VOLUNTARY ANNOUNCEMENT

This announcement is made by China Renaissance Holdings Limited (the "Company", together with its subsidiaries, the "Group") on a voluntary basis.

The Company is pleased to announce that China Renaissance Securities (China) Co. Ltd. ("CR Securities"), a controlling subsidiary of the Company, acting as financial adviser, has successfully assisted Beijing Transtreams Technology Co., Ltd.* ("Transtreams") in completing its Series B financing of RMB1 billion.

This round of financing received support from a number of investment institutions and industrial investors, with follow-on investments from existing shareholders. According to Transtreams, the proceeds will primarily be used for the development and mass production of next-generation chips and expansion into global markets.

According to its public disclosure, Transtreams was jointly established by the Beijing Artificial Intelligence Fund and Kuaishou Group. Formerly the heterogeneous computing and chip division of Kuaishou Group, Transtreams was spun off in March 2024 to operate independently. Transtreams focuses on developing computing chips for large multimodal models, including those used in intelligent video and generative video applications. Its self-developed SL200 intelligent video chip has achieved large-scale commercial application and has been deployed by a number of leading internet companies. Transtreams also continues to strengthen its full-stack capabilities spanning chips, software and platforms.

The Group is honoured to have assisted Transtreams in completing this financing round. This transaction demonstrates the Group's financial advisory capabilities in artificial intelligence and semiconductors, as well as its strengths in connecting innovative enterprises with a diverse range of investment institutions. The Group will continue to assist innovative enterprises in achieving their strategic and financial objectives.
