Non-collateralised Structured Products

Addendum to the Base Listing Document dated 30 April 2026 relating to Structured Products to be issued by

Huatai Financial Holdings (Hong Kong) Limited

(incorporated with limited liability in Hong Kong)

This addendum (the “Addendum”), for which we accept full responsibility, is a supplement to and should be read in conjunction with our base listing document dated 30 April 2026 (the “Base Listing Document”), and includes particulars given in compliance with the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited (the “Rules”) for the purpose of giving information with regard to us, our Ultimate Holding Company (relied upon for eligibility assessment under Rule 15A.13(1)) and our standard warrants (“Warrants”), callable bull/bear contracts (“CBBCs”) and other structured products (together, the “Structured Products”) to be listed on the Stock Exchange from time to time. You must read this Addendum in conjunction with the Base Listing Document.

We, having made all reasonable enquiries, confirm that to the best of our knowledge and belief the information contained in this Addendum and the Base Listing Document is, as of the date of this Addendum, up-to-date, true, accurate and complete in all material respects and not misleading or deceptive, and there are no other matters the omission of which would make any statement in this Addendum and/or the Base Listing Document misleading.

The Structured Products are complex products. You should exercise caution in relation to them. The Structured Products involve derivatives. Investors should not invest in the Structured Products unless they fully understand and are willing to assume the risks associated with them. Investors are warned that the price of the Structured Products may fall in value as rapidly as it may rise and holders may sustain a total loss of their investment. Prospective purchasers should therefore ensure that they understand the nature of the Structured Products and carefully study the risk factors set out in the Base Listing Document and the relevant supplemental listing document and, where necessary, seek professional advice, before they invest in the Structured Products.

The Structured Products constitute our general unsecured contractual obligations and of no other person and will rank equally among themselves with all our other unsecured obligations (save for those obligations preferred by law) upon liquidation. If you purchase the Structured Products, you are relying upon our creditworthiness and have no rights under the Structured Products against (a) the company which has issued the underlying assets; (b) the fund which has issued the underlying assets, or its trustee (if applicable) or manager; or (c) the index compiler of any underlying index or any company constituting the underlying index. If we become insolvent, enter into administration or an analogous action, or default on our obligations under the Structured Products, you may not be able to recover all or even part of the amount due under the Structured Products (if any).

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

The Structured Products involve derivatives. Do not invest in them unless you fully understand and are willing to assume the risks associated with them.

What documents should you read before investing in the Structured Products?

You must read this Addendum together with the Base Listing Document (as supplemented by any addendum thereto) and the relevant supplemental listing document (including any addendum thereto) (together, “Listing Documents”) before investing in the Structured Products. You should carefully study the risk factors set out in the Listing Documents.

Is there any guarantee or collateral for the Structured Products?

No. Our obligations under the Structured Products are neither guaranteed by any third party, nor collateralised with any of our assets or other collaterals. When you purchase our Structured Products, you are relying on our creditworthiness only, and of no other person. If we become insolvent, enter into administration or an analogous action, or default on our obligations under the Structured Products, you can only claim as an unsecured creditor of the Issuer. In such event, you may not be able to recover all or even part of the amount due under the Structured Products (if any).

What are our Ultimate Holding Company’s credit ratings?

We have not been assigned any ratings by any credit rating agencies as at the date of this Addendum. Therefore, we rely on the credit ratings of our ultimate holding company, Huatai Securities Co., Ltd. (stock code: 6886) (“Ultimate Holding Company”) for eligibility assessment under Rule 15A.13(1). You should note that you shall have no recourse against our Ultimate Holding Company and shall determine the relevance and significance of our Ultimate Holding Company’s credit ratings.
