (e.g., typhoons) (Short term)[10]	• Increased storm intensity and frequency may cause delays in the transportation of raw materials (e.g., polyester, cotton, spandex). • Poses a threat to employee safety. • May damage the Group's property and facilities, leading to direct financial loss.	• Strictly comply with local laws and regulations regarding extreme weather response. • Establish internal contingency plans for extreme weather events. • Implement flexible work arrangements (e.g., remote work, adjusted schedules) during severe weather conditions. • Purchase relevant insurance to cover property damage and business interruption. • Proactively communicate response measures to employees to ensure their safety and minimise losses.
	Rising average temperatures (Medium – Long term)[10]	• Rising average temperatures may alter customer preferences regarding clothing combinations and functional needs (e.g., seasonal wear, demand for cooling, moisture-wicking materials), impacting product mix and new product development directions. • Prices of raw materials such as cotton and synthetic fibres may fluctuate due to climate change, affecting cost structures and supply risks.	• Proactively develop and integrate functional materials (e.g., cooling, moisture-wicking fabrics) and adjust product designs to meet evolving market demands driven by warmer climates. • Closely monitor price volatility and supply risks of key raw materials. Conduct strategic procurement during price lows to mitigate cost impacts and ensure supply stability.

Environmental, Social and Governance Report

Risk Category	Risk Factor	Risk Description	Mitigation Measures
Transition Risk	Policy & Law (Short term)[10]	• Legislation and regulations related to carbon emissions, regulatory policies, carbon taxes and mandatory carbon trading schemes may increase our operational compliance costs.	• Through regular and ad hoc market research, along with frequent engagement with suppliers, we stay abreast of relevant technological innovations and introduce appropriate technologies, products, and suppliers at opportune moments to gain a competitive edge. • We actively collaborate with our clients to promote sustainability initiatives, conduct stakeholder engagement and materiality assessments, and publish the Group's ESG reports to enhance information transparency.
	Technology Innovation (Short term)[10]	• Failure to promptly identify and adopt emerging technologies such as low-carbon solutions and artificial intelligence may reduce our operational efficiency or cause our products to lag behind industry peers, resulting in competitive disadvantage and potential impact on the Group's revenue.
	Market Shift (Long term)[10]	• If market preference for low-carbon data centres continue to rise, the Group must outperform competitors in recognising market transitions and responding to low-carbon demand. Failure to do so may lead to reduced demand for our products and services, resulting in revenue loss and diminished market share.

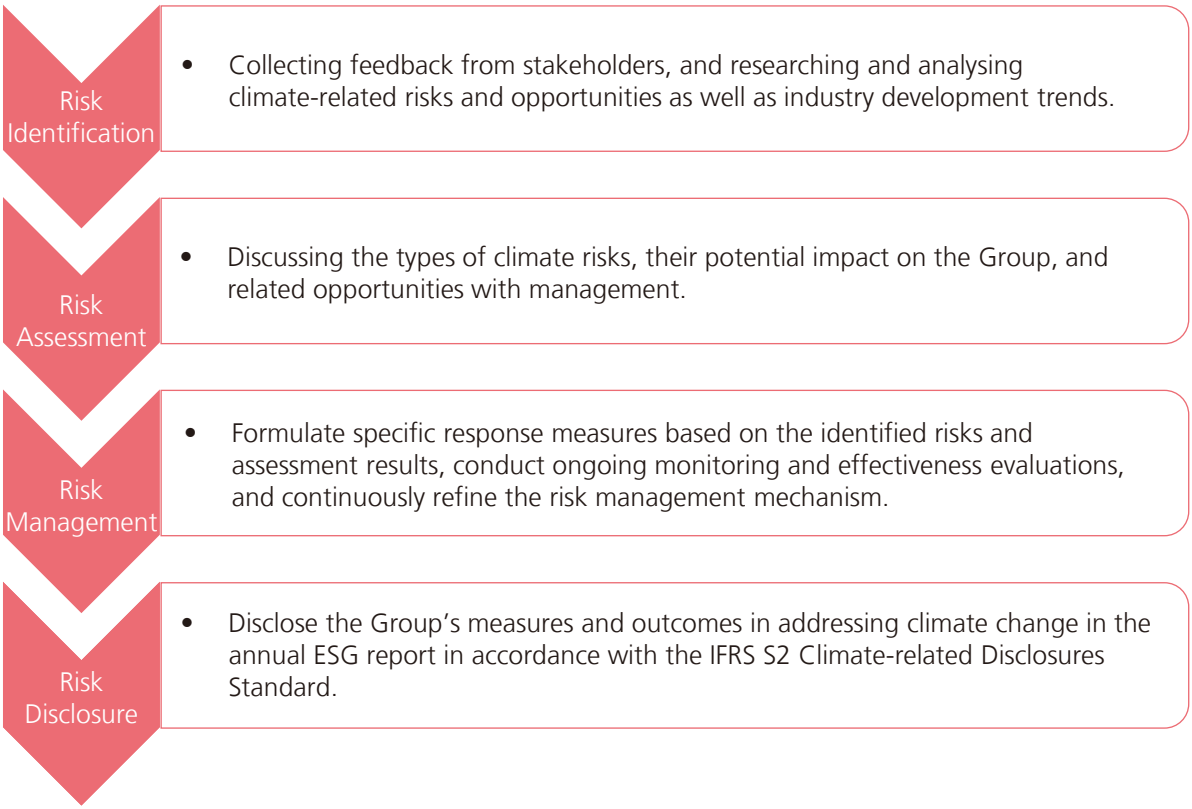
Opportunity Category	Opportunity Description	Response Measures
Reputational Opportunity (Long term)[10]	• Implementing sustainable development and environmental protection measures will enhance the Group's social responsibility image.	• Participate in and respond to national and industry climate-related policies and carbon market developments, and publicly disclose sustainability achievements to build a positive corporate image and strengthen social responsibility reputation.
Policy & Market Opportunity (Medium – Long term)[10]	• To achieve its dual-carbon goals, the PRC is expected to accelerate the decarbonization of the energy system, promote industrial and transportation electrification, and improve industrial energy efficiency. Consequently, policies supporting these objectives, such as incentives for renewable energy investment, expansion of renewable capacity, and improvement of green power trading and carbon emissions trading systems, may be introduced. Municipal governments are also likely to launch supportive policies and funding for green development.	• Promote the adoption of green production equipment and energy-efficient processes, creating industry benchmark cases. • Develop new revenue streams and increase total income through avenues such as investing in renewable energy projects and participating in carbon trading markets, thereby gaining additional economic benefits. • Engage in opportunities arising from China's energy system decarbonization and the electrification of industry and transportation – for example, by investing in renewable energy projects and related infrastructure – thereby enhancing the Group's asset value. • Leverage government subsidies or tax incentives to reduce operational costs and improve profitability.

Note:

10. Time horizon refers to the period over which climate-related risks and opportunities may begin to impact the Group's operations. Short term is defined as 1–3 years, medium term as 3–5 years, and long-term as 5–10 years.

Risk Management

The Group has integrated climate change-related risks into its enterprise risk management framework to proactively identify and mitigate potential risks. Management is responsible for addressing sustainability-related risks and opportunities, including those associated with climate change. These risks are continuously monitored and embedded into the Group's strategic planning, business decisions, and approval processes, ensuring effective management of climate-related risks and opportunities while enhancing the Group's resilience in a complex operating environment. Building on this foundation, the Group has actively implemented targeted measures across key climate-related areas, as outlined below:



Metrics and Targets

Given the nature of our operations, the Group's primary sources of carbon emissions are as follows:

- Direct GHG emissions (Scope 1): Energy consumption from direct activities.
- Energy indirect GHG emissions from energy (Scope 2): Energy indirect consumption associated with purchased electricity.

In response to the above emission sources, we have actively implemented the following GHG reduction measures:

- Providing shuttle bus services for employees to minimise emissions from private vehicles.
- Actively implementing energy-saving measures, please refer to the Use of Resources section for details.

In 2025, the Group generated approximately 2,402.76 tonnes of carbon dioxide equivalent (tCO_2e) in GHG emissions (2024: approximately 3,728.84 tCO_2e), with a GHG emission intensity of approximately 0.813 tCO_2e per million units of revenue (2024: approximately 1.239 tCO_2e per million units of revenue). The reason for the reduction in GHG emissions this year is that the Group leased out Buildings 1–6 of the Fengdeling warehouse. As a result, the purchased electricity consumption decreased, leading to a corresponding reduction in carbon emissions. Details of the GHG emissions performance for the specific period are presented as follows[11]:

	Unit	2025	2024
Total GHG emissions	tCO_2e	2,402.76	3,728.84
GHG emissions (Scope 1)	tCO_2e	74.02	90.85
GHG emissions (Scope 2)	tCO_2e	2,328.74	3,637.99
GHG emission intensity[11]	tCO_2e/revenue (in million)	0.813	1.239

Note:

11. GHG emissions data are presented in terms of carbon dioxide equivalent, and referenced including but not limited to, "The Greenhouse Gas Protocol: A Corporate Accounting and Reporting Standards" issued by the World Resources Institute and the World Business Council for Sustainable Development, "How to prepare an ESG Report – Appendix 2: Reporting Guidance on Environmental KPIs" issued by the Stock Exchange, "2023 Electricity Carbon Dioxide Emission Factor" jointly released by the Ministry of Ecology and Environment of the People's Republic of China, the National Bureau of Statistics, and the National Energy Administration and the "Global Warming Potential Values" from the IPCC Sixth Assessment Report, 2021 (AR6).

Based on the Group's business activities, our Scope 3 emissions are expected to encompass upstream and downstream activities, including but not limited to: purchased goods and services (Category 1), waste generated in operations (Category 5), and business travel (Category 6). In recognition of the growing market focus on value-chain management, the Group will actively explore the feasibility of expanding GHG emissions disclosure to include Scope 3 emissions, with related data to be disclosed once the data collection framework is further matured.

To the shareholders of Cosmo Lady (China) Holdings Company Limited
(Incorporated in the Cayman Islands with limited liability)

Opinion

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of Cosmo Lady (China) Holdings Company Limited (the "Company") and its subsidiaries (the "Group") set out on pages 108 to 189, which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as at 31 December 2025, and the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, the consolidated statement of changes in equity and the consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including material accounting policy information.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements give a true and fair view of the consolidated financial position of the Group as at 31 December 2025, and of its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with IFRS Accounting Standards as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (the "IASB") and have been properly prepared in compliance with the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Hong Kong Standards on Auditing ("HKSAs") as issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants ("HKICPA"). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the consolidated financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the HKICPA's Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (the "Code"), as applicable to audits of financial statements of public interest entities. We have also fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Independent Auditor's Report

Key audit matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgement, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters. For each matter below, our description of how our audit addressed the matter is provided in that context.

We have fulfilled the responsibilities described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the consolidated financial statements section of our report, including in relation to these matters. Accordingly, our audit included the performance of procedures designed to respond to our assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements. The results of our audit procedures, including the procedures performed to address the matters below, provide the basis for our audit opinion on the accompanying consolidated financial statements.

Key Audit Matter	How Our Audit Addressed The Key Audit Matter
Provision for inventories
As at 31 December 2025, the Group's inventories were carried at approximately RMB607 million which has been stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. During the year, a net provision of approximately RMB48 million was recognised in profit or loss against the inventories. The consumption and pricing strategies of inventories are subject to changing consumer demands and market trends which increased the level of judgement involved in estimating the inventory provision. Significant management judgement was required to assess and estimate the appropriate level of provision for items which might be ultimately obsolete or sold below their cost as a result of a reduction in customers' demand. Relevant disclosures about the significant accounting judgement and estimates, the provision for inventories and the balance of inventories are included in notes 3, 8 and 24 to the consolidated financial statements, respectively.	We obtained an understanding of the inventory provision policy adopted by the Group's management. We also evaluated whether the inventory provision was made in accordance with the policy. We examined management's estimation regarding the obsolescence percentage applied based on past experience, subsequent sales and market-specific considerations. We tested the underlying data used by management to calculate the inventory obsolescence provision by reviewing the inventory ageing analysis and checking the subsequent sales on a sample basis. We tested the resultant calculation by assessing the calculation criteria and recalculating the provision for the inventories based on those criteria. We also assessed management's calculation of net realisable value by checking against the latest or subsequent selling prices.

Key Audit Matter	How Our Audit Addressed The Key Audit Matter
Recoverability of trade receivables As at 31 December 2025, the carrying amount of trade receivables before loss allowance for impairment amounted to approximately RMB592 million and the loss allowance for impairment of trade receivables amounted to approximately RMB26 million. During the year, management engaged an external valuer and used a provision matrix to calculate the expected credit losses for trade receivables. The matrix was initially based on the Group's historical default rates, and specific factors that management considered in the estimation of the rates including the type of customers, ageing of the balances and recent historical payment patterns. The external valuer then calibrated the matrix to adjust the historical credit loss experience with forward-looking information, such as forecasted economic conditions. Recoverability assessment of trade receivables is identified as a key audit matter because of significant management's judgement and the materiality of the amounts involved. Relevant disclosures about the significant accounting judgement and estimates and the provision for impairment of trade receivables are included in notes 3, 26 and 40(a)(iv) to the consolidated financial statements, respectively.	We tested the controls over the Group's collection procedures and the Group's estimation of expected credit losses. We obtained and reviewed the expected credit loss calculations prepared by the external valuer engaged by the Group. We assessed the external valuer's qualifications, experience and expertise and considering its objectivity and independence. We involved our internal valuation specialists to assist us in assessing the methodologies applied and the key parameters and estimates adopted in the expected credit loss calculations. We also considered the adequacy of the Group's disclosure about the degree of estimation involved in arriving at the allowance amount.

Independent Auditor's Report

Other information included in the Annual Report

The directors of the Company are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Annual Report, other than the consolidated financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of the directors for the consolidated financial statements

The directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation of the consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with IFRS Accounting Standards as issued by the IASB and the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance, and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the directors of the Company are responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors of the Company either intend to liquidate the Group or to cease operations or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

The directors of the Company are assisted by the Audit Committee in discharging their responsibilities for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the consolidated financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Our report is made solely to you, as a body, and for no other purpose. We do not assume responsibility towards or accept liability to any other person for the contents of this report.

Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with HKSAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with HKSAs, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.

- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors.

- Conclude on the appropriateness of the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

- Plan and perform the group audit to obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business units within the Group as a basis for forming an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and review of the audit work performed for purposes of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with the Audit Committee regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide the Audit Committee with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, actions taken to eliminate threats or safeguards applied.

From the matters communicated with the Audit Committee, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partner on the audit resulting in this independent auditor's report is Mr. CHUNG Ho Ling (practising certificate number: P06558).

2 ACCOUNTING POLICIES

2.1 Basis of Preparation

These consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with IFRS Accounting Standards as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (the "IASB") and the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance. They have been prepared under the historical cost convention, except for financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income and investment properties, which have been measured at fair value. The consolidated financial statements are presented in Renminbi ("RMB"), and all values are rounded to the nearest thousand ("RMB'000") except when otherwise indicated.

Basis of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the financial statements of the Company and its subsidiaries for the year ended 31 December 2025. A subsidiary is an entity (including a structured entity), directly or indirectly, controlled by the Company. Control is achieved when the Group is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the investee (i.e., existing rights that give the Group the current ability to direct the relevant activities of the investee).

Generally, there is a presumption that a majority of voting rights results in control. When the Company has less than a majority of the voting or similar rights of an investee, the Group considers all relevant facts and circumstances in assessing whether it has power over an investee, including:

(a) the contractual arrangement with the other vote holders of the investee;

(b) rights arising from other contractual arrangements; and

(c) the Group's voting rights and potential voting rights.

The financial statements of the subsidiaries are prepared for the same reporting period as the Company, using consistent accounting policies. The results of subsidiaries are consolidated from the date on which the Group obtains control, and continue to be consolidated until the date that such control ceases.

Profit or loss and each component of other comprehensive income are attributed to the owners of the parent of the Group and to the non-controlling interests, even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance. All intra-group assets and liabilities, equity, income, expenses and cash flows relating to transactions between members of the Group are eliminated in full on consolidation.

The Group reassesses whether or not it controls an investee if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the three elements of control described above. A change in the ownership interest of a subsidiary, without a loss of control, is accounted for as an equity transaction.

If the Group loses control over a subsidiary, it derecognises the related assets (including goodwill), liabilities, any non-controlling interest and the exchange reserve; and recognises the fair value of any investment retained and any resulting surplus or deficit in profit or loss. The Group's share of components previously recognised in other comprehensive income is reclassified to profit or loss or retained profits, as appropriate, on the same basis as would be required if the Group had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities.

2.2 Changes in Accounting Policies and Disclosures

The Group has adopted amendments to IAS 21 Lack of Exchangeability for the first time for the current year's financial statements. The Group has not early adopted any other standard or amendment that has been issued but is not yet effective.

Amendments to IAS 21 specify how an entity shall assess whether a currency is exchangeable into another currency and how it shall estimate a spot exchange rate at a measurement date when exchangeability is lacking. The amendments require disclosures of information that enable users of financial statements to understand the impact of a currency not being exchangeable. As the currencies that the Group had transacted in and the functional currencies of overseas subsidiaries for translation into the Group's presentation currency were exchangeable, the amendments did not have any impact on the Group's financial statements.

2.3 Issued but not yet effective IFRS accounting standards

The Group has not applied the following new and amended IFRS Accounting Standards, that have been issued but are not yet effective, in these financial statements. The Group intends to apply these new and amended IFRS Accounting Standards, if applicable, when they become effective.

IFRS 18	Presentation and Disclosure in Financial Statements[2]
IFRS 19 and its amendments	Subsidiaries without Public Accountability: Disclosures[2]
Amendments to IFRS 9 and IFRS 7	Amendments to the Classification and Measurement of Financial Instruments[1]
Amendments to IFRS 9 and IFRS 7	Contracts Referencing Nature-dependent Electricity[1]
Amendments to IFRS 10 and IAS 28	Sale or Contribution of Assets between an Investor and its Associate or Joint Venture[3]
Amendments to IAS 21	Translation to a Hyperinflationary Presentation Currency[2]
Annual Improvements to IFRS Accounting Standards – Volume 11	Amendments to IFRS 1, IFRS 7, IFRS 9, IFRS 10 and IAS 7[1]

1 Effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2026
2 Effective for annual/reporting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2027
3 No mandatory effective date yet determined but available for adoption

Further information about those IFRS Accounting Standards that are expected to be applicable to the Group is described below.

IFRS 18 replaces IAS 1 Presentation of Financial Statements. While a number of sections have been brought forward from IAS 1 with limited changes, IFRS 18 introduces new requirements for presentation within the statement of profit or loss, including specified totals and subtotals. Entities are required to classify all income and expenses within the statement of profit or loss into one of the five categories: operating, investing, financing, income taxes and discontinued operations and to present two new defined subtotals. It also requires disclosures about management-defined performance measures in a single note and introduces enhanced requirements on the grouping (aggregation and disaggregation) and the location of information in both the primary financial statements and the notes. Some requirements previously included in IAS 1 are moved to IAS 8 Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors, which is renamed as IAS 8 Basis of Preparation of Financial Statements. As a consequence of the issuance of IFRS 18, limited, but widely applicable, amendments are made to IAS 7 Statement of Cash Flows, IAS 33 Earnings per Share and IAS 34 Interim Financial Reporting. In addition, there are minor consequential amendments to other IFRS Accounting Standards. IFRS 18 and the consequential amendments to other IFRS Accounting Standards are effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2027 with earlier application permitted. Retrospective application is required. The Group is currently analysing the new requirements and assessing the impact of IFRS 18 on the presentation and disclosure of the Group's financial statements.

IFRS 19 allows eligible entities to elect to apply reduced disclosure requirements while still applying the recognition, measurement and presentation requirements in other IFRS Accounting Standards. To be eligible, at the end of the reporting period, an entity must be a subsidiary as defined in IFRS 10 Consolidated Financial Statements, cannot have public accountability and must have a parent (ultimate or intermediate) that prepares consolidated financial statements available for public use which comply with IFRS Accounting Standards. IFRS 19 was amended in 2025 to reduce the previous full disclosure requirements for new and amended IFRS Accounting Standards issued between February 2021 and May 2024. Earlier application is permitted. As the Company is a listed company, it is not eligible to elect to apply IFRS 19 and its amendments. Some of the Company's subsidiaries are considering the application of IFRS 19 and its amendments in their specified financial statements.

Amendments to IFRS 9 and IFRS 7 Amendments to the Classification and Measurement of Financial Instruments clarify the date on which a financial asset or financial liability is derecognised and introduce an accounting policy option to derecognise a financial liability that is settled through an electronic payment system before the settlement date if specified criteria are met. The amendments clarify how to assess the contractual cash flow characteristics of financial assets with environmental, social and governance and other similar contingent features. Moreover, the amendments clarify the requirements for classifying financial assets with non-recourse features and contractually linked instruments. The amendments also include additional disclosures for investments in equity instruments designated at fair value through other comprehensive income and financial instruments with contingent features. The amendments shall be applied retrospectively with an adjustment to opening retained profits (or other component of equity) at the initial application date. Prior periods are not required to be restated and can only be restated without the use of hindsight. Earlier application of either all the amendments at the same time or only the amendments related to the classification of financial assets is permitted. The amendments are not expected to have any significant impact on the Group's financial statements.

Amendments to IFRS 9 and IFRS 7 Contracts Referencing Nature-dependent Electricity clarify the application of the "own-use" requirements for in-scope contracts and amend the designation requirements for a hedged item in a cash flow hedging relationship for in-scope contracts. The amendments also include additional disclosures that enable users of financial statements to understand the effects these contracts have on an entity's financial performance and future cash flows. The amendments relating to the own-use exception shall be applied retrospectively. Prior periods are not required to be restated and can only be restated without the use of hindsight. The amendments relating to the hedge accounting shall be applied prospectively to new hedging relationships designated on or after the date of initial application. Earlier application is permitted. The amendments are not expected to have any significant impact on the Group's financial statements.

Amendments to IFRS 10 and IAS 28 address an inconsistency between the requirements in IFRS 10 and in IAS 28 Investments in Associates and Joint Ventures in dealing with the sale or contribution of assets between an investor and its associate or joint venture. The amendments require a full recognition of a gain or loss resulting from a downstream transaction when the sale or contribution of assets constitutes a business. For a transaction involving assets that do not constitute a business, a gain or loss resulting from the transaction is recognised in the investor's profit or loss only to the extent of the unrelated investor's interest in that associate or joint venture. The amendments are to be applied prospectively. The previous mandatory effective date of amendments to IFRS 10 and IAS 28 was removed by the IASB. However, the amendments are available for adoption now.

Amendments to IAS 21 Translation to a Hyperinflationary Presentation Currency require the translation from a non-hyperinflationary functional currency into a hyperinflationary presentation currency at the closing rate. The amendments also require an entity whose functional currency and presentation currency are the currency of a hyperinflationary economy to restate the comparative amounts of a foreign operation whose functional currency is that of a non-hyperinflationary economy, by applying the general price index, in accordance with paragraph 34 of IAS 29 Financial Reporting in Hyperinflationary Economies, to the foreign operation's comparative figures. The amendments introduce certain additional disclosures. Earlier application is permitted. The amendments are not expected to have any significant impact on the Group's financial statements.

Annual Improvements to IFRS Accounting Standards – Volume 11 set out amendments to IFRS 1, IFRS 7 (and the accompanying Guidance on implementing IFRS 7), IFRS 9, IFRS 10 and IAS 7. Details of the amendments that are expected to be applicable to the Group are as follows:

- IFRS 7 Financial Instruments: Disclosures: The amendments have updated certain wording in paragraph B38 of IFRS 7 and paragraphs IG1, IG14 and IG20B of the Guidance on implementing IFRS 7 for the purpose of simplification or achieving consistency with other paragraphs in the standard and/or with the concepts and terminology used in other standards. In addition, the amendments clarify that the Guidance on implementing IFRS 7 does not necessarily illustrate all the requirements in the referenced paragraphs of IFRS 7 nor does it create additional requirements. Earlier application is permitted. The amendments are not expected to have any significant impact on the Group's financial statements.

- IFRS 9 Financial Instruments: The amendments clarify that when a lessee has determined that a lease liability has been extinguished in accordance with IFRS 9, the lessee is required to apply paragraph 3.3.3 of IFRS 9 and recognise any resulting gain or loss in profit or loss. However, the amendments do not address how a lessee distinguishes between a lease modification as defined in IFRS 16 and an extinguishment of a lease liability in accordance with IFRS 9. In addition, the amendments have updated certain wording in paragraph 5.1.3 of IFRS 9 and Appendix A of IFRS 9 to remove potential confusion. Earlier application is permitted. The amendments are not expected to have any significant impact on the Group's financial statements.

- IFRS 10 Consolidated Financial Statements: The amendments clarify that the relationship described in paragraph B74 of IFRS 10 is just one example of various relationships that might exist between the investor and other parties acting as de facto agents of the investor, which removes the inconsistency with the requirement in paragraph B73 of IFRS 10. Earlier application is permitted. The amendments are not expected to have any significant impact on the Group's financial statements.

- IAS 7 Statement of Cash Flows: The amendments replace the term "cost method" with "at cost" in paragraph 37 of IAS 7 following the prior deletion of the definition of "cost method". Earlier application is permitted. The amendments are not expected to have any impact on the Group's financial statements.

2.4 Material accounting policies

Investments in joint ventures

A joint venture is a type of joint arrangement whereby the parties that have joint control of the arrangement have rights to the net assets of the joint venture. Joint control is the contractually agreed sharing of control of an arrangement, which exists only when decisions about the relevant activities require the unanimous consent of the parties sharing control.

The Group's investments in joint ventures are stated in the consolidated statement of financial position at the Group's share of net assets under the equity method of accounting, less any impairment losses. Adjustments are made to bring into line any dissimilar accounting policies that may exist.

The Group's share of the post-acquisition results and other comprehensive income of joint ventures is included in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and consolidated other comprehensive income, respectively. In addition, when there has been a change recognised directly in the equity of the joint venture, the Group recognises its share of any changes, when applicable, in the consolidated statement of changes in equity. Unrealised gains and losses resulting from transactions between the Group and its joint ventures are eliminated to the extent of the Group's investments in the joint ventures, except where unrealised losses provide evidence of an impairment of the assets transferred. Goodwill arising from the acquisition of joint ventures is included as part of the Group's investments in joint ventures.

If an investment in an associate becomes an investment in a joint venture or vice versa, the retained interest is not remeasured. Instead, the investment continues to be accounted for under the equity method. In all other cases, upon loss of significant influence over the associate or joint control over the joint venture, the Group measures and recognises any retained investment at its fair value. Any difference between the carrying amount of the associate or joint venture upon loss of significant influence or joint control and the fair value of the retained investment and proceeds from disposal is recognised in profit or loss.

Fair value measurement

The Group measures its financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income at fair value at the end of each reporting period. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either in the principal market for the asset or liability, or in the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability. The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible by the Group. The fair value of an asset or a liability is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their economic best interest.

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

The Group uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximising the use of relevant observable inputs and minimising the use of unobservable inputs.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorised within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

Level 1 – based on quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities
Level 2 – based on valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is observable, either directly or indirectly
Level 3 – based on valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable

For assets and liabilities that are recognised in the financial statements on a recurring basis, the Group determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by reassessing categorisation (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

Impairment of non-financial assets

Where an indication of impairment exists, or when annual impairment testing for an asset is required (other than inventories, deferred tax assets and financial assets), the asset's recoverable amount is estimated. An asset's recoverable amount is the higher of the asset's or cash-generating unit's value in use and its fair value less costs of disposal, and is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or groups of assets, in which case the recoverable amount is determined for the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs.

In testing a cash-generating unit for impairment, a portion of the carrying amount of a corporate asset is allocated to an individual cash-generating unit if it can be allocated on a reasonable and consistent basis or, otherwise, to the smallest group of cash-generating units.

An impairment loss is recognised only if the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. An impairment loss is charged to profit or loss in the period in which it arises in those expense categories consistent with the function of the impaired asset.

An assessment is made at the end of each reporting period as to whether there is an indication that previously recognised impairment losses may no longer exist or may have decreased. If such an indication exists, the recoverable amount is estimated. A previously recognised impairment loss of an asset other than goodwill is reversed only if there has been a change in the estimates used to determine the recoverable amount of that asset, but not to an amount higher than the carrying amount that would have been determined (net of any depreciation/amortisation) had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset in prior years. A reversal of such an impairment loss is credited to profit or loss in the period in which it arises.

Related parties

A party is considered to be related to the Group if:

(a) the party is a person or a close member of that person's family and that person

  (i) has control or joint control over the Group;

  (ii) has significant influence over the Group; or

  (iii) is a member of the key management personnel of the Group or of a parent of the Group;

or

(b) the party is an entity where any of the following conditions applies:

(i) the entity and the Group are members of the same group;

(ii) one entity is an associate or joint venture of the other entity (or of a parent, subsidiary or fellow subsidiary of the other entity);

(iii) the entity and the Group are joint ventures of the same third party;

(iv) one entity is a joint venture of a third entity and the other entity is an associate of the third entity;

(v) the entity is a post-employment benefit plan for the benefit of employees of either the Group or an entity related to the Group;

(vi) the entity is controlled or jointly controlled by a person identified in (a);

(vii) a person identified in (a)(i) has significant influence over the entity or is a member of the key management personnel of the entity (or of a parent of the entity); and

(viii) the entity, or any member of a group of which it is a part, provides key management personnel services to the Group or to the parent of the Group.

Property, plant and equipment and depreciation

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and any impairment losses. The cost of an item of property, plant and equipment comprises its purchase price and any directly attributable costs of bringing the asset to its working condition and location for its intended use.

Expenditure incurred after items of property, plant and equipment have been put into operation, such as repairs and maintenance, is normally charged to profit or loss in the period in which it is incurred. In situations where the recognition criteria are satisfied, the expenditure for a major inspection is capitalised in the carrying amount of the asset as a replacement. Where significant parts of property, plant and equipment are required to be replaced at intervals, the Group recognises such parts as individual assets with specific useful lives and depreciates them accordingly.

Depreciation is calculated on the straight-line basis to write off the cost of each item of property, plant and equipment to its residual value over its estimated useful life. The principal annual rates used for this purpose are as follows:

Property, plant and equipment and depreciation (Continued)

Valuations are performed frequently enough to ensure that the fair value of a revalued asset does not differ materially from its carrying amount. Changes in the values of property, plant and equipment are dealt with as movements in the asset revaluation reserve. If the total of this reserve is insufficient to cover a deficit, on an individual asset basis, the excess of the deficit is charged to profit or loss. Any subsequent revaluation surplus is credited to profit or loss to the extent of the deficit previously charged. An annual transfer from the asset revaluation reserve to retained profits is made for the difference between the depreciation based on the revalued carrying amount of an asset and the depreciation based on the asset's original cost. On disposal of a revalued asset, the relevant portion of the asset revaluation reserve realised in respect of previous valuations is transferred to retained profits as a movement in reserves.

Owned assets
Buildings	20–40 years
Leasehold improvements	Shorter of remaining lease terms or useful life of 2–5 years
Machinery and equipment	5–10 years
Furniture, fittings and equipment	3–5 years
Vehicles	5–10 years
Right-of-use assets
Land use right	Over the lease terms of 42 years to 50 years
Properties	2 to 5 years

Where parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful lives, the cost of that item is allocated on a reasonable basis among the parts and each part is depreciated separately. Residual values, useful lives and the depreciation method are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at least at each financial year end.

An item of property, plant and equipment including any significant part initially recognised is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss on disposal or retirement recognised in profit or loss in the year the asset is derecognised is the difference between the net sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the relevant asset.

Construction in progress is stated at cost less any impairment losses, and is not depreciated. It is reclassified to the appropriate category of property, plant and equipment when completed and ready for use.

Investment properties

Investment properties are interests in land and buildings (including right-of-use assets) held to earn rental income and/or for capital appreciation. Such properties are measured initially at cost, including transaction costs. Subsequent to initial recognition, investment properties are stated at fair value, which reflects market conditions at the end of the reporting period.

Gains or losses arising from changes in the fair values of investment properties are included in profit or loss in the year in which they arise.

Any gains or losses on the retirement or disposal of an investment property are recognised in profit or loss in the year of the retirement or disposal.

Investment properties (Continued)

For a transfer from investment properties to owner-occupied properties or inventories, the deemed cost of a property for subsequent accounting is its fair value at the date of change in use. If a property occupied by the Group as an owner-occupied property becomes an investment property, the Group accounts for such property in accordance with the policy stated under "Property, plant and equipment and depreciation" for owned property and/or accounts for such property in accordance with the policy stated under "Right-of-use assets" for property held as a right-of-use asset up to the date of change in use, and any difference at that date between the carrying amount and the fair value of the property is accounted for as a revaluation in accordance with the policy stated under "Property, plant and equipment and depreciation" above. For a transfer from inventories to investment properties, any difference between the fair value of the property at that date and its previous carrying amount is recognised in profit or loss.

Intangible assets (other than goodwill)

Intangible assets acquired separately are measured on initial recognition at cost. The cost of intangible assets acquired in a business combination is the fair value at the date of acquisition. The useful lives of intangible assets are assessed to be either finite or indefinite. Intangible assets with finite lives are subsequently amortised over the useful economic life and assessed for impairment whenever there is an indication that the intangible asset may be impaired. The amortisation period and the amortisation method for an intangible asset with a finite useful life are reviewed at least at each financial year end.

Acquired trademarks

Acquired trademarks are stated at cost less any impairment losses and are amortised on the straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives of 5 to 10 years.

Computer software

Acquired computer software license is stated at cost less any impairment losses and are amortised on the straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives of 3 to 10 years.

Leases

The Group assesses at contract inception whether a contract is, or contains, a lease. A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration.

Group as a lessee

The Group applies a single recognition and measurement approach for all leases, except for short-term leases. The Group recognises lease liabilities to make lease payments and right-of-use assets representing the right to use the underlying assets.

(a) Right-of-use assets

Right-of-use assets are recognised at the commencement date of the lease (that is the date the underlying asset is available for use). Right-of-use assets are measured at cost, less accumulated depreciation and any impairment losses, and adjusted for any remeasurement of lease liabilities. The cost of right-of-use assets includes the amount of lease liabilities recognised, initial direct costs incurred, and lease payments made at or before the commencement date less any lease incentives received. Right-of-use assets are depreciated on a straight-line basis as detailed in the Property, plant and equipment and depreciation policy above. If ownership of the leased asset transfers to the Group by the end of the lease term or the cost reflects the exercise of a purchase option, depreciation is calculated using the estimated useful life of the asset.

Leases (Continued)

(b) Lease liabilities

Lease liabilities are recognised at the commencement date of the lease at the present value of lease payments to be made over the lease term. The lease payments include fixed payments (including in-substance fixed payments) less any lease incentives receivable, variable lease payments that depend on an index or a rate, and amounts expected to be paid under residual value guarantees. The lease payments also include the exercise price of a purchase option reasonably certain to be exercised by the Group and payments of penalties for termination of a lease, if the lease term reflects the Group exercising the option to terminate the lease. The variable lease payments that do not depend on an index or a rate are recognised as an expense in the period in which the event or condition that triggers the payment occurs.

In calculating the present value of lease payments, the Group uses its incremental borrowing rate at the lease commencement date because the interest rate implicit in the lease is not readily determinable. After the commencement date, the amount of lease liabilities is increased to reflect the accretion of interest and reduced for the lease payments made. In addition, the carrying amount of lease liabilities is remeasured if there is a modification, a change in the lease term, a change in lease payments (e.g., a change to future lease payments resulting from a change in an index or rate) or a change in assessment of an option to purchase the underlying asset.

(c) Short-term leases

The Group applies the short-term lease recognition exemption to its short-term leases of office properties and staff quarters (that is those leases that have a lease term of 12 months or less from the commencement date and do not contain a purchase option).

Lease payments on short-term leases are recognised as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Group as a lessor

When the Group acts as a lessor, it classifies at lease inception (or when there is a lease modification) each of its leases as either an operating lease or a finance lease.

Leases in which the Group does not transfer substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of an asset are classified as operating leases. When a contract contains lease and non-lease components, the Group allocates the consideration in the contract to each component on a relative stand-alone selling price basis. Rental income is accounted for on a straight-line basis over the lease term and is included in revenue in the statement of profit or loss due to its operating nature. Initial direct costs incurred in negotiating and arranging an operating lease are added to the carrying amount of the leased asset and recognised over the lease term on the same basis as rental income. Contingent rents are recognised as revenue in the period in which they are earned.

Completed properties held for sale

Properties held for sale are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost is determined by an apportionment of the total land and building costs attributable to unsold properties. Net realisable value is estimated by the directors based on the prevailing market prices on an individual property basis.

When the right-of-use assets relate to interests in leasehold land held as completed properties held for sale, they are subsequently measured at the lower of cost and net realisable value in accordance with the policy above.

2.4 Material accounting policies (Continued)

Investments and other financial assets

Initial recognition and measurement

Financial assets are classified, at initial recognition, as subsequently measured at amortised cost, fair value through other comprehensive income ("FVOCI"), and fair value through profit or loss ("FVPL").

The classification of financial assets at initial recognition depends on the financial asset's contractual cash flow characteristics and the Group's business model for managing them. With the exception of trade receivables that do not contain a significant financing component or for which the Group has applied the practical expedient of not adjusting the effect of a significant financing component, the Group initially measures a financial asset at its fair value plus in the case of a financial asset not at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs. Trade receivables that do not contain a significant financing component or for which the Group has applied the practical expedient are measured at the transaction price determined under IFRS 15 in accordance with the policies set out for "Revenue recognition" below.

In order for a financial asset to be classified and measured at amortised cost or fair value through other comprehensive income, it needs to give rise to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest ("SPPI") on the principal amount outstanding. Financial assets with cash flows that are not SPPI are classified and measured at fair value through profit or loss, irrespective of the business model.

The Group's business model for managing financial assets refers to how it manages its financial assets in order to generate cash flows. The business model determines whether cash flows will result from collecting contractual cash flows, selling the financial assets, or both. Financial assets classified and measured at amortised cost are held within a business model with the objective to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows, while financial assets classified and measured at fair value through other comprehensive income are held within a business model with the objective of both holding to collect contractual cash flows and selling. Financial assets which are not held within the aforementioned business models are classified and measured at fair value through profit or loss.

Purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within the period generally established by regulation or convention in the marketplace are recognised on the trade date, that is, the date that the Group commits to purchase or sell the asset.

Subsequent measurement

The subsequent measurement of financial assets depends on their classification as follows:

Financial assets at amortised cost (debt instruments)

Financial assets at amortised cost are subsequently measured using the effective interest method and are subject to impairment. Gains and losses are recognised in profit or loss when the asset is derecognised, modified or impaired.

Financial assets designated at fair value through other comprehensive income (equity investments)

Upon initial recognition, the Group can elect to classify irrevocably its equity investments as equity investments designated at fair value through other comprehensive income when they meet the definition of equity under IAS 32 Financial Instruments: Presentation and are not held for trading. The classification is determined on an instrument-by-instrument basis.

Gains and losses on these financial assets are never recycled to profit or loss. Dividends are recognised as revenue in profit or loss when the right of payment has been established, except when the Group benefits from such proceeds as a recovery of part of the cost of the financial asset, in which case, such gains are recorded in other comprehensive income. Equity investments designated at fair value through other comprehensive income are not subject to impairment assessment.

Derecognition of financial assets

A financial asset (or, where applicable, a part of a financial asset or part of a group of similar financial assets) is primarily derecognised (i.e., removed from the Group's consolidated statement of financial position) when:

- the rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired; or

- the Group has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset or has assumed an obligation to pay the received cash flows in full without material delay to a third party under a "pass-through" arrangement; and either (a) the Group has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or (b) the Group has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset.

When the Group has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from an asset or has entered into a pass-through arrangement, it evaluates, if and to what extent, it has retained the risk and rewards of ownership of the asset. When it has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset nor transferred control of the asset, the Group continues to recognise the transferred asset to the extent of the Group's continuing involvement. In that case, the Group also recognises an associated liability. The transferred asset and the associated liability are measured on a basis that reflects the rights and obligations that the Group has retained.

Continuing involvement that takes the form of a guarantee over the transferred asset is measured at the lower of the original carrying amount of the asset and the maximum amount of consideration that the Group could be required to repay.

Impairment of financial assets

The Group recognises an allowance for expected credit losses ("ECLs") for all debt instruments not held at fair value through profit or loss. ECLs are based on the difference between the contractual cash flows due in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the Group expects to receive, discounted at an approximation of the original effective interest rate. The expected cash flows will include cash flows from the sale of collateral held or other credit enhancements that are integral to the contractual terms.

General approach

ECLs are recognised in two stages. For credit exposures for which there has not been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, ECLs are provided for credit losses that result from default events that are possible within the next 12 months (a 12-month ECL). For those credit exposures for which there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, a loss allowance is required for credit losses expected over the remaining life of the exposure, irrespective of the timing of the default (a lifetime ECL).

At each reporting date, the Group assesses whether the credit risk on a financial instrument has increased significantly since initial recognition. When making the assessment, the Group compares the risk of a default occurring on the financial instrument as at the reporting date with the risk of a default occurring on the financial instrument as at the date of initial recognition and considers reasonable and supportable information that is available without undue cost or effort, including historical and forward-looking information. The Group considers that there has been a significant increase in credit risk when contractual payments are more than 30 days past due.

The Group considers a financial asset in default when contractual payments are 90 days past due. However, in certain cases, the Group may also consider a financial asset to be in default when internal or external information indicates that the Group is unlikely to receive the outstanding contractual amounts in full before taking into account any credit enhancements held by the Group.

A financial asset is written off when there is no reasonable expectation of recovering the contractual cash flows.

Debt investments at fair value through other comprehensive income and financial assets at amortised cost are subject to impairment under the general approach and they are classified within the following stages for measurement of ECLs except for trade receivables which apply the simplified approach as detailed below.

Stage 1 – Financial instruments for which credit risk has not increased significantly since initial recognition and for which the loss allowance is measured at an amount equal to 12-month ECLs

Stage 2 – Financial instruments for which credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition but that are not credit-impaired financial assets and for which the loss allowance is measured at an amount equal to lifetime ECLs

Stage 3 – Financial assets that are credit-impaired at the reporting date (but that are not purchased or originated credit-impaired) and for which the loss allowance is measured at an amount equal to lifetime ECLs

Simplified approach

For trade receivables that do not contain a significant financing component or when the Group applies the practical expedient of not adjusting the effect of a significant financing component, the Group applies the simplified approach in calculating ECLs. Under the simplified approach, the Group does not track changes in credit risk, but instead recognises a loss allowance based on lifetime ECLs at each reporting date. The Group has established a provision matrix that is based on its historical credit loss experience, adjusted for forward-looking factors specific to the debtors and the economic environment.

For trade receivables that contain a significant financing component and lease receivables, the Group chooses as its accounting policy to adopt the simplified approach in calculating ECLs with policies as described above.

Financial liabilities

Initial recognition and measurement

Financial liabilities are classified, at initial recognition, as financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss and financial liabilities at amortised cost, as appropriate.

All financial liabilities are recognised initially at fair value and, in the case of financial liabilities at amortised cost, net of directly attributable transaction costs.

The Group's financial liabilities include financial liabilities included in accruals and other payables, trade and notes payable and interest-bearing bank borrowings.

Subsequent measurement

The subsequent measurement of financial liabilities depends on their classification as follows:
Financial liabilities at amortised cost (other payables, borrowings and trade and notes payables)
After initial recognition, other payables, interest-bearing borrowings and trade and notes payables are subsequently measured at amortised cost, using the effective interest rate method unless the effect of discounting would be immaterial, in which case they are stated at cost. Gains and losses are recognised in profit or loss when the liabilities are derecognised as well as through the effective interest rate amortisation process.

Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the effective interest rate. The effective interest rate amortisation is included in finance costs in profit or loss.

Derecognition of financial liabilities

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled, or expires.

When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as a derecognition of the original liability and a recognition of a new liability, and the difference between the respective carrying amounts is recognised in profit or loss.

Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the statement of financial position if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, or to realise and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost is determined on the weighted average method and, in the case of work in progress and finished goods, comprises direct materials, direct labour and an appropriate proportion of overheads. Net realisable value is based on estimated selling prices less any estimated costs to be incurred to completion and disposal.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents in the statement of financial position comprise cash on hand at banks, and short-term highly liquid deposits with a maturity of generally within three months that are readily convertible into known amounts of cash, subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value and held for the purpose of meeting short-term cash commitments.

For the purpose of the consolidated statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents comprise cash on hand and at banks, and short-term deposits as defined above, less any bank overdrafts which are repayable on demand and form an integral part of the Group's cash management.

Provisions

A provision is recognised when a present obligation (legal or constructive) has arisen as a result of a past event and it is probable that a future outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation, provided that a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

When the Group expects some or all of a provision to be reimbursed, the reimbursement is recognised as a separate asset, but only when the reimbursement is virtually certain. The expense relating to a provision is presented in profit or loss net of any reimbursement.

When the effect of discounting is material, the amount recognised for a provision is the present value at the end of the reporting period of the future expenditures expected to be required to settle the obligation. The increase in the discounted present value amount arising from the passage of time is included in finance costs in profit or loss.

Income tax

Income tax comprises current and deferred tax. Income tax relating to items recognised outside profit or loss is recognised outside profit or loss, either in other comprehensive income or directly in equity.

Current tax assets and liabilities are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period, taking into consideration interpretations and practices prevailing in the countries in which the Group operates.

Income tax (Continued)

Deferred tax is provided, using the liability method, on all temporary differences at the end of the reporting period between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for all taxable temporary differences, except:

- when the deferred tax liability arises from the initial recognition of goodwill or an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss and does not give rise to equal taxable and deductible temporary differences; and

- in respect of taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries and joint ventures, when the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences can be controlled and it is probable that the temporary differences will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for all deductible temporary differences, and the carryforward of unused tax credits and any unused tax losses. Deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences, and the carryforward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilised, except:

- when the deferred tax asset relating to the deductible temporary differences arises from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss and does not give rise to equal taxable and deductible temporary differences; and

- in respect of deductible temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries and joint ventures, deferred tax assets are only recognised to the extent that it is probable that the temporary differences will reverse in the foreseeable future and taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilised.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of each reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilised. Unrecognised deferred tax assets are reassessed at the end of each reporting period and are recognised to the extent that it has become probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply to the period when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are offset if and only if the Group has a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets and current tax liabilities and the deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority on either the same taxable entity or different taxable entities which intend either to settle current tax liabilities and assets on a net basis, or to realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously, in each future period in which significant amounts of deferred tax liabilities or assets are expected to be settled or recovered.

Government grants

Government grants are recognised at their fair value where there is reasonable assurance that the grant will be received and all attaching conditions will be complied with. When the grant relates to an expense item, it is recognised in profit or loss on a systematic basis over the periods that the costs, for which it is intended to compensate, are expensed.

2.4 Material accounting policies (Continued)

Revenue recognition

(a) Sales of goods – sales to franchisees

The Group sells intimate wear products in the wholesale market. Sales are recognised when control of the products has transferred, being when the products are delivered to the franchisees, the franchisees have full discretion over the channel and price to sell the products, and there is no unfulfilled obligation that could affect the franchisees' acceptance of the products. Delivery occurs when the products have been shipped to the specified location, the risks of obsolescence and loss have been transferred to the franchisees, and either the franchisees have accepted the products in accordance with the sales contract, the acceptance provisions have lapsed, or the Group has objective evidence that all criteria for acceptance have been satisfied.

The goods are sold and the customers have a right to return faulty products in the wholesale market. Revenue from these sales is recognised based on the price specified in the contract, net of the estimated returns at the time of sale. Accumulated experience is used to estimate and provide for the returns, using the expected value method, and revenue is only recognised to the extent that it is highly probable that a significant reversal will not occur. A refund liability (included in trade and other payables) is recognised for expected payable to customers in relation to sales made until the end of the reporting period. No element of financing is deemed present as the sales are made with a credit term of 15 to 90 days, which is consistent with market practice. The Group's obligation to provide a refund for faulty products under the standard warranty terms is recognised as a provision.

As receivable is recognised when the goods are delivered as this is the point in time that the consideration is unconditional because only the passage of time is required before the payment is due.

(b) Sales of goods – retail sales and e-commerce transaction

The Group operates a chain of retail stores and uses third party e-commerce platforms selling intimate wear products. Revenue from the sale of goods is recognised when a Group entity sells a product to the customer.

Payment of the transaction price is due immediately when the customer purchases the products and takes delivery in store. It is the Group's policy to sell its products to the end customer which is usually at the time a Group entity has delivered products to the customer, the customer has accepted the products, and there is no unfulfilled obligation that could affect the customer's acceptance of the products. Accumulated experience is used to estimate and provide for such returns at the time of sale.

(c) Logistic warehousing and delivery income

Revenue from logistic warehousing and delivery services is recognised in the accounting period in which the services are rendered. For fixed-price contracts, revenue is recognised based on the actual service provided to the end of the reporting period as a proportion of the total services to be provided (percentage of completion method).

Estimates of revenues, costs or extent of progress toward completion are revised if circumstances change. Any resulting increases or decreases in estimated revenues or costs are reflected in profit or loss in the period in which the circumstances that give rise to the revision become known by management. Payment in advance is normally required.

(d) Sale of properties from industrial projects

Revenue from the sale of properties is recognised at the point in time when the customer obtains the physical possession or the legal title of the completed property or the completed property is deemed to be accepted by the customer according to the contract and the Group has the present right to payment and the collection of the consideration is probable. Payment in advance is normally required.

(e) Royalty income

The Group enters into brand licensing agreements with customers, pursuant to the licensing agreements, the Group grants non-exclusive rights for the customers to manufacture and sell the brand's products on the online platform over the licensing period stipulated in the agreement. The performance obligation is satisfied over time as services are rendered and advance payments are normally required before the commencement of the licensing period. License agreements are for periods of one year. In addition, the Group also earns additional sales-based royalties when cumulative royalties are in excess of the minimum guarantees and these additional royalties are recognised as revenue when the minimum guarantees are exceeded on a cumulative basis.

Other income

Interest income is recognised on an accrual basis using the effective interest method by applying the rate that exactly discounts the estimated future cash receipts over the expected life of the financial instrument or a shorter period, when appropriate, to the net carrying amount of the financial asset.

Dividend income is recognised when the shareholders' right to receive payment has been established, it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the dividend will flow to the Group and the amount of the dividend can be measured reliably.

Contract liabilities

A contract liability is recognised when a payment is received or a payment is due (whichever is earlier) from a customer before the Group transfers the related goods or services. Contract liabilities are recognised as revenue when the Group performs under the contract (i.e., transfers control of the related goods or services to the customer).

Share-based payments

The Company operates a number of share award schemes and a share option scheme. Employees (including directors) of the Group receive remuneration in the form of share-based payments, whereby employees render services in exchange for equity instruments ("equity-settled transactions").

The cost of equity-settled transactions with employees is measured by reference to the fair value at the date at which they are granted.

The cost of equity-settled transactions is recognised in employee benefit expense, together with a corresponding increase in equity, over the period in which the performance and/or service conditions are fulfilled. The cumulative expense recognised for equity-settled transactions at the end of each reporting period until the vesting date reflects the extent to which the vesting period has expired and the Group's best estimate of the number of equity instruments that will ultimately vest. The charge or credit to profit or loss for a period represents the movement in the cumulative expense recognised as at the beginning and end of that period.

Service and non-market performance conditions are not taken into account when determining the grant date fair value of awards, but the likelihood of the conditions being met is assessed as part of the Group's best estimate of the number of equity instruments that will ultimately vest. Market performance conditions are reflected within the grant date fair value. Any other conditions attached to an award, but without an associated service requirement, are considered to be non-vesting conditions. Non-vesting conditions are reflected in the fair value of an award and lead to an immediate expensing of an award unless there are also service and/or performance conditions.

For awards that do not ultimately vest because non-market performance and/or services conditions have not been met, no expense is recognised. Where awards include a market or non-vesting condition, the transactions are treated as vesting irrespective of whether the market or non-vesting condition is satisfied, provided that all other performance and/or service conditions are satisfied.

Where the terms of an equity-settled award are modified, as a minimum an expense is recognised as if the terms had not been modified, if the original terms of the award are met. In addition, an expense is recognised for any modification that increases the total fair value of the share-based payments, or is otherwise beneficial to the employee as measured at the date of modification.

Where an equity-settled award is cancelled, it is treated as if it had vested on the date of cancellation, and any expense not yet recognised for the award is recognised immediately. This includes any award where non-vesting conditions within the control of either the Group or the employee are not met. However, if a new award is substituted for the cancelled award, and is designated as a replacement award on the date that it is granted, the cancelled and new awards are treated as if they were a modification of the original award, as described in the previous paragraph.

The dilutive effect of outstanding awards during the year is reflected as additional share dilution in the computation of earnings per share.

2.4 Material accounting policies (Continued)

Other employee benefits

Pension schemes

The Group operates a defined contribution Mandatory Provident Fund retirement benefit scheme (the "MPF Scheme") under the Mandatory Provident Fund Schemes Ordinance for those employees who are eligible to participate in the MPF Scheme. Contributions are made based on a percentage of the employees' basic salaries and are charged to profit or loss as they become payable in accordance with the rules of the MPF Scheme. The assets of the MPF Scheme are held separately from those of the Group in an independently administered fund. The Group's employer contributions vest fully with the employees when contributed into the MPF Scheme, except for the Group's employer voluntary contributions, which are refunded to the Group when the employee leaves employment prior to the contributions vesting fully, in accordance with the rules of the MPF Scheme.

The employees of the Group's subsidiaries which operate in the PRC are required to participate in central pension schemes operated by the local municipal governments. These subsidiaries are required to contribute a certain percentage of their payroll costs to the central pension schemes. The contributions are charged to profit or loss as they become payable in accordance with the rules of the central pension schemes.

Termination benefits

Termination benefits are recognised at the earlier of when the Group can no longer withdraw the offer of those benefits and when the Group recognises restructuring costs involving the payment of termination benefits.

Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets, i.e., assets that necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale, are capitalised as part of the cost of those assets. The capitalisation of such borrowing costs ceases when the assets are substantially ready for their intended use or sale. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period in which they are incurred. Borrowing costs consist of interest and other costs that an entity incurs in connection with the borrowing of funds.

Dividends

Final dividends are recognised as a liability when they are approved by the shareholders in a general meeting. Proposed final dividends are disclosed in the notes to the financial statements. Interim dividends are simultaneously proposed and declared, because the Company's memorandum and articles of association grant the directors the authority to declare interim dividends. Consequently, interim dividends are recognised immediately as a liability when they are proposed and declared.

Foreign currencies

These financial statements are presented in RMB. The functional currency of the Company is Hong Kong dollars ("HK$") while RMB is used as the presentation currency of the consolidated financial statements of the Company for the purpose of aligning with the functional and presentation currency of most of the subsidiaries within the Group. Each entity in the Group determines its own functional currency and items included in the financial statements of each entity are measured using that functional currency. Foreign currency transactions recorded by the entities in the Group are initially recorded using their respective functional currency rates prevailing at the dates of the transactions. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the functional currency rates of exchange ruling at the end of the reporting period.

Differences arising on settlement or translation of monetary items are recognised in profit or loss with the exception of monetary items that are designated as part of the hedge of the Group's net investment of a foreign operation. These are recognised in other comprehensive income until the net investment is disposed of, at which time the cumulative amount is reclassified to profit or loss. Tax charges and credits attributable to exchange differences on those monetary items are also recorded in other comprehensive income.

Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the dates of the initial transactions. Non-monetary items measured at fair value in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the date when the fair value was measured. The gain or loss arising on translation of a non-monetary item measured at fair value is treated in line with the recognition of the gain or loss on change in fair value of the item (i.e., translation difference on the item whose fair value gain or loss is recognised in other comprehensive income or profit or loss is also recognised in other comprehensive income or profit or loss, respectively).

In determining the exchange rate on initial recognition of the related asset, expense or income on the derecognition of a non-monetary asset or non-monetary liability relating to an advance consideration, the date of initial transaction is the date on which the Group initially recognises the non-monetary asset or non-monetary liability arising from the advance consideration. If there are multiple payments or receipts in advance, the Group determines the transaction date for each payment or receipt of the advance consideration.

The functional currencies of certain subsidiaries are currencies other than the RMB. As at the end of the reporting period, the assets and liabilities of these entities are translated into RMB at the exchange rates prevailing at the end of the reporting period and their statements of profit or loss and other comprehensive income are translated into RMB at the exchange rates that approximate to those prevailing at the dates of the transactions.

The resulting exchange differences are recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in the exchange reserve, except to the extent that the differences are attributable to non-controlling interests. On disposal of a foreign operation, the cumulative amount in the reserve relating to that particular operation is recognised in profit or loss.

For the purpose of the consolidated statement of cash flows, the cash flows of non-PRC entities are translated into RMB at the exchange rates ruling at the dates of the cash flows. Frequently recurring cash flows of overseas subsidiaries which arise throughout the year are translated into RMB at the weighted average exchange rates for the year.

3 SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING JUDGEMENTS AND ESTIMATES

The preparation of the Group's financial statements requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of revenues, expenses, assets and liabilities, and their accompanying disclosures, and the disclosure of contingent liabilities. Uncertainty about these assumptions and estimates could result in outcomes that could require a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of the assets or liabilities affected in the future.

The key assumptions concerning the future and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the end of the reporting period, that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year, are described below.

Net realisable value of inventories

The marketability and consumption of the Group's inventories are subject to changing consumer demands and fashion trends. As a result, it is necessary to consider the recoverability of the cost of inventories and the associated provision required. When calculating the inventory provision, management considers the nature and condition of inventories, as well as applying assumptions around anticipated marketability of finished goods.

Provision for expected credit losses on trade receivables

The Group uses a provision matrix to calculate ECLs for trade receivables. The provision rates are based on days past due for groupings of various customer segments that have similar loss patterns (i.e. by different channels of customers, such as franchisees, E-commerce and retail stores).

The provision matrix is initially based on the Group's historical observed default rates. The matrix will be calibrated to adjust the historical credit loss experience with forward-looking information. For instance, if forecast economic conditions (i.e., gross domestic product) are expected to deteriorate over the next year which can lead to an increased number of defaults in the manufacturing sector, the historical default rates are adjusted. At each reporting date, the historical observed default rates are updated and changes in the forward-looking estimates are analysed.

The assessment of the correlation among historical observed default rates, forecast economic conditions and ECLs is a significant estimate. The amount of ECLs is sensitive to changes in circumstances and forecast economic conditions. The Group's historical credit loss experience and forecast of economic conditions may also not be representative of a customer's actual default in the future. The information about the ECLs on the Group's trade receivables is disclosed in note 40 to the financial statements, respectively.

Impairment of non-financial assets (other than goodwill)

The Group assesses whether there are any indicators of impairment for all non-financial assets (including the right-of-use assets) within the scope of IAS 36 Impairment of Assets at the end of each reporting period. Indefinite life intangible assets are tested for impairment annually and at other times when such an indicator exists. Other non-financial assets are tested for impairment when there are indicators that the carrying amounts may not be recoverable. An impairment exists when the carrying value of an asset or a cash-generating unit exceeds its recoverable amount, which is the higher of its fair value less costs of disposal and its value in use. The calculation of the fair value less costs of disposal is based on available data from binding sales transactions in an arm's length transaction of similar assets or observable market prices less incremental costs for disposing of the asset. When value in use calculations are undertaken, management must estimate the expected future cash flows from the asset or cash-generating unit and choose a suitable discount rate in order to calculate the present value of those cash flows.

4 SEGMENT INFORMATION

For management purposes, the Group is organised into business units based on their products and services and has two reportable operating segments as follows:

Intimate wear products segment	–	Designing, marketing and selling of intimate wear products
Industrial projects and logistic segment	–	Development of industrial projects and provision of logistic services

Management monitors the results of the Group's operating segments separately for the purpose of making decisions about resource allocation and performance assessment. Segment performance is evaluated based on reportable segment profit or loss, which is a measure of adjusted profit or loss before tax. The adjusted profit or loss before tax is measured consistently with the Group's profit or loss before tax except that interest income, interest expenses on bank borrowings as well as head office and corporate income and expenses are excluded from such measurement.

No assets and liabilities are included in the measures of the Group's segment reporting that are used by the management for performance assessment and resource allocation. Accordingly, no segment assets and liabilities are presented.

The Group's revenue from external customers was derived solely from its operations in the PRC and the non-current assets of the Group were located in the PRC as at 31 December 2025 and 2024.

None of the revenue derived from any single external customer amounted to 10% or more of the Group's revenue for the year ended 31 December 2025 (2024: None).

(a) Hong Kong profits tax

No provision for Hong Kong profits tax has been made as the Group did not generate any assessable profits arising in Hong Kong during the current and the prior years.

(b) PRC corporate income tax

The Company's subsidiary, Cosmo Lady Guangdong Holdings Limited ("Cosmo Lady Guangdong") was given the preferential corporate income tax at 15% under the High and New Technology Enterprises ("HNTE") in December 2024, which is effective for 3 years from 2024 to 2027. The Group is subject to LAT in the PRC. The provision for LAT is based on management's best estimates according to the understanding of the requirements set forth in the relevant PRC tax laws and regulations. The actual LAT liabilities are subject to the determination by the tax authorities upon the completion of the property development projects. The Group has not finalised its LAT calculation and payments with the tax authorities for certain of its property development projects. 14 EARNINGS PER SHARE

Basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing the profit attributable to owners of the Company by the weighted average number of ordinary shares outstanding during the year.

The calculations of basic and diluted earnings per share are based on:

	2025 RMB'000	2024 RMB'000
Profit for the year attributable to owners of the Company (RMB'000)	123,410	126,157
Weighted average number of ordinary shares for the purposes of basic earnings per share (thousands of shares)	2,179,354	2,177,311
Effect of dilution – weighted average number of ordinary shares
share award scheme (thousands of shares)	51,604	45,026
share option scheme (thousands of shares)	985	–
Number of shares used in diluted earnings per share calculation (thousands of shares)	2,231,943	2,222,337

Notes: The weighted average number of ordinary shares for the purpose of basic earnings per share for the years ended 31 December 2025 and 2024 has been adjusted for the effects of purchase and withholding of ordinary shares of the Company for share award schemes and share option schemes during the years ended 31 December 2025 and 2024, respectively, while certain share options outstanding during the years ended 31 December 2025 had no dilutive effect on the diluted earnings per share amount presented.

Notes:

(a) As at 31 December 2025, net book amount of retail store assets that belong to intimate wear products segment including leasehold improvement and right-of-use assets amounted to RMB274,563,000 (2024: RMB271,895,000). The Group regards each individual retail store as a separately identifiable CGU and monitors their financial performance for the existence of impairment indicators, such as stores making a loss and early closure of stores before the expiry of lease term. Management carried out an impairment assessment for the retail store assets which have an impairment indicator. The carrying amount of the retail store assets is written down to its recoverable amount if the asset's carrying amount is greater than its estimated recoverable amount. The estimates of the recoverable amounts were based on value-in-use calculations using discounted cash flow projections based on the financial forecasts approved by management covering the remaining tenure of the lease, with major assumptions such as revenue growth rates and discount rate. The key assumptions used in the value-in-use calculations are dependent on management significant judgement by comparing with the historical performance of the stores, future business plans and market situation.

The following table sets out the key assumptions for the CGUs used in the value-in-use calculations:

	Individual retail store
	2025	2024
Revenue (% annual growth rate)	3%	5%–6%
Pre-tax discount rate (%)	11%	12%

Management has determined the values assigned to each of the above key assumptions as follows:

Assumption	Approach used to determine the value
Revenue (% annual growth rate)	Annual growth rate over the period before the expiry of lease term. It is determined based on past performance and management's expectations of market development.
Pre-tax discount rates (%)	Reflect specific risks relating to the CGU and the countries in which it operates.

Certain retail store CGUs were loss-making during the year, impairment test was performed by management, leading to the recognition of impairment losses on property, plant and equipment of nil (2024: nil) and reversal of impairment losses on right-of-use assets of RMB6,931,000 (2024: impairment losses of RMB6,752,000) based on their value-in-use calculations as mentioned above. The recoverable amount of these retail store CGUs was RMB274,563,000 (2024: RMB315,451,000).

With all other variables held constant, if the revenue growth rates used in the value-in-use calculation was decreased by 1% than the management estimates as at 31 December 2025, the recoverable amount would be further reduced by RMB2,470,000 (i.e. additional impairment loss of RMB2,470,000). With all other variables held constant, if the discount rate used in the value-in-use calculation had been increased by 1% than the management estimates as at 31 December 2025, the recoverable amount would be further reduced by RMB2,470,000 (i.e. additional impairment loss of RMB2,470,000).

(b) As at 31 December 2025, buildings and construction in progress with a net book value of RMB396,965,000 and Nil (2024: RMB358,319,000 and Nil) were pledged as collateral for the Group's borrowings, respectively (note 33).

17 INVESTMENT PROPERTIES

	RMB'000
Carrying amount at 1 January 2025	**–
Transfer from owner-occupied properties	165,661
Losses from fair value adjustment	(981)
Carrying amount at 31 December 2025	164,680

For the year ended 31 December 2025, the fair value measurements of all investment properties of the Group are categorised within Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy and details of their movements are disclosed below.

The investment properties situated in the PRC were revalued on 31 December 2025 based on valuations performed by Guangdong Zhongtu Assets Real Estate and Land Appraisal Co., Ltd.

The investment properties are leased to third parties under operating leases, further details of which are set out in note 18 to the financial statements.

As at 31 December 2025, the Group's investment properties with a carrying value of RMB164,680,000 were pledged as collateral for the Group's borrowings. (note 33).

Fair value hierarchy

The following table illustrates the fair value measurement of the Group's investment properties using:

	Fair value measurement using significant unobservable inputs 2025 RMB'000
Industrial properties – PRC	164,680

During the year, there were no transfers of fair value measurements between Level 1 and Level 2 and no transfers into or out of Level 3.

Reconciliation of fair value measurements categorised within Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy:

	Industrial properties RMB'000
Carrying amount at 1 January 2025	–
Transfer from owner-occupied properties	165,661
Losses from fair value adjustment	(981)
Carrying amount at 31 December 2025	164,680

17 INVESTMENT PROPERTIES (Continued)

Below is a summary of the valuation techniques used and the key inputs to the valuations of investment properties categorised within Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy:

	Valuation techniques	Significant unobservable input(s)	Range or weighted average 2025
PRC – Industrial Properties	Income approach	Market rent (RMB per square meter)	17.6
		Yield	6%
	Market approach	Market price (RMB per square meter)	8.632

The valuations of the Group's investment properties in the PRC were based on the income capitalisation method by capitalisation of net rental income derived from the existing tenancies with allowance for the reversionary rental income potential of the properties in order to arrive at the fair value and/or the direct comparison method, which was based on price information of comparable properties of similar size, character and location and carefully weighed against all the respective advantages and disadvantages of each of the comparable properties in order to arrive at the fair value.

A significant increase/(decrease) in the price per square meter in isolation would result in a significant higher/(lower) fair value of the investment properties.

A significant increase/(decrease) in the estimated rental value per square meter per month in isolation would result in a significant higher/(lower) in the fair value of the investment properties. A significant increase/(decrease) in the reversionary yield/term yield in isolation would result in a significant lower/(higher) in the fair value of the investment properties.

		630,672	587,714

The total cash outflow for leases in 2025 was RMB630,907,000 (2024: RMB569,559,000), details of which are disclosed in note 35(d) to the financial statements.

(c) The Group's leasing activities and how these are accounted for

The Group leases various land use rights, offices, warehouses and retail stores. Lump sum payments were made upfront to lease the land use rights from the owner with a lease period of 42 to 50 years. And no ongoing payments will be made under the terms of the land lease. Leases of other offices, warehouses and retail stores generally have lease terms between 1 and 5 years.

Lease terms are negotiated on an individual basis and contain a wide range of different terms and conditions. The lease agreements do not impose any covenants in the leased assets that are held by the lessor. Leased assets may not be used as security for borrowing purposes except for those with land use right certificates.

(d) Variable lease payments

Some property leases contain variable payment terms that are linked to sales generated from a store. For retail stores, up to 35% of lease payments are on the basis of variable payment terms with percentages ranging from 40% to 45% of sales. Variable payment terms are used for a variety of reasons. Variable lease payments that depend on sales are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which the condition that triggers those payments occurs.

The fair value of the share options granted during the year was RMB6,122,000 (HK$0.05 each), of which the Group recognised a share option expense of RMB3,926,000 during the year ended 31 December 2025.

The fair value of equity-settled share options granted during the year ended 31 December 2025 was estimated as at the date of grant using a binomial model, taking into account the terms and conditions upon which the options were granted.

The significant assumptions and inputs used in the pricing model of the share options granted under the New Scheme are set out below:

	2025
Dividend yield (%)	–
Expected volatility (%)	67.78–67.90
Historical volatility (%)	67.78–67.90
Risk-free interest rate (%)	2.96–3.53
Expected life of options (year)	3.93–6.00
Weighted average share price (HK$ per share)	0.26–0.37

The expected life used in the model has been adjusted, based on the directors' best estimate, for the effects of non-transferability, exercise restrictions and behavioural considerations. The expected volatility reflects the assumption that the historical volatility, which is based on the Company's historical share price, is indicative of future trends, which may also not necessarily be the actual outcome.

No other feature of the options granted was incorporated into the measurement of fair value.

The Board has approved the adoption of the Share Award Scheme on 28 June 2019. The eligible participants include employee participants, related entity participants and service providers of the Company. The vesting period of the awarded shares is determined by the Board. The basis of eligibility of any of the eligible participants, including employee participants, related entity participants and service providers to the grant of Awards shall be determined by the Board from time to time on the basis of the Board's opinion as to his actual or potential contribution to the development and growth of the Group.

40 FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT

(a) Financial risk factors

The Group's activities expose it to a variety of financial risks: market risk (including foreign exchange risk, cash flow and fair value interest rate risk and price risk), credit risk and liquidity risk. The Group's overall risk management policy focuses on the unpredictability of financial markets and seeks to minimize potential adverse effects on the Group's financial performance. The Group currently does not use any derivative financial instruments to hedge certain risk exposures during the year.

(i) Foreign exchange risk

Foreign exchange risk arises when future commercial transactions or recognised assets or liabilities of a Group entity are denominated in a currency that is not the entity's functional currency. The Group manages its foreign exchange risk by performing regular reviews of the Group's net foreign exchange exposures and tries to minimize these exposures through natural hedges, wherever possible.

The Group operates in the PRC with most of the Group's transactions denominated and settled in RMB. The Group's assets and liabilities, and transactions arising from its operations do not expose the Group to material foreign exchange risk as the Group's recognised assets and liabilities as at 31 December 2025 are denominated in the respective Group companies' functional currencies.

(ii) Cash flow and fair value interest rate risk

As the Group has no significant interest-bearing assets (bank balances and cash, details of which have been disclosed in note 27), the Group's income and operating cash flows are substantially independent of changes in market interest rates.

The Group's exposure to changes in interest rates is also attributable to its borrowings, details of which have been disclosed in note 33. Borrowings carried at floating rates expose the Group to cash flow interest-rate risk whereas those carried at fixed rates expose the Group to fair value interest-rate risk. During 2025 and 2024, the Group's bank borrowings carried at floating rates.

The sensitivity analyses below have been determined based on the exposure to interest rates for floating interest bank borrowings. The analysis is prepared assuming the amount of asset and liability outstanding at the end of the reporting period was outstanding for the whole year. A 50 (2024: 50) basis points increase or decrease representing management's assessment of the reasonably possible change in interest rates is used.

At 31 December 2025, if interest rates at that date had been 50 (2024: 50) basis points higher/lower with all other variables held constant, consolidated profit for the year would have been RMB1,902,000 lower/higher (2024: RMB1,269,000 lower/higher), arising mainly as a result of higher/lower interest expense on bank borrowings, netting off against bank interest income.

(a) Financial risk factors (Continued)

(iii) Price risk

Except for the investments held by the Group and classified as financial assets at FVOCI of RMB12,275,000 (2024: RMB18,197,000) and joint ventures of RMB37,796,000 (2024: RMB72,782,000), the Group is not exposed to any equity securities price risk.

(iv) Credit risk

At the end of the reporting period, the Group had certain concentrations of credit risk as 34% (2024: 21%) and 56% (2024: 48%) of the Group's trade receivables were due from the Group's largest customer and five largest customers, respectively, within the intimate wear products segment. The carrying amounts of trade and notes receivables, deposits and other receivables, cash and cash equivalents and restricted bank deposit represent the Group's maximum exposure to credit risk in relation to its financial assets. For wholesale customers (i.e., franchisees), the Group has policies in place to ensure credit terms are only granted to franchise customers with good credit histories and credit evaluations were conducted on them periodically, taking into account their financial position, past experience and other factors. For other customers without credit terms granted, deposits and advances are received in most cases before delivery is made. The Group in general does not require collaterals from trade debtors. Sales to retail customers are settled in cash, credit cards issued by major banks or on-line payments such as WeChat Pay and AliPay.

Trade receivable

The Group applies the IFRS 9 simplified approach to measuring ECLs which uses a lifetime expected loss allowance for all trade receivables. The management assesses ECL on a half yearly basis. The management determines the ECL on the trade receivables using a provision matrix group by common risk characteristic.

To measure the ECLs, trade receivables have been grouped based on shared credit risk characteristics. A provision matrix is initially based on the Group's historical default rates and the rates are adjusted to reflect current and forward-looking information on macroeconomic factors affecting the ability of the customers to settle the receivables. The Group has identified CPI inflation and fiscal balance as a percentage of nominal GDP to be the most relevant factors, and accordingly adjusts the historical loss rates based on expected changes in these factors. Different expected loss rates were applied to different groups of customers and each age band to calculate the provisions required.

For the calculation of above ECL rates, accounts receivable are divided into several groups according to risk characteristic. The ECL rates are determined on different channels of customers, such as franchisees, E-commerce and retail stores. The receivables from franchisees as at 31 December 2025 accounts for approximately 71% of total receivables (2024: 66%).

Deposits and other receivables

The loss allowance as at 31 December 2025 was determined as follows for deposits and other receivables:

Deposits and other receivables at amortised cost mainly include deposits and staff advances, and advances to suppliers. Impairment on other receivables is measured as either 12-month ECLs or lifetime ECLs, depending on whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition. To assess whether there is a significant increase in credit risk, the Group compares the risk of default occurring on the asset as at the reporting date with the risk of default as at the date of initial recognition by considering available, reasonable and supportive forward-looking information.

Cash and cash equivalents and restricted bank deposits

The Group has policies in place to ensure that Cash and cash equivalents and restricted bank deposits with banks are mainly placed with either state-owned or reputable financial institutions in the PRC and Hong Kong with good credit rating. There has been no recent history of default in relation to these financial institutions. As at 31 December 2025, the Cash and cash equivalents and restricted bank deposits with banks as detailed in note 27 are held in the following banks in the PRC and Hong Kong:

	2025 RMB'000	2024 RMB'000
Top-four major state-owned banks in the PRC/Hong Kong	196,683	218,134

Cash on hand	2,002	1,412
	614,140	621,871

Management does not expect any loss arising from non-performance by these counterparties.

(v) Liquidity risk

Prudent liquidity risk management implies maintaining sufficient cash and cash equivalents and the availability of funding through an adequate amount of committed credit facilities.

The Group's primary cash requirements have been for payment for capital expenditures, purchases and operating expenses. The Group finances its working capital requirements through a combination of internal generated funds and bank borrowings, as necessary.

The table below analyses the Group's non-derivative financial liabilities into relevant maturity grouping based on the remaining period at each balance sheet date to the contractual maturity date. The amounts disclosed in the table are the contractual undiscounted cash flows.

As at 31 December 2025, the Group provided guarantees amounting to approximately RMB297,846,000 (2024: RMB250,023,000) to certain banks in respect of mortgage loans granted by banks for purchasers of the Group's industrial properties. The fair value of the guarantees is not significant and the Group considers that in case of default in payments, the net realisable value of the related properties will be sufficient to cover the repayment of the outstanding loan principals together with the accrued interest and penalty.

(b) Capital risk management

The Group's objectives when managing capital are to safeguard the Group's ability to continue as a going concern in order to provide returns for shareholders and benefits for other stakeholders and to maintain an optimal capital structure to reduce the cost of capital.

In order to maintain or adjust the capital structure, the Group may adjust the amount of dividends paid to shareholders, issue new shares or sell assets to reduce debt.

The Group monitors capital on basis of the gearing ratio. This ratio is calculated as bank borrowings divided by total equity:

	2025 RMB'000	2024 RMB'000
Total bank borrowings	447,600	395,630
Total equity	2,118,007	2,021,363
Gearing ratio	21%	20%

(c) Fair value estimation

Financial instruments carried at fair value are disclosed by levels of the following fair value measurement hierarchy:

- Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (level 1);
- Inputs other than quoted prices included within level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (that is, as prices) or indirectly (that is, derived from prices) (level 2); and
- Inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (that is, unobservable inputs) (level 3).

As at 31 December 2025, except for the financial assets at FVOCI of RMB12,275,000 (2024: RMB18,197,000), which was measured at level 3 fair value, the Group's financial instruments are mainly receivables and financial liabilities carried at amortised cost. Analysis of level 3 financial instruments for the year ended 31 December 2025 are as follows:

	Level 1 RMB'000	Level 2 RMB'000	Level 3 RMB'000 (Note)	Total RMB'000

At 31 December 2025	12,275

The fair value of financial instruments that are not traded in an active market is determined by using valuation techniques. These valuation techniques maximise the use of observable market data where it is available and rely as little as possible on entity specific estimates. If all significant inputs required to fair value an instrument are observable, the instrument is included in level 2. If one or more of the significant inputs is not based on observable market data, the instrument is included in level 3.

The fair value of the Group's financial assets at FVOCI was developed through the application of the income approach technique, the discounted cash flow method and market approach method by looking at comparable companies with similar size, features, operations, industry and economic conditions. The income approach is the conversion of expected periodic benefits of ownership into an indication of value. The discounted cash flow considered the future business plan, specific business and financial risks.

The following significant unobservable inputs have been applied in the discounted cash flow calculations in determining the fair value of the Group's financial assets at FVOCI:

Nine entities engaging in the manufacturing of intimate wear in the PRC	2025	2024
Discount rate	13.6%	14.8%
Long term revenue growth rates	1.25%	2%
Discount for lack of marketability	30%	30%

As at 31 December 2025, it is estimated that with all other variables held constant, a decrease/increase in discount rate by 1% (31 December 2024: 1%) would have increased/decreased the Group's other comprehensive income by RMB991,000 (31 December 2024: RMB1,402,000). As at 31 December 2025, it is estimated that with all other variables held constant, a decrease/increase in long term revenue growth rates by 1% (31 December 2024: 1%) would have decreased/increased the Group's other comprehensive income by RMB809,000 (31 December 2024: RMB1,412,000). As at 31 December 2025, it is estimated that with all other variables held constant, a decrease/increase in discount for lack of marketability by 1% (31 December 2024: 1%) would have increased/decreased the Group's other comprehensive income by RMB175,000 (31 December 2024: RMB115,000).
