VOLUNTARY ANNOUNCEMENT
AUGUST 2026 DELIVERY UPDATE

This is a voluntary announcement made by VOYAH Automotive Technology Co., Ltd. (the “Company” or “VOYAH”).

The Company delivered 13,003 vehicles in August 2026, and the year-to-date deliveries reached 102,456 vehicles, an increase of 25% year-on-year.

On August 5, 2026, the photovoltaic power project at VOYAH’s Yunfeng Factory was officially connected to the grid and commenced power generation. It is the largest distributed photovoltaic project in the automobile manufacturing industry in the Wuhan region, capable of generating 26.9 million kWh of green electricity per annum and reducing carbon emissions by 22,000 tonnes annually.

On August 15, 2026, the VOYAH Passion S, the world’s first technology-focused FUV, was officially launched. The model comes standard across its entire lineup with four LiDARs and VOYAH Tiger Crouch Intelligent Chassis D, and is among the first batch of vehicles to feature HarmonyOS Cockpit 5.2. As a mass-produced vehicle, it successfully completed the 360° tunnel loop challenge, becoming the first model in the world to accomplish this highly demanding extreme manoeuvre in a real-world test.

On August 27, 2026, the Company was conferred the 10th Hubei Yangtze River Quality Award, reflecting Hubei Province’s recognition of the Company’s quality management standards, excellent performance management practices and exemplary role in the industry. The award is the highest quality honour established by the Hubei Provincial People’s Government.
