FURTHER DISCLOSURE ON CERTAIN LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

The Company further discloses the details of its subsidiaries which are also subject to CROs in connection with the same indebtedness as mentioned in the 4 May Announcement.

The Company has been proactively managing all relevant matters under the oversight of senior management, including maintaining regular dialogue with creditors to negotiate mutually acceptable repayment, settlement or restructuring arrangements. Certain matters have been resolved, while others are progressing in an orderly manner. The Company handles such matters through its in-house team to ensure compliance with applicable procedures.

For the purposes of this announcement, the Company is disclosing the general position on an aggregated basis. Detailed repayment terms and negotiation details for each case are commercially sensitive and will not be disclosed at this stage.

ENFORCEMENT AND DISHONEST PERSON STATUS

Following comprehensive verification via official judicial channels and other public information, the Company hereby discloses the relevant status under Mainland China court rulings. Minor discrepancies exist across different information sources. For disclosure purposes, the official judicial records shall be the sole reference.

The Relevant Directors as well as the aforesaid subsidiaries including Jiangmen Huamu Metals Company Limited, Jiangmen Huajin Metal Product Company Limited, Guangdong Huajin Industrial Company Limited and Jiangmen Huajin Metal Trading Market Company Limited subject to CROs, are parties to relevant civil enforcement proceedings. This represents a standard procedural status arising from outstanding repayment obligations under financing, leasing arrangements and ordinary commercial transactions.

Per official records, Mr. Xu, Jiangmen Huamu Metals Company Limited, Jiangmen Huajin Metal Product Company Limited, Guangdong Huajin Industrial Company Limited and Jiangmen Huajin Metal Trading Market Company Limited are persons subject to enforcement and are additionally recorded as dishonest persons subject to enforcement in connection with the same enforcement case. Mr. Chen and Mr. Xu Jianhong are also persons subject to enforcement, albeit they have not been designated as dishonest persons subject to enforcement. As stated in the foregoing paragraphs, all the above-named natural persons and corporate entities referred to herein are subject to Consumption Restriction Orders (CROs) issued by the relevant courts. Detailed status of each subsidiary in respect of other separate enforcement cases is set out earlier in this announcement in tabular form, and this paragraph focuses solely on distinguishing the discrepancies in personal enforcement records among each director.

The above enforcement statuses are purely civil outcomes arising from the Group's ordinary commercial activities. These civil debt-related records do not involve any criminal proceedings, fraud, illegal activities or personal misconduct. The Group and the Relevant Directors are actively negotiating with creditors to settle the outstanding indebtedness and remove relevant enforcement records in due course.

CONFIRMATION ON UNSATISFIED JUDGMENTS OR COURT ORDERS OF CONTINUING EFFECT

Save for the CROs, enforcement notices and relevant records disclosed in this announcement and the 4 May Announcement, the Company and the Relevant Directors are not aware of any other unsatisfied judgments or court orders of continuing effect which are required to be disclosed pursuant to Rule 13.51(2)(k) and Rule 13.51B(2) of the Listing Rules.

The Group will continue to conduct regular reviews to monitor any new or updated court orders, judgments and enforcement measures, and will make timely announcements in accordance with the Listing Rules if any further disclosable matters arise.

PROCEDURES TO ASCERTAIN RELEVANT ORDERS AND RULINGS

To fully identify, verify and confirm all relevant court orders, enforcement notices, CROs and related judicial records for the purpose of this disclosure, the Company and the Relevant Directors have completed the following comprehensive verification procedures:

1. Online searches on official PRC judicial platforms: The in-house legal team conducted full-scale searches on national official PRC judicial and enforcement platforms to check the judicial status, enforcement records, CROs, person subject to enforcement and dishonest person records of the Company, all relevant subsidiaries and the Relevant Directors.

2. Review of received physical judicial documents: The Group collated and reviewed all court notices, rulings, enforcement documents and written notices received by the headquarters and all subsidiaries to cross-verify the consistency with online public records.

3. Internal cross-check and confirmation: Conducted internal cross-verification with management and responsible staff of all PRC subsidiaries to confirm all received and pending judicial matters.

4. Dedicated internal meetings: Dedicated internal meetings were held with senior management to consolidate all verified information, confirm the completeness of disclosure and assess relevant disclosure obligations under the Listing Rules.

All above procedures have been completed to ensure the information disclosed in this announcement is full, true and accurate.

BOARD'S ASSESSMENT ON THE SUITABILITY OF THE RELEVANT DIRECTORS

After considering all relevant facts and circumstances, the Board has assessed the suitability of the Relevant Directors to act as directors of the Company under Rule 3.09 of the Listing Rules.

The enforcement matters and judicial records referred to in this announcement arise from ordinary course commercial financing and leasing activities, as well as ordinary commercial transactions entered into by the Group's PRC subsidiaries. None of the above matters relate to personal debts or personal acts of the relevant directors.Mr. Xu and Mr. Xu Jianhong were implicated in the civil enforcement proceedings solely due to commercial guarantees and business arrangements for the subsidiaries. Mr. Chen was listed as a person subject to enforcement and subject to CROs purely by virtue of his position as the legal representative of certain PRC subsidiaries of the Group under Mainland judicial practices. None of the three directors owe any personal debts. These matters do not involve any allegation of fraud, dishonesty or misconduct by the Relevant Directors in their capacity as directors of the Company.

Under the judicial practice in Mainland China, directors or management personnel may be implicated in civil litigation and subsequent enforcement proceedings of a limited liability company, and accordingly be subject to CROs or listed as dishonest persons subject to enforcement. It is worth emphasising that such civil enforcement measures are procedural arrangements for debt settlement and do not require the relevant directors to make any personal monetary contribution to settle the subsidiaries' debts.

The relevant directors were named on the relevant lists merely in their respective capacities as guarantors or legal representatives of the subsidiaries and are not personally indebted. In light of the foregoing, given that there is no fraud or dishonest conduct on their part, the Board confirms that being subject to CROs and listed as dishonest persons subject to enforcement has no material impact on the relevant directors, and such civil enforcement measures have not impeded them from discharging their duties and participating in the Group's management and operations.

Having regard to the relevant directors ' experience, their ongoing performance in managing the Group's business, and their continuing efforts to resolve the relevant indebtedness and enforcement matters, the Board is of the view that each of the relevant directors continues to possess the character, experience and integrity, and the level of competence, required of a director of a listed issuer under Rule 3.09 of the Listing Rules.

The Board will continue to monitor the progress of the debt settlement and the status of the relevant enforcement records, and will provide further updates to shareholders as and when appropriate.

OPERATIONS AND RISK STATEMENT

The Group's daily business and operations remain normal. The ongoing legal proceedings are ordinary commercial matters in the ordinary course of business and do not have any material adverse impact on the Group's day-to-day operations.

The CROs do not impede the Relevant Directors' ability to discharge their duties as Directors and do not have any material adverse impact on the Group's overall business or operations.

The Company will continue to maintain proactive communications with relevant parties and endeavour to achieve proper and satisfactory resolutions of all relevant matters in an orderly manner.

The Board will continue to closely monitor any further developments in relation to the above matters and keep the Company's shareholders and potential investors duly informed of material updates as and when appropriate.
