BASIS FOR DETERMINATION OF CONSIDERATION

The consideration for the construction of the vessels was determined after arm's length negotiations between the Company and the Sellers, having taken into account a number of factors, including:

(1) the transaction price of other vessels of similar type and size based on public market information and recent comparable transactions in the market;

(2) quotations provided by other shipbuilders for the construction of new vessels of similar type, size, and delivery schedule;

(3) the quality of services and industry reputation of the Sellers, including their track record in delivering vessels on time and in accordance with the specifications; and

(4) the technical specifications, design, and expected performance of the vessels, including compliance with the latest environmental and safety standards.

It is currently expected that the consideration will be funded by internal resources of the Group and/or bank loans.

REASONS FOR AND BENEFITS OF THE CONSTRUCTION OF VESSELS

The Directors believe that the construction of the vessels is in line with the Group's long-term development strategy and will bring significant benefits to the Group and its Shareholders as a whole.

The construction of a total of two container vessels will increase the Group's owned fleet size and total shipping capacity, enabling the Group to better capture market opportunities and respond to growing demand in the container shipping industry, particularly in the Asia Pacific region and other key markets. The addition of new vessels will further strengthen the Group's ability to provide reliable and frequent services to its customers and enhance its market position.

Further, the Group's strategy includes maintaining a balanced mix of owned and chartered-in vessels, with a focus on increasing the proportion of owned vessels to achieve long-term cost advantages. Owned vessels are not subject to fluctuations in charter rates or prescribed lease terms and generally result in lower unit operating costs. The new vessels, being of modern design and specification, are expected to be more fuel-efficient and environmentally friendly, thereby reducing operating costs and supporting compliance with increasingly stringent environmental regulations.

In light of the above, the Directors (including the independent non-executive Directors) believe that the terms of the Shipbuilding Contracts are fair and reasonable, on normal commercial terms, and in the interests of the Shareholders as a whole.
