Hong Kong Branch ("Industrial Bank Hong Kong Branch"), a strategic partner of the Company, joined Ensemble^{TX}, the pilot phase of Project Ensemble initiated by the Hong Kong Monetary Authority (the "HKMA"), as a participating bank for tokenised deposits, and successfully implemented interbank transactions of tokenised deposits, achieving full-process end-to-end verification. This marks significant progress in the application of tokenisation technology by Industrial Bank Hong Kong Branch and provides valuable practical experience for promoting the interoperability of Hong Kong's tokenisation market infrastructure.

During this pilot phase, the Group has worked in close collaboration with Industrial Bank Hong Kong Branch, utilising the Group's self-developed token issuance and management system to jointly promote the research, development, and technical integration of tokenised asset issuance and technology systems and to provide technical and system support for Industrial Bank Hong Kong Branch's relevant digital asset token issuance and management business.
