VOLUNTARY ANNOUNCEMENT

BUSINESS UPDATE - PRODUCT PRICE ADJUSTMENT

This announcement is made by BASiC Semiconductor Co., Ltd. (the “Company”, together with its subsidiaries, the “Group”) on a voluntary basis for the purpose of keeping the shareholders of the Company and potential investors abreast of the latest business development of the Group.

In view of the continuous growth in market demand driven by the rapid development of emerging applications such as global artificial intelligence (AI) and new energy vehicles since 2026, which has maintained a tight balance between industry supply and demand, the Group, after a comprehensive evaluation of the market environment, cost changes and overall operating strategies, will moderately adjust the selling prices of certain products starting from the third quarter of 2026, so as to support continuous research and development (R&D) investment and ensure product quality and supply stability. The prices of certain products are expected to be adjusted upward by a maximum of no more than 25% (the “Price Adjustment”), with specific adjustment plans to be determined comprehensively based on factors such as product categories, order sizes, cooperation models, market regions and mutual commercial arrangements, and implemented with relevant customers in an orderly manner.

The Price Adjustment forms part of the Group's normal course of business. The Group's commercial relationships with its customers remain stable, and the implementation of the Price Adjustment is based on the market conditions.

Shareholders and potential investors of the Company are advised that the implementation and financial impact of the Price Adjustment are subject to market conditions and individual customer circumstances and may vary.
