VOLUNTARY ANNOUNCEMENT IN RELATION TO JUDICIALLY FROZEN SHARES OF CERTAIN PRC SUBSIDIARIES OF THE GROUP

This announcement is released by Huajin International Holdings Limited (the “Company”; together with its subsidiaries collectively the “Group”) on a voluntary basis to inform the shareholders and potential investors of the Company in respect of judicially frozen equity interests held within certain PRC subsidiaries of the Group.

BACKGROUND AND VERIFICATION FINDINGS

The Group’s onshore management team has conducted cross-checks based on information accessible from two categories of online channels:

- (i) official government and judicial disclosure portals, including the National Enterprise Credit Information Publicity System and official online disclosure platforms operated by PRC judicial authorities; and
- (ii) commercial corporate information aggregation platforms for supplementary cross-referencing purposes.

The records retrieved from the above channels show a total of 52 instances of judicially frozen equity interests, with certain equity stakes subject to multiple freezing orders issued sequentially by different people’s courts.

All such freezing orders are asset preservation applications submitted by external third-party claimants against the Group's PRC subsidiaries. The relevant civil and commercial disputes arise from outstanding payment obligations owed by these PRC subsidiaries to various external creditors.

For the avoidance of doubt, the freezing measures relate solely to equity interests held in the Group's lower-tier PRC subsidiaries and do not touch upon the Company's listed shares. None of the Company's shares listed on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited have been recorded as subject to judicial freezing based on information reviewed from the aforesaid channels.

SUMMARY OF KEY FREEZE INFORMATION BY AFFECTED SUBSIDIARY

Full particulars covering each external claimant, competent court, enforcement case number, freeze term and successive freeze status for all 52 freeze entries are set out in Appendix 1 attached hereto. The table below only provides a summary overview, setting out the immediate holding entity (the shareholder whose equity interests are frozen), target subsidiary name, registered capital of the target and aggregate proportion of equity frozen within such target subsidiary. The summary information is compiled based on records retrieved from official public judicial platforms as at the date of this announcement. Given the update lag and information asymmetry between online public disclosure and physical court documents held by subsidiaries, minor data discrepancies may exist. The Group will keep conducting comprehensive cross-verification to identify any additional freezing records in a timely manner.

Note:

1. Immediate Holding Entity: Refers to the Group's subsidiary that holds equity interests subject to court preservation freezing orders.

2. Name of Target Subsidiary: Refers to the PRC operating entity whose equity held by the above immediate holding entity is judicially frozen.

3. Corresponding Number of Freeze Cases represents the total count of independent judicial preservation freeze records applicable to this pair of holding entity and target subsidiary, as extracted from the National Enterprise Credit Information Publicity System.

4. Several separate freeze records may stem from preservation applications lodged by different external creditors in respect of the same equity stake. A high number of freeze records does not indicate multiple separate tranches of equity are restricted from transfer; it merely reflects multiple independent creditor debt claims and preservation filings over the same equity.

KEY CLARIFICATIONS ON FREEZE RESTRICTIONS & BOARD' S ASSESSMENT

All freezing orders issued by the courts primarily restrict registered equity holders from disposing judicially frozen equity interests, including transfer, pledge, equity offset for debt and change of share registration. Separately, many creditors have obtained asset preservation orders over the Group's PRC subsidiaries' tangible operating assets and bank accounts arising from overdue payment disputes. Some preservation cases correspond to the equity freezes listed in Appendix 1, while others only attach restraints to assets without freezing the relevant subsidiaries' equity.

The Group has submitted equipment schedules to the competent people's courts and obtained sealed confirmation documents proving the listed tangible assets are subject to preservation. Multiple creditors have registered successive preservation orders covering the same factory premises, production machinery and inventories, making it impossible to match specific assets, carrying values or asset ratios to individual creditor claims.

There are numerous standalone preservation applications that only restrain tangible assets or bank accounts without equity freezes. Given massive overlapping coverage of operating assets by successive preservation orders, it is not feasible to list each separate asset restraint in this announcement. Asset preservation information is only extracted from public online judicial platforms. No court-issued case-by-case asset breakdowns or valuation documents exist, so the Group cannot disclose quantified asset values itemised per claim herein. Online judicial records may be uploaded late or incomplete, and offline court rulings may not be published; our cross-checks are limited to publicly available data as at the date of this announcement.

The Group holds many sealed preservation judgments from different courts, all overlapping the same pool of operating assets. We cannot achieve one-to-one matching between cases, creditors and restrained assets, nor can we guarantee our existing court documents cover all asset restraints. New successive preservation applications may be filed in future with rulings served with delay.

Certain underlying disputes have resulted in creditors obtaining effective judgments and applying for enforcement. As at the date of this announcement, all enforcement procedures are still at asset verification stage; no compulsory auction, forced disposal or fund seizure has been carried out. The Group is actively negotiating debt restructuring and settlement terms with creditors and maintains normal communications with core lending banks, with no demand for early repayment or credit withdrawal received to date.

This voluntary announcement follows the Group's first-ever full nationwide review of all equity and asset preservation records across all PRC subsidiaries. Previously, the Group only conducted spot checks on judicial platforms, rather than full historical screening, due to scattered provincial judicial databases and large volumes of records. Historical equity freeze records were only fully collated during this dedicated review.

Following this full-scale review, the Board has formalised a monthly comprehensive screening procedure covering all judicial disclosure platforms across Mainland China to timely identify and assess any new or historical preservation records for disclosure.

All freezing and preservation orders merely restrict asset disposal rights and do not hinder the Group's lawful possession and daily operation of relevant assets. Affected subsidiaries carry on normal production, sales and all routine operations; no compulsory enforcement measures have been taken against any preserved assets to date. The Group will release further announcements if required under the Listing Rules.

The Board acknowledges that overlapping multi-creditor preservation and large volumes of asset-only restraint cases prevent us from quantifying and listing preserved assets case by case. The Group's production, sales and debt collection operations remain fully functional with no enforcement actions against preserved assets. If the Group receives court-issued standalone asset schedules or valuation reports in future, a supplementary announcement will be published promptly.

Based on information available to the Board, including the normal operation of affected subsidiaries and ongoing creditor negotiations, the Board is of the view that the matters disclosed do not constitute inside information under Part XIVA of the SFO and Listing Rule 13.0 at present. Material subsequent developments triggering inside information criteria will be disclosed via further announcements in compliance with the Listing Rules.

LEGAL DISTINCTION BETWEEN SHAREHOLDERS' EQUITY RIGHTS AND SUBSIDIARIES' OPERATING RIGHTS

In accordance with PRC civil procedure preservation rules and judicial practice on equity enforcement, the aforesaid freezing orders draw a clear separation between shareholders' disposal rights over the judicially frozen shares and the operating assets owned by target subsidiaries. The freeze measures only restrict rights attaching to the judicially frozen shares and will not obstruct the subsidiaries' lawful operation and use of operating assets, details as follows:

(a) Restrictions solely applicable to equity holders

Equity holders are prohibited from disposing of the judicially frozen shares. This asset preservation mechanism is adopted by courts to secure the enforcement of civil and commercial judgments against the subsidiaries which owe payment to external claimants.

(b) No interference with daily operations of target subsidiaries

(i) The subsidiaries are lawfully entitled to possess and continue to use all factory premises, production machinery and inventories for daily production operation. All such tangible operating assets are subject to overlapping successive court preservation orders lodged by multiple creditors. Save for trade receivables which remain unrestricted for collection and operational use, transfer, sale and other disposal of the preserved tangible assets are suspended pending full resolution of the underlying debt disputes.

(ii) The freezing orders do not affect shareholders' inherent rights attached to the judicially frozen shares, including dividend rights and voting rights at shareholders' meetings;

(iii) Each subsidiary may independently enter into commercial contracts, collect operating revenue, settle operational expenses and carry out all daily production and business activities without obstruction.

The Board will closely monitor the progress of all relevant litigation cases and freezing orders, and request relevant equity holders to continuously verify full particulars of each judicial freeze. Should there be any material changes to the status of judicially frozen shares in future, the Company will issue timely announcements and duly discharge its disclosure obligations in full compliance with the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited.

The shareholders and potential investors of the Company are advised to exercise caution when dealing in the securities of the Company.
